City In Resounding Reception To Tenley, World's Woman Figure-Skating Champion

WITH THE ONES SHE LOVES most dearly, Tenley cuts a "Welcome Home" cake while her devoted family look on admiringly. Rain Fails To Dampen Enthusiasm

Although the inclement weather Sunday may have dampened the atmosphere, the spontaneous enthusiasm and warmth of the greeting which the citizens of this city gave to Newton's own Tenley Albright, fresh from her triumph of winning the World's Ladies Figure Skating championship in Austria last month, was not to be denied.

Despite the downpour of rain, thousands of citizens turned out to welcome home the Miss who had brought fame to Newton and had the weather been good, there is no telling how many other thousands would have attended the official city welcome which was extended her.

At War Memorial Hall, City Hall, Tenley was accorded an official welcome by City, State and Federal dignitries who paid just tribute to this famous young lady.

School Safety Patrol Is Given Honors

Six Newton school children were honored Tuesday by the Newton Police Department and the Massachusetts division of the American Automobile Association for outstanding service rendered in protecting the lives of their students while serving as members of the Memorial School Safety Patrol, Oak Hill Park.

Elliot Danburg (captain), Stephen J. Cummings, Julian Stoppelman, Donna O'Farrell, Timothy O'Leary and Peter Dalton have not missed a day at their posts of duty since last September. Operating under the supervision of their school principal, Olive Eldredge, and Charles Feeley, Newton's Police Safety Officer, they supervise the crossing of pupils at intersections near the school, but do not direct traffic.

Chief Philip Purcell of the Newton Police Department was their host at a luncheon when

'Pete' Pettengill Retiring As Red Feather Director

H. J. "Pete" Pettengill of 56 Nehoiden road, Waban, is planning to retire from the Newton Community Chest in June after completing 13 years as executive director of the local Red Feather unit.

H. J. PETTENGILL

Mr. Pettengill, who came to Newton 33 years ago and has made his residence in Waban for 28 years, hopes to remain active in fund drives despite his retirement, acting as a fund raising consultant for hospitals, private schools and other organizations in financial development programs and campaign for yearly budget balancing.

He and Mrs. Pettengill will take up residence in Falmouth, where they maintain a summer home. He is already active in Falmouth affairs, holding the office of president in the Moors Association. The Moors is a summer colony on Vineyard Sound.

He will be active this summer in plans to rebuild a bathing cabana on the beach and a clubhouse on the golf course to replace facilities washed away by Hurricane "Carol."

In addition to his duties as executive director of the Newton Community Chest, he has directed a number of capital campaigns. These include a USO campaign in 1947, the second Newton-Wellesley Hospital Building Fund Campaign in 1949, the Faulkner Hospital Modernization Campaign in 1952 and the Newton Y.M.C.A.

Joint Concert Of Glee Clubs This Sunday

The Glee Clubs of Newton College of the Sacred Heart and Holy Cross College in Worcester will present a joint concert, Sunday, March 6, at 3:30 in the Playhouse on the Newton campus on Centre street. Mr. Frederick Merliani will direct for Holy Cross and Mr. Thomas Sokol for Newton.

A unique feature of the concert will be a sister-brother duet by Cathy and Fred Connolly of 80 Claremont street, Newton. Cathy is at Newton and Fred at Holy Cross.

Two small groups from the colleges will sing selections from Debussy and Russell Wollen.

Among Holy Cross' selections will be Baldwin's "Lift Thine Eyes" and Vittoria's "Ave Maria." Newton will sing Purcell's "Glory and Worship Are Before Him"; Lotti's "Vere Languores" and "Kyrie"; and Debussy's "Il Pleut dans Mon Coeur."

After the concert, the group will sing at Benediction given in the College Chapel by Reverend Father Scannell S.J., moderator of the Holy Cross Glee Club.

Bill to Permit Police Removal Of Parked Cars

Cars parked so as to "constitute a hazard to the safety of the public" may be towed away at the owner's expense under a bill filed by Rep. George E. Rawson of Newton for Public Safety Commissioner Otis M. Whitney.

The bill provides that the state or local police may remove to "some convenient place" any vehicle on a public way that endangers the public welfare. Cost of towing will be passed on to

Institution of New Knights of Columbus Council on Sunday

The Institution of the Knights of Columbus Council 3973 will be held this Sunday afternoon at 2:00 p.m. in the Newton Centre Women's Club, 1200 Centre street, Newton Centre.

The Institution and ceremonies incident thereto are under the direction of Francis W. Gildea, District Deputy of the Knights of Columbus.

The new council embraces the parishes of Sacred Heart, Newton Centre; Philip Neri, Waban; and Mary Immaculate of Lourdes, Newton Upper Falls, and will start off with 120 members at the Institution.

The council is honored with the membership of His Excellency the Most Reverend Eric F. MacKenzie, Auxiliary Bishop of Boston, and pastor of Sacred Heart Parish.

The First Degree of the Order will be exemplified by present and past officers of Newton Council No. 167. Officers of the new council will be elected and installed during the ceremonies.

General Chairman of the Organization Committee is Cleo Jaillet, with Francis B. Dailey acting as Secretary.

50c Boost In Tax Rate May Result

Newton's tax rate, which last year rose to $44.50, should not go up more than 50 cents "and then only if absolutely necessary," said the Newton Taxpayers' Association this week in urging judicious trimming of "not absolutely essential" items.

Budget proposals "at first glance," wrote Lorenz F. Muther, Jr., executive secretary of the taxpayers' group, call for an increase of about $600,000 over last year's expenditures. Figuring from the city's $240,000,000 of real estate valuation, this increase represents a rise of about $2.50 in the tax rate.

Despite this recommended rise in spending, Muther continued, the tax rate should not reach an all-time high. By cutting $240,000 from budget requests and taking $840,000 from surplus funds, the increase would only be $120,000—or 50 cents on the tax levy.

"As the mayor pointed out," the executive secretary declared, "his budget includes items absolutely essential at this time. It now devolves upon the aldermen to determine how much cake in addition to the needed bread should be provided this year by the taxpayers, many of whom as citizens do their full share of asking for both the bread and the cake."

Muther called for the establishment of financial standards "which provide a good measurement of equitable burden-bearing in relation to the sum of individual, group or local desires.

"For a starter, suppose the city should set up the following standards and aims: Debt service and retirement not to go over 10 percent of the budget, and the debt-valuation ratio to be held to 6.5 per cent. No request for legislative increase in borrowing capacity. Surplus to be held at not less than $250,000 nor more than $500,000. Tax rate to reflect more pencil sharpening — not to rise more than 50 cents in 1955 and then only if absolutely necessary."

"Applying these standards," said Muther, "Now is the time to begin to get our current debt in handy shape." He warned that "almost certain tremendous

Maher Named Director of Insurance Ass'n.

Frank B. Maher, vice-president of the John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Company, has been elected a director of the Life Insurance Agency Management Association.

The Association is a service and sales research organization of 260 life insurance companies throughout the world, the purpose of which is to help life companies extend their benefits at the lowest possible cost to the public. Association companies have about 95 per cent of the total life insurance in force in the United States and Canada.

Mr. Maher, whose entire insurance career has been with the district agency operation of the John Hancock in field and home office was elected a second vice-president in 1951 and vice-president in 1953. He served as district manager and field supervisor before he was called to the Company's home office as superintendent of agents. He has been a member of the National Association of Life Underwriters for more than twenty-five years, is a trustee of the Life Underwriter Training Council and chairman of the Combination Company Committee of the American Life Convention.

Mr. Maher is president of the Parent-Teacher Association of West Newton where he makes his home and is a trustee of the Free Library of the City of Newton. Mr. and Mrs. Maher are the parents of five children and they recently joined the ranks of proud grandparents.

World Politics Program to Start in Newtonville March 8

"International politics, like all politics, is a struggle for power . . . Statesmen and peoples may ultimately seek freedom, security, peace . . . But whenever they strive to realize their goal by means of international politics, they do so by striving for power."

Can freedom and security be attained in a struggle for power among nations? Is striving for power the only way to achieve these objectives? These questions are typical of those discussed by participants in the World Politics Program.

The "World Politics" discussion series is sponsored by the Newton Free Public Library and the World Affairs Council of Newton in cooperation with the American Foundation for Political Education. Participants in the series have an opportunity to explore and evaluate significant ideas and problems in world politics such as democracy and communism, the state and the individual, international law and power politics. While participation in a group is open to all adults, groups must be limited to thirty persons for the sake of good discussion. Interested persons may register to participate in a World Politics group which will meet in Newton on Tuesday evenings at 8 p.m. beginning on March 8 in the Newtonville Branch Library. The discussions are based on a three volume set of readings including selections from the writings of Lincoln, Lippmann, Lenin, Locke and Churchill, and are led by two leaders trained by the American Foundation for Political Education.

The World Politics series of the American Foundation for Political Education, underwritten by the Ford Fund for Adult Education, is a ten week program and will start in Newton next month. The registration fee for the series is $10 per person and $15 per married couple. This sum covers the series as well as the three volumes of readings. For further information, contact Mrs. Mitchell Marcus, 230 Dorset road, Newton or call BIgelow 4-3656.

Mrs. D'Abre Is Named to ExecutivePost

Mrs. Therese Conlon D'Abre has been promoted to the position of Executive Director of the Newton Tuberculosis and Health Association. Mrs. D'Abre, a resident of Newton Upper Falls, has been Health Educator for the Association during the past two years. She is a graduate of the University of Massachusetts and is an active member of many public health and tuberculosis control organizations. Before her affiliation with the Newton Association, she worked with volunteer tuberculosis associations in Malden and Salem and taught in the Dennis school system for two years.

New Red Cross Canteen Course Starts March 25

Mrs. Donald E. Mayberry, canteen chairman of the Newton Chapter of the American Red Cross, announces a new Canteen Course to start March 25th.

The course will consist of four classes of 2½ hours each. It is designed to train interested women in canteen operations for emergency and regular community service, including Blood Program and Veterans Administration Hospital activities. Training will stress team work, mass preparation and serving methods, menu planning, marketing and figuring food costs.

"The two hurricanes of 1954 demonstrated dramatically what a vital part of community service an efficiently operated canteen can prove to be," said Mrs. Mayberry. "Won't you help the preparedness program of your Newton Red Cross and join this class?"

Call Mrs. Donald E. Mayberry, BI 4-0808, or the Chapter House, LA 7-600 by March 18.

Says Greater Link Between Home, Classroom Is Needed

A greater understanding of the problems of children and a closer link between the home and the classroom were urged last night by Norman E. Moore of Newton, administrative assistant in the Department of the Attorney General and a prominent authority on juvenile delinquency.

Addressing the Duxbury Parent-Teachers Association Council in the High School Auditorium, Moore pointed out that no child is born a delinquent, but that somewhere along the line—especially in the stepped-up tempo of today—it is possible for him to hop onto a Streetcar of Desire.

Appointed by Atty. Gen. George Fingold to a newly formed Youth Division in the Department of the Attorney General, Moore has helped initiate conferences between law enforcement officers and publishers of so-called crime and horror comic books as a prime step in the curbing of juvenile delinquency.

"The minds of juveniles have been warped," Moore declared, "by the reading of such trash and it has changed their thinking from constructive, wholesome attitudes in the home and school to destructive, vicious attitudes towards life in general."

Moore hastened to point out that this was not a blanket indictment of all youth. "But enough children have been affected," he said, "that the problem of juvenile delinquency has become a national one."

"When children thrill-kill as they did in New York, when they tie other youngsters to a stake and burn him, when they roam the streets in gangs and are armed with garrison belts, blackjacks, brass knuckles, knives and guns," Moore said, "it's certainly time to realize we have a cancer in our midst which must be cut out."

Moore pointed out that both law enforcement officials and agencies like the PTA Council can exert influences for good to help fathers and mothers to be better parents and aid in the healthy development of their children.

"I believe parents are increasingly becoming aware of this vital problem," Moore went on, and he told of a questionnaire on juvenile delinquency recently sent to officers of al home-and-school associations in Boston, organizations similar to parent-teacher groups.

"In the majority of the 364 replies received," he said, "cures were proposed rather than treatment for causes, and a common suggestion was for extended recreation facilities with an improved program of youth activities, organized and supervised.

"Of course," Moore pointed out, "that is not a new recommendation, but it certainly is further evidence of its potential as a cure. Other recommendations included more disci-

I.Q. Tests for People in Public Office Something New Wells Expected to Best Kennedy, but What Will It Prove? Democrats In Battle for Chairmanship of State Committee

If James Kennedy, brother of State Treasurer John F. Kennedy, finishes even close to Governor's Councillor George Wells of Worcester in their I.Q. battle on Saturday, it's going to pose an interesting situation because Wells is generally considered one of the most brilliant men in Massachusetts public life.

It is improbable that Kennedy has any conception of the caliber of competition he will be facing in the contest of intelligence quotients, but there is even greater doubt as to what the Executive Council will do after the returns are tabulated and reported in the unusual match.

For one thing the I.Q. tests on Saturday aren't likely to prove anything except what most political observers have assumed all along, namely that the pleasant-mannered, colorful Wells is a highly intelligent individual. Secondly, the Governor's Council challenged the qualifications of James Kennedy for the job in the office of the State Treasurer, not on his basic intelligence.

However, an I.Q. test is not the fool-proof measuring stick for gauging intelligence that many people imagine it to be. It is reasonably safe to state that if the same person were to take four different I.Q. tests at four different times, he probably would receive four different grades.

Tenley-

of the event, with dignity and high praise for Tenley, kept the program on schedule to the second in accordance with the TV broadcast which took place.

Although scheduled to arrive at the Boston Airport at 6:30 a.m., Sunday, the plane was two and a half hours late in arriving, but despite the delay Alderman Stuart Spaulding's Welcoming Committee, including Mayor Whitmore, were on hand to greet the young celebrity. Also at the Airport to greet her were her mother and brother and a large gathering of fellow members of the Boston Skating Club.

Prior to the reception at City Hall, and despite the downpour of rain, a parade was held which went from the High School, down Elm street, Lowell avenue, to Commonwealth avenue to Memorial Hall where a huge gathering of friends and citizens were on hand to greet the young skating star.

In the program directed by Mayor Howard Whitmore and planned by Alderman Stuart Spaulding, and his committee, Tenley was presented with a Paul Revere bowl from the people of Newton inscribed "To Tenley Albright, World Women's Figure Champion 1955 with congratulations, admiration and affection from the people of Newton."

Emotions charged the crowded hall as the long list of plaudits and recognitions were accorded Miss Albright. Her composure remained with her despite the confusion of hundreds of flashbulbs, spotlights, Television cameras, and shouts of "Hi Tenley."

Mayor Howard Whitmore, Jr., enumerated the charms that he and the citizens found in the young heroine. "We are proud of your achievements, skill and ability, your humility, charm, personality, and your love of young people," he told her.

"Your father told me before the ceremony that in spite of these you can be rough and tough in competition but you are a girl at home with femininity, charm, personality, and love of family that makes you an outstanding girl. These are your charms Tenley, and we love them in you. Wherever you go, whatever you do, you will bring credit to your country, state and community," the mayor concluded.

Governor Herter told Tenley that what she stands for means more than what she has accomplished. He referred to her victory over polio and her victory over a previous defeat in international competition "as standing for something that every family and every nation would want to claim for their own. She's already been an ambassador, one of the finest we have ever had in foreign lands. I hope the influence she has exerted on youth and older people continues throughout her life."

President Dwight D. Eisenhower sent his regards to the young queen saying: "Please extend my congratulations to Miss Tenley Albright as the Women's Figure Skating Champion of the World. She has brought new honors to her home, community and her nation for which she has been an international emissary of good will. My best wishes to all her friends who join in acclaim for her achievement." The President's message was read by Representative Laurence Curtis.

IT'S GREAT TO BE HOME AGAIN, seems to be what Tenley Albright is expressing with her captivating smile as she prepares to debark from the plane which brought her to the Boston Airport from Europe early Sunday morning. (Photo by Gordon R. Wilk)

Senator Richard H. Lee and Rep. Donald M. Gibbs presented Tenley with legislative resolutions in her honor.

Tenley, dressed in a gold silk brocade dress with tiny oriental figures pink and blue, wore fawn-colored shoes and a violet sash. Television spotlights glittered from a diamond and pearl necklace.

Composed, Tenley received the national, state and city plaudits while seated on a throne-like chair on stage between Governor Herter and her charming mother. Tenley's 15-year-old brother Nile, a speed skating champion, and her father, Dr. Hollis Albright, also shared in the reception.

Two young ladies momentarily stole the spotlight when little Miss Gayle Ann and Lynda Sue Solar of Swampscott, on behalf of the North Shore Skating Club presented a gift to her.

Fourteen members of the Newton Veterans' Honor Guard, commanded by Joseph Greco, served as the queen's honor guard during afternoon ceremonies and collected autgraphs during a chat with her later in the Mayor's office.

The committee which so admirably handled all the huge details for this home-coming celebration to a renowned, native daughter of the city, was headed by Alderman Stuart M. Spaulding, Chairman, and consisted of: Denholm M. Jacobs, Mass. Department of Commerce; John J. Wilson, Jr., president, Boston Skating Club; Miss Ruth Kimball Wilkie, president of the Newton Figure Skating Club; Joseph J. Ward, assistant parade marshall; Walter A. Brown, president, Boston Garden Association; Wendell R. Bauckman, president, Newton Board of Aldermen; Carlton P. Merrill, president, Newton Junior Chamber of Commerce; Richard White, president, Newton Rotary Club; Frank D. McMullen, president, Newton Kiwanis Club; Dana W. Gleason, president, Newton Lions Club; Mrs. Wilson R. Hammell, president, Newton Zonta Club; Melvin J. Dangel, president, Newton P.T.A. Council; C. Evans Johnson, Recreation Commissioner; Wilfred Chagnon, past president, Newton Chamber of Commerce; Chief of Police Philip Purcell; George W. Taylor, Jr.; Joseph Selden, Recreation Commission Member; Benjamin Beresen; Harold B. Gores, superintendent Newton public schools; Monte G. Basbas, City Clerk; Charles E. Feeley, Newton Safety Officer; James J. Murphy, Recreation Commission member; and William Maloney, chairman, Newton United Veterans' Organization.

WITH THAT EVER HAPPY SMILE, Tenley Albright enters War Memorial Hall Sunday afternoon where every nook and corner was jammed with friends and dignataries to pay homage to her for her accomplishment in winning the coveted World's Ladies' Figure Skating Championship at Vienna, Austria, last month. Moore concluded by telling the group that "you hold the key to the curbing of juvenile delinquency. It only needs to be turned in the right lock."

Building Fund Campaign in 1953.

Mr. Pettengill has been president of the Waban Improvement Society and the Men's Club of the First Church in Newton Centre, where he also was senior deacon, chairman of the prudential committee and chairman of the music committee. He is a former vice-president of the Waban Neighborhood Club and has been active in the Men's Club of the Waban Union Church.

On hearing of the retirement, Mayor Howard Whitmore, Jr., declared "For many years the people of the City, the Community Chest and the Red Feather Campaigns have been truly fortunate to have a man who has dedicated his life and activities to the service of others, who has been a constant inspiration and counsel to the Red Feather agencies, organizational workers and solicitors occupy the all important position of Executive Director of the Newton Community Chest. This man, as you all know, is Pete Pettengill.

"To him more than to any other person, we owe the real success of our Community Chest and Red Feather Campaigns. He has formulated and perfected as fine an organization as man can build. He has generated the enthusiasm and determination which has inspired hundreds of workers and has built friendship and goodwill among all with whom he has associated.

"He is to retire and enjoy a well deserved rest. So many owe him so much that I am unable to adequately express our deep appreciation and gratitude. Thanks, Pete, for everything. Good luck and Godspeed."

GOP Plans to Make Citywide Member Drive

At a recent meeting of the Executive Board of the Newton Republican Club, plans were completed for an intensive City-wide membership drive.

The Club has issued the following statements: "The Newton Republican Club is launching this membership drive to attract those voters of the City, both men and women, who are sincerely interested in Republican politics. This year the Newton Republican Club is featuring an expanded program of social, political, and civic activities for its members. Our aim is to enroll in our growing ranks Independents and registered Republicans who will support the Club not only by their membership but also by their participation in its activities."

The Membership Committee consists of Carleton P. Merrill, Chairman; James K. Fitzpatrick; Franklin N. Flaschner; and Fred P. Pegnato.

Youth of Temple Shalom to Hold Purim Festivities

A carnival spirit will be in order throughout all Departments of the Religious School of Temple Shalom of Newton to celebrate Purim.

Saturday morning, March 5, and Sunday morning, March 6, the school will be converted into the city of Shushan with games and concessions. The children will come in costume and a grand march will be held. At the Intermediate session on Sunday each class will choose its kind and queen and select the best costume, and the day will close with the crowning of the king and queen of Purim. As an extra feature a Shushan trading post will be set up for the exchange of Purim gifts.

A special carnival will be held by the Kindergarten Department on Purim Day, March 8, to which the members of the Cradle Roll (pre-school children) are invited.

The Junior High School Department will observe Purim with an impromtu reading of the Purim Mikado during the regular chapel period, and the snack bar for that day will feature Purim delicacies. These boys and girls are also invited to attend the JOTS (Juniors of Temple Shalom) Purim Dance to be held on Saturday evening, March 5, at 7:45 p.m., at the Temple.

Chairman of the Purim festivities is P.T.A. representative Mrs. Harold Williams, who will be assisted by an able committee. Mrs. William Glovsky and a group of Cradle Roll mothers are in charge of the activities for the pre-school and Kindergarten children.

Novelist Speaks Today on "The Novel and I"

Riley Hughes, novelist and critic, associate professor of English at Georgetown University's School of Foreign Service, Washington, D. C., will speak at Newton College of the Sacred Heart on Thursday, March 3 at 4:30. His topic will be: "The Novel and I," based on his many years of experience as a critic of fiction. He is at present fiction critic of the national magazine The Catholic World. Bruce Publishing Company will bring out his first novel and second book in June.

Since 1946 Mr. Hughes has been teaching at Georgetown. Before that, he taught for four years at Providence College in Rhode Island.

Mr. Hughes has also lectured in many colleges throughout the country, including Barat College in Chicago; Rosary College in Missouri; Seton Hill College in Pennsylvania, and St. Mary of the Woods College in Indiana.

Will Participate In Theological Seminary Month

Temple Emanuel of Newton and Temple Reyin of West Newton, will be among 26 northern New England Conservative congregations tomorrow night (Friday), in a program launching Jewish Theological Seminary of America Month in March.

The week-end program, which includes special sermons on Saturday, has been designated as Seminary Sabbath by the Conservative congregations in northern New England. The rabbis will devote their sermons tomorrow night to the theme: "Your Children's Future as Jews—The Message of Conservative Judaism."

Rabbi Albert I. Gordon, president of the New England Region of the Rabbinical Assembly; Mark Edison, council vice-chairman; Joseph Greenbaum, all of Temple Emanuel; Rabbi Harold Castle, Nathan Goldstein, president, and Dr. Davis Perlmutter, of Temple Reyin, will be among the spiritual and lay leaders in the area helping to dramatize and build a greater understanding and support of the Jewish Theological Seminary of America.

Newton Women Join in World Day of Prayer at 2nd Church

Joining in a service being followed by 10 million people in 125 countries around the world, the Protestant women of Newton met at Second Church, Congregational, West Newton, last Friday afternoon to observe the annual World Day of Prayer. A proclamation issued by Mayor Howard Whitmore, Jr., calling for attendance at the service "to ask God to give us light to guide us, courage to support us, and love to unite us" brought an overflow crowd at the Meditation Period held in Fuller Chapel under the direction of Mrs. Rose Cannon, Mrs. Anthony Jaureguy, and Mrs. Randolph Merrill. Approximately 500 women at 2 o'clock took part in the World Day of Prayer Service which was written this year by Miss Jorgelina Lozada of Buenos Aires, Argentina.

Leaders in the service were Mrs. Hugh Robinson, president of the Newton Council of Church Women, Mrs. Kenneth Waite, vice-president, and the Rev. Ross Cannon, minister of the church. The Rev. Russell Bishop, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Newton ,gave the address. Mr. Ivar Sjostrom, organist, was in charge of the music, and Mrs. Theodore C. Danker, president of the Woman's Council of Second Church, served as director of the ushers.

Using as his text the year's theme, "If you abide in me, and my words abide in you, ask whatever you will, and it shall be done for you", Mr. Bishop pointed out that anything can be accomplished through the medium of prayer. He stressed the importance of the offerings which go out from us "to represent us in the work of the church throughout the world." "This offering," he stated, "is the tangible result of prayer, for action is the outcome of prayer." He told of the beginnings of the World Day of Prayer when in 1887, in Boston, a group of Presbyterian women met to pray for home missions; a few years later Baptist women set aside a day for prayer for foreign missions. In 1919 the two days were united to form the World Day of Prayer which, sponsored by the General Department of United Church Women of the National Council of Churches of Christ in the U.S.A., has been observed each year since then on the first Friday in Lent.

This year, in 125 countries and in 20,000 communities in America, the service of prayer was held, and from them go the offerings which support interdenominational work under the Boards of Home and Foreign Missions.

Political Overtones

An element of luck is definitely involved in such a test, although we suspect that Councillor Wells would be very likely to come up with a high mark on any test at any time, but there could be a distinct variation in the results under different circumstances.

What this actually comes down to is an opportunity for Wells to establish himself as a politician with a high I.Q. He obviously is confident of his ability to do exactly that, and it could catapult him into such prominence that he would be a standout candidate for a place on the Democratic State ticket next year.

But what will Saturday's contest of brain waves establish as far as the Kennedy brother is concerned? Probably nothing, except that Wells will be almost morally bound to vote for his confirmation, if the Treasurer's brother comes anywhere near his own mark.

This controversy, of course, stemmed from the fact that Treasurer Kennedy was naming his own brother to a position for which he had no qualifications except in a general sort of way.

That is not an extraordinary situation. It is not at all unusual for Democratic office-holders to place their relatives in jobs.

During James M. Curley's last term as Mayor, he put two of his sons in department head posts, and for a period his brother-in-law also worked for the city. That caused no furore, nor did any tempest boil up when ex-Governor Dever made his brother a judge.

But Treasurer Kennedy did not pitch his fight on the issue that it was not considered a political sin when other men gave jobs to close relatives. Instead, he hurled a rather silly challenge to the Executive Councillors to take an I.Q. test in competition with his brother, at the same time making it plain that he himself would not engage in such a contest.

What Councillor Wells actually said in response to Treasurer Kennedy's defy was that he would take an I.Q. test in competition with the Treasurer and that he would get out of public life, if he did not get a higher mark than Kennedy. But Treasurer Kennedy, having hurled one challenge, did not accept the one tossed back at him.

Treasurer Kennedy presumably will start a clamor for the confirmation of his brother's appointment, if the latter comes up with a high grade on Saturday. But a guess from this distance is that Councillor Wells will win the I.Q. argument.

The battle for the chairmanship of the Democratic State Committee now seems likely to wind up in court.

Two different meetings of the committee, one in Boston and the other in Springfield, are scheduled for approximately the same time next Saturday afternoon.

Since it is necessary to have majority of the committee members in attendance in order to hold a legal meeting, it is quite possible that neither session will be able to get underway.

But if either meeting is able to muster a quorum, it will immediately be assailed as illegal by the opposing faction, and the argument undoubtedly would be carried into court.

The rift in the Democratic party has been caused by the effort of one group in the party to oust John C. Carr of Medford from the committee chairmanship and replace him with William H. Burke, Jr., of Hatfield.

Burke appears to have the votes to defeat Carr, if a real test of strength were staged at this time, but that does not appear possible under the circumstances that have developed.

Burke's supporters will converge on the Hotel Kimball in Springfield for a meeting scheduled to start at 2:30 p.m. Saturday, and Carr's backers will gather at the Sheraton Plaza Hotel in Boston at 3 p.m. the same day.

Some committee members, abashed by the turn of events, will boycott both meetings.

The size of the stay-away vote will determine whether either meeting will draw the quorum necessary to constitute a legal session.

These were the events that led to this situation:

Burke's backers have been trying for some time to install him in the chairmanship. A trade originally was made in which Carr would resign to become city manager of Medford, and Burke would move into his place. That fell through when an attempt to fire Medford's city manager to make way for Carr was blocked.

About two weeks ago, Burke's supporters presented a petition demanding that Carr call a meeting of the State Committee next Saturday for the purpose of filling vacancies in the organization and electing officers.

Carr did call a meeting but in listing the purposes for which it would be held, he omitted any reference to filling vacancies.

That maneuver was designed to block Burke since he could not be elected chairman until after he was named to the committee to fill a vacancy.

The Burke faction thereupon charged that Carr's action was illegal and called their own meeting for Springfield.

Developments now will hinge largely on whether Burke can get a majority of the committee members to attend the Springfield session. If he does, and it's possible that he may be able to do so, Carr will undoubtedly challenge the legality of that meeting.

Gerhard Hohne, 35-year-old German house painter, last week won a month-long court fight in Berlin to prove he is alive. When Hohne applied for a marriage license, he was told he couldn't have it because he was legally dead. It seems that in 1949, while he was still a Russian prisoner, his first wife had him declared dead in Potsdam. A Berlin court, after listening to Hohne, declared it would rule him alive, no matter how dead he remained in Potsdam.

FURTHER WARNING that Route 9 is not an expressway is brought to the attention of motorists with the erection on Monday, February 28, 1955, of special signs facing in both directions and placed at three-mile intervals for the entire 33 miles of the turnpike. There will be 22 signs along the highway and four others at each end of the route and also in Northboro. State Public Works Commissioner John A. Volpe announced that in erecting the new signs motorists will realize they are endangering their lives as well as that of others by using Route 9 as though it were a modern expressway. Present accident rate, still among the highest in the State, is the result of excessive speeds.

Your Income Taxes

By James R. Canavan, C.P.A.

This is the last in a series of eight articles on Federal and State income taxes, distributed by the Boston Chapter of the National Association of Cost Accountants.

What is meant by the deduction on page 2, "Massachusetts Income taxes"?

You are allowed to deduct the State income tax you paid on your business income. This deduction is determined by multiplying the "Total Taxable Business Income" (page 3), as shown on the copy of the State return filed last year, by 2.45 percent.

What income is shown on page 4 of my State return?

Income from capital is shown on page 4 of the State return. This includes such items as income from annuities, cash dividends on stock, interest on bonds, and gains from sales of securities.

I am single and during 1954 my total income was $4,000. This income was derived from dividends, $2,600, and annuities, $1,400. Do I get any deductions against this income from capital?

Yes. If you are under 65, you are entitled to a $1,000 exemption against your annuity income; if you are 65 or over, you are entitled to a $1,500 exemption ($1,400 against your annuity income and $100 against your dividend income). The exemption must be applied first against the annuity income.

Is everyone entitled to this new exemption against annuity, interest and dividend income?

No. A single taxpayer who has taxable and non-taxable income of more than $5,000, a husband and wife who, jointly, have taxable and non-taxable income of more than $7,500, or a taxpayer whose net business income exceeds his exemptions and dependency deductions is not entitled to the new exemption.

I cashed a Series E bond this year. Must I report the interest on my State return?

No. The interest on bonds or other obligations of the United States is not considered taxable income.

My wife and I have a joint account in a local savings bank. Must I report the interest credited on our passbook?

No. In the case of joint savings bank accounts, the interest is exempt on $15,000 of deposits, or $30,000 of deposits and accumulated interest. If it is not a joint account, the interest is exempt on $7,500 of deposits, or $15,000 of deposits and accumulated interest.

I own a two-family house. Must I report the income from the rented apartment on my State return?

No. The Commonwealth of Massachusetts does not tax your rental income because the property has been taxed by your local government.

On my State return, may I deduct my personal expenses, such as contributions, excessive medical expenses, local real estate taxes, etc.?

No. Your personal and family deductions are in lieu of such personal expenses.

I am married. If my only source of income is from capital, must I pay a State tax?

Not necessarily. If the combined income of you and your wife during 1954 did not exceed $2,500, you must file a joint return, but you will not have to pay a tax.

Health For All

Color In Your Life

We all boast of being red-blooded Americans. But why do we say "Red?" All blood is red, even that of blue-blooded aristocrats.

Color affects us all strongly, both emotionally and physically. Red makes us feel strong and our muscles react quickly to it. Blue relaxes and calms us. Advertisers use color to affect our feelings toward their products. We can use it in our daily lives to make ourselves healthier and happier. March is a good month to experiment. The outside world is drab and dreary. March is mud.

In this depressing atmosphere a cold in the nose can make anyone wish he were dead. But simply to blame the mournful dress of Nature will not solve the problem. Let's see what color can do to make our surroundings more stimulating.

A manufacturer redecorated his cafeteria in what he thought was a lovely feminine blue to please his women employees. Soon they complained of feeling cold and wore their coats to lunch. A color engineer advised slip-covering the chairs in orange and the complaints ended. The red side of the color spectrum is warm, and the blue-green opposites are cool. Dark colored objects seem heavier than light colored ones. Yellow can feel like sunlight, but the wrong shade can make you sick at your stomach.

It isn't necessary to buy a new wardrobe or redecorate the house from top to bottom. If you give thought to planning clothes, rooms, even meals, you will find you can use color for more health and happiness without extra expense. You can wear a bright scarf with an old dress. A small piece of material in a warm color will cover a sofa pillow. You can find stimulating pictures for your walls in magazines. You can cut branches of flowering trees and bring them to bloom in water. You can have spring in your house.

When the season changes, you can emphasize cool and restful colors that will give your family a more comfortable summer.

This column is sponsored, in the interest of better health, by: the Newton Tuberculosis and Health Association whose sole support is the annual sale of Christmas Seals.

Little Leaguers Selling Booster Tickets in N.C.

Newton's East Little Leaguers are circulating throughout the community this week selling booster tickets, which include admission to the third annual dance of the League Saturday night, March 26, at the Bowen School in Newton Centre.

Last year's dance was very successful. Funds were raised to purchase caps, T-shirts, bats, balls and other equipment needed for Newton East's ambitious program of four major league teams and six International League squads totaling 168 boys.

Little Leaguers selling the most tickets will receive prizes, with a portable radio going to the boy with the top sales record. Chairman of the dance is Syd Borofsky, assisted by committee members Jay Gordon, Gene Blinn and Irv Polen. There will be door prizes and dance contests, and music will be provided by a "live" orchestra.

Name N.C. Woman '55 Easter Seals Area Treasurer

Miss Ruth Burns of Newton Centre, assistant treasurer of the Newton-Waltham Bank and Trust Company, has accepted the post of area treasurer for the 1955 Easter Seal Campaign.

The annual Easter Seal appeal of the Bay State Society for the Crippled and Handicapped Inc., of which Miss Burns is treasurer, will start next Thursday through Easter Sunday. Its goal is $320,000 to provide rehabilitation services for crippled children and adults throughout the state.

The Bay State Society, a voluntary health organization, operates a state-wide program of direct service to fill the unmet needs of crippled children and adults, regardless of cause of crippling, race or creed.

In addition to rehabilitation centers in Boston, Worcester, and Springfield, Easter Seal funds provide camp vacations for crippled children, an equipment pool of wheelchairs and walkers, a program for the homebound, individual casework service, and job placement for crippled adults.

Temple Emanuel In Traditional Purim Festival

The Purim Festival will be observed by the Temple Emanuel Congregation and School with a series of traditional events. Monday evening at 7 p.m., two separate services and Magillah readings will take place simultaneously in the Temple Sanctuary and in the Community Hall.

Parents and students of grades two through six will congregate in the Temple. Dr. Albert I. Gordon and Cantor Gabriel Hochberg will conduct the Service. The Magillah will be read by Walter Angoff, Jon Steinberg, Phyllis Zavod, Paula Needle, Robert Lenox, Richard Berk, July Nissen, Arlene Bergart, Leonard Berman, Sheila Jacobson, Norman Saunders, Edward Goldstein, Frances Witty, Gloria Dashefsky and Peter Lipman.

In accordance with tradition, Queen Esther, represented by Eve Steinberg, and Mordecai, represented by Howard Greene, will grace the pulpit during the reading of the Magillah. Their royal attendants will be Robert Gilman, Leslie Lenox, Rosalyn Seltzer and William Rose.

Parents and students of the Aleph classes and of the Primary Sunday School will meet in the Community Hall. Dr. Martin Goldstein, educational director, assisted by members of the staff, will conduct the Service. The Magillah will be read here by Harris Goodman, Phyllis Levenson, Stephen Sacks, Philip Sandler, Janet Feldman, Joyce Lenox, Murray Lichtenstein, Alan Andler, Ruth Cooperstein, Steven Brostoff, Edward Koenig, Sidney Wax, Gerald Angoff, Gerald Rogell, and Malcolm Margolis.

Gracing the pulpit in the Community Hall will be Phyllis Licker as Queen Esther, and Robert Creem as Mordecai. Their attendants will be Myrna Shapiro, Martin Gilman, Dennis Deutsch and Linda Litvin.

Sunday morning the annual Students' Purim Carnival will take place in the Community Hall, with Hamantaschen (contributed by the Temple Emanuel Sisterhood), noisemakers and games. Parents will accompany their children.

Boston Edison Demonstration For N.C. Guild

Boston Edison's Home Service Division will present an electrical homemaking demonstration for the Guild of St. Francis at the Sacred Heart School, Crescent avenue, Newton Centre, next Thursday afternoon, March 10, from 2 to 4 o'clock.

This program, under the direction of Miss Frances R. Cullen, head of the Home Service Division, will feature a complete cooking demonstration on one of the newest types of automatic electric ranges. Menus will be prepared that will show the outstanding features of electric baking, broiling and surface cooking and the ease of performance through automatic, exact temperature control.

The class will be conducted by Edison Home Economists, Judith Rowen and Paula Fitzsimmons. Kathryn Outzen, lighting consultant, will give a short, informative talk on modern lighting in the home.

Mrs. John Quinn of 1661 Centre street, Newton Highlands, is chairman of the program. Special features have been arranged to make this affair popular and timely to all who attend.

NEWTON HIGH MUSIC CLUB

ELAINE PINKERTON

On Wednesday morning, March 9, in the auditorium, the Newton High School Music Club will present Miss Elaine Pinkerton, nationally known violinist and a personal friend of Mr. Henry Lasker, club advisor.

Miss Pinkerton graduated with highest honors from the New England Conservatory of Music, where for several years she was concert mistress of the orchestra.

For her outstanding citizenship, scholarship, and future promise, Miss Pinkerton received the Mu Phi Epsilon Medal. She is also the winner of the 1948 scholarship contest held by the Massachusetts Federation of Women's Clubs, and winner of the 1954 scholarship contest presented by the Musical Guild of Boston.

In the concerto contest held recently by the Music Education League of New York, Miss Pinkerton was a winner. The prize for this was her solo appearance playing the Bruch Violin Concerto in Town Hall, New York, last month with Thomas Scherman and the Little Orchestra Society, for which she received high praise from New York critics.

Locally she has appeared as soloist with the many orchestras, and has also given recitals at the Gardner Museum and at Jordan Hall.

She has studied with Richard Burgin, concertmaster of the Boston Symphony Orchestra, Jacques Malkin, and Rafael Bronstein.

Miss Pinkerton will be accompanied by Evelyn Bergstrom of Boston.

MARSH WINDS
A Peerless and Charming Colonial

This 200-year-old treasure was dismantled and restored on a breathtaking new site in the Argilla area of HISTORICAL IPSWICH, rebuilt with a great steel-beamed concrete foundation for the huge center chimney.

Retaining the rich mellowness of more than two centuries, it is ready now for new centuries of gracious living with modern plumbing, heating, wiring.

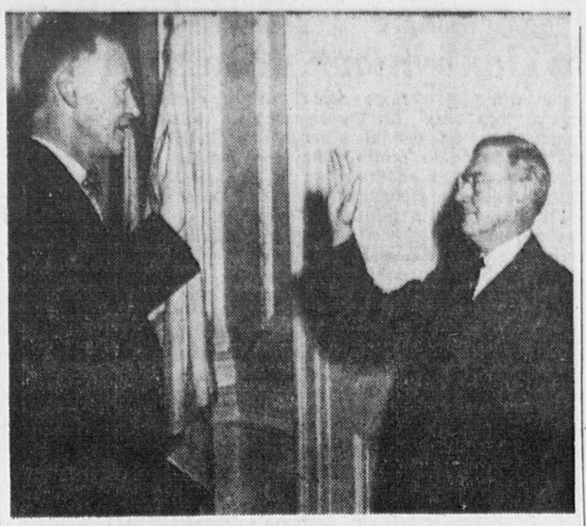

This Colonial residence has 8 beautifully proportioned and graceful rooms, powder room, separate laundry room, 2 full baths & attached 2-car garage.

There are 6 fine old fireplaces. The living rm., with 9½ ft. ceiling, box-beamed, and wide-board flooring is dominated by a 9-ft. original-brick fireplace with open ovens, the entire wall wood-panelled and lighted with unusual antique-silver candelabra.

The whole interior of this truly lovely house has been decorated in soft tones of spice and bayberry to enhance Colonial pieces.

With a two acre setting, looking out over hundreds of acres of colorful (protected) salt-marsh and evergreen knolls, this property, complete with electric stove, refrigerator, dishwasher, clothes washer and dryer (all new equipment), and with golden eagle over the fan-light front door is offered at $42,500. Immediate occupancy.

Davis School Activities

The Executive board of the Davis School P.T.A. of West Newton met on Monday, February 28 at the home of Mrs. Eli Feldman on Davis Avenue. Mr. Raymond R. Forte, presided and Mrs. Feldman read the secretary's report. Mr. J. Ellis Bowen reported on the status of the treasury and urged all to make the Spring Social a financial success.

The activities and accomplishments of the past year were reviewed and it was announced that the nominating committee was preparing a slate of officers to be presented at the next meeting on May 2, 1955. Members of this committee are: Mrs. Charles O. Richter, Mrs X. Dana Sprague, Mr. Anthony J. Farrington, and Dr. Thomas S. Hayden.

Mrs. Melvin Taymor, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee announced that circulars detailing the Spring Social would be distributed this week. This dance is to be held on Saturday evening, March 12, at 8:30 at the Peirce School. Committee members will visit homes of all Davis students and it is hoped that everyone will buy tickets and enjoy this school affair. The "Celebrity Six", an orchestra well-known in this vicinity, will furnish the music and a gala evening is promised. Proceeds will be used to augment the 6th grade conservation trip to Topsfield and to purchase classroom radios.

Members of the Dance Committee are: Mrs. Taymor, chairman; Mrs. Thomas S. Hayden, Mrs. Harry Weiner, Mrs. Joseph McNamara, Mrs. Richard Roche, Mr. and Mrs. Paul O'Donnell. Mrs. Wayne V. Schell, Mrs. Anthony J. Farrington, and Mrs. William Jones.

Mr. Paul O'Donnell, chairman of the Building and Playground Committee brought the group up to date on the plans for the improvement of the school play area. A fenced-off section for small children's games is one of the welcome innovations.

According to Mrs. Wayne V. Schell, program chairman, the May 2 P.T.A. meeting will be a student participation program. Parents, children, and faculty are looking forward to this always popular evening.

Mrs. Thomas F. A. Flynn, publicity chairman, asked that all chairmen of committees and activities notify her of their meetings so that notices may be sent to the press.

Miss Mary J. Nugent, principal, stated that plans for the 6th grade conservation trip are underway. Mothers of the students are assisting the teachers with the planning.

Other committe members present were: Miss Anne C. Gorman, Miss Helen C. Laganas, Mr. Thomas F. A. Flynn, Mrs. William H. Bright, Mrs. Oscar Murphy and Mrs. Carl E. Hartbower.

JOHN W. CARLETON of 39 Nehoiden road, Waban, who has been elected vice-president and actuary of Liberty Mutual Insurance Company, according to an announcement by S. Bruce Black, president of the company. Mr. Carleton started with the company in 1941 on the actuarial staff and in successive years became assistant actuary, associate actuary and actuary.

Two Newton Men Named Officials Of Boston Bank

Two Newton men have been elected officials of the Second Bank-State Street Trust Company following the recent consolidation of the trust company and the Second National Bank of Boston.

James R. Denning of 24 Burnside road, Newton Highlands, was elected operations vice-president of the new institution, and Warren A. Sutherland of 150 Melrose street, Auburndale, was named an assistant vice-president.

Denning, a native of Strathroy, Ontario, Canada, began his banking career with the Canadian Bank of Commerce. During World War I, he was a member of the First Canadian Expeditionary Force and served with the Royal Montreal Regiment from August, 1914, to June, 1918.

Upon his return from overseas, Denning joined the Toronto office of the Canadian Bank of Commerce. In 1920, he became a representative of the American Foreign Banking Corporation at Rio de Janeiro, Brazil.

After other foreign banking duties, he was employed by the Hamilton National Bank of New York. He joined the staff of the Second National Bank in 1933 in the auditing and operations branch.

Sutherland, a 1932 graduate of Newton High School, joined the staff of the Second National Bank following his graduation from the Bentley School of Accounting.

After extensive service in various departments of the bank he has, for some time, been devoting his time to special services rendered in connection with municipal bond issues. He will be in charge of the municipal department of the new company.

Training at Ft. Dix

At Fort Dix, N.J., for eight weeks of basic infantry training are Pvts. Bernard P. Cooney Jr., son of Mrs. Bernard P. Cooney of 81 Varick road, Newton Lower Falls, and Nathaniel Rosenberg, son of Mr. and Mrs. David L. Rosenberg of 14 Mandalay road, Newton Centre.

Named Hartford Bank Official

Robert A. Eden, a native of Newton and a certified public accountant, has been appointed comptroller of the Society for Savings in Hartford, Conn.

Eden, formerly of Newton Centre, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. P. Edward Eden of Newton Highlands. He is a veteran of three years service with the 15th Air Force in Europe and Africa during World War II and was graduated from Syracuse University in 1950.

Mrs. T. Cogswell, N.H. Poet, Author, Dies At 72 Years

Mrs. Theodora Bates Cogswell, 72, of 83 Carver road, Newton Highlands, wife of Edward R. Cogswell, died on February 24 after a long illness. She was a direct descendant of Richard Warren of the Mayflower, of Captain Benjamin Church of King Philip's War, and of Stukely Westcott and other founders of Providence, R. I. She was the sister of Herbert Bates, well-known educator and poet, who is best remembered for his verse-translation of the Odyssey.

Mrs. Cogswell was a graduate of Radcliffe, and had lived in Cambridge most of her life until her marriage in 1906. Since then she had lived chiefly in the Newtons. Before her illness she was active in Radcliffe Alumnae matters, and in 1926-28 was the founder and first president of the Radcliffe Mothers and Daughters Club.

She was for many years a frequent contributor of verse to magazines and papers, including the Boston Transcript, the Boston Herald, the Living

An element of luck is definitely involved in such a test, although we suspect that Councillor Wells would be very likely to come up with a high mark on any test at any time, but there could be a distinct variation in the results under different circumstances.

What this actually comes down to is an opportunity for Wells to establish himself as a politician with a high I.Q. He obviously is confident of his ability to do exactly that, and it could catapult him into such prominence that he would be a standout candidate for a place on the Democratic State ticket next year.

But what will Saturday's contest of brain waves establish as far as the Kennedy brother is concerned? Probably nothing, except that Wells will be almost morally bound to vote for his confirmation, if the Treasurer's brother comes anywhere near his own mark.

This controversy, of course, stemmed from the fact that Treasurer Kennedy was naming his own brother to a position for which he had no qualifications except in a general sort of way.

That is not an extraordinary situation. It is not at all unusual for Democratic office-holders to place their relatives in jobs.

During James M. Curley's last term as Mayor, he put two of his sons in department head posts, and for a period his brother-in-law also worked for the city. That caused no furore, nor did any tempest boil up when ex-Governor Dever made his brother a judge.

But Treasurer Kennedy did not pitch his fight on the issue that it was not considered a political sin when other men gave jobs to close relatives. Instead, he hurled a rather silly challenge to the Executive Councillors to take an I.Q. test in competition with his brother, at the same time making it plain that he himself would not engage in such a contest.

What Councillor Wells actually said in response to Treasurer Kennedy's defy was that he would take an I.Q. test in competition with the Treasurer and that he would get out of public life, if he did not get a higher mark than Kennedy. But Treasurer Kennedy, having hurled one challenge, did not accept the one tossed back at him.

Treasurer Kennedy presumably will start a clamor for the confirmation of his brother's appointment, if the latter comes up with a high grade on Saturday. But a guess from this distance is that Councillor Wells will win the I.Q. argument.

The battle for the chairmanship of the Democratic State Committee now seems likely to wind up in court.

Two different meetings of the committee, one in Boston and the other in Springfield, are scheduled for approximately the same time next Saturday afternoon.

Since it is necessary to have majority of the committee members in attendance in order to hold a legal meeting, it is quite possible that neither session will be able to get underway.

But if either meeting is able to muster a quorum, it will immediately be assailed as illegal by the opposing faction, and the argument undoubtedly would be carried into court.

The rift in the Democratic party has been caused by the effort of one group in the party to oust John C. Carr of Medford from the committee chairmanship and replace him with William H. Burke, Jr., of Hatfield.

Burke appears to have the votes to defeat Carr, if a real test of strength were staged at this time, but that does not appear possible under the circumstances that have developed.

Burke's supporters will converge on the Hotel Kimball in Springfield for a meeting scheduled to start at 2:30 p.m. Saturday, and Carr's backers will gather at the Sheraton Plaza Hotel in Boston at 3 p.m. the same day.

Some committee members, abashed by the turn of events, will boycott both meetings.

The size of the stay-away vote will determine whether either meeting will draw the quorum necessary to constitute a legal session.

These were the events that led to this situation:

Burke's backers have been trying for some time to install him in the chairmanship. A trade originally was made in which Carr would resign to become city manager of Medford, and Burke would move into his place. That fell through when an attempt to fire Medford's city manager to make way for Carr was blocked.

About two weeks ago, Burke's supporters presented a petition demanding that Carr call a meeting of the State Committee next Saturday for the purpose of filling vacancies in the organization and electing officers.

Carr did call a meeting but in listing the purposes for which it would be held, he omitted any reference to filling vacancies.

That maneuver was designed to block Burke since he could not be elected chairman until after he was named to the committee to fill a vacancy.

The Burke faction thereupon charged that Carr's action was illegal and called their own meeting for Springfield.

Developments now will hinge largely on whether Burke can get a majority of the committee members to attend the Springfield session. If he does, and it's possible that he may be able to do so, Carr will undoubtedly challenge the legality of that meeting.

Gerhard Hohne, 35-year-old German house painter, last week won a month-long court fight in Berlin to prove he is alive. When Hohne applied for a marriage liceuse, he was told he couldn't have it because he was legally dead. It seems that in 1949, while he was still a Russian prisoner, his first wife had him declared dead in Potsdam. A Berlin court, after listening to Hohne, declared it would rule him alive, no matter how dead he remained in Potsdam.

FURTHER WARNING that Route 9 is not an expressway is brought to the attention of motorists with the erection on Monday, February 28, 1955, of special signs facing in both directions and placed at three-mile intervals for the entire 33 miles of the turnpike. There will be 22 signs along the highway and four others at each end of the route and also in Northboro. State Public Works Commissioner John A. Volpe announced that in erecting the new signs motorists will realize they are endangering their lives as well as that of others by using Route 9 as though it were a modern expressway. Present accident rate, still among the highest in the State, is the result of excessive speeds.

Your Income Taxes

By James R. Canavan, C.P.A.

This is the last in a series of eight articles on Federal and State income taxes, distributed by the Boston Chapter of the National Association of Cost Accountants.

What is meant by the deduction on page 2, "Massachusetts Income taxes"?

You are allowed to deduct the State income tax you paid on your business income. This deduction is determined by multiplying the "Total Taxable Business Income" (page 3), as shown on the copy of the State return filed last year, by 2.45 percent.

What income is shown on page 4 of my State return?

Income from capital is shown on page 4 of the State return. This includes such items as income from annuities, cash dividends on stock, interest on bonds, and gains from sales of securities.

I am single and during 1954 my total income was $4,000. This income was derived from dividends, $2,600, and annuities, $1,400. Do I get any deductions against this income from capital?

Yes. If you are under 65, you are entitled to a $1,000 exemption against your annuity income; if you are 65 or over, you are entitled to a $1,500 exemption ($1,400 against your annuity income and $100 against your dividend income). The exemption must be applied first against the annuity income.

Is everyone entitled to this new exemption against annuity, interest and dividend income?

No. A single taxpayer who has taxable and non-taxable income of more than $5,000, a husband and wife who, jointly, have taxable and non-taxable income of more than $7,500, or a taxpayer whose net business income exceeds his exemptions and dependency deductions is not entitled to the new exemption.

I cashed a Series E bond this year. Must I report the interest on my State return?

No. The interest on bonds or other obligations of the United States is not considered taxable income.

My wife and I have a joint account in a local savings bank. Must I report the interest credited on our passbook?

No. In the case of joint savings bank accounts, the interest is exempt on $15,000 of deposits, or $30,000 of deposits and accumulated interest. If it is not a joint account, the interest is exempt on $7,500 of deposits, or $15,000 of deposits and accumulated interest.

I own a two-family house. Must I report the income from the rented apartment on my State return?

No. The Commonwealth of Massachusetts does not tax your rental income because the property has been taxed by your local government.

On my State return, may I deduct my personal expenses, such as contributions, excessive medical expenses, local real estate taxes, etc.?

No. Your personal and family deductions are in lieu of such personal expenses.

I am married. If my only source of income is from capital, must I pay a State tax?

Not necessarily. If the combined income of you and your wife during 1954 did not exceed $2,500, you must file a joint return, but you will not have to pay a tax.

Health For All

Color In Your Life

We all boast of being red-blooded Americans. But why do we say "Red?" All blood is red, even that of blue-blooded aristocrats.

Color affects us all strongly, both emotionally and physically. Red makes us feel strong and our muscles react quickly to it. Blue relaxes and calms us. Advertisers use color to affect our feelings toward their products. We can use it in our daily lives to make ourselves healthier and happier. March is a good month to experiment. The outside world is drab and dreary. March is mud.

In this depressing atmosphere a cold in the nose can make anyone wish he were dead. But simply to blame the mournful dress of Nature will not solve the problem. Let's see what color can do to make our surroundings more stimulating.

A manufacturer redecorated his cafeteria in what he thought was a lovely feminine blue to please his women employees. Soon they complained of feeling cold and wore their coats to lunch. A color engineer advised slip-covering the chairs in orange and the complaints ended. The red side of the color spectrum is warm, and the blue-green opposites are cool. Dark colored objects seem heavier than light colored ones. Yellow can feel like sunlight, but the wrong shade can make you sick at your stomach.

It isn't necessary to buy a new wardrobe or redecorate the house from top to bottom. If you give thought to planning clothes, rooms, even meals, you will find you can use color for more health and happiness without extra expense. You can wear a bright scarf with an old dress. A small piece of material in a warm color will cover a sofa pillow. You can find stimulating pictures for your walls in magazines. You can cut branches of flowering trees and bring them to bloom in water. You can have spring in your house.

When the season changes, you can emphasize cool and restful colors that will give your family a more comfortable summer.

Little Leaguers Selling Booster Tickets in N.C.

Newton's East Little Leaguers are circulating throughout the community this week selling booster tickets, which include admission to the third annual dance of the League Saturday night, March 26, at the Bowen School in Newton Centre.

Last year's dance was very successful. Funds were raised to purchase caps, T-shirts, bats, balls and other eqquipment needed for Newton East's ambitious program of four major league teams and six International League squads totaling 168 boys.

Little Leaguers selling the most tickets will receive prizes, with a portable radio going to the boy with the top sales record. Chairman of the dance is Syd Borofsky, assisted by committee members Jay Gordon, Gene Blinn and Irv. Polen. There will be door prizes and dance contests, and music will be provided by a "live" orchestra.

Name N.C. Woman '55 Easter Seals Area Treasurer

Miss Ruth Burns of Newton Centre, assistant treasurer of the Newton-Waltham Bank and Trust Company, has accepted the post of area treasurer for the 1955 Easter Seal Campaign.

The annual Easter Seal appeal of the Bay State Society for the Crippled and Handicapped Inc., of which Miss Burns is treasurer, will start next Thursday through Easter Sunday. Its goal is $320,000 to provide rehabilitation services for crippled children and adults throughout the state.

The Bay State Society, a voluntary health organization, operates a state-wide program of direct service to fill the unmet needs of crippled children and adults, regardless of cause of crippling, race or creed.

In addition to rehabilitation centers in Boston, Worcester, and Springfield, Easter Seal funds provide camp vacations for crippled children, an equipment pool of wheelchairs and walkers, a program for the homebound, individual casework service, and job placement for crippled adults.

Temple Emanuel In Traditional Purim Festival

The Purim Festival will be observed by the Temple Emanuel Congregation and School with a series of traditional events. Monday evening at 7 p.m., two separate services and Magillah readings will take place simultaneously in the Temple Sanctuary and in the Community Hall.

Parents and students of grades two through six will congregate in the Temple. Dr. Albert I. Gordon and Cantor Gabriel Hochberg will conduct the Service. The Magillah will be read by Walter Angoff, Jon Steinberg, Phyllis Zavod, Paula Needle, Robert Lenox, Richard Berk, July Nissen, Arlene Bergart, Leonard Berman, Sheila Jacobson, Norman Saunders, Edward Goldstein, Frances Witty, Gloria Dashefsky and Peter Lipman.

In accordance with tradition, Queen Esther, represented by Eve Steinberg, and Mordecai, represented by Howard Greene, will grace the pulpit during the reading of the Magillah. Their royal attendants will be Robert Gilman, Leslie Lenox, Rosalyn Seltzer and William Rose.

Parents and students of the Aleph classes and of the Primary Sunday School will meet in the Community Hall. Dr. Martin Goldstein, educational director, assisted by members of the staff, will conduct the Service. The Magillah will be read here by Harris Goodman, Phyllis Levenson, Stephen Sacks, Philip Sandler, Janet Feldman, Joyce Lenox, Murray Lichtenstein, Alan Andler, Ruth Cooperstein, Steven Brostoff, Edward Koenig, Sidney Wax, Gerald Angoff, Gerald Rogell, and Malcolm Margolis.

Gracing the pulpit in the Community Hall will be Phyllis Licker as Queen Esther, and Robert Creem as Mordecai. Their attendants will be Myrna Shapiro, Martin Gilman, Dennis Deutsch and Linda Litvin.

Sunday morning the annual Students' Purim Carnival will take place in the Community Hall, with Hamantaschen (contributed by the Temple Emanuel Sisterhood), noisemakers and games. Parents will accompany their children.

Boston Edison Demonstration For N.C. Guild

Boston Edison's Home Service Division will present an electrical homemaking demonstration for the Guild of St. Francis at the Sacred Heart School, Crescent avenue, Newton Centre, next Thursday afternoon, March 10, from 2 to 4 o'clock.

This program, under the direction of Miss Frances R. Cullen, head of the Home Service Division, will feature a complete cooking demonstration on one of the newest types of automatic electric ranges. Menus will be prepared that will show the outstanding features of electric baking, broiling and surface cooking and the ease of performance through automatic, exact temperature control.

The class will be conducted by Edison Home Economists, Judith Rowen and Paula Fitzsimmons. Kathryn Outzen, lighting consultant, will give a short, informative talk on modern lighting in the home.

Mrs. John Quinn of 1661 Centre street, Newton Highlands, is chairman of the program. Special features have been arranged to make this affair popular and timely to all who attend.

NEWTON HIGH MUSIC CLUB

ELAINE PINKERTON

On Wednesday morning, March 9, in the auditorium, the Newton High School Music Club will present Miss Elaine Pinkerton, nationally known violinist and a personal friend of Mr. Henry Lasker, club advisor.

Miss Pinkerton graduated with highest honors from the New England Conservatory of Music, where for several years she was concert mistress of the orchestra.

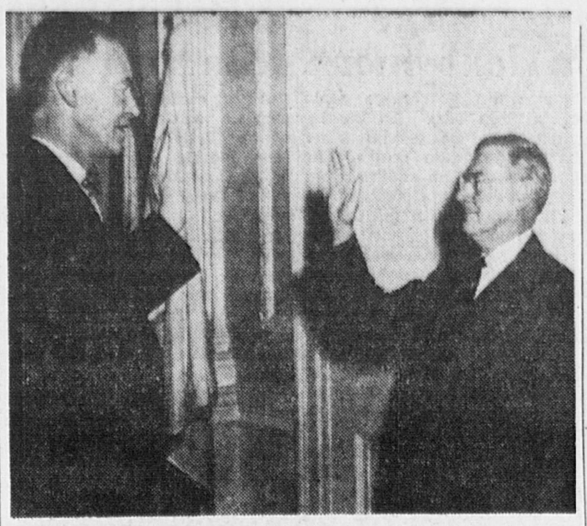

For her outstanding citizenship, scholarship, and future promise, Miss Pinkerton received the Mu Phi Epsilon Medal. She is also the winner of the 1948 scholarship contest held by the Massachusetts Federation of Women's Clubs, and winner of the 1954 scholarship contest presented by the Musical Guild of Boston.

In the concerto contest held recently by the Music Education League of New York, Miss Pinkerton was a winner. The prize for this was her solo appearance playing the Bruch Violin Concerto in Town Hall, New York, last month with Thomas Scherman and the Little Orchestra Society, for which she received high praise from New York critics.

Locally she has appeared as soloist with the many orchestras, and has also given recitals at the Gardner Museum and at Jordan Hall.

She has studied with Richard Burgin, concertmaster of the Boston Symphony Orchestra, Jacques Malkin, and Rafael Bronstein.

Miss Pinkerton will be accompanied by Evelyn Bergstrom of Boston.

GOVERNOR HERTER swears in Budget Commissioner Bixby: William H. Bixby of Newton, right, is shown above being sworn in by Governor Herter as State Budget Commissioner during a ceremony which took place in the Governor's office at the State House. This was a reappointment by the Governor for a four-year term.

Mrs. T. Cogswell, N.H. Poet, Author, Dies At 72 Years

Mrs. Theodora Bates Cogswell, 72, of 83 Carver road, Newton Highlands, wife of Edward R. Cogswell, died on February 24 after a long illness. She was a direct descendant of Richard Warren of the Mayflower, of Captain Benjamin Church of King Philip's War, and of Stukely Westcott and other founders of Providence, R. I. She was the sister of Herbert Bates, well-known educator and poet, who is best remembered for his verse-translation of the Odyssey.

Mrs. Cogswell was a graduate of Radcliffe, and had lived in Cambridge most of her life until her marriage in 1906. Since then she had lived chiefly in the Newtons. Before her illness she was active in Radcliffe Alumnae matters, and in 1926-28 was the founder and first president of the Radcliffe Mothers and Daughters Club.

She was for many years a frequent contributor of verse to magazines and papers, including the Boston Transcript, the Boston Herald, the Living Church, the Sign, Our Dumb Animals, Extension Magazine, and the Christian Science Monitor.

Her Christmas poem, "The Little Trees", has been reprinted somewhere in this country almost every year since it appeared in Scribner's in 1917. It has been copied more than once in the Transcript's Notes and Queries. Miss Louella Everett's "Book of Home and Holiday Verse" included several of Mrs. Cogswell's poems.

Mrs. Cogswell also contributed short stories and articles to various magazines and edited or revised several books. In 1937 she wrote a sizeable portion of the New American Encyclopedia. In 1939 she was made the first honorary life member of the Society of Stukely Westcott Descendants in appreciation of the poems and songs she had written for that society. She has been an invalid since 1946.

Besides her husband she leaves a daughter, Dorothea Barton Cogswell of Newton Highlands.

Musical Program At Bowen School PTA Wednesday

The Bowen School Parent-Teacher Association will hold a brief business meeting Wednesday at 8 p.m., followed by a musical program.

James H. Remley, supervisor of music in Newton Schools, will present the program entitled "Music at Home and at School." A group of parents will assist Mr. Remley demonstrate how much fun music can be. Refreshments will be served afterwards in the gymnasium.

March 6 through 11 is Music Week at Bowen School. Each morning at 9 a.m., the children assemble in the auditorium where two or three classes present some form of musical activity covering all phases of of musical education.

On Wednesday morning, there will be an open meeting of the Bowen Music Club. On Friday afternoon, March 11, the Weeks Junior High School Orchestra will present two concerts, one at 2:30 and again at 3:00, in the Bowen School Auditorium. The concerts will be given under the direction of Donald March, Director of Instrumental Music in the Newton Schools. Bowen parents are invited to attend both the open meeting and the concerts.

Davis School Activities

The Executive board of the Davis School P.T.A. of West Newton met on Monday, February 28 at the home of Mrs. Eli Feldman on Davis Avenue. Mr. Raymond R. Forte, presided and Mrs. Feldman read the secretary's report. Mr. J. Ellis Bowen reported on the status of the treasury and urged all to make the Spring Social a financial success.

The activities and accomplishments of the past year were reviewed and it was announced that the nominating committee was preparing a slate of officers to be presented at the next meeting on May 2, 1955. Members of this committee are: Mrs. Charles O. Richter, Mrs X. Dana Sprague, Mr. Anthony J. Farrington, and Dr. Thomas S. Hayden.

Mrs. Melvin Taymor, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee announced that circulars detailing the Spring Social would be distributed this week. This dance is to be held on Saturday evening, March 12, at 8:30 at the Peirce School. Committee members will visit homes of all Davis students and it is hoped that everyone will buy tickets and enjoy this school affair. The "Celebrity Six", an orchestra well-known in this vicinity, will furnish the music and a gala evening is promised. Proceeds will be used to augment the 6th grade conservation trip to Topsfield and to purchase classroom radios.

Members of the Dance Committee are: Mrs. Taymor, chairman; Mrs. Thomas S. Hayden, Mrs. Harry Weiner, Mrs. Joseph McNamara, Mrs. Richard Roche, Mr. and Mrs. Paul O'Donnell. Mrs. Wayne V. Schell, Mrs. Anthony J. Farrington, and Mrs. William Jones.

Mr. Paul O'Donnell, chairman of the Building and Playground Committee brought the group up to date on the plans for the improvement of the school play area. A fenced-off section for small children's games is one of the welcome innovations.

According to Mrs. Wayne V. Schell, program chairman, the May 2 P.T.A. meeting will be a student participation program. Parents, children, and faculty are looking forward to this always popular evening.

Mrs. Thomas F. A. Flynn, publicity chairman, asked that all chairmen of committees and activities notify her of their meetings so that notices may be sent to the press.

Miss Mary J. Nugent, principal, stated that plans for the 6th grade conservation trip are underway. Mothers of the students are assisting the teachers with the planning.

Other committe members present were: Miss Anne C. Gorman, Miss Helen C. Laganas, Mr. Thomas F. A. Flynn, Mrs. William H. Bright, Mrs. Oscar Murphy and Mrs. Carl E. Hartbower.

JOHN W. CARLETON of 39 Nehoiden road, Waban, who has been elected vice-president and actuary of Liberty Mutual Insurance Company, according to an announcement by S. Bruce Black, president of the company. Mr. Carleton started with the company in 1941 on the actuarial staff and in successive years became assistant actuary, associate actuary and actuary.

Two Newton Men Named Officials Of Boston Bank

Two Newton men have been elected officials of the Second Bank-State Street Trust Company following the recent consolidation of the trust company and the Second National Bank of Boston.

James R. Denning of 24 Burnside road, Newton Highlands, was elected operations vice-president of the new institution, and Warren A. Sutherland of 150 Melrose street, Auburndale, was named an assistant vice-president.

Denning, a native of Strathroy, Ontario, Canada, began his banking career with the Canadian Bank of Commerce. During World War I, he was a member of the First Canadian Expeditionary Force and served with the Royal Montreal Regiment from August, 1914, to June, 1918.

Upon his return from overseas, Denning joined the Toronto office of the Canadian Bank of Commerce. In 1920, he became a representative of the American Foreign Banking Corporation at Rio de Janeiro, Brazil.

After other foreign banking duties, he was employed by the Hamilton National Bank of New York. He joined the staff of the Second National Bank in 1933 in the auditing and operations branch.

Sutherland, a 1932 graduate of Newton High School, joined the staff of the Second National Bank following his graduation from the Bentley School of Accounting.

After extensive service in various departments of the bank he has, for some time, been devoting his time to special services rendered in connection with municipal bond issues. He will be in charge of the municipal department of the new company.

Training at Ft. Dix

At Fort Dix, N.J., for eight weeks of basic infantry training are Pvts. Bernard P. Cooney Jr., son of Mrs. Bernard P. Cooney of 81 Varick road, Newton Lower Falls, and Nathaniel Rosenberg, son of Mr. and Mrs. David L. Rosenberg of 14 Mandalay road, Newton Centre.

Named Hartford Bank Official

Robert A. Eden, a native of Newton and a certified public accountant, has been appointed comptroller of the Society for Savings in Hartford, Conn.

Eden, formerly of Newton Centre, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. P. Edward Eden of Newton Highlands. He is a veteran of three years service with the 15th Air Force in Europe and Africa during World War II and was graduated from Syracuse University in 1950.

MARSH WINDS
A Peerless and Charming Colonial

This 200-year-old treasure was dismantled and restored on a breathtaking new site in the Argilla area of HISTORICAL IPSWICH, rebuilt with a great steel-beamed concrete foundation for the huge center chimney.

Retaining the rich mellowness of more than two centuries, it is ready now for new centuries of gracious living with modern plumbing, heating, wiring.

This Colonial residence has 8 beautifully proportioned and graceful rooms, powder room, separate laundry room, 2 full baths & attached 2-car garage.

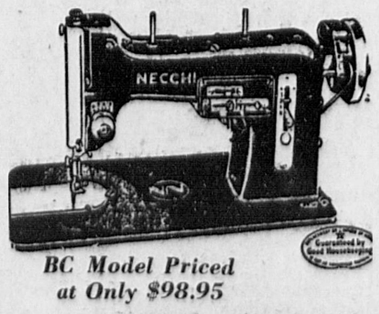

There are 6 fine old fireplaces. The living rm., with 9½ ft. ceiling, box-beamed, and wide-board flooring is dominated by a 9-ft. original-brick fireplace with open ovens, the entire wall wood-panelled and lighted with unusual antique-silver candelabra.

The whole interior of this truly lovely house has been decorated in soft tones of spice and bayberry to enhance Colonial pieces.

With a two acre setting, looking out over hundreds of acres of colorful (protected) salt-marsh and evergreen knolls, this property, complete with electric stove, refrigerator, dishwasher, clothes washer and dryer (all new equipment), and with golden eagle over the fan-light front door is offered at $42,500. Immediate occupancy.

West Newton Women's Educational Club Observes 75th Anniversary

The West Newton Women's Educational Club, of which Mrs. Sidney R. Williamson is President, will celebrate its seventy-fifth Anniversary in conjunction with its Presidents' Day, Friday, March 11th, at the Second Church Parish House, West Newton.

This club is one of the oldest in Massachusetts, having been organized on July 28th, 1880, by a group of twelve women at the home of Mrs. Nathaniel Aller in West Newton. The first president of the club, Mrs. Electa N. L. Walton, held this office for twenty years, during which time the club grew steadily in membership. The club has always been vitally interested and actively engaged in the advancement of education, and even in the early years when the membership was small, managed to raise money for scholarships for worthy students. This philanthropy has continued to be one of the main purposes of the club.

On this seventy-fifth anniversary day, some of the club members who have had the longest continuous membership will be especially honored. Mrs. John R. McLean, President for the year 1925-1926, has been a member since 1910. Mrs. Percival Waters has also had a long continuous membership, having joined the club in 1913. During all these years she has been actively interested in this organization and has worked for the success of all its projects with enthusiasm and zeal, an outstanding example of unselfishness and constant devotion to her club. Mrs. D. Earle Brackett, a past President, Mrs. Thomas Hayden and Mrs. Willard C. Church, also joined the club previosu to 1920 and have been vitally interested in its welfare.

A reception at 1 p.m. to the guest of honor, Mrs. David M. Small, President of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs will precede the meeting. Mrs. Small, together with the Club President, the Past-Presidents, and Mrs. Walter M. Gorenflo, 12th District Director, and Mrs. Newell J. Trask, President of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs will be in the receiving line.

The business meeting at 2 p.m. will be conducted by the President, Mrs. Sidney R. Williamson, who will greet the Presidents of the 12th District, the Presidents of the Associate Organization of the Newton Federation, other guests and club members.

The speaker of the afternoon, Ethel Henin Bowers, will be presented by the Program Chairman, Mrs. Earl L. Ham. Mrs. Bowers will review current Broadway plays for her program — "Let's Go to the Theatre."

Tea will be served in the Young People's Parlor after the program. Mrs. Edward E. Crosby, Mrs. William K. Duffy and Mrs. John F. Leonard will be the hostesses at the social hour. A fitting climax to this seventy-fifth anniversary and a highlight of this occasion will be the cutting of the birthday cake.

Mrs. Thomas F. Ford will have charge of assigning hostess for the visiting Presidents and Mrs. John F. Leonard will have charge of Decorations in the Entertainment Room and the Young People's Parlor.

Mother's Club of Newton Boys' Club

At a meeting held last night the Mother's Club of the Newton Boys' Club heard a report of a recent spaghetti dinner given to raise funds for the boys at the Boys' Club. Mrs. Betty Tocci, Chairman, commended all the people that in any way assisted in making it the grand success that it was. Mrs. Tocci reported that more than 220 dinners were served. Being their first dinner in the new kitchen made possible by the Newton Rotary Club and Zonta Club everyone was pleased with the outcome.

Mrs. Tocci reported the following people contributed to the success of the occasion: Mrs. Lucy Sauro, Mrs. Lucy Antonellis, Mrs. Rose Proia, Mrs. Viola Gigliotti, Mrs. Rita Doucette, Mrs. Emma Lane, Mrs. Betty Lennon, Mrs. Gertrude Fremault, Mrs. Delia DeCorte, Mrs. Celia Sampson, Mrs. Loretta Woloski, Mrs. Barbara Norton, Mrs. Alice Boudreau, Mrs. Anne Marchand, Mrs. Helen Lamontagne; Mrs. Bella Vachon, President, acted as hostess.

Donations of flowers for all the tables were donated by Mr. Jack Cleary; Cookies were donated by Mr. Sam Fried.

The Teen-Club Girls of the Boys' Club served at the tables. Among the men who assisted were: Mr. Henry Boudreau, Ray Veduccio, Nazareno Mazolla, Robert Doucette, Frank Biotti, Patsy Proia, Jack Boudreau, William Vachon, and Jerry Angino, President of the Boys' Club.

Entertainment during the evening was supplied by Bruce Glober, accordionist and a member of the Boys' Club.

Rev. Sylvio Barrette supplied the use of the tables and silver from St. John The Evangelist Church.

It was also reported last night that the First Annual Installation of Officers will take place at the Newton Boys' Club on Monday, March 7th at 8 p.m. The guest installing officer will be Mrs. Wilson Hammett, President of the Newton Zonta Club. Invitations have been extended to about fifty local women's organizations. An entertainment program has been arranged and refreshments will be served.

IN BERMUDA—Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence M. Sibley of 59 Puritan road, Newton Highlands, are seen above at the Bermudiana, in Pembroke, Bermuda, while they were vacationing.

The next meeting of the Carr School Parent-Teacher Association will be held at the school, Nevada street, Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock.

Dr. Roy F. Feemster, director of the State Department of Communicable Diseases and a well known authority on this subject, will be the guest speaker. He will talk on "Polio—After the 1953 Tests." His discourses on this subject have created considerable discussion, and it is expected that the meeting will be very well attended.

Parents will be given the opportunity to confer with teachers in their classrooms from 7:30 to 8:00 p.m.

Following the program, there will be a business meeting conducted by Pres. William Sellars. Refreshments will be served.

Warren PTA

The third meeting of the current school year will be held by the Warren Junior High School P.T.A. next Thursday at 8:00 p.m. in the school auditorium.

The theme of the evening will be "After Warren — What?" Educational experts will help parents to decide on many choices of school subjects to be had at Newton High. Questions on the subject will be answered by experts in the Newton school system and the small discussion group method to be used will help parents to aid their children in making intelligent selections when they reach high school grades.

Educators will be Dr. Leo J. Barry, Principal of Newton High; Robert H. Mitchell, head of Guidance department; Andrew W. Steinhope, head of Business department, both from Newton High; James Forbes, director of Technical Vocational High School and James D. Laurits, director of Newton Junior College.

Those who come early will have the opportunity to make purchases at the Warren Thrift Shop at 7:00 p.m. Refreshments will be served at 9:30 p.m.

Army Announces Information Points In City

The U.S. Army Recruiting Service has announced that effective immediately, information points have been established in the following areas in the City of Newton: Newton Upper Falls, Newton Centre, Waban, and Newton Highlands.

Master Sergeant Robert L. Jensen, Station Commander of the Waltham Recruiting Station said, "In an effort to bring better service to the young men in the Newton area, these information points are being established in the Post Offices of the above villages, so that anyone desiring information pertaining to the United States Army's technical school program, or any phase of Army life, may obtain the information without leaving the immediate area of their homes."

The information points which have been established, will be staffed by a qualified U.S. Army Recruiter and will be open during the following hours: Newton Upper Falls: Thursday and Friday, 12 noon to 1 p.m.; Newton Centre: Mondays, 11 a.m. to 12 noon; Waban: Wednesday, 1 p.m. to 2 p.m., and Newton Highlands on Thursdays, 1 p.m. to 2 p.m.

Dr. Thaddeus Krush Speaker At Temple Reyim Breakfast

Dr. Thaddeus P. Krush, clinical director of the Children's Unit of the Metropolitan State Hospital, was the featured speaker at the monthly Breakfast Meeting of the Brotherhood of Temple Reyim held this past Sunday, February 27 in the Temple vestry. Dr. Krush, a distinguished authority on Juvenile Problems, took as his subject "What Makes A Juvenile Delinquent."

In his very interesting talk, Dr. Krush told of the many ways society has of dealing with persons in trouble. From the viewpoint of mental illness, he agreed with police authorities that "sickness does not excuse the individual of the particular act involved." This was in reply to the standard charge that psychiatrists and social workers tend to coddle delinquents.. But he also had fault to find with the general penal system citing the fact that 85 per cent who go to reform schools come out and do the same thing over again.

To an enrapt audience of Brotherhood members and guests, which gave him its undivided attention, Dr. Krush dissolved many false conceptions concerning juvenile problems and stated very succinctly that "People having problems are not necessarily problem people".

During the short business meeting, Program Chairman, Milton Korngut, revealed that the Brotherhood Board of Directors had instituted a permanent committee to be known as the "Annual Award Committee." This committee, with the approval of the Board of Directors, had designated standards and practices by which the recipient should be selected.

Mr. Korngut, as first Chairman of the Award Committee, announced that it was his pleasure to report that the committee had chosen Dr. Harold C. Case, president of Boston University, as the first recipient of the "Annual Award". The presentation will take place as part of an "Award Breakfast" Sunday, March 27 at the Newton Centre Women's Club, 1280 Centre St. Many dignitaries have been invited and reservations will be limited and must be procured through Temple Reyim Brotherhood.

Radio Program To Encourage Church Life

Sixteen businessmen, volunteering their time and voices, comprise the unique chorus of the Laymen's Hour, a half-hour radio program encouraging church attendance at the "church of your choice," to be heard bi-weekly on WCRB, AM and FM, at 9 a.m., beginning, Sunday, March 6.

Art Gilmore, veteran radio artist who doubles as Capt. Didian in "Dragnet" among other jobs, is the announcer and narrator for the program. Hymns, anthems and spirituals in unusual arrangements by the chorus and devotional messages by Dr. Frank M. Kepner are all a part of the program originating in Hollywood and heard throughout the world. This program is significant in that it was developed by laymen rather than clergy. It is heard in 67 communities in the United States as well as in the Philippines, South America and Europe. It is also carried on the Far East Broadcasting System on seven stations which reach the Orient across through the Iron Curtain into Russia. This program has received awards of excellence in religious programming competition sponsored by the National Council of the Churches of Christ in the U. S. A. and is the national radio program of the American Baptist Convention.

Under the direction of a layman, the men of the chorus, all active in their own churches and in business, meet for regular weekly rehearsals and produce music of enviable professional quality. Some have been doing this since the inception of the program seven and one-half years ago.

Highland Glee Club 2nd Concert Tues.

Final rehearsals are being held for the second concert of the current season of the Highland Glee Club off Newton to be given Tuesday evening at 8:15 p.m. in the Newton High School Auditorium.

The program contains many old favorites in selections to be conducted by D. Ralph Maclean. A few of these are noted in "The Vagabond" by Oley Speaks; Robertson's "The Jolly Roger;" Parker's "The Night Has a Thousand Eyes;" and the "Song of Love" by the Finnish composer of beautiful choral works, Selim Palmgren.

Compositions of local men are found in Ernest Henry Adams' "Reliance," a setting of the words of Henry Van Dyke, and Everett Titcomb's "Behold Now, Praise the Lord" from the 134th Psalm. Several lighter numbers are included to contrast the more serious numbers.

The guest artist announced is Alice Farnsworth Boffetti, soprano, who, in addition to her own vocal offerings will sing the solo portions of "Spring Night" by Filke and an arrangement of Rossini's "When Thou Comest," from Stabat Mater, with the male chorus.

Mrs. Boffetti is making a return appearance with the glee club after study abroad where she made her opera debut in "Aida" at Bergamo, Italy. Her brilliant and powerful vocal quality has been acclaimed on the concert stages in Boston and Europe.

James Gray will be the club accompanist and Cecil J. Hall will play second piano.

Nathan Yamins, president of Temple Mishkan Tefila of Roxbury, this week announced the appointment of Percival Goodman, nationally renowned Synagogue architect, for the Temple's expansion program in Newton.

Mr. Goodman has prepared preliminary sketches for the Temple and schoolhouse to be erected on Hammond Pond Parkway. Plans call for a school building with 16 classrooms and two nursery classrooms, play areas and parking space; six offices for the religious, educational and administrative staff; superintendent's quarters; space for a library and museum with adjoining garden; a vestry that will seat 800 for lecture purposes; a daily chapel and a Main Sanctuary with seating capacity for 2000.

WN Unitarian Church Lunch & Card Party

"Luncheon is Served." followed by a card party, will be sponsored by the Activities Committee of the West Newton Unitarian Church at 12:30 o'clock Wednesday, March 16, in the parish house.

The program includes a hot luncheon served by the First National Stores, with food hints and various prizes, proceeds benefitting the church. Mrs. Henry Whitmore Jr. is chairman of the activities committee with Mrs Ernest W. Kuebler as trustee member. Mrs. Harry E. Raymond is chairman of the luncheon committee.

For the card party, guests are asked to bring their own cards and make up tables for bridge, canasta or other games to be played in the former dining room upstairs. Mrs. Whitmore and Mrs. Edward Y. Walker are co-chairmen for the card party.

Also assisting are Mrs. George C. Thompson and Miss Annette Sirotin, table arrangements; Mrs. Robert H Cobb and Mrs. Morris H. Adler, serving; Mrs. Ernest W. Kuebler and Mrs. Charles Abrams, tickets; and Mrs. William L. Tisdel, publicity.

Promoted to Corporal

Alan Weinraub, son of Morris Weinraub of 118 Wendell road, Oak Hill, has been promoted to corporal at Ft. Crowder, Mo., where he is an education specialist in the 205th Military Police Company.

Newton Sports

By virtue of staggering to a 55-54 win over Haverhill Tuesday night at Brandeis University in Waltham, Newton High will meet a powerful Quincy quintet in the windup game of the first Tech Tournament round tomorrow (Friday) night . . . Fans who have followed the Tigers through the Suburban League season will have a chance to see two Suburban squads in action tomorrow night, as league repeat champion Rindge Technical will meet Lynn Classical at 7:30 p.m. Tap-off of the Newton-Quincy game is scheduled for 9 p.m. . . . Quincy rates as one of the possible winners of the tournament, boasting a strong, well-balanced team. Quincy is one of the few teams able to dump Somerville, another team rated a good shot at the Tech title and a perennial contender . . . The games are being played at Brandeis' spectacular new Abraham Shapiro sports center, a roomy, ultra-modern gym located off South street in Waltham. There is plenty of parking space, and the gym is easy to reach by car. . . . The simplest route is to drive toward Weston on Main street, Waltham, until you reach the traffic lights where Routes 20 and 117 split company. Take a sharp lef there off numbered routes and you will find yourself on Sotuh street. Just keep on South street until you see the huge field house on the left. The parking entrance is just beyond the building.

Newton probably set some sort of a record in edging Haverhill. The Tigers held a 17-point lead with only four minutes to play, and nearly blew the game. . . . Dormant Haverhill suddenly came to life with a do-or-die spurt, pouring 16 consecutive points through the hoop while Newton drew a blank.

When the two teams came onto the floor, it was obvious that Newton should win. Haverhill's tallest man didn't even come close to matching lanky Stan Chamberlain, and Newton had a wide height advantage at both forward posts . . . But Newton made it a close game. As in its league windup against Brookline, the Tigers couldn't put the ball through the basket. They defended well, dribbled well, set up their shots well, but when the time came for the payoff, the Tigers just couldn't score . . . On the other hand, Haverhill looked so bad that spectators were wondering how the Hilltoppers ever managed to win a game, much less qualify for the tournament preliminary. Not only small, the Haverhill players also didn't seem to know much about ball-handling . . . One "flashy" play, consistently pulled, was obviously patterned after the professionals. A Haverhill player, going up for a jump shot, would fake the shot and drop the ball behind him to set up a screen for a long heave. The Hillies tried it from so far out, however, that it fooled no one and never resulted in a shot . . . The Hilltoppers' chief weapon was set shots from outside. Unable to penetrate Newton's zone defense, they were forced to throw the ball from far outside with little success.

Don White, 5' 11" Haverhill guard, kept his team in the game the first quarter with seven of the eight points scored. He was the only one who looked like he belonged on the floor that quarter . . . The Orange and Black managed to gather 14 points, though playing almost as sloppily as Haverhill.

Newton was unable to do anything right as the second period opened, and Haverhill took only two minutes to knot the score at 14-all. But then the Tigers' height advantage began to show, and Newton retaliated with a scoring spree of its own to take a 21-16 margin. At the half, Newton was on top by 27-20 . . . The second half was all Newton's, until the last four minutes. With Stan Chamberlain dropping in 13 points and Russ Halloran chipping in 19, the Orange and Black held a comfortable 55-37 bulge. Coach Ed Poskit understandably removed his first-string players at that point to give the other boys a chance . . . Then the roof fell in. Paced by right forward Deno Gianoukos, who dropped in 10 markers in the fourth quarter, Haverhill went on its scoring rampage. Even the return of the regulars failed to halt the Hilltoppers as balls swished through from all sides . . . With a minute to play, Newton sported a 5-point margin. With 54 seconds to play, this lead dwindled to three points. Twenty seconds later, Gianoukos stole the ball and scored to carve Newton's margin to a single digit as pandemonium broke loose . . . But the Tigers, realizing they just weren't fated to score, successfully froze the ball for the rest of the game. Whew! Too close for comfort!

Clergymen of All Faiths Make Tour of N-W Hospital Plant

Clergymen of all faiths from churches in Newton, Weston and Wellesley lunched together in the Newton-Wellesley Hospital Cafeteria and then toured the hospital with Director William S. Brines recently.

Rev. Sydney Adams, pastor of the Centenary Methodist Church in Auburndale and secretary of the Newton Council of Churches, handled the arrangements.

Other Newton clergymen present were: Rev. Thomas J. McDonough and Rev. Flanagan, St. Philip Neri of Waban; Rabbi Murray I. Rothman of Temple Shalom, West Newton; Rev. Russell E. Gundlach of Lincoln Park Baptist Church, West Newton; Rev. L. E. Ford, Myrtle Baptist Church, West Newton.

Rev. Francis F. Crisci, Second Baptist Church, Newton Upper Falls; Rev. Nathaniel M. Guptill, First Congregational, Newton Centre; Rev. Ross Cannon, Second Congregational, West Newton; Rev. William Berndt, St. Mary's Episcopal, Newton Lower Falls; Rev. Willard Arnold, Newton Centre Methodist; Rev. Henry Beukelman, First Methodist, Newton Upper Falls; Rev. Hamilton M. Gifford, Newtonville Methodist, and Rev. Edgar Helms, Newton Lower Falls-Wellesley Hills Methodist. Six clergymen from Weston and Wellesley also attended.

The Newton Council of Churches hospital committee includes: Winthrop Rhodes, chairman; Dr. R. Emerson Sylvestah, Arthur Gregorian, ex officio, president of the Council; Rev. Berndt and Rev. Helms.

Led by Chairman John A. Baldwin for the second consecutive year, Newton repeated its 1954 performance and topped Middlesex County in raising funds for the March of Dimes last month. Mr. Baldwin reported at the turn-in dinner in Cambridge last week that $26,000 had already been accounted for and nearly $900 remained to be turned in.

Of the Newton total, $9404.34 was collected during the Mother's March. The next highest total — $17,991.71 — was registered by Cambridge.

Two Newtonites, Mr. Baldwin and Mrs. Ruth Ring, were named to the county's 29-member executive committee for the coming year. Newton representatives at the turn-in dinner were Mrs. Helen Doyle of Newton Lower Falls, Mrs. Neil McCallion of Newton Upper Falls, Miss Alice Waters of Newton Centre, Mrs. Edward McMahon of Oak Hill Park, Mrs. Meyer Wolf of Newton Centre and Frank Quinn of West Newton, Village Mothers' March chairmen.

Also Richard P. Jennett, public relations chairman, and Mrs. Jennett; Mrs. Alvah O. Ring, Woman's Division Chairman, and Mr. Ring; Mrs. Leo F. Baldwin, public schools chairman; Mrs. Harry Hoffard, Newton Jaycette president, and Mr. Hoffard; Mrs. Carleton P. Merrill, representing her husband, president of the Jaycees; Mr. Baldwin and Mr. and Mrs. George Quinn.

First Unitarian Society Lists 6 Lenten Lectures

"The Message of Jesus for Our Time" is the general theme of the current season's traditional Lenten Lectures, sponsored by the West Newton Branch Alliance, at the First Unitarian Society in Newton.

Beginning with "Background in Judaism," the subjects for these Thursday morning talks by the Rev. John Ogden Fisher, minister, at 10:30 o'clock in the Alliance Room of the West Newton Unitarian Parish House, will be: March 3 — Preparation for Life and Work; March 10 — Dedication to Service of Others; March 17 — Responsibility for Others; March 24 — Universality of Consideration; March 31 — Simplicity of Application; and April 7 — Primary Loyalty.

This final Lenten Lecture will be given at 7:30 o'clock Maundy Thursday evening, when there will also be a Service of Communion.

Preceding the Thursday morning lectures, coffee will be served at 10 o'clock under the chairmanship of Miss Margaret S. Ball. The Alliance extends an open invitation to all who may be interested to attend these Lenten Lectures.

Lasell to Hold Father-Daughter Event March 5, 6

A brand new idea on the Lasell calendar of events is the first Father-Daughter Weekend to be held on the Lasell Junior College campus in Auburndale, March 5th and 6th.

Over 200 of the student's fathers will attend a gala weekend of festivities. An informal get-together is scheduled for Saturday morning when the president, Raymond C. Wass, will welcome the assembled fathers. This will be followed by a guided tour of the campus.

After a picnic lunch on the Recreation Field, softball games, card and checker tournament, movies of the outstanding events of the past year at Lasell will be shown.

Most novel feature of the week-end is a dance to be held Saturday night, when the daughters will appear in flapper costumes of the 20's, reminiscent of their dads' college days.

This week-end will give the students' fathers an opportunity to become better acquainted with Lasell and to have a fine time as well.

Exhibit

Newtonians will be interested in an exhibition of "Enameling on Copper" as done by Irene Edvige Separini of Wellesley Hills, at the Wellesley Library, main branch, from February 24th through March 6th.

Budget-

borrowing" is due in the near future for a new high school plus "some kind of a replacement program for obsolescent schools."

Attempting to cut down the debt "would cause serious doubt to be cast on recommendations for borrowing for further off-street parking this year." Mayor Howard Whitmore, Jr., has asked for bond issues to construct parking lots this year in Nonantum, Auburndale and Newton Highlands.

Muther suggestion expansion of municipal parking facilities "as far as city aid is concerned, be keyed from now on to the ever-flowing and increasing parking meter income."

He called for "determined effort locally" and at state levels to lower the cost of school additions. The School Department is seeking addition to the Ward School, Newton Centre; Cabot School, Newtonville; and the Pierce School, West Newton, at an estimated cost for construction and land-taking of $650,000.

School Expenses

"Four additional classrooms at the Peirce School, for instance, at $25,000 each, unfurnished, seems to be too high," wrote Muther. "Though the Franklin School addition is called 'flimsy-looking' by some aesthetes, it did come in one a not-much-more-difficult site and on a single story basis at about $8000 per classroom less, and so far it is giving very good satisfaction as a practical proposition. Nor is it the only kind of good low-cost solution available."

Muther continued, "The hazardous life led by some of our recreational buildings in off-season seriously raises the question of whether the city should finance any of them with borrowed money." He suggested including them in regular budgetary expenditures when "moderate or drastic" repairs are needed.

"Another library-community center is highly desirable," he said, "but should it be bonded at $100,000? And now? After all, the city will still be paying on the bonds even for the Newtonville library for more than another 10 years."

Referring to the city's surplus, Muther stated that about $1,250,000 will be available at "tax rate time." Last year, the aldermen voted $600,000 from the surplus to keep the tax rise down to 50 cents. He urged taking $840,000 this year, leaving close to $400,000 left for emergencies and knocking a dollar off the potential tax rate boost.

"As to the budget itself," continued Muther, "if over $60,000 could be cut from the mayor's tight budget of 1954, it would seem that $240,000 (equivalent to another dollar on the rate) can be cut from the current budget. Here is where the aldermen really have to decide about bread, or cake, or both."

The aldermen's finance committee is currently meeting with department heads to discuss the needs for 1955 of each city unit. Mayor Whitmore has proposed a $14,095,038 budget, close to a million above what was actually spent last year.

Last year's budget, which also set a new high, raised the tax rate 50 cents over the 1953 levy of $44. The record high tax rate was reached in 1952, when it leaped to $45.80.

DAVID STERN of Newton, president of the Jewish Memorial Hospital, has been honored by the membership of the hospital by having March designated as "President David Stern Membership Month." The month was set aside to honor his "many years of loyal and devoted service."

2d Annual Book Fair Tues., Wed., At Lasell J.C.

Lasell Junior College will hold its second annual Book Fair at the college Tuesday and Wednesday for the students, faculty, and friends of Lasell.

Elsie Oakes Barber of Concord, author of several books, the latest being "Jenny Angel," will be the guest of honor at a tea given by Mrs. Raymond C. Wass, wife of the president of Lasell. Pourers will be: Mrs. Donald J. Winslow, Mrs. Charles A. Higgins Jr., Mrs. Walter E. Stone and Mrs. Barbara Ordway Brewer.

Dr. Donald J. Winslow, department head of English at Boston University, will speak Wednesday morning at 11:30. His subject will be "The World of Books."

The general committee under the chairmanship of Miss Frances Atwood, head librarian at Lasell, includes Dean Mary Blatchford, Dean Ruth Rothenberger, Mrs. Elise Jewett, Mr. Robert Brandriff, Mrs. Jeanne Cousins, Miss June Babcock, Miss Delia Davis, Mrs. Audrey Dorsey, Miss Margaret Flint, Mrs. Margaret French, Mrs. Ruth Fuller, Mrs. Laura Kreutzer, Miss Elinor Hoag, Mrs. Ruth Lindquist, Miss Lillian MacArthur, Mrs. Lee Plauth, Miss Jacqueline Saunders, Miss Elizabeth Smith, Miss Jean Watt, Mrs. Hazel Weden and Mrs. Fern Witham.

The purpose of the Book Fair is to encourage the planning of a personal library and guidance in the selection of books. Representative books of all fields will be available.

Spring Art Exhibit At Auburndale Club

The Spring Art Exhibit of the art classes sponsored by the Auburndale Woman's Club and conducted by Keith Parris, will be held from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. Wednesday at the Auburndale Club House.

MORTGAGEE'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE
By virtue of and in execution of the POWER OF SALE contained in a certain mortgage given by Emil H. Wenning and June D. Wenning, his wife, in her own right, to Anna Glick dated April 30, 1954, and being Document No. 280686 on Certificate of Title No. 80835, Book 534, Page 85, in the South Registry District for Middlesex County Land Court, of which mortgage the undersigned is the present holder, for breach of the conditions of said mortgage and for the purpose of foreclosing the same will be sold at Public Auction at 10:00 o'clock A.M. on the 22nd day of March A.D. 1955, on the premises hereinafter described, all and singular the premises described in said mortgage, therein described as follows:
To wit:
"A certain parcel of land with all buildings thereon, including all furnaces, heaters, ranges, mantels, gas and electric fixtures, screens, screen doors, awnings and all other fixtures of whatever kind and nature contained in said buildings, and hereinafter placed therein prior to the full payment and discharge of this mortgage, situated in said Newton, bounded and described as follows:
SOUTHWESTERLY by the northeasterly line of East Quinobequin Road, 87 78 feet;
NORTHWESTERLY by lot 15A, as shown on plan hereinafter mentioned, 120.29 feet;
NORTHEASTERLY by lots A7 and A6 on said plan, 87 feet;
SOUTHEASTERLY by lot 15C on said plan, 120.11 feet.
Said parcel is shown as Lot 15B on said plan.
All of said boundaries are determined by the Court to be located as shown on subdivision plan, as approved by the Court, filed in the Land Registration Office, a copy of a portion of which is filed in the Registry of Deeds for the South Registry District of Middlesex County in Registration Book 426, Page 193 with Certificate #63752.
The above described land is subject to sewer assessments by said City of Newton under two instruments recorded with Middlesex South District Deeds in Book 5615, Page 284 and Book 5644, Page 293.
Subject to an Order of Taking by the City of Newton for an easement for laying and maintaining main drain and common sewer through East Quinobequin Road and Estimated Assessment as in Document 236772 and to a taking of easement for laying out East Quinobequin Road and Assessment as in Document 269750.
This conveyance is subject to a prior mortgage to the Watertown Federal Savings and Loan Assn dated Nov. 25, 1953 and duly noted with Certificate of Title #80835 in Registration Book 534, Page 85."
Terms of Sale:
$500.00 in cash or certified check to be paid by the buyer at the time and place of sale, and the balance within 10 days thereafter.
Other terms to be announced at the sale.
Signed ANNA GLICK, present holder of said mortgage.
February 18, 1955.

IT ISN'T THE AMOUNT YOU SPEND, FOR YOU CAN SPEND TOO MUCH . . . YOU CAN ALSO SPEND TOO LITTLE

Having spent too much, you lose some money. BUT, when you spend too little, you stand to lose even more money, as well as your time and your patience, when the article purchased fails in it's performance.

That's why it will pay you to buy your next used car here where cars are priced at what they are worth and where your purchase is protected with a dependable guarantee.

HERE ARE JUST A FEW EXAMPLES OF OUR PRESENT STOCK SEE THEM TODAY!

We are featuring this week a wide selection of '49 and '50 Dodges priced from $495 up. Look around and see if there is one to suit you taste!

ARE YOU A SPORTSMAN?

Plenty of room for all your fishing and camping gear in this '51 Willys station wagon. It is a terrific car — a steal, truly. It rides just like new, has excellent gas mileage, and is absolutely dependable. It just laughs at the most rugged road conditions. For $795, including our Tip-Top 90-day guarantee, you can have this tremendous buy—it's perfect in every way — all A-1. If you could use a rugged station wagon, you can't do better than this.

'NO ACTION' ON VOTING MACHINES RECOMMENDATION OF STUDY UNIT

Honor List Is Announced By Newton Junior College

Grades for the first semester have been given out at the Newton Junior College and Bruce Barber, a sophomore, of 131 Newtonville avenue, Newton, received straight A's giving him High Honors.

Bruce was the only sophomore to have High Honors. With this record, Bruce, who is taking the Business Administration Course, is continuing the pattern he set for himself last year when he earned High Honors both semesters, getting all A's for the second semester. Bruce is Treasurer of the Student Association and plans to go into business after he receives his associate degree from Newton Junior College in June.

Nine sophomores received honor grades for the semester, of whom four were women. These include Beverly Carlson of Needham, Nancy Davis of Brighton, Jane Dutton of Newton Highlands, Emily York of Newton Centre, five men also had honors grades; they were Dick Jelen of Newton, Arthur Kaufman of West Newton, Dick Swaine of Brookline, Roy Tinker of Newton.

In the freshman class, Patricia Kinsella of West Newton was the top student. Pat was winner of the part-tuition scholarship awarded by the Newton Kiwanis Club. Other girls receiving honors were Lorraine Edwards of Dennisport, Suzanne Seested of West Newton. Freshmen men who earned honors were David Doyle of Newton Lower Falls, Ernest Hamilton of West Newton, Edward Kelley of Newton, Charles Marken of Newton Highlands, Flagg Newcomb of Newton Highlands, George Rice of Newton Highlands.

Eight men and one woman joined the student body at Newton Junior College at the beginning of the second semester. Mary Detore of Wellesley Hills is starting her work in Liberal Arts. Ernest Fuller of Lincoln, has returned to the college, after serving with the Air Force, and will complete his last semester at Newton Junior College. Three other men return to the college, and four started their college work, all of whom are veterans.

The Committee on Admissions is now accepting applications for entrance to Newton Junior College next fall.

Delaware Exchange Students To Arrive in Newton Sunday

30 Boys, Girls To Spend Week In Trips, Study

Thirty boys and girls from Alexis I. du Pont High School in Wilmington, Dela., are scheduled to arrive Sunday afternoon for a week's visit with their exchange pals at Newton High School.

Mrs. Marguerite S. Benthall, principal of the Delaware school, and Archie Howie, superintendent of schools, are driving to Newton and are expected the same day. There will be a small reception for them Sunday night, and they will attend an assembly of welcome for the exchangers Monday morning before returning to Wilmington.

Plans for the visit of the 15 girls and 15 boys call for a full schedule of classes and tours, concluding with a dance at the Totem Pole Friday night, March 18. The visitors will leave for home Saturday, March 19.

The tentative program announced by Miss Mabel Turner, faculty advisor, and her committee calls for a welcome at Elm road and Walnut street, Newtonville, late Sunday afternoon by members of both the Wilmington and Boulder, Colo., exchange partners. The visitors will then pair off with their "exchange pals" for supper and evening at home.

Wilmington students will tour the high school buildings and the campus at the start of school Monday morning, and will attend classes starting at 9:35 a.m. A program of welcome, with the junior class attending, will be held in the Assembly Hall.

The visitors will be guests of the high school at luncheon in the cafeteria, and they will continue taking regular classes until the close of the school day. An informal get-together will be held after school in the library.

A social gathering is planned for the evening at one of the Newton exchanger's homes, concluding at 9:30 p.m.

Tuesday morning will be

Buying Later Recommended By Committee

School building requirements and "other immediate needs of an expanding city" should take preference over mechanizing Newton's elections with voting machines, the aldermen's special committee on voting machines reported Monday night.

"No action at this time" was the recommendation of the three-man committee, following conferences with election officials and a study of the machines in operation. But the report left the door open for a changeover "at a future date" when the city might be "in a better financial position to make such a purchase."

"Voting machines have definite advantages and could undoubtedly be used successfully here in Newton. However, the initial cost, plus interest, is a major deterrent in recommending their purchase and use now," reported the committee, composed of William M. Powers, John P. Nixon and Harry H. Ham Jr.

Their report pointed out that the cost, $186,000 if they are purchased outright or $191,580

Third Annual Brotherhood-in-Action Dinner to Be Held Next Wednesday

The third annual Brotherhood-in-Action dinner sponsored by Temple Shalom Brotherhood will be held at the West Newton Temple Wednesday evening, March 16, and will feature a talk by the Honorable Liu Yu-wan, director of Nationalist China's delegation to the United Nations.

Mr. Yu-wan, a graduate of Oberlin College, has served the Chinese Government in many important political and diplomatic capacities. He will talk on "Formosa — War or Peace in Asia."

The first Brotherhood-in-Action dinner of the Temple was held two years ago primarily to express the gratitude of the Temple to the religious and lay leaders of the First Unitarian Society of West Newton and the Second Congregational Church. These churches had generously made their facilities available to the Temple during its early years for the holding of religious services and school classes. Despite the acquisition of its temporary home at 175 Temple street, the Temple still conducts its high holiday services each fall in one of these two West Newton churches. With the completion of the new Temple sanctuary and religious school at its present location now scheduled for the late fall of 1955, it is believed that by next year the Temple will be able to conduct all its activities in its own building.

The Brotherhood-in-Action dinner has now been expanded to constitute a tribute to Newton's community leaders and to welcome them and the organizations they represent each year to dine with the Brotherhood members and their friends. Invited guests include Mayor Howard Whitmore Jr., representatives of the Board of Aldermen and the School Committee. Senator Richard H. Lee and Newton Representatives in the General Court, School Superintendent Harold Gores and other members of the school department, in addition to representatives of the Newton press and the leading civic, philanthropic, business and service organizations of the city.

Angier PTA to Hear Panel of School Experts

Bringing together the top School Department leaders in the city, the members of the Angier P.T.A. will be taken on a "Journey Through the Newton Schools" at their next meeting, Monday evening, at the School auditorium.

Superintendent of Schools Harold Gores, will join a panel with School Committeeman Henry Keyes and Haskell Freedman, and High School Guidance Counsellor Robert Mitchell. Angier Program Chairman Donald L. Daniels of Waban will act as moderator.

An opportunity will be afforded to the primary school parents to "ask the experts" what's ahead for their children as they progress through the Newton Schools. The meeting will be opened by P.T.A. President Edward Uohline. Following the discussion, the parents will be able to visit with the teachers in their youngsters' classrooms.

Open Meeting To Discuss New Little League

An open meeting for the purpose of organizing a new Little League in the Newtonville and West Newton areas will be held at the Claflin School on Tuesday, March 15, at 7:45 p.m. All parents of 8 to 12 years old boys and others who are interested in Little League baseball for boys in the Cabot, Claflin and Pierce school areas are urged to attend.

The proposed new league will cover the area between Washington street and Commonwealth avenue from Church street and Centre street westerly to the Woodland Railroad station. At the present time it is the only area in the city not covered by the Little League program.

Two well known Little League officials have been invited to explain the program and how it operates. Baron Mayer, of Danvers, Massachusetts District Director of Little League baseball will speak on the nation wide organization and the part it plays in the local program. James E. Murphy, president of the Newton North and Newton West Little Leagues will explain the operation of the Little Leagues in Newton. A sound motion picture on Little League will also be presented.

The final business of the meeting will be the election of officers and the formation of the new league.

Waban Improve't Society to Hear Arctic Explorer

Waban residents are invited to the 66th annual meeting of the Waban Improvement Society Monday night at the Waban Neighborhood Club to hear an illustrated lecture by Rear Admiral Donald B. MacMillan, commander of 39 expeditions to the Arctic.

Assisted by his wife, Admiral MacMillan will bring to the Society an illustrated talk of adventure and Polar exploration. He will discuss and show movies of explorations along the coasts of Labrador, Greenland, Baffin Land, Ellesmere Island and the Arctic seas.

Reports by club officers will be presented at 7:45 p.m., followed by election of officers for the coming season. Older school children will be admitted following the business session to hear Admiral MacMillan's talk at about 8:30 p.m.

Democrats Unite In City to Establish Two-Party System

Over one hundred Newton citizens attended the first meeting of the Newton Democratic Club at the Newton Highlands Workshop Wednesday, March 2.

Almost everyone who attended signed up as members, stated Robert Lesberg of 1430 Beacon St., who was elected provisional president of the new organization. Mr. Lesberg was Governor's Councillor Endicott Peabody's campaign manager in the recent election. The other officers are: First Vice-President, Walter F. Slattery; Vice-President for Functions, Milton Cook; Vice-President for Membership, Mrs. Charles Robinson; Vice-President for Young Democrats, Michael Flynn; Vice-President for Public Relations, Robert Caron; Treasurer, John P. Barton; Recording Secretary, Mrs. Philip K. Chaplain; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Howard J. Fine.

"Our intent is to establish a definite two-party system in Newton, and to provide an opportunity for independents and Democrats to voice their opinion in what has been heretofore a one-party city," Mr. Lesberg said. "A one-party system whether Democratic or Republican is not to the best interests of the citizens."

The club also plans to start a Young Democrats Club and to take an active part in civic and charitable affairs. Plans are being discussed to raise money for local charities and to establish liason with local civic, charitable and business groups.

The immediate formation of a city-wide membership committee was announced. The committee, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Charles Robinson, has distributed nearly one thousand membership applications throughout the city in preparation for the next general meeting which will be announced shortly.

Sacred Heart Parish to Hold Debate Sunday

All organizations of the Sacred Heart Parish, Newton Centre, are sponsoring a debate to be held in the High School Auditorium this Sunday at 8 p.m.

"Average American Woman Expects Too Much From Her Husband", is the topic to be debated by a group of young men and women from Boston College Debating Team.

Most Rev. Eric F. MacKenzie D.D. J.C.D., pastor of Sacred Heart Parish, will award a trophy to the winning team.

All the men and women of the parish are invited.

Two Newton Legislators Vote for Wire Tapping Bill: Democrats in House Waste Time Playing Politics

It caused a clicking of political eyebrows, when a handful of Republican legislators, among them Representatives Arthur G. Heaney and Donald D. Gibbs of Newton, voted for the so-called wiretapping bill, toward which Governor Herter had manifested his unswerving opposition.

This was a measure for which a dozen conservative Democratic House members refused to vote, even when their party leaders summoned them into caucus and behind closed doors exerted unusual pressure on them to whip them into line.

It was bill which Democratic House chieftains finally decreed was a party issue. The only plausible explanation that could be offered for that action was that they wanted to embarrass Governor Herter by sending the measure to his desk.

The Governor vetoed a similar bill a year ago, and while he hadn't stated his position at the time the measure was being debated in the House, it was generally understood that he had not changed his attitude. (Mr. Herter subsequently declared publicly that he would again exercise his veto power, if the bill were enacted this year.)

Capping Exercises Held By Newton Wellesley Hospital for Forty-Six

A near-capacity audience of parents and friends gathered at Lasell Junior College gymnasium last week for capping exercises conducted by the Newton - Wellesley Hospital School of Nursing.

The 46 members of the class of '57 marched in bearing "Florence Nightingale lamps" and at the head of the aisle, Miss Myrtice L. Fuller, director of the nursing school, lit the candle on each lamp.

Mark C. Wheeler, hospital president, greeted the group, and Mrs. Matt B. Jones Jr., president of the Newton VNA Board of Directors and member of the Board of Directors of the School of Nursing, spoke. Miss Fuller presented the caps.

Music was provided by the Glee Club, directed by Glendening Smith and accompanied by Mrs. Smith. The girls enrolled in the school in September, and the capping ceremony indicates that they are qualified candidates for the nursing profession.

Dr. Nils Y. Wessel to Address Annual Meeting of Newton Community Chest

The twenty-third annual meeting of the Newton Community Chest will be held at the Normandie Room, Norumbega Park, Thursday, March 17, at 6:30 p.m. Dr. Nils Y. Wessell, President of Tufts College, will be the guest speaker and he has selected as his subject, "Hard-headed Altruism."

Nathan D. Bugbee, President of the Newton Community Chest, will preside at the Meeting and reports will be made of the past year's activities by the President, the Treasurer, the Chairman of the Budget Committee, and the Executive Director. New directors will be elected, 39 Institutional Directors representing the Chest member agencies, each Director to serve one year, plus eight Directors-at-Large to be elected for three years and one Director to be elected for two years, filling an unexpired term.

Amendments to the Constitution and By-Laws approved by the Board of Directors will be presented providing for the increase in the number of Directors-at-Large to be elected each year from six to eight and an additional officer, an Assistant Treasurer, to be elected for one year.

Present officers of the Chest, in addition to Nathan D. Bugbee, are Alden R. Bellman, and Benjamin Shattuck, Vice Presidents; George L. White, Treasurer; and H. J. Pettengill, Clerk. Alden R. Bellman is Chairman of the Budget Committee; Benjamin Shattuck is Chairman of the Campaign Committee; and Robert R. Walker, Chairman of the Public Relations Committee. Directors-at-Large whose three year term of office expire are: Nathan D. Bugbee, William M. Cahill, Lawrence B. Damon, Franklin D. Jerome, F. Brittain Kennedy and Norman H. S. Vincent.

As Mr. Pettengill is retiring in June, after 13 years as Executive Director of the Chest, this will be his final Annual Meeting. Invitations have been sent out to Community Chest leaders who have served with Mr. Pettengill during his administration and it is expected that there will be a large attendance.

Following the Annual Meeting, the newly elected Directors will meet to elect officers for the coming year and members of the standing committees will be appointed.

Issues Call For Volunteer Nurse's Aides

Mrs. Joseph C. MacDonald, Chairman of Nurse's Aide Service of the Newton Chapter, American Red Cross, announces that the Newton-Wellesley Hospital has issued a call for more volunteer nurse's aides.

In order to serve in this satisfying volunteer capacity, the individual must complete a basic course of eighty hours of classroom study and supervised experience within the hospital.

The hospital staff and the Red Cross both urge that those conscientious and public-spirited women who may be interested in vital service, call either Mrs. MacDonald at DE 2-0293 or the Chapter House at LA 7-6000.

Named Notary Public

Frederick H. Caswell of 42 Morse road, Newtonville, has been appointed a notary public by Gov. Christian A. Herter. His term will expire in 1962.

Machines--

with interest, comes at a bad time "when school building needs are so pressing, when a personnel study will possibly indicate new salary scheduled, when other immediate needs of an expanding city require attention."

The study showed that the present system is not "inadequate or economically unreasonable," and it would not be in the best interests of the public welfare to recommend purchase now.

Citing the increased cost of machines since 1930 as evidence of "the inflationary trend," the committee's report continued, "Possibly by postponing a non-essential purchase, the city may at a future date benefit from lower prices, or at least be in a better financial position to make such a purchase."

The committee's stand is similar to that taken by the Newton Taxpayers' Association in the January issue of its bulletin "Taxpayers' Topics." In the bulletin, the taxpayers' group cited the great initial expense as being an unnecessary burden when city officials are trying to hold the tax rate on its present "plateau" after the better-than-$7 jump it took in 1952.

"Generally speaking," the bulletin stated, a saving of $2000 an election could be realized once the machines are installed. At this rate, it would take about 50 years to pay for the machines.

REGISTRARS FAVOR

Newton's Board of Registrars of Voters has unanimously recommended purchase of the machines "on the basis of improving the voting procedure, aiming for efficiency of operation and a faster, expeditious return of votes."

There are a number of advantages to machine voting, the committee reported. The machines "afford complete secrecy," eliminate the possibility of incorrect markings, give more accurate, faster results, do away with the need for counting clerks and save most of the expense of recounts.

On the other hand, "many hidden costs" in addition to the initial cost "make a saving unlikely." And unless special legislation was passed, 'Ballots for those who request them and for absentee voters would still be used; this duplication of operation does not lend itself to efficiency or economy."

Further disadvantages, the committee continued, are that confusion may develop from complicated and numerous referendum questions, lines form and people are kept waiting at "peak" times, and voters are allowed only 10 minutes by law to complete their ballots.

Voting machines have been heartily endorsed by all communities using them, according to a survey of Massachusetts cities and towns. "The unanimous reaction of those officials who responded to your committee's questionnaire was that they are very much in favor of the use of voting machines," the report continued.

The committee received "conflicting reports" on whether or not the machines actually saved any money. "Replies to the specific question ranged from 'We save on some recounts' to 'The installation of voting machines has not saved the city any money.'"

Machines are not difficult to learn to operate, the committee was told by Brookline authorities. According to a 1940 survey in one Brookline precinct, 95 per cent of voters returning opinion cards were in favor of the machines. "This would seem to indicate," commented the committee, "that they found the machines easy to operate."

At Newton's present voting population of 46,450, the city would need at least 125 machines at a cost of $186,000. This figure would grow to $191,580 if the machines were purchased on the "installment plan" instead of bought outright.

Science Fair To Be Held April 14-15

The 8th Annual Newton High School Science Fair will be held on April 14 and 15 from 2:30 to 5 o'clock in the afternoon of both days and 7:30 to 9:00 o'clock at night on the 15th. At night on April 15, the awards for the best science projects in the exhibit will be announced. The Science Fair will take place in the Newton High Gym. The Science Fair is under the chairmanship of Messrs. Harold Hawkes and Paul Barsam. Plans for the fair are now beginning to take shape. About 100 exhibits were entered last year.

The four Junior High Schools will send their winners to compete among themselves.

Some of the winners of the Newton High School Science Fair will compete at the Massachusetts Science Fair at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. This Science Fair will be held at Rockwell Cage on the M.I.T. campus. It is sponsored by the Boston Globe and the Massachusetts Science Fair Committee, Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

spent attending classes of special interest. The Wilmington group will leave the school by bus at 1:45 p.m. to meet Mayor Howard Whitmore Jr., and the students will then tour the city. Supper will be at the Newtonville Methodist Church, with supper and entertainment sponsored by students of the Boulder exchange and their parents.

The visitors will leave the high school Wednesday morning for a day in Boston. Among the points of interest to be visited are the Mapparium, U. S. Constitution, Paul Revere House, Bunker Hill and similar historic sites.

Following luncheon at the Y.W.C.A., the students will view Boston from the observation tower of the John Hancock Building. At 3 p.m., they will meet Gov. Christian A. Herter and Rep. Irene K. Thresher of Newton. After dinner in town, the students will be free to spend the evening in Boston or at home with their exchange partners.

Thursday calls for the students to be back in classes all morning, leaving by bus at noon for Cambridge, Harvard, M.I.T., Concord and Lexington. The evening will again be left to the individual students and the families they are staying with.

Another bus trip is scheduled Friday to Science Park and the Boston Museum of Science. The students will attend classes in the afternoon, then will meet in the Social Room at the high school for an evaluation of exchange activities. Their trip to Newton will conclude with a dance at the Totem Pole Friday night.

Faculty leaders from du Pont High accompanying the exchange group are Miss Dorothy S. Allen and Vincent E. Reilly. Newton faculty leaders are Miss Mabel Turner and Warren G. Loring. The Newton teachers will accompany 15 Newton High School boys and girls when they repay the visit to Delaware later this year.

The du Ponters and their Newton hosts and hostesses are Helene deHaus Wells and Judith Ann Averbuck, Waban; Judith Ann Warner and Janice Barbuto, Newtonville; Eleanor Kuepper and Ann Dedrick, Newton Highlands; Elaine Balmatory and Sally Feinberg, Newton Centre; Susan Reigel and Judith Freeman, Newton Centre.

Nancy Walton and Corinne Galer, Chestnut Hill; Jane Marie Lachro and Michele Gilman, Newton; Joanne Kehnast and Nancy Lamb, Watertown; Charlotte Brackin and Jean LaTona, Newton; Elizabeth Hammell and Margaret Lippincott, Newton Centre.

Barbara Hall and Patricia Murphy, West Newton; Alyce Vickers and Judith Smith, Newton Centre; Grace Webb and Dorothy Swanton, Newton; Jane Henricks and Nancy Wernick, Chestnut Hill; Susan Linch and Jane Willey, Newton Highlands.

Girl Scout Cookie Sale Ends Saturday

The Annual Girl Scout Cookie Sale, this year raising funds for a new camp site in addition to the money required for regular troop activities, will end Saturday.

More than 3,200 members of Newton Girl Scout groups have been ringing doorbells and taking orders for cookies since last Saturday. This year the girls are offering five different types of cookies for sale. Cookies ordered now will be delivered after March 28.

Residents are asked to help the girls find a new camp by ordering cookies. The Girl Scouts have to relocate Camp Mary Day as it is in the path of the new East-West toll highway.

Last year 58,000 boxes of cookies were sold, and Mrs. Edson DeCastro of West Newton, chairman of the sale, hopes to better this mark by thousands. Mrs. DeCastro pointed out that selling the cookies not only raises needed money, but also gives the girls experience in meeting the public and handling money.

Neighborhood chairmen assisting with the sale are Mrs. Milton Talcofsky, Countryside; Mrs. Antonio Valenti, Emerson; Mrs. Charles Atwell, Hyde; Mrs. Walter Dietz, Mason; Mrs. Harold Pinkney, Memorial; Mrs. Mark Rosenfelt and Mrs. Sleme Tesoriero, Oak Hill; Mrs. Carmen Leone, Our Lady's; Mrs. Carl Alvord, Sacred Heart; Mrs. Arthur Marks, Ward; Mrs. Leon Evan, Jr., Spaulding; Mrs. Frederick Dutton, High School.

Film on School, Home Relations At Mason School

"Each Child is Different," a new film on home and school relations, will be presented by Dr. Mary O'Rourke, senior supervisor of elementary education of the State Department of Education, at the open meeting of the Mason-Rice P.T.A. Tuesday, March 22, at 8 p.m. in the Mason School Auditorium.

The program has been arranged by Mrs. Maurice Crevoshay. Walter Dietz, P.T.A. president, will conduct the meeting. Refreshments will follow.

The executive board of the Mason-Rice P.T.A. will entertain Miss Ruth Dority, Mason-Rice principal, and the teachers of both schools at a luncheon Tuesday at Trinity Church, Newton Centre. Other special guests include Miss Gladys McBey, school nurse; Mrs. John Metz, president of the Newton Centre Woman's Club; Mrs. Edward L. Davis, vice-president; and Mrs. Rodney Stratton, chairman of the Education Committee of the Woman's Club. The luncheon will be arranged by Mrs. Walter Muther, assisted by Mrs. Gordon MacDonald, Mrs. Abbott Spear and Mrs. Crevoshay.

New hours have been announced for the Mason-Rice Thrift Shop which operated in the Rice School every Wednesday. The store will open at 9 a.m. each week and welcomes buyers and sellers throughout the day.

St. Patrick, the Missionary, to Be Topic of Talk Sunday

An address entitled St Patrick, The Missionary" by Rev. Thomas McElligott, S.P.D. Professor of Moral Theology at St. Columban's Major Seminary, Milton, will be the feature of this month's meeting of Our Lady's Holy Name Society of Newton next Sunday morning.

Members of the Society will receive Holy Communion together at the 8 o'clock Mass and then will go to the Parish High School to hear Fr. McElligott. Music during the Mass will be provided by the Society's own choir under the director Miss Florence Herlihy, organist.

Prior to the Mass there will be a reception Ceremony admitting new members to the organization.

During a brief business meeting assignments for the Holy Thursday Nocturnal Adoration Program will be drawn by leaders of the ten Districts of the Society.

Announcement of the plans covering the C.Y.O. paper drive to be held in the parish on March 20th will be made by the chairman of this activity, John A. Shields.

Father McElligott, a native of Ireland, graduated from the National University of Ireland and then entered the seminary conducted by the Society of St. Columban in Ireland. Following his ordination he attended the Gregorian University in Rome from which he received the degree of Doctor of Sacred Theology in 1939. He was then assigned to the Columban Seminary in Nebraska while there. Father McElligot also acted as Chaplain for the American troops stationed at Fort Crook and for the Italian prisoners of war whom they were guarding. He came to Milton when the Society opened its major seminary there in September 1953.

Coffee and doughnuts will be served before the meeting by Raymond Keegan, Francis Bradley and Edward Gallagher. Magicians in the Hotel Touraine.

Weeks Magicians Display Tricks At Boston Hotel

Young magicians of the Presto Club at Weeks Junior High School, Newton Centre, entertained Friday before the Herman Hanson Boston Assembly of the Society of American Magicians in the Hotel Touraine.

Those performing were Richard Goldstein, president; Steve Wolf, treasurer; Lee Seigel, Steven Levin, Coral Epstein, Richard Berk, Stanley Shulman and Edward Blinn.

The Presto Club has had an active year at the school. A 10-foot square background piece was presented to the club by Dr. Howard Thompson of Brookline, and was used at the January magic show presented for the school's student body. Enough money was raised by the single performance to enable the entire club to see the Annual Magicale of the Society of American Magicians May 7 in Boston.

Other active members of the Presto Club are Edward Bayard, Steve Goldberg, Melvin Heard, Robert Hershman, Steve Johnson, Jeff Lindemann, Richard Marks, Charles Paulino, Arthur Pearlstein, Larry Semrad, Susan Shrier, Bob Siegel and Alan Tucker.

The club is sponsored by Herbert B. Downs, graphic arts instructor at the school and president of the Boston Assembly of the Society of American Magicians.

Named Officer Of National Music Schools

Mrs. William C. North, Executive Director of the All Newton Music School has just returned from Cleveland, Ohio, where she attended the fourteenth annual conference of the National Guild of Community Music Schools. Mrs. Worth has been active in this national group since its founding in 1937, having served as secretary-treasurer for eight years and also as a member of the executive committee.

At the recent annual meeting held at the Cleveland Music School, Mrs. Worth was elected a vice-president. Her duties in this capacity will be to represent member schools of the New England area including besides the All Newton Music School, the Boston Music School, South End Music Centre of Boston, the Community Music School of Pittsfield, Massachusetts and the Neighborhood Music School of New Haven, Connecticut.

The National Guild of Community Music Schools co-ordinates and extends the work of community music schools into a national movement. Its purpose is to maintain high standards of music education and to stimulate the development of leadership for programs of sufficient flexibility to such changing individual and community needs. It is a member of the National Music Council and participation in other national and international movements and organizations.

Miss Grace Spofford of New York, internationally known in music circles will represent the National Guild as delegate to the many music festivals to be held all over Europe during the coming summer.

The All Newton Music School is a charter member of the National Guild and is recognized as an outstanding member of the organization.

Kappa Kappa Gamma Meeting

Boston Intercollegiate Alumnae Association of Kappa Kappa Gamma met Tuesday afternoon at 1 o'clock for a luncheon meeting at the home of Mrs. Erwin H. Griswold of 36 Kenmore road, Belmont.

Luncheon chairman was Mrs. Jack F. Wright, 33 Larchmont avenue, Waban. Miss Joyce H. Giering, case worker for the Family Service Association of Greater Boston, spoke to the group about her work and led a discussion on "Education for Family Living."

Lee Says Phone Tapping Is Not Privacy Invasion

Tapping of telephone wires for evidence in criminal cases has been termed not an invasion of privacy by State Sen. Richard H. Lee of Newton.

"No instance of abuse has come to light," said Sen Lee, who declared that "it has long been the law" that a district attorney or the attorney general can intercept telephone messages when it is necessary to a criminal investigation.

"A group of liberals and persons outspoken in matters of civil rights have made an issue over this bill," the senator continued. "They assume that the interception of a telephone message infringes a basic constitutional right to privacy."

The fourth article of the constitution, he pointed out, assures people, their papers and property security against "unreasonable searches or seizures," requiring a warrant before a police officer can enter a home.

"The telephone," he argued, "was invented after the Constitution had been adopted, and we must use analogies in applying the Constitution to this new device. The proponents of the bill (requiring a court order for a wire tap) picture a man as telephoning from his home, and say that listening in without a court order is like entering and searching his home without a warrant.

"Actually, the bulk of telephone calls, particularly among crime suspects, are not made from a home, but from temporary hangouts, offices or pay stations, and the district attorney seldom has any interest in conversation from a normal home. Let us, nevertheless, examine the latter situation.

"When the home owner telephones to someone outside, and the call is intercepted outside, is there any real invasion of the home? If the criminal wrote a letter and sent it through the mails, it could be intercepted and used against him in a trial, even though it was written in his home.

"If he used a party line for his call, all the neighbors might have the story and would be guilty of no crime, even though they might be ashamed of their methods. If the home owner sent a message by radio, in code, and the officers deciphered it, they could use his message against him. From these illustrations, I fail to see that the law is invading a man's home. It is rather the householder who is projecting a message outside his home," Sen. Lee claimed.

"There are some crimes of today which are heavily dependent upon the use of the telephone. One of these is bookmaking, or the numbers racket. Another is kidnapping. The law enforcement officers are under a serious handicap in these fields if the criminals can use a regulated public utility for illegal purposes and the enforcement officers cannot intervene.

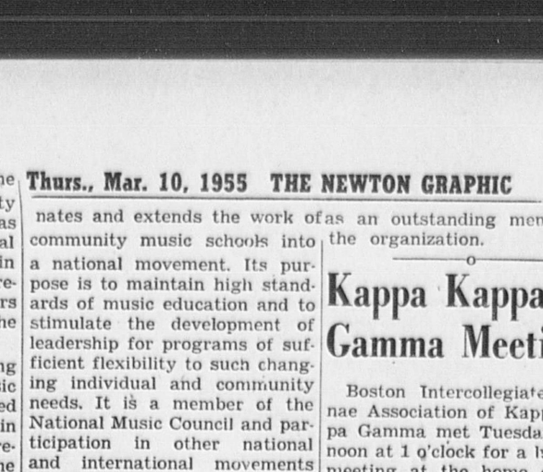

"Of course, it is a procedure that should be used only for criminal enforcement, and its use in a private grudge or for blackmail is properly prohibited. It is bad manners, but it is the most effective way to catch some slippery criminals. The privilege should be reserved to a few responsible officials, and it seems to me that it is safely left with the district attorneys," the senator concluded.

While legislators are very touchy on the subject, it is also pretty well established that "bookies" and other underworld elements were very interested for obvious reasons in seeking the measure adopted.

One lawmaker remarked publicly on the gathering of "bookies" in the vicinity of the State Senate chamber, while the measure was before that body, and the gentlemen who make book were observed elsewhere in the State House, while the wiretapping controversy was in progress.

All those facts make it a little difficult to understand why Republican legislators, all regarded as stalwart and loyal members of their party, chose to stand with the Democrats, after the latter had made the measure a partisan issue, and vote to revive a bill which Governor Herter was certain to veto, if it passed.

* * * *

It now seems plain that one reason the Democratic leaders in the Massachusetts House of Representatives are getting themselves so badly fouled up is that they are devoting more time to figuring out possible ways of embarrassing Governor Herter than to the efficient performance of their own duties.

That doesn't apply to Speaker Michael F. Skerry, who appears to be trying to do a fair impartial job of presiding over the House sessions, but it does hold true of the two men he selected as his lieutenants, Democratic floor leader John F. Thompson, and Democratic whip James L. O'Dea, who have been getting themselves and their party all snarled up in their own political maneuvering.

Thompson and O'Dea have been pressuring Skerry to crack down on balky Democratic legislators who persist in leaving the party reservation. But it would seem more to the point if Skerry, who himself has demonstrated qualities of leadership under trying circumstances, were to crack down on O'Dea and Thompson and order them to adopt more constructive tactics than they have been following and to abandon what amounts to a program of harrassment.

Skerry is a prospective candidate for higher office, and he has demonstrated himself to be an intelligent and fair-minded legislator, but he is being injured by the two men who are leading the Democratic majority on the floor of the House.

The story of what has happened during the little more than two months the present Legislature has been in session is fast approaching the point of absurdity.

At the start of the legislative session, Democratic leaders sponsored seven orders for investigations of various phases of the Herter administration, one covering the expenditures for publicity purposes in the offices of the Governor and Lieutenant Governor.

In fairness, the writer does not want to leave the implication that Thompson and O'Dea were behind the probe orders, because it never really became clear who did sponsor them, but they spearheaded the fight for their adoption.

Three of the measures were defeated, and one was withdrawn. Bitter feeling was aroused within the House by slurs directed at Democratic legislators of Italian descent who had refused to vote for a probe of the State public works department headed by Commissioner John A. Volpe.

After that obvious and not entirely unexpected display of partisan politics, it was expected that the Democratic House leaders would get down to serious business, particularly since they were confronted with the prospect of a session of possibly record length.

But the peak in faulty judgment was reached last week, when O'Dea and Thompson were successful in having the wiretapping bill made a party issue after 36 Democrats, representing nearly a third of the entire party membership in the House, had voted to kill it.

The wiretapping issue, of course, is one on which there can be an honest difference of sincere convictions. Civil liberties groups are opposed to wiretapping because it involves an intrusion upon personal privacy, even though that intrusion may be for the purpose of gaining evidence of criminal activity.

But the rank and file of Democratic voters certainly would never consider that a legislator was breaking faith with his party by lining up against the bill. In fact, public sentiment probably would be found either indifferent on the matter or against the idea of imposing restrictions on the Attorney General and District Attorneys before they could tap a wire.

An all-out effort to save face for Messrs. Thompson and O'Dea resulted in the wiretapping measure being salvaged and returned to committee, where it will die a somewhat slower death. That was generally acclaimed as a victory, but if it can be considered such, it was a hollow one, indeed.

Another bit of political intrigue which may boomerang to embarrass the Democratic masterminds occurred during a move to extend rent control. A bill endorsed by two Democratic-dominated House committees would have permitted the continuance of rent control for another two years and at the same time allowed a gradual decontrol.

That was all that the sincere advocates of rent control wanted and as much as they expected to obtain.

But the Democratic House leaders sidetracked that measure and substituted in its place one so drastic that it probably could not get through the Senate, would be vetoed by Governor Herter, if it did, and undoubtedly would be ruled unconstitutional by the courts, if it were enacted into law.

The only conceivable motive behind such strategy would be to place Governor Herter in a position where he would be forced to veto a rent control measure. And that purpose is so obvious it is not likely to fool anyone.

Unless the Democratic House floor leaders stop playing partisan politics and get down to business, they are almost certain to do serious harm to their own political party and its future prospects.

Mink Stole Winner Announced At Oak Park Shopping Center

Holder of the lucky ticket number entitling her to a $1,000 mink stole donated by merchants of the Oak Park Shopping Center was Mrs. Benjamin Kaplan, 32 Wayne street, Roxbury. Her name was drawn Monday afternoon by Harold A. Wooster, librarian of the City of Newton.

This drawing culminated a series of weekly prizes offered by the Oak Park merchants for the past four weks. Each week a drawing was held and the winners the first three weeks were awarded a $100 dress or suit to be selected at a smart Coolidge Corner shop.

The winners were: Rita Markovski, Newton and Mrs. D'Orcy of West Roxbury, first week; Miss Conway and Miss Murphy, both of Oak Hill, second week; and Teddy Kaplan, and Miss Chandonait, both of Newton, third week.

Seven stores offering a wide variety of merchandise make up the shopping center, which opened in the middle of February in the Oak Park section of Newton, near the Newton-West Roxbury line.

A brief description of the stores and the merchandise featured follows:

The Market Basket, a complete supermarket with Nathan Shuman and Charles Lerner, managers of the meat department, features the finest cuts of beef, sold with a money back guaranty. Other departments include dairy in which may be found the finest creamery products, grocery department, with all the nationally advertised brands, fruits and vegetables, carefully selected and garden fresh and a large frozen food section.

Oak Park Pharmacy, managed by Albert Kaplan, stocks a complete line of pharmaceuticals, including the latest drug discoveries and improvements, supplies for the sick room, as well as a modern soda fountain, serving famous James H. McManus ice cream. The store also has a fine cosmetic counter and sells sundries and magazines. Telephone service is available on prescriptions.

Linda Mae Bakery, owned and operated by Arthur and Siphis Bienake, is noted for its delicious pastries and delicacies. Birthday cakes and special cakes for parties are made to order and artistically decorated, as well as being good to the taste. The firm has operated a bakery in Putterham Circle for the past ten years.

Corman's One Hour Cleansers is owned by Albert Corman, featuring quick, quality dry cleansing with the most modern facilities and all work is done on the premises. Also available is tailoring service, invisible mending and waterproofing. In addition shoes are repaired and a shirt laundry service is available.

Oak Park Beatuy Salon, operated by Gail Nathanson and Rosalind Colbert, formerly of the Beautyland of Grove Hill, Roxbury, specialize in hair coloring and silver blonding. They are noted for their hair styling and lasting permanents. Superfluous hair is also removed with the most modern electronic devices and all work is guaranteed.

Oak Park Barber Shop, managed by Michael Kagan and Al Souza, formerly of Putterham Circle, is a most modern shop with the latest equipment for tonsorial work. There are three chairs and a special chair for the kiddies.

Leshner's Dairy and Delicatessen is stocked with a most tempting array of meats, salads, pickles, relishes and creamery products. Rosoff's delicious sauerkraut and horse radish as well as R & S pickles and condiments and Mayflower dairy products are featured. At the lunch counter mouth-watering sandwiches are served with choice beverages.

"CURTAIN GOING UP"

ON YOUR RADIO AND TV PROGRAMS

by Joe Cullinane

While Joe Cullinane is on vacation, top radio and TV personalities are guest-writing his column. This week "A Bandmaster Speaks." So now . . .

MEET PAUL LAVALLE

When Joe Cullinane asked me to write a guest column while he is away, I couldn't quite make up my mind what I wanted to say. Being a musician, I usually have my say in music. But there are a lot of things I could tell you as a result of my experiences as bandmaster of the "Cities Service Band of America," every Monday night on WBZ-NBC radio.

PAUL LAVALLE

It comes as a surprise often to many people that there are over 75,000 brass bands now playing in the United States. This naturally involves millions of people as performers and practically the whole rest of the country as listeners.

It has been one of the most gratifying results of our more than seven years with the "Band of America" that, in this period of time, band music has grown considerably in popularity and I know from many indications, as well as from letters we receive, that our program is, in some measure, responsible for this.

I receive many invitations from schools, organizations and special festivals to conduct bands around the country and I certainly try to fulfill their requests whenever I can. The personal satisfaction and joy it gives me to work with hundreds of young people is something that cannot be measured. Perhaps just one incident might give you some idea of the exhilaration and the inspiration it is for me and for our program.

I recall at a large music festival where I was a guest conductor that there were about 750 music students with whom I worked for several days. I noticed that four of the young musicians in the clarinet section did not play during rehearsal. It seems that all five only had one clarinet, although each had his own mouthpiece. They passed the instrument around so each had a chance to play at different times. I made sure that each of them played at least one number on the night of the concert.

I am not given to preaching ordinarily, but when I get on the subject of music I cannot help sounding off. Playing an instrument gives young people a wonderful channel for their creative and physical energies which can otherwise, unfortunately in some cases, go along paths of mischief and even crime. It is clear that this view is also taken by school superintendents and principals throughout the country who are doing everything possible to encourage the growth and development of band music.

I'd like to close with the invitation for all young people to come out and join the band wherever you are.

THAT'S ALL FOR NOW
NEXT WEEK—JOE CULLINANE

Union Rescue Mission

A musical and tea for friends of the Union Rescue Mission of Boston will be held next Wednesday at the home of Dr. E. Joseph Evans, 111 Hobart road, Newton from 2 to 4 p.m.

Mrs. Frederick White and Mrs. Gene Brown of Newton will be hostesses at the event which will include music by the noted soprano, Alice Farnsworth and Mrs. Leah Reed, pianist.

Rep. Thresher Filling Many Speaking Dates

Rep. Irene E. Thresher is filling many speaking engagements in addition to her duties at the State House.

Last week on Thursday evening she spoke to the West Medford Republican Club on current legislation on Beacon Hill. This week on Tuesday evening she will talk to the Dorcas Guild of the Newton Highlands Congregational Church on women in politics. On Thursday night of this week she will speak to the College Club of New Bedford in that city about legislation connected with education.

Next week on Friday evening Mrs. Thresher will go to Springfield to speak to the Parent-Teacher Councils of Springfield and the adjacent communities on the teacher training program in the state, and what the State Teachers Colleges are doing to meet the need for more teachers.

--- News of the Day ---

With the February vacation over, students of Day Junior High School greet their new staff members. Each class has voted for its representatives, who have the opportunity to serve in a public office. This is in line with the school motto, "Enter To Learn, Go Forth To Serve."

There are four main service staffs at Day: Student Council sponsored by Miss Helen Vazmaian, Assistant Principal; the Library Council, sponsored by Mrs. Lorraine Holmes, librarian; the Cafeteria Staff, sponsored by Mr. John Shaw, guidance counselor; and the Playground Staffs with Miss Lou Williams and Mr. John Eldert, the physical education teachers, as advisors.

The Student Council at Day is in charge of the student government. The Library Council members serve as assistant librarians in charge of checking in and out books, filing books, and repairing books. Both of these Councils hold regular meetings on Wednesday mornings at eight.

The Cafeteria Staff serves in many ways at noon in the cafeteria, where all the students at Day eat. The Playground Staff covers the playground and halls after lunch.

Health for All

Take a Deep Breath

We don't think much about breathing. Our lungs usually work for us without conscious orders from the brain. It is only when breathing becomes difficult that we stop to think of the complicated and delicate structure on which we depend for life itself.

So delicate is the fabric that the pressure of a small amount of air can cause a lung to collapse. The lung cavity is protected by the strong bony cage of the ribs, but sometimes a disease such as tuberculosis, a tissue defect, or a wound will allow air, blood, or pus to get into the space around the lung and force it to collapse.

Even when one lung is partly or totally collapsed, a person can get on reasonably well with the other. In treating tuberculosis, a lung is sometimes purposely collapsed to allow it to rest, and so give the diseased parts a chance to heal. For many years lung collapse, either temporary by forcing air into the lung cavity, or permanent by removing part of the ribs, was the only safe surgical treatment of TB. Today, with the use of anti-tuberculosis drugs, the surgeon can often cut out diseased parts of the lung. However, there are cases where this cannot be done and collapse can be more successful. In a new type of operation, collapse is maintained by putting into the chest cavity some material such as plastic balls.

Usually a collapsed lung will re-expand slowly as the air about it is absorbed, and normalfunction will be restored. But pressure over a long period may result in thickened, scarred membrane around the lung, permanently constricting it. During World War II an operation was developed to free the lung of this scar tissue. Now a lung that has been totally collapsed for 20 or more years can sometimes be re-expanded.

Medical science is constantly learning more and more about our lungs and how they work, to give us healthier, happier lives.

This column is sponsored, in the interest of better health, by: the Newton Tuberculosis and Health Association whose sole support is the annual sale of Christmas Seals.

Couples' Club

A Progressive Dinner for all members of the Couples' Club of the West Newton Unitarian Church will be held beginning at 6:30 o'clock Friday evening, March 18. According to the announcement by Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Sears, co-presidents, all couples will first ensemble at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth L. Is First Boy To Complete Y 10 Mile Swim

Announcement has been made by Edward R. DiPersio, swimming instructor at the Newton YMCA that Jack Shaughnessy of 52 Gardner street, Newton is the first boy to complete the "Y" Ten Mile Swim.

A total of thirty-five boys are still actively engaged in the contest which requires a boy to swim 880 laps of the YMCA's sixty foot pool. The laps, of course, are not done at one time, but during each regular swim period a member tries to complete as many laps as possible until he completes the required number.

The contest began on February 7, and will continue through April 18th. Trophies will be awarded to the first three boys who finish and prizes will be awarded to all boys who complete the ten miles within the allotted time.

To date the following eight boys have passed the five mile mark; Jack Shaughnessy, Larry Thompson, Ben Proctor, Jerry Ready, Carl Hartbower, Ted Henry, Jon Taylor and Peter Bowen.

Newton Junior Community Club

Following a short business meeting on Thursday evening, March 10, at 8:30 p.m., the Newton Junior Community Club will present a one-act comedy entitled "Among Us Girls", at the Newton YMCA.

Play Chairman is Miss Edna Day. The cast includes Peggy Connolly, Marian Coffey, Barbara McCullough, Donna Ross, and Joy Ufford.

Program for the evening will also feature a cake sale. This is an open meeting for members and friends.

MRS. ABBIE JANE HALL

Mrs. Abbie Jane (Bazin) Hall, oldest graduate of Danvers High School and oldest member of the Universalist-Unitarian Church, who had celebrated her hundredth birthday last Oct. 30, died in her sleep Friday evening, March 4, 1955, at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. A. Bela Sziklas, 145 Highland street, West Newton.

One of the few surviving widows of Civil War veterans, her husband, the late Dr. Stephen Augustus Hall, dentist, had joined the Massachusetts Volunteers at sixteen. A widower when they were married in 1876, they lived in Hingham until his death in 1890, when she returned to Danvers. She had lived in West Newton for the last six years.

The Rev. Rubens R. Hadley, minister of the Universalist-Unitarian Church, Danvers, officiated at the service held at 2:30 o'clock Monday afternoon, March 7, at the Crosby Funeral Home in Danvers. Interment was in the family plot in Walnut Grove Cemetery, Danvers.

Mrs. Hall is survived by her son, Harry Seymour Hall; a daughter, Mrs. Amy Louise (Hall) Mason Sziklas, both of West Newton; and one granddaughter, Miss Mildred Hall Mason, former Associated Press staff member in the Boston bureau, later editor of Free World in Manila for the U. S. State Dept., and now serving with the U. S. Information Service in Leopoldville, Belgian Congo, Africa, as information officer and public affairs director.

Born Oct. 30, 1854, in the part of South Amesbury now called Merrimac, Mrs. Hall was the youngest of three daughters of the late Samuel Graves Bazin and Jane (Nichols) Bazon. Descended from French Huguenots, her paternal ancestor was one of two Bazin brothers who migrated to the United States in the early eighteenth century while a third brother settled in Canada. Mrs. Hall was graduated from Danvers High School in 1872. Active as a musician and in amateur theatricals, she played the piano both at Danvers High School and at Sunday School at the Danvers Universalist Church. One of her early recollections concerned a trip to Boston with the school principal to choose a piano for the high school, then located above the Danvers Town Hall.

Meeting of A.L. Post to Feature Movie of Europe

A color film depicting a flying visit to European countries will be shown at the March meeting of the Newton American Legion Post St. Patrick's Day in the War Memorial Building, Newton City Hall.

The film, which was secured by Cmdr. Edward A. Cunningham, depicts scenes of Ireland, London, Paris, Brittany, Normandy, Switzreland, Italy and the French Riviera. It is titled "Flight to Romance."

An election will be held to fill the vacant post of junior vice-commander, and refreshments will be served by the Ladies Auxiliary under the direction of its president, Mrs. Samuel Melick.

The Post's annual Sports Night will be observed at the April meeting. J. Joseph Ward, past commander, is arranging to have a number of sports figures present.

Rehearsals are under way by the Auxiliary for its variety show, which will be presented in the near future.

Also planned soon is a rummage sale to be jointly sponsored by the Newton Post, its Auxiliary and the Newton All-Women's Post. Donations of men's women's and children's clothing, glassware, bric-a-brac, etc., are being sought.

All items for the sale should be in the hands of the Post by April 21. Anyone wishing to donate articles should contact John Leary at LAsell 7-6949 or Edward A. Cunningham at DEcatur 2-2418.

Sponsoring Supper

Among members of the Boston YWCA Public Affairs Committee, which is sponsoring a Members' Supper tonight (Thursday at the "YW's" headquarters on Clarendon street, are Mrs. Lucius Thayer of 27 Estabrook road, West Newton and Miss Louise Walworth of 100 Homer street, Newton Centre.

Xavier Cugat and Abbie Lane at Latin Quarter

Xavier Cugat, his orchestra and revue starring Abbe Lane, comprise the main attraction at the Latin Quarter this week.

"Coogie's" show stars the lush-bronze headed Abbe Lane, while others include Charles Carts, novelty act; Julio Torres and Maritza, sensational Flamenco dancers; Los Garcias, rhumba dancers, Carmencita, Candy and Diablito.

This Saturday, there will be a special "Mambo Matinee" from 2 to 5 p.m.

There is never a cover charge at the Latin Quarter, where the coming attractions include Sammy Davis, Jr., Marion Marlowe, Tony Martin, Alan Dean, Ted Lewis, Marguerite Piazza and Eartha Kitt.

Weekend Movies At Museum

Just like the weather, the March weekend film program at Foston's Museum of Science will blow hot and blow cold — with a glimpse of the burning desert and a longer look at life in the frozen North.

Feature for March is the color film "Angotee," the story of an Eskimo boy. Few films have ever presented such a warm and intimate picture of Eskimo life and customs, enlightening for adults and engrossing for youngsters, too. Following the life of Angotee from birth until he leaves the family igloo with his own wife and son, the film shows youngsters playing games that will fit them for adult life, as well as grown-up seal and walrus hunts, women's work in the igloo — all captured by the camera with no self-consciousness on the part of the real-life "actors." Many will probably be surprised at the humor and playfulness of Eskimos of all ages.

"Wonders of the Desert" is an interesting 10 minute color movie in which a pair of youngsters on a desert walk meet wild animals like the pocket mouse, lizards, jack rabbit, and wild burros, and inspect them in their native surroundings. Special attention is also paid to the adaptation of plants and animals to their dry environment.

These films will be shown each weekend of the month in the Morse Auditorium at the Museum of Science: Saturdays at 11 a. m., and 3:30 p. m., Sundays at 3:30 only. And there's ample parking space on the Museum grounds for those who plan to drive.

What Shall We Eat... ...For a Good Breakfast

That third of the day's food requirements that needs to be provided by breakfast can be a problem if planning isn't included in it. A full hot breakfast that gets the family off to a good start is important during the whole year, but perhaps even more so during Lent when every meal needs to be chockfull of good food.

Simple, satisfying, and flavorful are the watchwords for Lenten meals and breakfast can be in that category, too. Vary the family's breakfasts. Juice, cereal, bread, and beverage often fall into a deadly pattern that is hard to change, but it can be done.

Appealing breakfasts are more likely to help the family get their proper quantity of food intake at this meal. Left-over cereals from other meals or from breakfast the day before might be utilized in a breakfast that includes a sliced orange, cereal griddle cakes with honey butter, and a beverage . . . milk for everyone, with coffee added for the adults.

Rice and Corn Meal Griddle cakes use cold, cooked rice and corn meal. They provide both body-building protein and energy carbohydrates. Buttermilk is used as the liquid which means the cakes will be light and tender as well as having a richer flavor.

RICE AND CORN MEAL GRIDDLE CAKES

½ cup sifted flour
1½ teaspoons salt
½ teaspoon soda
1 tablespoon sugar
½ cup corn meal
1½ cups buttermilk
2 eggs, separated
2 tablespoons melted butter
1 cup cold cooked rice

Sift flour once, measure, add soda, salt, and sugar and sift again. Combine with corn meal. Beat egg yolks thoroughly, add buttermilk and butter and blend. Combine with rice, dry ingredients, and mix until smooth. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Bake on a lightly greased griddle until bubbles appear on surface. Turn and continue to bake until golden brown. Serves 6.

Tiny Belgium – Key to Medieval European History

BRUSSELS, BELGIUM — Vest-pocket-sized Belgium is the ideal place for the historian, gourmet, or just plain carefree-vacationer.

Brussels, Belgium's gay capital noted for its nightlife and wonderful restaurants, has become internationally popular. Its convenient location in the very heart of Europe makes it an excellent jumping-off place for sidetrips to a number of its European neighbors — France, Germany, Holland and other countries. Air, rail and boat connections are regular and frequent.

The nightclubs of Brussels are world-famous. Like nightlife the world over, prices are not cheap—drinks may cost up to $2 in the fancy places and a bottle of champagne may set you back $20—but there is no cover or minimum charge. The big clubs like Le Boeuf Sur le Toit and La Nouvelle Equipe, feature top-drawer floor shows with international stars. There are, however, less expensive nightclubs like Le Moulin and Memlina, which feature soft lights and good music.

Known For Its Cuisine

Brussels also boasts some of the most famous restaurants in the world. Among the best are the Restaurant Chantraine (also known as L'Epaule de Mouton), a 300-year-old establishment noted for its superb kitchen, and La Couronne, another fine old eating spot. There are numerous other excellent restaurants, many of which are located on or near the Boulevard Adolph-Max, Brussels' main street.

There are plenty of good first-class hotels to choose from including the Central, Grand, Metropole, Plaza and others. Rooms cost from $3 to $6 without meals.

The showcase of medieval Brussels is the Grand' Place, the Town Hall square, where the Hotel de Ville or City Hall, a 15th Century architectural gem, is set in a surrounding of fine 17th Century mansions. Fringing the giant square are a number of interesting, little stores where you may shop for everything from the famous Belgian lace to a live tropical parrot or a Daschund puppy. In front of the Town Hall is a wonderful marketplace, where from stalls you can pick up a bundle of flowers or a basket of fruit from one of the sidewalk vendors. With the ancient buildings as a suitable backdrop, the Grand' Place looks like a latter-day subject for a Flemish master's canvas—and, as a matter of fact, you will see a number of artists painting it in the afternoon sunlight.

Short Ride to Waterloo

There are many landmarks and points of interest to be seen in Brussels. Musts would include the Church of St. Michel and Gudule, a gothic jewel with 16th Century stained glass windows, the House of Erasmus in Anderlecht and Belgium's internationally known statue of the Little Boy, known as Manneken Pris. A short street-car ride will take you out to Waterloo, on the outskirts of the capital, where you can view the great battlefield where Napoleon met his final defeat. At Waterloo is a museum filled with Napoleonic souvenirs and a mural of the famous battle which ranks as one of history's most significant turning points.

If you are looking for a seaside resort, Belgium has several good ones to pick from, including Ostend, Namur and Knocke-le-Zoute, all of them only a short ride from Brussels to the North Sea coast-line. Knocke-le-Zoute has taken on an international flavor because of its film festival and gambling casino.

Then there is the medieval side of Belgium. Once you leave the French-speaking part of Brussels, and take a trip of an hur or two, you can be transported to the historic Flemish world of the port city of Antwerp, and the heartland of Old Flanders where artists such as Rubens, Breughel, and the Van Eyck brothers painted their works three and four hundred years ago.

Medieval Towns Kept Unchanged

Or you can take sidetrips to Bruges. Ghent or Liege, most of them preserved intact as they were in medieval times. Like a page out of ancient Flemish history, Bruges and Ghent rank as one of Europe's most famous historic centers. Both cities are filled with centuries-old Guild Halls, whose reflections are mirrored in the quiet canal. It's like stepping back into the Middle Ages to walk around the narrow, cobblestoned streets of Bruges and Ghent which remain exactly as they were four or five hundred years ago.

Oil Tank Signal Device Unsafe, Says Fire Chief

A new audible signal device, which supposedly indicates when the safe limit has been reached during the filling of an oil storage tank, does not conform to state fire regulations and should not be installed on any storage tank, Fire Chief John E. Corcoran warned this week.

Following extensive tests, the state fire marshal has withheld approval of the "Echo Vent Signal," manufactured by A. B. Carlson and Company of Aurora, Ill., Chief Corcoran declared. "This signal device should not be confused with the approved 'Vent Alarm,' used throughout the state, manufactured by the Scully Signal Company of Melrose," the chief pointed out.

The unapproved device, he said, is "designed for installation in the vent pipe of a fuel oil storage tank, for the purpose of indicating audibly the fill point when the oil in the storage tank has reached a predetermined safe level."

"The state fire marshall has received the test report of the 'Echo Vent Signal' and has concluded that the approval of the device be withheld in that such a device fails to afford the necessary venting required and will, under conditions of overflow, cause the rupture of the storage tank.

"In filling at 7.5 gallons per minute, in excess of 28 lbs. per square inch will be created if the tank is overflowed when this type of signal is used. Tanks are tested to 5 lbs. pressure.

"This device should not be installed in any storage tank in Massachusetts for it does not conform to the requirements of Form F.P.R.-3, Rules and Regulations of the Board of Fire Prevention Regulations," Chief Corcoran concluded.

Waltham Parade Sunday Welcomes 'Easter Bunny'

A mile-long parade of bands, floats and clowns is set to welcome the Easter Bunny to Waltham Sunday afternoon as spring's favorite pet makes the annual trip to the Watch City by helicopter and lands on the grounds of the Reece Corporation at 2 o'clock.

Over 75,000 people are expected to line the parade route to welcome the Bunny. Clowns, old fashioned bicycles, cowboys and specially prepared floats from the Grover Cronin Display Department will join the marching units.

A special feature of the parade will be the obedient trained dogs from the Weston Dog Ranch who will be featured in their best Easter Bonnets. These dogs are winners of the Obedient Scholarship Award of the American Kennel Club. Herb Taylor, internationally famous clown will be on hand at the reviewing stand of the Grover Cronin Store. A special motorcade of motorcycles of the Everett Civilian Defense will also participate in the parade.

Among the many bands, drill teams, and drum and bugle corps who will participate are the following: Waltham High Band; Waltham American Legion Band; St. John's Drill Team, Quincy; Concord High Band; Our Lady of Lourdes Drum and Bugle Corps, Hyde Park; St. Joseph C.Y.O. Band, Medford; Blessed Sacrament Drill Team, Cambridge; Immaculate Conception Drum and Bugle Corp and Drill Team, Winchester; Gate of Heaven Drum and Bugle Corp and Drill Team, South Boston; St. Thomas More Drum and Bugle Corp, Braintree; Old Dorchester Post Drum and Bugle Corp, Dorchester; Newton High Band; Scottish Highlanders, Quincy; Christ Episcopal Drum and Bugle Corps, Quincy; St. Anthony Drill Team, Allston.

The parade begins at Prospect Street, proceeds up Prospect to Main to Moody and to the Grover Cronin Store.

IN HOMETOWN AMERICA

Robert Merrill in Wellesley Concert Series March 30

The fourth and final concert of the 1954-55 Wellesley Concert Series will take place at Alumnae Hall, March 30. The management takes pleasure in presenting Robert Merrill, Metropolitan Opera baritone, who is in such very great demand that an appearance date is hard to come by.

Many concert-goers have heard his fine singing and noted his excellent characterizations of operatic roles. Others have heard him on radio or seen him in guest appearances

Merrill has greater versatility in the kind of roles he can sing, has been able to superimpose the freer, modern technique of acting upon the traditional type, and has substituted the American ability to work hard and acquire sound knowledge for the typical "temperament" of the operatic or the concert singer. He has a pleasing stage personality, too, and he has a fine record of success with concert audiences.

For his Wellesley concert, Robert Merrill has chosen an interesting and varied program, ranging from songs of Lully and Pegolesi to modern American songs. He has also included the magnificent aria from Verdi's Don Carlos; Roderigo's Farewell and Death Scene.

Jane is a second grade student at the Bowen School and has won 1st place in previous competitions, including the Rhode Island closed championship.

Temple Shalom's Mardi Gras Fete Saturday Night

Temple Shalom of Newton will celebrate Purim this year with a congregational Mardi Gras to be held at the Temple Saturday evening.

Traditionally a joyous holiday celebrated with dancing, singing and costume parties, the Newton Temple is following the ancient rabbinic admonition to become a "house of mirth" during Purim. Games of all kinds will be set up for the guests to enjoy.

Frank Flaschner will be the master of ceremonies, and music will be provided by the "best bands in the land." Manning the snack bar will be Mrs. Sidney Lewis and Mrs. Samuel Richbond. Mrs. Hyman Horwitz is in charge of decorations.

Chairman of the event, sponsored by the Sisterhood of the Temple, is Mrs. Donald L. Daniels. Serving on her committee are Mmes. Leonard Luchner, Irving Rabnowitz, Harry Wensky, Manuel Taylor, Max Bott, Mel Robbins, Eli Dannenberg and Frank Flaschner.

Cub Scout Pack No. 5 Holds Annual Blue and Gold Supper

Cub Scout Pack 5 of Newton Centre held its annual Blue and Gold supper at the Bowen School March 2.

A group of the Order of Red Men of Lynn, with Carlton Saunders as their leader, entertained the 150 fathers and sons who were present. They presented a demonstration of Indian dances and rituals.

At an impressive ceremony the following awards were made: Bobcat—Donald Tofias, Fred Portnoy, Robert Runstein, Geoffrey Miller; Wolf — Neal Epstein, George Anagnos; Bear —Frederic Hopengarten, Roy Robinson and Gerald Rosemark; Lion—Gerald Rosemark; Silver Arrow — Jack Evans, Peter Resnick (2), Roy Robinson (2), Steven Portnoy, Robert Ferris and Michael Sherman; Golden Arrows—Craig Spear, James Olim, Robert Primack, Steven Portnoy, Roy Robinson, Michael Sherman and Fredric Hopengarten.

Edward M. Clarke, principal of Bowen School and LeRoy B. Gould, Neighborhood Commissioner were honored guests. The following committee were responsible for the success of the evening: Mrs. Murray Sherman, Mrs. S. W. Hopengarten, Mr. and Mrs. Saul Primack. They were assisted by the following Den mothers: Den 1—Mrs. Walter McNally and Mrs. Myles L. Mamson, Jr.; Den 2—Mrs. Gertrude Runstein; Den 3—Mrs. Milton Epstein, Mrs. E. C. Ferris and Mrs. Harry Portnoy; Den 4— Mrs. J. Rosenmark, Mrs. Irvin Evans and Mrs. Samuel Olim; Den 5—Mrs. S. W. Hopengarten and Mrs. Murray Sherman; Den 6—Mrs. Henry Portnoy. Ben Lipson is Cub Master and his assistants are George Rubin and Jack Rosenmark.

Need 2 Referees For Sat. 4-Girl Tag-Team Match

Who says women are the weaker sex?

Certainly not Walt Lipson of Lynn, referee in last Saturday night's four-girl tag-team match that featured the Burns-Kerr Legion wrestling program at the West Newton Armory.

such a devastating going-over that two arbiters will be in the Armory ring when the larrup-

The gals gave poor Walter ing lassies, yielding to popular demand, stage a re-match Saturday night at the Armory.

Judging from the manner in which the fearsome foursome—Candy Carroll, Jean Hogan, Pat Reagan and Alma Mills—cuffed the embarrased Lipson around and out of the ring last week, the veteran grappler will need aid from someone in George Atlas' class.

With punches and particiants being flung recklessly, last week's tag team match wound up in a no-contest brawl. The teams—Miss Hogan and Miss Carroll and Miss Reagan and Miss Mills—split the first two falls and, although there was no decision, it was obvious that there was a loser —Lipson!

Sharing the spotlight with the girls will be the co-feature pitting big Jim Cunningham, handsome Lynn cop, against rowdy Gypsy Joe Gonzales.

This looms as a fracas between leading exponents of law and order and no-holds barred ring skullduggery, and Patrolman Cunningham is going to find it a lot harder to tag Joe than cars parked overtime in Central square.

In past performances here, powerful and ruthless Gypsy Joe has shown himself to be no respecter of ring rules.

Cunningham got in some excellent preparation for an hombre of Gonzales' ilk last week when he battled formidable Carl Von Eric to a standstill at the Armory.

In Saturday night's preliminary bout, starting at 8:30 o'clock, Emilio Carnera of Italy, nephew of former world heavyweight boxing champion, Primo Carnera, will take on newcomer, Bob Blake, 220-pounder from Columbus, O.

Claflin P.T.A. to Hear Noted Doctors on Panel Discussion

"You and Your Child" will be the topic of a panel discussion in which three prominent Boston doctors take part at the Claflin P. T. A. meeting, Monday evening, March 14, in the school auditorium at 8 p.m. The discussion will cover problems in child development relating to psychiatry, pediatrics and dentistry, and how these problems may be dealt with through a better understanding.

The panel will consist of Dr. Elizabeth S. Makkay, psychiatrist, member of the staff of Judge Baker Guidance Center, assistant psychiatrist, Children's Medical Center; Dr. Frederic M. Blodgett, pediatrician, member of the teaching staff of Beth Israel Hospital.

The audience will be invited to take part in forum discussion following the speakers, and it is hoped that parents and non-parents will make every effort to attend.

Mr. Frank B. Maher, president o fthe Claflin P. T. A., will conduct a short business meeting which will precede the panel of speakers.

The school will open at 7:30, and the teachers invite parents to visit the classrooms. Refreshments and a social hour will follow the program.

Emerson College Women's Committee

Under the auspices of the Women's Committee and the Speech and Hearing department of Emerson College, a series of lectures by prominent physicians will be given every Monday evening in March at 8 p.m. in the College. The public is invited to attend with no charge.

Among the physicians lecturing is a well known Newton orthodontist, Dr. Herbert Margolis. His subject on March 14 will be on "Orthodontia." Dr. Margolis heads the Cleft Palate Unit at the New England Medical Center. Emerson College's mobile speech therapy unit is the official speech therapist group at the Center.

The executive board of the Women's Committee who worked on the arrangements for the current lecture series includes Mrs. Cecil Rose of Newton Centre; Mrs. Adrian O'Keefe, West Newton, Mrs. Mitchell Mintz of Newton Centre; Mrs. Charles E. Batchelder of Waban, and Miss Catherine Penny, director of the Speech Clinic.

Com'un'ty Service Club of W Newton

The Community Service Club of West Newton has completed plans for it's Annual Rummage Sale in behalf of their benevolences, to be held at the Davis School, 492 Waltham street, West Newton, on Saturday, March 19th, 9:30 a.m. to 4:00 p.m.

Proceeds of the sale will augment, besides the Scholarship Fund, many of the Club's civic enterprises and veteran services.

Mrs. J. G. Learmonth and Mrs. O. Sidney Parker are co-chairmen of the benefit committee. Mrs. Lewis C. Bills, publicity.

Those assisting are: Mesdames Alfred O. Weaver, the Club president, S. O. Anderson, Edmund Anthony, L. A. Beadoin, H. C. Brock, P. W. Carter, T. C. Danker, F. H. Fowle, S. P. French, H. W. Goff, C. Spillane, Mrs. A. Bela Sziklas, F. L. Watson, A. Wertheimer.

Also aiding are: Miss Theresa Cram, Miss H. D. Linnell, Miss F. Alexander, and Miss E. Kilburn. Mesdames R. J. Grenier, V. E. Blagbrough, C. W. Wilson, G. C. Thompson.

Wellesley College Club Dinner Planned by Local Members

Several alumnae of Wellesley College residing in the Newtons hold key positions on the committee planning an open dinner meeting of the Boston Wellesley College Club to be held in the Tapestry Room of the Museum of Fine Arts in Boston Tuesday evening, March 22. Miss Margaret Clapp, president of Wellesley College will be the guest of honor and speaker. Husbands and guests are cordially invited to attend the dinner at 6 p.m. or to hear Miss Clapp speak at 7:30.

Mrs. William F. Ray of Newton is chairman of arrangements for the dinner. Reservations must be made before March 17 with Mrs. Julian D. Anthony of 45 Devon road, Newton Centre. Other Newton residents helping to plan the dinner meeting include Mrs. Carroll Dwight, Chestnut Hill and Mrs. Ernest F. Dietz, Newton Centre, publicity; Mrs. T. Edson Jewell, Jr., Newton, advisor; Mrs. Kenneth Kurson, Waban, Mrs. Ralph Stober, Newton Highlands, hostesses and Mrs. Howard J. Suby, district director.

Head table guests at the dinner will be Mrs. Herbert V. Kilbrick, president of the Boston Wellesley College Club, Miss Mary E. Chase, vice president of Wellesley College and director of admissions, Miss Ella Keats Whiting, Dean of the College and Professor of English and Miss Teresa G. Frisch, Dean of Students and Associate Professor of Art.

Originally torpedo tubes on Navy destroyers were mounted in the bow. Now they are mounted in a battery which can be trained so that the whole ship need not be turned toward the target.

Geology and Taxidermy at Science Museum

Evening courses in geology and taxidermy will be included in the spring calendar of the Museum of Science, at Science Park, Boston.

Under the direction of Chan W. Waldron, Jr., of the Museum's Education Department, course members will get a glimpse of pre-historic New England, when volcanoes erupted in Boston backyards of today, and dinosaurs roamed the Connecticut River Valley. Evidences of the glacial age and its effect on our lives will be discussed both in regular sessions and on Saturday field trips.

"The Ice Age was responsible for many of our lakes, such as Lake Walden and Lake Winnepesaukee, and most of the islands in Boston Harbor," Mr. Waldron points out. "It also had a great deal to do with our present shoreline."

The introductory course, meeting two hours each week, begins Thursday evening, March 24, at 7:30 p.m. and continues through May 26. It is limited to 40 members, who must be of college age or beyond. Reduced fees are available to Museum members.

One of New England's foremost taxidermists, Robert Bernath of the William Clapp Laboratories, will conduct a ten-session beginners' course in techniques of taxidermy starting Tuesday evening, March 29 at the Museum of Science.

Parkway Drive-In Theatre Is Open

The V.F.W. Parkway Drive-In Theatre opened Wednesday night for the season with two features, "The Racers" in technicolor and Cinemascope and "The Raid" in technicolor. Both features will continue through Saturday.

Starting on Sunday, "Sign of the Pagan," a thrilling Cinemascope production in technicolor will be shown with Jeff Chandler, Rita Gam and Jack Palance. Co-feature will be "Yellow Mountains."

The Parkway Drive-In is located on Route 1, West Roxbury, one mile south of Hancock Village and performances are continuous from 6:30 p.m. every evening.

Newton Students To Present 'Allegro' Mar 18-19

"Allegro" will be staged for the first time by any high school, March 18 and 19, when over 200 Newton High School students put on the Rodgers and Hammerstein musical hit. Richard Scipione and Mary Ann Guild have the lead roles of this all-school production, which fuses the talents of the music, dramatics, art and dancing classes. Faculty directors include Miss Ann Sanguinetti, Mr. Wesley Merritt, Mr. Henry Lasker, and Miss Helen Miles.

Among those named to the board of directors were Stanley O. MacMullen of Newton, Miss Josephine Douglass of Waban, Richard S. Gates of Newton, William P. Helms of West Newton, and Mrs. Harry K. Noyes of West Newton. Elected a corporate member was Miss Adelaide B. Ball of Newton.

Gamma Globulin Used in Cases Of Measles

Because the present measles epidemic is expected to continue in Newton until April, Dr. H. G. Dunphy, chairman of the Physicians' Advisory Committee of the Newton Blood Donor Program, has issued the following statement:

"It is important for the public to be reminded that gamma globulin is useful in preventing an attack of measles in exposed children or in exposed expectant mothers; and in modifying an attack of measles already in progress. It can be secured by patients' physicians at no charge through the local Board of Health."

Gamma globulin, a derivative of blood plasma, is obtained from voluntary blood donations made to the American Red Cross Civilian Blood Program. Since it is constantly in demand because of its value in combating measles and certain other diseases, its supply fluctuates. The Newton Chapter of the Red Cross stresses in this connection, that in order to help maintain an adequate supply of gamma globulin in this community, it will be important to have the continued support of Newton residents, both by donations of blood when the Bloodmobile again visits their area, and by monetary contributions during the annual drive.

Is Assigned As Cadet Captain

Norman A. Desrochers of 35 Washburn street, Newton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Desrochers, has been assigned Cadet Captain at the Air Force detachment at Boston University.

Mis Barbara Keene Is Bride of Edwin T. Coan

On February 19 at Trinity Church, Newton Centre, Miss Barbara Elizabeth Keene was married to Edwin Thomas Coan, son of Mr. Hubert A. Coan of Newton Lower Falls. A reception was held at the Beaconsfield.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton C. Keene of Philadelphia, was given in marriage by her father. She wore an ivory satin princess gown, net veil and cap of orange blossoms. Her prayer book had streamers of Eucharis lilies and stephanotis.

The bridal attendants were Mrs. Edgar R. Tucker of Wellesley Hills, the bridegroom's sister; Miss Ruth E. Keene of Philadelphia, the bride's sister; and Mrs. Eleanor S. Merrick of Boston. They wore gowns and slippers of periwinkle blue and carried bouquets of yellow and white spring flowers.

Edgar R. Tucker of Wellesley Hills was best man. Ushers were Norman Midgeley, Cambridge; Herbert Bernard, Wellesley; Charles Messier, Peabody and Philip Lavelle, Needham.

Newtonville Boy Scouts

The Newtonville Boy Scouts will attend the 22nd annual show to be held at the Newton High School this Friday evening at 8:00 o'clock.

Louis J. Galner, President of the Newtonville Group which produces the show for the benefit of the Newtonville Boy Scouts, announced today that prominent guests will include Mayor Howard Whitmore, Jr., Mr. Ralph Johnson, Boy Scout Executive of Norumbega Council and Ed Poskitt, Basketball Coach at Newton High.

The show will include a parade of the Newtonville Boy Scouts and Cub Scouts, Tableaux of Scouting directed by Mr. Gustav Hagen, and moving pictures. The professional entertainment will include juggling and slight-of-hand tricks, trained dogs and a spectacular Marionette Act.

The stage show is under the direction of Joseph Marquis, assisted by members of the Newtonville Group. This organization was founded in 1937 and is made up of parents and friends of Boy Scouts in Newtonville. Through its operating committees it gives financial help, advice and stimulus to the individual units and programs in Newtonville. There are about 250 boys in the four Cub Scout Packs and four Boy Scout Troops are sponsored by the Group.

This show is the annual fund raising activity of the Newtonville Group. Youngster's tickets are 25 cents and adult's are 50 cents, and will be on sale at the show.

Newton Art Association

Over one hundred members and guests of the Newton Art Association were present at the painting demonstration by Stanley Woodward, celebrated marine painter from Rockport. Mr. Woodward's efforts resulted in a beautiful Cape Ann moonlight surf scene, which left little doubt that his nation-wide reputation is well deserved. He related many interesting experiences in his career as an artist, and introduced numerous water-color sketches painted on his travels. He showed some of his latest oil canvases of coastal scenes and finally a large composite oil portrait of Abraham Lincoln early in his political years.

President Carl Stiles announced that the next regular meeting, March 17, would be given over to a showing of pictures painted by the associate members of the Association. Two paintings may be submitted for discussion by members and a panel made up of three of the regular members. All meetings of the Association are open to the public at a very small charge.

Plans are under way for "Artists at Work" night, a demonstration of painting by members of the Club, which takes place in the spacious auditorium of the Newton Centre Womens' Club, April 13. This colorful and instructive occasion is the fifth of its kind and will include an exhibition of paintings by the members who will be demonstrating.

Cynthia Snider Wed to Mr. Greenberg in Home Ceremony

The marriage of Miss Cynthia Snider to Mr. Irving Allen Greenberg of Pittsburgh, Pa., son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Greenberg, is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herman A. Snider of Newton Centre.

The marriage took place at the home of the bride's parents February 8. Dr. Albert Gordon of Temple Emanuel officiated.

The bride wore a street-length dress of white taffeta with a bouffant skirt and carried a violet orchid on a white Bible.

Miss Marilyn Neher of Dorchester, the bride's cousin, was maid of honor while the bridegroom's father was best man for his son.

The bride is a student at Wellesley College. Her husband is an alumnus of the University of Pittsburgh and at present is doing graduate work at Boston University. After a wedding trip to New York they will be at home at 235 Park drive, Boston.

Davis PTA Dance

The Davis School P.T.A. "Spring Social" will be held on Saturday evening, March 12, at the Peirce School in West Newton. Music for ballroom dancing will be, provided by the "Celebrity Six," an orchestra well known in this vicinity — three members of which are Davis School graduates.

The children in Miss Pauline Larson's and Miss N. Lillian Neary's fifth grades have designed and made attractive posters to advertise this function and these eye-catching announcements are being displayed in various stores and business establishments throughout West Newton.

Each year the Davis sixth grade pupils enjoy a trip to study conservation. This year the class plans to spend a few days at Topsfield. Proceeds from the "Spring Social will be used to assist with expenses of this educational experience and to purchase class room radios.

It is hoped that all P.T.A. members and friends will be present; refreshments will be served and the committee promises an evening of enjoyment for one and all.

Members of the committee are: Mrs. Melvin Taymor, chairman; Mrs. Hosea Wheeler, Mrs. Anthony J. Farrington, Mr. & Mrs. Paul O'Donnell, Mrs. Joseph McNamara, Mrs. Richard Roche, Mrs. William J. Jones, Mrs. Wayne V. Schell and Mrs. Thomas S. Hayden.

Miss Mary J. Nugent, principal has called attention to the scheduled grade meetings for March. On Tuesday evening, March 15, the sixth grade teachers, Mrs. Natalie Romberg and Mr. Frank Favorat, Jr., will discuss the curriculum and the prospective trip, with parents. Mrs. Max Brauniger and Mrs. Robert Ingham, room mothers, will assist.

On Tuesday evening, March 29, the grade one room meetings will take place. Miss Anne E. Gorman and Miss Ann M. Keane will meet with parents to exchange ideas regarding this age-grade level. Mrs. Stanley Smith and Mrs. Paul Landry, room-mothers will be present to aid the parents and teachers.

Miss Nugent suggests that parents, interested in some particular area, submit questions for discussion, to the teachers, prior to the scheduled dates.

Temple Shalom Sisterhood

The annual Spring Luncheon of the Sisterhood of Temple Shalom of Newton will take place at the Hotel Fensgate's "Casino on the Charles," on Wednesday at 12:30 p.m. An entertaining afternoon has been planned, featuring spring and summer fashions by Ross Modes of Newton Centre.

Working on the committee with Mrs. Elmer Rigelhaupt, chairman, and Mrs. Mendel Levinson, co-chairman, are Mmes. The next meeting takes place at the Congregational Church Parish House Wednesday, March 16. At 1:00 p.m. dessert will be served by the hostesses Mrs. Allston T. Budgell and Mrs. Herbert M. Federhen, III. At the business meeting at 1:45, Mrs. Walter C. Gorenflo, Twelfth District Director, will be guest of honor. The Program Committee presents Miss Elinor Lambert Hughes, Drama Critic of the Boston Herald in a discussion of the theatre called "Backstage and Front." During the 25 years since her graduation from Radcliffe College, Mrs. Hughes has had a constantly broadening experience in appraising the theatre, motion pictures, books, ballet, and music.

On Thursday, March 24, the Preservation of Antiques Committee with Mrs. Will T. Laverty, chairman sponsors a group at the Museum of Fine Arts, Boston. Miss Wriston will comment on an exhibition of "Mirrors and Clocks."

American Home Committee

On March 23, the American Home Committee of the Auburndale Women's Club will hold its annual all-day program at the Auburndale Club House. Luncheon will be served at 12:30 and Mrs. Frank Reilly and her committee have planned an entertaining afternoon with the showing of a colored move entitled "The Romance of Silver." Members of the committee are: Mrs. Clifford Beecher, Mrs. Beverly Bostwick, Mrs. Barbara Brewer, Mrs. Edward D. Brine, Mrs. LeRoy Faulkner, Mrs. William Hargraves, Mrs. Herbert Hofstedt, Mrs. Philip Houle, Mr. Alvin Morse, Mrs. George Wattendorf, Mrs. James Sawyer, Mrs. Harold Boynton Smith, Mrs. Albert Strdor, Mrs. Austin Uhl.

Waban Woman's Club

Frank Rounds was our Attache in Moscow for eighteen months, serving under Ambassador Kennan and Kirk. He has returned home with a vivid first- hand report of what is actually happening in Russia today. His unusual knowledge of the Russian language, history, economics and literature has enabled Mr. Rounds to break through the Communists' rigid censorship so that he has talked with the Russians, seen their country and probed deeply into their thinking.

Again, cooperating with the Program Committee, the Literature Committee will have autographed copies of Mr. Rounds' best-seller "Window on Red Square," available for purchase.

Women's Guild

The Women's Guild of St. John's Episcopal Church, Lowell ave and Otis street, Newtonville will have a Rummage Sale on Friday, March 11th, at the Parish House. Mrs. Harold Rice and Mrs. Eaton Webber are co-chairmen, assisted by members of the Guild.

Countryside School PTA

The Countryside School PTA will meet Wednesday evening, March 16. From 7:30 to 8 opportunity will be given parents to visi their children's rooms and chat with teachers.

At 8 in the auditorium the school orchestra will play several selections under the direction of Mrs. Mannert Abele. It has been practicing diligently and is happy for a chance to perform for the parents.

Following the concert, two films will be shown. The first is in color, taken last year at the Boston Skating Club and showing ice skating activities of Newton children. The second film, entitled "Human Growth" has been shown with success to other groups of Newton parents. A hygienist will be present to answer questions on this vital subject.

Finally, refreshments will be served in the gym, where exhibits by the Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts and Campfire Girls will be set up.

Presidents Mr. and Mrs. Edward Horovitz urge all Countryside parents to save the date, Wednesday, March 16, for an evening devoted to their children.

Temple Reyim Sisterhood

Mrs. Saul Chipman opened her home to a progress report meeting of the annual Luncheon and Fashion Show to be held March 30 at The Somerset by Temple Reyim Sisterhood. Mrs. William Gordon and Mrs. Philip Cohen are general chairmen.

The full number of concessions have been contracted for and will be displayed in attractive booths. A large number of beautiful and useful prizes will be awarded during the afternoon. Decorations are in charge of Mrs. Jack Bernstein and Mrs. Lawrence Novak.

Mrs. Louis Sinofsky, chairman of prizes, is assisted by Mmes. Jack Seligman, Louis Posner, Max Stoppleman, William Spiel, Jacob Oven and Alfred Lapido. The advisory committee of the luncheon is as follows: Mmes. Saul Shapiro, Edward Rosenwald, Norman Platt, George Shapiro, Myrton Swartz and Nathan Goldstein.

Hospital Aid

Mrs. Catherine Perry, director of Emerson College's Speech Therapy Clinic, spoke on speech therapy for the speech handicapped child at the March meeting of the Newton-Wellesley Hospital Aid Association Board of Directors, held recently at the hospital's nurses home.

Mrs. Worthing L. West, vice president, presided in the absence of Mrs. Paul T. Babson, president. William S. Brines, hospital director, spoke of the improvements made in the past year and thanked the members for their aid. Coffee was served at the conclusion of the meeting, with Mrs. Charles M. Cutler and Mrs. Davis M. Tibbott acting as hostesses.

Rummage Sale

The Newton-Wellesley Hospital School of Nursing Alumnae will hold a rummage sale at 298 Centre Street, Newton Corner from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Friday, March 19.

Dudley Road Association

The Dudley Road Association held its February meeting at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Eli Friedman. Newly elected officers include: president, Bert Heyman; treasurer, Al Foster; secretary, Mrs. Arnold Bakst.

Guest speaker for the evening was Dr. Isadore Green, noted psychiatrist.

W.C.T.U.

The West Newton Woman's Christian Temperance Union will hold its regular meeting Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Caroline Sartwell, 612 Watertown street, Newtonville. This will be the annual roll call and members are asked to note the change in date.

J.W.V. Auxiliary

State President Mrs. Oscar Toye will be present at Tuesday's regular meeting of the Newton Ladies' Auxiliary, Jewish War Veterans, at the home of Mrs Arthur Swett, 81 Sheffield road, West Newton. Luncheon will be served at 12:30 p.m.

Auburndale Review Club

The annual guest day of the Auburndale Review Club will be celebrated Tuesday at 2 p.m. at the Walker Missionary Home. The program will consist of music.

Volunteer Workers for Christmas Seal Sale Honored With Tea by Health Association

A Tea honoring the volunteer workers of the 1954 Christmas Seal Sale for the Newton Tuberculosis and Health Association was held Wednesday afternoon, March 2, at the Association office, 1357 Washington street, West Newton.

Guests included Seal Sale chairmen and volunteer workers, Association Executive Committee members, and the West Newton Woman's Educational Club president, Mrs. Stanley R. Williamson. Pourers were Mrs. F. H. Fowle, chairman from the Community Service Club of West Newton and Mrs. Francis R. Sagle, chairman from the West Newton Woman's Educational Club.

Mrs. Ruth Levens, past Executive Director of the Association, thanked the volunteers for their splendid efforts which made the 1954 campaign the most successful in the history of the Newton Association. She reported that 86 volunteers gave 1118½ hours to the Seal Sale from October to February.

Honored for having personally given the most hours were Mrs. Fowle, 85 hours, and Mrs. Sagle 71 hours. The 3 clubs which gave the highest number of group hours were: West Newton Woman's Educational Club, 217 hours, Mrs. Sagle chairman; Woman's Club of Newton Highlands, 206 hours, Mrs. John D. Fox, chairman; and the Community Service Club of West Newton, 201 hours, Mrs. Fowle, chairman.

Jackson Homestead Offering Two Classes in Local History

The Jackson Homestead at 527 Washington street, Newton, city-owned museum which has housed eight generations of Jacksons from 1670 to 1910, will start another series of classes for children on March 15 for five weeks until April 12.

These classes are free and will be open to all interested boys and girls ages 8 to 12 years. The series will consist of five meetings at the Homestead each Tuesday afternon from 2 to 3 o'clock or from 3 to 4 o'clock from March 15th to April 12th.

The classes, under the direction of Mrs. Sherwood E. Carver, children's librarian at the Newton Highlands Library, will make candles as William Jackson did in the 1880's. They will play the games children played during the Revolutionary War. They will reenact William Jackson's thrilling part in the Underground Railroad of the Civil War. They will also cook food as their ancestors did over the open fire in the old Homestead kitchen, and will see how spinning and weaving was done.

The 2 to 3 o'clock class is almost filled and the 3 to 4 p. m. class has several children already registered. Therefore you are urged to sign up immediately by calling the Jackson Homestead at DE 2-3920. The size of the classes is limited by the facilities of the Homestead. This will be the last such series given until next October.

Oak Hill Park Musical Show

The unmatched talent of Oak Hill Park is again at work on the fourth annual original musical show—"Be My Guest."

The co-directors, Mat Hallett and Arlene Friedman are busy rehearsing the large cast of 55 members, all residents of Oak Hill. The writing crew, Missy and Mel Darack, Bill Heller, Phil Savage, Ed Shane, Morris Roud and Mat Hallett have added new talent to their own in the person of Mrs. Cornelius Dalton.

The costuming is all originally designed by Mrs. Spencer Dodd. Mrs. Harry Coles Jr. is choreographer. Stage manager is again Whitney McMahan.

March 18 and 19 are the dates to be remembered. Curtain rises at 8:30 in the auditorium of the Memorial School in Oak Hill Park. Mr. William Farrell (DEcatur 2-9772) has ticket information and will be expecting a call from you.

Newtonville Woman's Club

International Day will be observed at the Newtonville Woman's Club next Tuesday, at 2:15 p.m. Mrs. Frank M. Simmons, international relations chairman, has arranged a program that promises to be interesting, informative and enjoyable. Mrs. Janis Kalnajs of Newtonville, with her young daughter, Sarma, will tell of "Life Under Freedom and Oppression." The Kalnajs family from Latvia have been in this country five years, after spending four years in a displaced persons' camp in Germany. Mr. Kalnajs is a research chemist at Massachusetts Institute of Technology. Their son, Agris, a senior in Newton High School, has recently won a Westinghouse science talent search prize and plans to enter M. I. T. in the fall. Mrs. Kalnajs has had a wealth of experience, with and without her family, from the time they were driven out of their country until they, finally together, reached America.

A Latvian tea will follow the program.

Mother and Daughter Evening At Auburndale Cong. Church

Featuring a display of antique and modern dolls by one of the grandmothers, and samples of talent from among the daughters, the second annual Mother and Daughter evening of the Auburndale Congregational Church will take place next Tuesday evening, beginning with supper at 6:30.

A system for borrowing a daughter for the evening has been set up so that women in parish with a dearth of girls in their families may have a daughter "on loan." Mrs. Harry Ham is taking the reservations for what promises to be another sell-out event.

Mrs. A. G. Asaff is leader of Group IX and has Mrs. Lee Dana Goodman as her assistant. Members include Mesdames Roland H. Adams, Bliss C. Ames, Wade G. Asaff, Roger Bender, David Berg, Ronald Braswell, Charles S. Butler, Rogers W. Cabot, Robert Carr, James A. Cavanaugh, John F. Crosby, David O. Fletcher, Malcolm T. Floyd, Russell F. Grethe, Harry H. Ham, Verne R. Hillman, Albert C. Horton, Richard L. Kenney, Stanley W. Keyes, Raymond LeDuc, William R. Lowell, Richard T. Mitchell, Melvin H. Molzen, Lawrence Patterson, Virgil I. Pitstick, Jr., Robert M. Pitman, William N. Randall, William N. Rich, Jr., E. F. Roys, J. L. Sanderson, Jr., Russell Sheeley, William T Shepard, David Smith, Walter E Stone, Frederic D. Tower, Donald J. Winslow, Leroy M. Wires and Lester E. York.

Newton Centre Garden Club

Next Tuesday morning, the Newton Centre Garden Club will meet for coffee at 9:30 at the Newton Centre Woman's Club.

The president, Mrs. Charles K. Beatty, will conduct the business meeting at 10 o'clock after which Mrs. Robert W. Blodgett will introduce Helen Abbott Beals, noted lecturer, book reviewer and author of many best seller books. Mrs. Beals has chosen "Spring Flower Arrangements for the Home" as her subject for this lecture.

There will also be five spring flower arrangements on display, done by members of the club.

Central Circle

Central Circle of Central Congregational Church, Newtonville, was entertained last week by Earl F. Johnson, of Wellesley Hills, who gave a delightfully interesting lecture on "Interior Decorating."

Dr. Harry E. Raymond of West Newton, a director of the New England Rose Society will show colored slides with his lecture on roses which will be presented at the March 15 meeting. Mrs. Raymond will assist at this lecture. All rose lovers are invite to attend.

N.U. Faculty Wives Meeting

Northeastern University Faculty Wives will hold its monthly tea and meeting tomorrow afternoon at 2 p.m. in the Mitton Lounge, 360 Huntington avenue, Boston.

"Wandering Through the Northwest" will be the subject of an illustrated lecture to be given by Prof. Alfred J. Ferretti.

Mr. Donald G. Enoch, West Newton, will be one of the cohostesses at this meeting.

Popular Demand Forces Roberts To Expand Store

Popular demand has forced Roberts Wallpaper and Supply Company of Watertown to move into modern, larger quarters offering three times as much space at 12½ Mt. Auburn street, Watertown Square.

Although the store has expanded greatly, owner Robert Shafer emphasizes that there has been no change in policy. The same personalized service is available for all customers, and he invites Newton residents to bring their "do-it-yourself" problems to him for advice.

Roberts has the most complete wallpaper stock in this area, in addition to a complete line of electrical fixtures and other items. Shafer terms Roberts Wallpaper "a general supply store for the person doing it himself."

Practically everything a person needs to beautify a home in spare time is available here, giving the home-owner a chance to make a great saving in labor costs. Besides those items already mentioned, there are also floor tiles, linoleum, both custom and ready-made venetian blinds, lawn supplies, metal cabinets, and a full line of Touraine paints.

Virtually every item stocked by Roberts Wallpaper can be seen on the shelves of the new expanded store. One wall is covered with wallpaper samples, and various other displays fill the store.

Wallpaper books may be taken home for examination. Roberts Wallpaper carries every brand of paper sold in the country.

The company opened its doors for the first time in December of 1952, and met with an instant response from customers delighted with the ample stocks and low prices. Shafer's partner, Robert Goldberg, was with him in the smaller store and hopes to again greet his many friends the first of next year after he finishes his service in the army.

Roberts Wallpaper and Supply offers free delivery of supplies to all the Newtons. The store is open for your convenience Thursday and Friday nights until 9 o'clock.

GRACE LUTHERAN CHURCH, NEEDHAM, SPONSORS AUGUSTANA CHOIR IN SYMPHONY HALL CONCERT

The Augustana Choir of Augustana College in Rock Island, Illinois, is the only choral group of its kind with over 90 network TV and radio appearances. With 20 releases by a major record company to its credit, the choir will be making its third appearance in Boston's Symphony Hall on March 22 at 8:15 p.m. This reknowned choir of youthful singers is under the direction of Prof. Henry Veld.

Grace Lutheran Church, Needham, is sponsoring the concert for the benefit of its building fund. The congregation, organized in 1953, is planning to begin construction on its newly purchased three-acre site located along Route 128 between Brookline and Highgate Streets.

Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation Aids Research

(Note: The following true story indicates ways in which help is given by the Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation, now conducting a campaign in Malden under the Chairmanship of Mrs. Howard Stevens.)

For seventeen years Mrs. S. was unable to stand or walk. Arthritis had crippled her knees so badly that they were permanently in a bent position. For all those years, her daughter had only known her mother to be an invalid in a wheelchair, although Mrs. S. had managed courageously to perform her household chores and even to play the piano and to knit, in spite of her twisted fingers.

Mr. S., a small town public official in the western part of the state, had to accept the extra burdens of the supervision of the growing family, as well as the financial responsibilities.

In the summer of 1953, Mrs. S. talked with her physician about the recently established consultation clinic about thirty miles from her home. This clinic, supported by the Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation, gives local physicians the opportunity to bring their "problem patients" in for medical and orthopedic advice by specialists, at no cost to either the patient or physician. A conference was arranged to discuss Mrs. S's future treatment.

EVALUATION

Her doctor presented test results, and told the assembled group how Mrs. S. had developed her arthritis and the extent of her handicap. The group that day consisted of five other practicing physicians, who had also brought their patients to the clinic, several physiotherapists, visiting nurses, and hospital personnel. Then Dr. X., the visiting consultant, analyzed the present situation, and Mrs. S.'s prospects for rehabilitation.

His evaluation was that Mrs. S. might be able to regain the use of her legs, but it would be expensive and the outcome could not be assured. However, there was a hospital in Boston especially equipped to deal with such surgical operations, if she could go in for a stay of several months.

After financial and household arrangements were worked out, several reconstructive operations effectively straightened Mrs. S.'s legs. As the joints began to heal, it semed to Mrs. S. a very long and painful road to recovery. The simplest motion of her knees was agony. As she developed strength in her muscles, she could stand for a short period of time. Learning to walk was a major accomplishment; it took five weeks for her to learn even to hold the crutches, due to the condition of her hands.

PROGRESS

But Mrs. S. was determined not to be dependent. "I like to be on my feet and busy. I don't have time to feel sorry for myself and I have so much to do around the house." With the help of a physical therapist several days a week, Mrs. S. gradually increased her limited scope of activity at home. Within a year, after a lot of hard work, Mrs. S. had sufficiently recovered to be able to walk down the aisle of the church at her daughter's wedding. How proud Mrs. S. and her family are of her achievements!

As time went on, Mrs. S. was able to put down her crutches and walk about the house holding on to objects. What a thrill it was to reach this stage of independence! Even the black cocker spaniel, Bonnie, seemed to know that her mistress was staging a terrific comeback, and saved her otherwise buoyant spirits for the more boisterous members of the family.

Now, in the fall of 1954, Mrs. S. faces operations to make her hands more useful. Her outlook and physical condition are so much improved that she regards this as just one more step toward a more satisfactory and fuller life. "It's so good to be able to do things for myself now. With a little help, I can climb in and out of a car, instead of being lifted. I know my illness has been hard on my family, but from now on, I'll be able to do much more by myself," says Mrs. S. with determination.

FOUNDATION'S ROLE

What part did the Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation play in this story? Mrs. S. was helped directly by the services of the arthritis clinic in her community, which pointed out the possibilities of her rehabilitation. Home care services were provided by the Foundation to follow up the important advances made by surgery. The specialized services for the care of arthritics had been provided by the Foundation through a grant to the hospital, while doctors there had been trained on fellowships for the study of the rheumatic diseases.

Indirectly, the Foundation aided Mrs. S. by supporting research so that doctors knew some of the answers for her long-hopeless plight;—answers which would help others in the early stages of arthritis to prevent such crippling. Eighteen years ago, when Mrs. S. was first stricken, we did not have that information. Since that time, remarkable strides have been made, particularly in the past five years through the Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation, and the discovery of hormone drugs.

Mrs. S. wrote, "I think perhaps that many people feel as I did—that a Foundation such as yours is a big, cold unit dealing with big problems, and never consider that they reach down as they did in my case to help a small family. If my story will help other arthritics, then I want to say that the Arthritis Foundation has helped me a great deal towards making me more dependent on myself than I ever dreamed I could be."

Spaulding P-TA To Hear Noted Educator Monday

Dr. Harry S. Broudy, professor of psychology and education at Framingham State Teachers College and one of the most widely sought-after speakers in the field of education, will address the Spaulding School PTA Monday at 8 p. m. at the school.

Dr. Broudy will discuss "The School and Its Critics." He will cover such interesting and timely topics as "the school and the new democracy" — "the school in a changing social order" — "education for what kind of life."

Dr. Broudy is a former president of the American Philosophy of Education Society and author of many articles on philosophy and education, as well as author of the book, "Building a Philosophy of Education," which is now widely used as a textbook.

He received his Ph.D. in philosophy at Harvard following undergraduate work at Mass. Institute of Technology and Boston University. He was formerly director of graduate work at the North Adams State Teachers College and served as visiting lecturer in philosophy and education at the University of Southern California, New York University, Boston University and the University of Illinois. He will teach at the University of Florida this summer.

The program committee also has arranged a girl and boy scout exhibit at the March 14th meeting. These will include:

GIRL SCOUTS: Grade 2 — mobiles; grade 3 — cookie boxes, holiday cards and dolls; grade 4 — scrapbooks for state hospitals, containers planted with bulbs; grade 5 — scrapbooks; grade 6 — hand puppets.

BOY SCOUT (Den 2 Cubs): Scrapbooks, collection charts, map of area (streets, fire stations, etc.), transportation projects (railroads, airfields, trucks and cars).

Frank Simmons Speaks Tuesday At Horace Mann

This is your life — or, to put it another way — the most important thing in your life is your children.

With this theme in mind, Frank "Doc" Simmons, guest speaker at Tuesday's meeting of the Horace Mann P.T.A., will describe "Thirty Years with Newton Young People." "Doc" is supervisor of Health, Physical Education, Safety, and Conservation for the Newton Public Schools.

Parents and friends of Horace Mann school children, as well as others who are interested, will hear first hand about the work which has been done through the years, the work being done now, and plans for the future, to provide healthful recreation for children of this city. Supplementing his talk, "Doc" Simmons will show slides of Bradley Palmer Park in Ipswich, the place which is to be the destination of this year's sixth graders when they make their spring camping trip from Horace Mann.

For the benefit of all parents who would like a chance to say "Hello" to their children's teachers, the meeting is called for 7:30 p. m. and classrooms will be open at that time. This will give the teachers a chance to answer questions of a general nature and to explain the work being done by the pupils.

Following the meeting, refreshments will be served by two of the homeroom mothers, Mrs. Robert M. Stover of 54 Eddy street, and Mrs. Henry Hassell of 36 Parsons street.

The attendance banner went to the Fourth Grade (Miss Andrews' room) last meeting. This is awarded on the basis of percentage of parents present.

Says Red Cross Gave Confidence For Motherhood

A letter praising the Newton Red Cross Mother and Child Care Course, written by an expectant mother, was released this week by the Newton Chapter.

The letter read:

"I wish to publicly express my appreciation to the Newton Red Cross. As I enter my eighth month of pregnancy I can't help but feel the wonderful change in me — the change that has given me a valuable amount of confidence.

"Confidence is what every expectant mother needs but can't buy, and it's that which she hopes to attain before her child arrives. But, it's not that easy. At least, this has been my situation. However, all my fears and suspicions have been ironed out as a result of the Mother and Child Care Course offered by the Red Cross.

"I know just a 'Thank You' to my instructor cannot cover all I want to express but a few months ago I wasn't anticipating my trip to those hospital steps. Today, I can hardly wait.

"And need I say that whether a course is dull or interesting depends on its instructor. Without doubt, I wouldn't be so excited about the care of my baby had she not injected so much enthusiasm into her lectures.

"So, to Mrs. Taylor and to the Red Cross for offering such an invaluable opportunity, I can only say Thank You — a sincere Thank You from an expectant mother who has ripened overnight and feels confident that her motherhood will be a matured one.

Sincerely yours,
Anita Koulopoulos

Beauty Garden Opens After Much Planning, Decorating

The newest and most fabulous Beauty Garden opened its doors on Wednesday, March 9, culminating many months of planning and decorating. Truly one of the most beautiful and modern beauty salons in New England, it is decorated in pastel colors of soft rose and green, highlighted in grey and gold. All its panelling is in wild driftwood, treated in tone on tone. The reception room is one which deserves special mention, since it is individually styled in a manner almost indescribable. Its striking atmosphere, soft colors and indirect lighting makes one feel relaxed and undisturbed.

Innovations too numerous to mention here, have been installed for the comfort and convenience of its patrons. However, just to mention a few, there are private hair coloring booths, luxurious drying lounges, batteries of dryers, sufficient to accommodate all patrons without waiting. Individual booth service plus infra-red lamp booths for haircutting. Powder and cosmetic rooms, is a special and exclusive feature, designed for its patrons to leisurely apply their cosmetics before leaving the salon. A most elaborate air conditioning system has been installed changing the air many times a minute, insuring fresh purified air to circulate at all times.

Its director, Miss Helen, as she is known to all her friends and clientelle, is just bubbling over with excitement over all this, as is her manager in charge, Mr. Robert. According to Miss Helen, the Beauty Garden is not just a wild dream of hers. It comes as a result of 18 years of experience in operating beauty salons. Throughout her many years in the beauty business, she has felt that certain services should be added. For instance, she was first to inaugurate the policy of remaining open evenings until 11 p.m. to accommodate the many women who find it impossible to patronize a beauty salon during the day. She was also first to abolish bait advertising. She feels that a woman prepared to spend a certain price for an advertised permanent wave, should not be embarrassed into spending more after she enters a beauty salon. With these principals in mind the Beauty Garden was born.

The first salon was established at 736 Massachusetts avenue, in Central square in Cambridge, another at 1916 Beacon street at Cleveland Circle. Although its Cleveland Circle salon was opened a little more than a year ago, its growth was so phenomenal, something had to be done to accommodate all its patrons. Fortunately larger quarters at 1916A Beacon street at Cleveland Circle became available and the premises were quickly taken over in which location the newest Beauty Garden is now located.

The Beauty Gardens have a one price policy, offering all permanent waves regardless of their established prices for only one low price. One cannot pay more, as there is nothing higher. For the women who work during the day, she keeps all her Beauty Gardens open every evening until 11 p.m. with the exception of Saturdays. when she closes at 6 p.m. Consistent with all this, all work must be done to absolute perfection, and to accomplish this, Miss Helen personally exercises particular care in selecting all operators to be the best obtainable The Garden at Cleveland Circle will be staffed with 20 of the finest hairdressers, personally trained by herself and Mr. Robert

Miss Helen's future plans are to open Beauty Gardens in as many communities as there are needs.

Red Cross Service has tapped a lot of people. Since the start of the Red Cross Blood Program in 1948, 6,656,000 have donated blood. Remember the Red Cross fund appeal.

Local Handicapped Form Sports' Club

To help handicapped boys and girls lead active lives with as much variety in their social activities as their able-bodied families and friends, an Indoor Sports' Club chapter was formed recently in Newton.

The Indoor Sports' Club Inc. is an international social action and rehabilitation organization operated by and for the physically disabled, with 72 chapters in the United States and in many other English-speaking countries. That such an organization was possible in Newton was due to the interest of several citizens and the co-operation of Rev. Robert Woodroofe of Grace Episcopal Church, who allowed them the use of a room at the Parish House for the purpose of organizing.

The necessity of finding facilities with no stairs made the search hard and the ultimate success in locating such a convenient spot resulted in the first meeting being met with great enthusiasm. Already offers for leadership of interest groups in crafts, dramatics, bridge playing and wheelchair dancing have been announced.

Members from the National Board, District Board and local chapters met at the Parish House with this new group to discuss the aims of the club and to illustrate by talk and motion pictures the program in other local chapters. Activities described include regular monthly meetings, parties, traditional banquets and ceremonies, summer outings, picnics, swimming, crafts, preparation for fairs, entertainment and wheelchair dancing.

Dedicating itself not only to the social needs of the disabled but integrating them into the community, this new addition to the six other Indoor Sports chapters in Massachusetts invites the physically handicapped from the Newtons and surrounding communities to join with them for fellowship and constructive activities.

Disabled veterans and civilians who have been physically limited for more than six months are eligible to join Indoor Sports. Able-bodied men and women are invited to join as Good Sports to help with transportation, serving refreshments, leadership of interest groups and for many other ingenious tasks. Further information may be had by calling BIgelow 4-8971 or DEcatur 2-6008.

--- Spotlight on Weeks ---

Ninth Grade Films

The ninth grade at Weeks is very fortunate in having a film shown every week. Some of these films are about social studies, while others deal with personality improvement.

The social studies films which we have seen are those which deal with the units that we are studying. These units are: the United States at the turn of the Century; the Power and Scientific Revolution; the Growth of Democracy; and War and the Struggle for Peace.

The films on personality development have been those dealing with study habits, controlling our emotions, facing reality, and many others.

They are all very interesting and informative. In addition to these, there are other films, film strips, and other audio-visual aids available on many subjects.

Assorted News

The Sadie Hawkins Dance, originally scheduled for March 4, was postponed until March 11 because of poor weather. The dance will feature Eddie Castle and his band.

The boys' seventh grade basketball championship game was played this week. The winner of the tournament is division 207x.

The ninth grade membership drive got under way recently. A membership entitles its holder to membership in the grade organization, and to attend the class party. The ninth grade is planning a grade newspaper, the Ninth Grade Messenger. It, too, will be free to those who have memberships.

Mr. Phaneuf lives at 15 Roberts Avenue, Newtonville.

Needham Madrigal Singers to Appear At Jackson Homestead Open House

This Sunday, from 3 to 5 p.m. there will be an especially interesting Open House held at the old Jackson Homestead, 527 Washington street, Newton, Mass.

The Needham Madrigal Singers, organized six years ago, have been called one of the most accomplished singing organizations presenting seldom heard music. Madrigals are brief and seemingly simple songs that were popular from the 14th to the 17th centuries. The music is in four to eight parts, each a delicate melody of its own but fusing with the other melodies to creeate harmony. Madrigals are sung without accompaniment.

The Needham Singers have presented concerts with the Needham Philharmonic Orchestra and in Cohasset, Milton and Medford. Mrs. Ronald W. Murray, the Director, has had wide experience as a leader of choral groups and public school music supervision in New York, Delaware and Sturbridge, Mass.

At the Jackson Homestead, the Singers will give as their program one group of madrigals, and one group of Negro Spirituals, suitable for the historic background and interest of the 1809 house which was used as an Underground Railroad Station just previous to the Civil War.

This program will be presented at 4 p.m. and guests are urged to be present at that hour. Both before and after the musical program, the Homestead extends the hospitality of its lovely old rooms where there will be the usual candle light and open fires. Punch served in the kitchen is under the direction of Mrs. Newell J. Trask. The Chairman of the Trustees, Fred C. Alexander, will explain the details of cooking in the fireplace built with bricks from the 1670 Jackson salt box home.

Gowned in hoop skirts, Eleanor Willis and Frances Fleming, Senior Girl Scouts from Newton Centre, will greet visitors at the front door. From the Board of Trustees, the host and hostesses will be Mrs. E. Graham Bates, Mrs. Albert N. Walker, and Dr. and Mrs. Sterling N. Loveland. From the Directors of the Friends of the Jackson Homestead, the host and hostesses will be Miss Adelaide B. Ball, Mrs. John H. Jackson, Mrs. W. R. Sears and Mr. Charles P. Slocum, as well as Mrs. Marjorie Bankart and Mrs. Alexander I. Peckham.

Flower arrangements under the direction of Mrs. Otto O. Prophet, will be made by the West Newton Women's Educational Club. Mr. Elmore I. MacPhies unusual and beautiful collection of pewter is on display. The rare matching early American plates — about 1800—and the French whale oil lamp—about 1750—are of especial interest. Miss Jean F. Howard. Co-chairman of the Exhibit Committee, will show and comment upon the various items.

It is hoped that those who already know the Homestead will come to again enjoy its hospitality and that those who have not before visited will be our guests to become acquainted with this City-owned Museum and gracious, lovely home of the Jacksons, one of Newton's pioneer families.

Noted Biblical Scholar Speaks Here Today

Noted biblical scholar, Very Rev. Msgr. Matthew P. Stapleton, S.T.D., S.S.L, will lecture at Newton College of the Sacred Heart today (Thursday) at 9 a.m. His subject will be "Jeremias, Type of Christ." This is the second of two lectures which Msgr. Stapleton presents at the college annually.

Cadillac

Acting on a 20-Year-Old Decision !

Let's suppose it was a couple of decades ago when a young lad, with his book strap over his shoulder and his lunch basket under his arm, started slowly down a dusty road that led to a country schoolhouse.

But his walk was short that day. For a big, handsome Cadillac—with its smiling driver traveling in the lad's direction—stopped and gave him a "lift."

And as he stood there on the schoolhouse lawn and watched the big car roll off into the distance, he made a decision. He decided that, some day, he would own a Cadillac.

And here you see him, his dream come true—taking the keys to a new 1955 Cadillac!

As a Cadillac dealer, we've been privileged many times to help make such a dream come true. And it never ceases to be a thrill.

But we do feel, in all sincerity, that many motorists —not realizing the Cadillac car is practical as well as wonderful—wait too long to make the move.

The lowest-priced Cadillac, for example, actually costs less than twelve different models of other makes. Its economy of operation is far beyond anything you could logically anticipate from a car of Cadillac's size and luxury. And at the time of resale, a Cadillac traditionally returns a greater share of its owner's investment than any other car in the land.

If, like the gentleman in the picture above, you have been looking forward to a Cadillac of your own—you should give careful consideration to these remarkable Cadillac facts.

It is entirely possible that the time for your Cadillac has come—and, as we said, it is always a pleasure to help make such a dream come true.

Better come in and see us today.

Newton Sports

High school basketball has bowed from the local sports scene as Newton High, Our Lady's and Sacred Heart all dropped post-season games in a pair of tournaments. Newton High was bopped by a strong Quincy quintet 55-46 Friday night in the Tech Tournament at Brandeis, while Our Lady's dropped a 56-44 decision to Franklin High Saturday night at Framingham. . . The latter game was played in the Bay State Tournament, a newcomer in the tourney ranks compared to the Tech. Where teams must sport a .650 winning mark to enter the Tech Tourney, no such qualification exists for the Bay State. All you need is five players and the will to play. . . . And just to keep the tournament honest, no team that rolls up enough victories to enter the Tech can choose the Bay State instead. This prevents a fairly strong team from ducking the tough teams to play against weaker teams and run off with the Bay State title . . . Newton High might have been better off in the lesser tournament, but its 12-5 record made it mandatory to enter the Tech field or none at all. Last week Newton staggered past a small Haverhill squad, despite the losing team scoring the final 16 points of the game, and determined, sharp-eyed Quincy ran away and hid from the Tigers in the second half as the Orange and Black first displayed its best basketball of the season, and then showed its worst.

Ball-handling with impressive accuracy and setting up its plays easily, the Tigers leaped out in front of the highly-rated Quincy squad at the opening whistle and seemed destined to turn in a resounding upset. . . . But the Tigers made all their baskets in the first half, and nothing went right in the second. Quincy turned in a similar reversal of form to turn defeat into a fairly easy victory.

The Tigers popped out in front by four foul shots at the start, then fell behind as Quincy scored five times. Then Newton worked a fast break for eight straight points before Quincy could drop in a long shot. The score at the quarter was Newton in front 17-9 . . . The Tigers played alert, aggressive, hard-driving ball, splitting the Quincy defense consistently for layups. Newton also showed its best rebounding of the season, controlling both backboards. Quincy, on the other hand, didn't try to penetrate Newton's shifting defense, tossing up long one-handers . . . Then the Tigers became sloppy as the second period started. Quincy stole the ball and drew fouls to run in eight points and cut Newton's lead to a single digit . . . Although still off its game, the Orange and Black managed to keep out in front and ended the half with a three-point margin, 28-25. The game should have ended for the Tigers right there, for the second half was a complete nightmare . . . Two quick layups stretched Newton's lead to 32-27 in the opening minute of the half, then the proverbial roof fell in with a resounding thud. Quincy switched to pressing tactics, hounding Newton's players, and the Tigers completely lost their poise.. Passes went astray, bad shots were taken, no one rebounded and simple violations stalled the offense . . . Quincy outscored the Tigers 18-4 after that opening minute. The The South Shore players shifted through Newton's previously tight defense for simple layups, and when their shots missed others were there to dunk in rebounds. The Tigers leaked sawdust at the seams as they completely fell apart in the final quarter. Only foul conversions kept the score from getting ridiculous . . . The Tigers didn't gather a point from the floor in the last quarter until Mike Donovan tossed in a jumper as time ran out.

Our Lady's dropped its final game of the season to a highly-rated tall and aggressive—to say the least—Franklin High squad. Dan Corrigan, Our Lady's spark-plug all year, tossed 19 points through the hoop—11 of them in the final quarter as Our Lady's made a vain attempt to rally. . . . Our Lady's took an early 6-2 lead, but lack of height proved too big a handicap for the local boys and Franklin steadily pulled away.

There were elbows aplenty flying in this Bay State Tournament Class C encounter as Franklin displayed a pretty rugged type of ball for a "non-contact" game. Tempers were high in the last minutes of the game, and a brief battle took place in the fourth quarter under Our Lady's basket . . . The local squad spent most of the game trying to figure out how to overcome its lack of height. Franklin, in addition to having its own way under the backboards, also blocked a surprising number of Newton shots before they could get into the air . . . Franklin dropped into a tight zone defense to capitalize on is height, and Our Lady's couldn't hit consistently from outside. After our Lady's took its brief lead, Franklin stormed back to the fore at the quarter, 16-12, and had a 9-point bulge at halftime . . . Play slowed considerably in the third period, but Franklin still outscored the Newton team by three. With Corrigan hitting on a jump shot, Our Lady's rallied in the final canto to come within 51-44 with 90 seconds left in the game . . . Newton's hopes then went swirling down the drain as Franklin converted five charity tosses with holding Our Lady's scoreless. The only player besides Corrigan who was able to break into double figures for Our Lady's was Jackie Greeley, who gathered 11 on three baskets and five free throws.

"THERE ARE NO PEOPLE LIKE SHOW PEOPLE." Rushing to aid the millions of children who cannot speak and who need help are, left to right: Martin Goodman; Miss Arlene Francis, national screen and television star; Mrs. Cecil Rose, trustee of Emerson College and founder of the Emerson College Women's Committee, and Mrs. Mitchell Mintz, Emerson College corporation member and chairman of the 1955 fund raising luncheon, both of Newton.

Health For All

TIRED TEENS

Does your teen-ager sleep till noon on Saturday to the tune of the vacuum cleaner and other assorted bedlam? Does he (including she, of course) do his geomtery stretched out on his bed? Does he carry on his telephoning sprawled on the floor? Is he always too tired to help with the dishes?

He may be ill, but he's more likely to be normal. And he isn't faking either. Teen-agers tire easily for one or more of a dozen reasons, doctors tell us. It's just natural for them to need extra rest and sleep. Fortunately, it's one more of those periods of life about which parents can say hopefully, "They'll grow out of it." Wise parents can help them get through this period with the least fatigue.

First, of course, it is important to be sure that there is no illness causing your teen-ager's tiredness. He should have a thorough physical evamination and chest X-ray as often as the doctor advises. Unhappiness and worry also can cause fatigue. It isn't always easy for parents to get to the bottom of the anxieties from which adolescents sometimes suffer seriously. .The family doctor can often be of great assistance..

The major reasons for normal fatigue are rapid growth, too little sunshine and outdoor exercise, an overloaded schedule of social and school activities, poor diet, and overweight. You can't slow up your teen-ager's growth, but you can make sure that he gets plenty of outdoor exercise and a proper diet with the extra protein he needs. You can help him budget his time so that he can get his work done, have fun, and still get to bed at a reasonable hour. And let him sleep on Saturday morning.

AAA Traffic Tip: Hurrying in traffic is not good driving says the Massachusetts division of the American Automobile Association. It only fouls up the traffic pattern and causes congestion. It may take you 30 seconds or even a minute longer to get where you're going by staying in line and being patient, but it's worth it.

Massachusetts veterans who are receiving a $66.15 or $78.75 monthly pension for nonservice-connected disability, and who now need the regular aid and attendance of another person, may be entitled to an additional award to increase their pension to $135.45, according to George Ryan of the Veterans Administration's Malden Office.

Veterans so stricken should apply to VA for the "aid and attendance" benefit, as VA does not automatically review pension cases now on its rolls to determine if they qualify for the added award, Ryan said. The effective date of the "aid and attendance" award is the date the claim is filed.

Pensions are payable to war veterans, subject to certain income limitations, who become permanently and totally disabled from causes not due to service. The veteran must have served at least 90 days, unless discharged sooner for a line-of-uty disability, and must have a discharge other than dishonorable.

The basic pension rate is $66.15 a month, which is increased to $78.75 a month after ten years of continuous receipt or when the veteran reaches age 65.

The "aid and attendance" rate of $135.45 will not be paid during periods when the veteran is being hospitalized or furnished domiciliary care by VA.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q—I am blind and must go to a VA hospital for care. Will my "aid and attendance" award be taken away while I'm in the hospital?

A—No. Your disability is one of the few exceptions; others are veterans with transverse myelitis or Hanson's disease, or those who are paraplegics.

Vets Job Rights Continue After GI Cutoff Date

Walker W. Daly, Regional Representative of the U.S. Department of Labor's Bureau of Veterans Reemployment Rights announced today that persons leaving employment to enter the armed services continue to have reemployment rights under Universal Military Training and Service Act.

These rights accrue to all persons entering the service either by induction, enlistment or on reserve status. Mr. Daly stated that the termination of certain G.I. training rights on January 31 of 1955 do not affect reemployment rights after military service.

Mr. Daly said, "in order to qualify for reemployment rights, one must leave employment to enter military service; serve not more than 4 years; be released from the armed forces under honorable conditions; apply within 90 days of release."

"Persons now entering military service will continue to enjoy the reemployment benefits as provided for in Federal Laws," Mr. Daly added. .

Further information on reemployment rights is available to veterans, service men, employers, labor organizations and others at the U.S. Department of Labor's regional office at 18 Oliver Street, Boston, Mass., LIberty 2-2115.

Shell Furnace Oil Users Get FOA-5X Protection Without Extra Charge

Shell Furnace Oil is the only heating oil with the ingredient FOA-5X.

FOA-5X protects your burner by keeping the filter screen clean all winter long—prevents shutdowns due to the formation of sludge.

12 years of Shell research have gone into the development of FOA-5X. 3 additional years were spent testing it in thousands of homes. In every case the result was the same: not a single case of burner failure due to a clogged filter screen was reported.

For carefree heat all season, switch to Shell Furnace Oil with FOA-5X. It eliminates a major cause of burner service calls, costs no more than ordinary heating oils. Call today. We'll make arrangements.

N.E. Tel. & Tel. Reports on Successful Year

With an $84-million construction program the second largest in its history, the New England Telephone & Telegraph Company in 1954 expanded and modernized service and introduced new technical developments, company president J. E. Harrell brings out in his annual report.

"During the year," he said, "the people of New England had more and better telephone service than ever before. . . . More business firms and families were provided with service as 86,000 new telephones were added. . . . A new peak of almost 2.6 million telephones has now been reached, and from these telephones there originated last year the greatest volume of telephone calls ever recorded in this area."

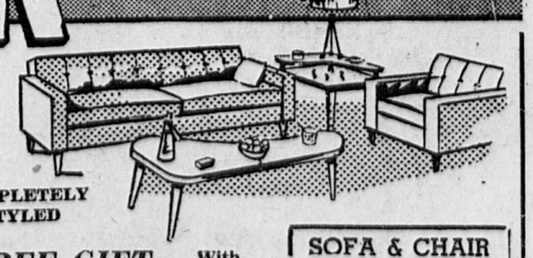

In the further spread of dial-operated local service throughout the five states the company serves, Harrell reported 56 more communities changed from manual to dial operation.

"As time goes on," he said, "the range of direct distance dialing to New York and Philadelphia will be gradually increased and the method made available to more communities in our area."

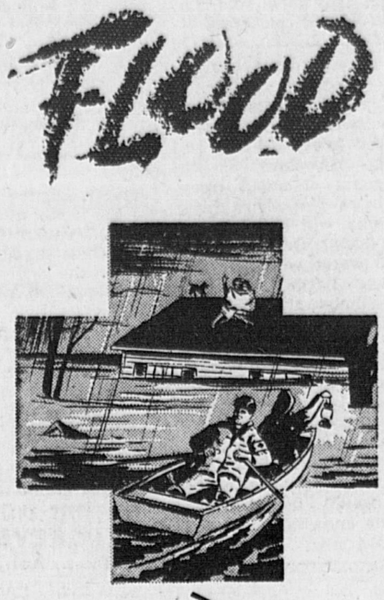

The report states that revenues continued to increase in 1954. The year's earnings on total invested capital were at the rate of 5.63 per cent compared with 5.66 in 1953. Per share, 1954's earnings were $7.84 as against 1953's $7.50. In both years the dividend per share paid was $8.

"JIM BO" IT SWIMS

INTRODUCING
JIM BO—the most sensational invention in the history of fishing—the artificial minnow that swims. No more live bait to buy. This is the lure sensation of the 20th century.
IT SWIMS—no springs, uses no fuel; it swims as long as you leave it in the water. Swims by unique process of balance and gravity. Fish any desired depth—in lake, stream, gulf, bay. Any fish that will strike a minnow will strike JIM BO. This is no gadget. Looks and swims like a live minnow.
This is the lure of all lures—beautiful silver leaf plastic. Buy one for your friends also. Satisfaction guaranteed. Send $1.00 only, for each lure. Send check or cash. We pay postage. Sold by mail only.

MORTGAGEE'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE

By virtue of and in execution of the POWER OF SALE contained in a certain mortgage given by Emil H. Wenning and June D. Wenning, his wife, in her own right, to Anna Glick dated April 30, 1954, and being Document No. 280686 on Certificate of Title No. 80835, Book 534, Page 85, in the South Registry District for Middlesex County Land Court, of which mortgage the undersigned is the present holder, for breach of the conditions of said mortgage and for the purpose of foreclosing the same will be sold at Public Auction at 10:00 o'clock A.M. on the 22nd day of March A.D. 1955, on the premises hereinafter described, all and singular the premises described in said mortgage, therein described as follows:

To wit:

"A certain parcel of land with all buildings thereon, including all furnaces, heaters, ranges, mantels, gas and electric fixtures, screens, screen doors, awnings and all other fixtures of whatever kind and nature contained in said buildings, and hereinafter placed therein prior to the full payment and discharge of this mortgage, situated in said Newton, bounded and described as follows:

SOUTHWESTERLY by the northeasterly line of East Quinobequin Road, √√ 87 78 feet;

NORTHWESTERLY by lot 15A, as shown on plan hereinafter mentioned, 120.29 feet;

NORTHEASTERLY by lots A7 and A6 on said plan, 87 feet;

SOUTHEASTERLY by lot 15C on said plan, 120.11 feet.

Said parcel is shown as Lot 15B on said plan.

All of said boundaries are determined by the Court to be located as shown on subdivision plan, as approved by the Court, filed in the Land Registration Office, a copy of a portion of which is filed in the Registry of Deeds for the South Registry District of Middlesex County in Registration Book 426, Page 193 with Certificate #63752.

The above described land is subject to sewer assessments by said City of Newton under two instruments recorded with Middlesex South District Deeds in Book 5615, Page 284 and Book 5644, Page 293.

Subject to an Order of Taking by the City of Newton for an easement for laying and maintaining main drain and common sewer through East Quinobequin Road and Estimated Assessment as in Document 236772 and to a taking of easement for laying out East Quinobequin Road and Assessment as in Document 269750.

This conveyance is subject to a prior mortgage to the Watertown Federal Savings and Loan Assn dated Nov. 25, 1953 and duly noted with Certificate of Title #80835 in Registration Book 534, Page 85."

Terms of Sale:

$300.00 in cash or certified check to be paid by the buyer at the time and place of sale, and the balance within 10 days thereafter.

Other terms to be announced at the sale.

Signed ANNA GLICK,
present holder of said mortgage.

February 18, 1955.

G.E. Magic House Visits Weeks Jr. H

One of the most educational and dramatic shows in the nation was presented by the Boston Edison Company at Weeks Junior High School when the hour-long General Electric "House of Magic" science show arrived Tuesday for two showings, at 9:15 a.m. and 10:30 a.m.

The presentation included many scientific demonstrations designed to give the layman a simple, easily understandable explanation of some of the samplings of General Electric research that seem to be magic. Some of the entertaining show's demonstrations were: making music ride a beam of light; propeller blades; whirling gears; plastic that grows from a few ounces of chemical to a large cone in a second; exploding of paper; and unusual optical illusions in a stroboscopic light demonstration. Many other features highlighted the informative show, such as demonstrations of jet and rocket power; a sun-motor powered directly from light; and an amazing mechanical hand developed for atomic research.

Play for Music Supervisors Convention

Members of Countryside School's orchestra joined with fellow Newton Highlander's from Hyde School on March 1 to play before several hundred delegates to the Eastern Music Supervisors annual convention at the Hotel Statler in Boston.

There were 35 in all in the joint musical venture, and it was a singular honor indeed. They alone were selected from all the hundreds of public elementary schools in the area to play for the visitors. The latter came from all over the Northeast.

The orchestra played several pieces, including a difficult Bartok suite. This is a modern composition, and was chosen especially to ascertain whether children of elementary school ages can play, and enjoy playing, modern pieces with their occasional dissonances.

A forerunner of the modern Navy destroyer called the "torpedo boat destroyer" was developed in 1894 to combat the threat of the Spanish tor-

Home Building

Building permits issued during January show an increase of 48 percent in the number of new dwelling units undertaken in Massachusetts, compared with January, 1954. Eliminating the 64 public housing units a year ago, the figures show 58 percent more new private dwelling units, nearly all being single-family homes. This big increase in new home building is widespread throughout the Commonwealth and foreshadows a high rate of building activity expected this spring. The figures are based on reports from 165 cities and towns to the Division of Statistics, Department of Labor and Industries.

Electric Power

Reports to the Massachusetts Department of Commerce from the principal electric power systems of the State and from large manufacturers generating their own current show an increase of 7.3 percent in the amount of electric power used by Massachusetts manufacturers during January compared with the same month last year.

Labor Costs Not High

Contrary to popular impression, Massachusetts is not a high wage cost state. A recent survey by the U. S. Bureau of Labor Statistics shows that of a total of 18 leading American cities, wage costs in Boston are lower than most. Cities with higher wage costs include New York, Philadelphia, Newark, Jersey City, Chicago, Detroit, Milwaukee, St. Paul, St. Louis, Los Angeles, San Francisco or Portland, Ore.

Gain in Bank Debits

Bank checks paid in 11 principal cities of Massachusetts during January amounted to $4,469,791,000, an increase of 12.3 percent over the same month last year. All of the 11 cities showed substantial gains. Boston and Lowell led with increases of 13.3 percent each. Lawrence and its adjoining towns came second with 13.0 percent and Lynn third with 12.4 percent, as reported by the Federal Reserve Bank of Boston.

More New Products

Photon, Inc., of Cambridge has its new commercial photographic type-composing machine in operation, on lease, and is constructing four more; Barry Corp. of Watertown has brought out the first miniature vibration isolator, only one inch high and made entirely of metal; Rodney Hunt Machine Co. of Orange has completed the largest open-width bleaching range J-box ever built; Naresco Equipment Corp. of Newton is marketing its "Alphatron" Vacuum Gauge (Model 515) which indicates a wide range of pressures on a single scale; Needham Mfg. Co. is marketing a new machine for molding hamburgers; New Bedford Venetian Blinds, Inc., has brought out its "Feather-Flux," a new type of venetian blind of custom quality.

Tree Talk

How to Prevent Snow and Ice From Injuring Shrubs, Trees

A skyful of snow dumped inches thick onto trees and shrubs can have disastrous effects. So can accumulating ice.

Evergreens are often pulled and bent out of shape, their tops crushed open as if a giant hand had been cruelly laid on them. Supple gray birches or newly planted young trees bow low, their heads drooping in great arcs. Weakened limbs in a towering tree sometimes snap off.

Winter time should be caution time for trees and shrubs when heavy snows and weighty ice pile up on naked limbs and tender evergreen boughs, says O. W. Spicer, president of the Bartlett Tree Experts.

Arborvitae, boxwood, chamaecyparis, yew, and juniper are seriously affected by these rough hands of winter. Laurel, azalea, and rhododendron are damaged too, usually to a lesser extent.

Too often home owners seeing tender plantings being covered by snow rush outside with a stick and pound the shrubs. Pounding may knock off the snow, but it can injure the bark or crush the twigs and be as damaging as the snow itself. Be gentle. Simply lift the branches carefully and shake off the snow. Or use a broom (not the broomhandle) with care.

Accumulating wet snow may turn to ice and become damaging indeed. Ice itself forms when rain falls gently in a still-like atmosphere and the temperature hovers just below 32 degrees. If these conditions are just right, disaster can sweep a whole countryside within a few hours. Where accumulating ice threatens to split branches of small trees and shrubs, a few sharp taps on the trunk will bring much of the ice down. Or hosing the trees with water will melt the forming ice. Large trees with weakened limbs and crotches should be cabled and braced in time.

Smaller trees and shrubs bent out of shape by either ice or snow should be uprighted and guyed in place before spring's new growth permits them to grow in this unwanted way. Wood that has been broken or crushed should be carefully pruned out and the trees fed liberally.

N.C. Woman's Club

Next Thursday, March 17, at 2:30 p. m., at the Newton Centre Woman's Club, the Garden Committee of the Club, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Henry S. C. Cummings, will present a color film and lecture by C. Russell Mason entitled "From the Bay to the Berkshires" showing many beauty spots of our state and featuring intimate glimpses of the wild life of the region.

Mr. Mason is Executive Director of the Massachusetts Audubon Society, and one of the country's leading ornithologists. Following the program tea will be served b yMrs. John W. Hanks assisted by Mrs. Jerome J. Franell, Mrs. Anthony Leone, Mrs. Maynard H. McCandless and Mrs. Donald B. Wheeler. Guests will be welcome.

Colored Shoes Lead a Parade Of '55 Styles

The backless shoe—high instep strap with elastic gores. In luster calf with beaded buckle. By D'Antonio.

Decorative cut, color and trimming make the shoes of spring the prettiest in many a season. The line is slender, but less exaggerated; heels, generally, are somewhat lower; materials are soft and supple and the colors are amazing.

Colored leathers have expanded their vistas in all directions, with the most popular new shades being a bright cornflower blue that will usurp the place of spring navy, and red, from the flame and scarlet tones to blue reds—such as mauve and lavender. Oriental yellow is spicy with mustard undertones.

All colors are available in tropical lightweight leathers, as well as suede, calf, and a matte finished patent leather, which provides for the first time a soft luster rather than a high shine. Heel treatment also takes a '55 spotlight. There are three-dimensionals, hand-painted, squared and sequined heels, plus new, graceful medium heels that conform to fashion's "gentle look."

The popular spectator shoe appears in a host of new leather and color combinations. A closed heel and toe combination with a wide-open instep makes a significant change this spring, however, the closed toe and open back style is increasingly popular.

Sandals, of course, retain their supremecy for "dress-up."

John T. Burns Co. Real Estate Sales

John T. Burns and Sons Inc. report that they have sold the Colonial residence consisting of eight rooms and three baths together with two car garage and large lot of land situated at 5 Irving road, Waban.

The firm has also sold the seven-room, two-bath brick Colonial home with detached garage and 8600 feet of land at 58 College road in the Chestnut Hill district.

In Wellesley, the same firm has sold the six-family frame dwelling located at 15 Bemis road.

John T. Burns and Sons have sold the parcel of land containing 42,000 square feet, together with the single eight-room house in the business section of Wellesley Hills, at 204 Worcester street.

AAA Traffic Tip: Hurrying in traffic is not good driving says the Massachusetts division of the American Automobile Association. It only fouls up the traffic pattern and causes congestion. It may take you 30 seconds or even a minute longer to get where you're going by staying in line and being patient, but it's worth it.

1955 Oldsmobiles Feature Distinctive Two-tone Colors

Flying colors are the rule with the 1955 Oldsmobile models now on display at Berejik Motors, 27 Wexford street. The special two-tone color styling first introduced to the industry by Oldsmobile in 1954 is even more widely applied on the 1955 cars, according to G. R Jones, Oldsmobile general sales manager.

"Oldsmobile stylists have created an unusually distinctive application of body color in the 1955 models," Jones asserted. "Bright, attractive colors are utilized in striking fashion to enhance Oldsmobile's low silhouette appearance Contrasting or complementary colors are used advantageously in two-tone styling that creates a luxurious effect of custom design."

The stainless steel side moulding on the 1955 Oldsmobiles is used for the color separation on all three series—"88", Super "88" and "98." Upper front fenders, door panel and roof are painted one color, while the lower body and rear deck are finished in another color in the Holiday and two-door sedan models. The color treatment is different for the four-door sedans, with the hood and upper body back to the rear door painted one color and the roof, rear deck and lower body in another color.

Fourteen new body colors are introduced by Oldsmobile in 1955 out of a total offering of 19 colors. The new colors include such eye-cathing shades as oral hartreuse, mint green, bronze metallic and shell beige. Other attractive new hues are Burlingame red, grove green, frost blue, Caspian cream, regal maroon, twilight blue, glen green, Panama blue and Bimini blue. Popular holdovers from 1954 are turquoise, mist gray, polar white, Juneau grey and black.

A grand total of 89 two-tone color schemes are offered in conventional top and body variations. These are standard in the Super "88" and "98' Holiday models and optional at extra cost on all other closed models. In the special two-tone effects making use of the side mouldings, there are 20 color combinations. All the special two-tone color variations are optional at extra cost. Among the more popular combinations are mint green and grove green, Bimini blue and polar white, Burlingame red and shell beige, coral and bronze metallic, turquoise and black.

Interiors of the 1955 Oldsmobiles are tastefully appointed and beautifully upholstered in attractive fabrics or leather. Forty-seven different upholstery selections are offered in Oldsmobile's three lines of 1955 cars. The "98" deluxe Holiday coupe has seats finished in genuine top grain leather set off by nylon pattern cloth Six color selections in leather harmonizing with the nylon cloth are available. An all-leather upholstered version can be obtained at extra cost. In the "98" four-door sedan, both covert cloth and nylon pattern cloth are utilized and are offered in light grey, green or blue to harmonize with the exterior color.

Enhancing the interior luxury of the 1955 Oldsmobile "98" and Super "88" models is deep pile carpeting that is backed with foam rubber. This carpeting matches the color of the upholstery, which in the Super "88" sedans is nylon pattern cloth in dark and light shades. The Super "88" Holiday is upholstered in deep buffed leather, available in five colors, and nylon pattern cloth to match. Seats of the Series "88" sedans are finished in nylon pattern cloth, while the "88" Holiday is upholstered in nylon pattern cloth, with Morroceen trim and bolsters.

Genuine leather provides a rich appearance for the Starfire and Super "88" convertible interiors. Two-tone dimpled top grain leather features the Starfire, combining ivory with red, coral, light green, light blue or turquoise. Solid red leather also is available. A similar selection in deep buffed leather is offered in the Super "88" convertible. The convertible tops are finished in five colors—tan, green, blue, black or white—to harmonize with the exterior color and upholstery. A white orlon top is optional at extra cost.

Luxurious custom lounge cushions add to the comfort of all "98" models. Foam rubber seats are standard in the Super "88" series and are optional at extra cost in the "88" models. The "98" models have the safety-padded instrument panel as standard equipment.

ONE-STOP LAUNDRY—Featuring one-stop laundry and cleaning service, the Launderest Self-Service Laundry at 289 Centre street, Newton, is open six days a week to take care of its hundreds of regular customers who appreciate fast, efficient service. Twenty-one automatic machines whisk clothes through a complete washing cycle in only 35 minutes. Customers who wish their clothes dried completely should allow an hour and a half. One of the attractions of the Launderest is that you can do your laundry while shopping at the many nearby stores in the heart of the Newton Corner shopping area. In addition to washing and drying, Launderest also offers a dry cleaning and shirt service. Tinting is done in the machines at the store. (Photo by G. R. Wilk)

News About

By JAMES R. CANAVAN, C.P.A.

This is the second in a series of eight articles on Federal and State Income Taxes, distributed by Boston Chapter of the National Association of Cost Accountants.

Where can I get the answer to a question on Federal taxes?

If you have an unusual tax problem, you should go to the local office of the Director of Internal Revenue or to a competent tax man.

Is the pension I receive from my former employer considered taxable income?

Your pension is considered taxable income unless you contributed a certain amount to the pension plan through payroll withholdings. An illustration will help to clarify the latter situation:

Assume that a man retired on January 1, 1954, at age 65. During his period of employment he contributed through payroll withholdings a total of $9,000 toward a pension plan. The $9,000 represents his investment in the pension plan.

Assume further that the individual received $150 a month during 1954 from his pension. Of the $$1,800 received in 1954, he will have to report $600; the remainder, $1,200, is considered a return of his investment. The taxpayer will continue to report the $600 each year for the remainder of his life. The $600 income is determined in the following way:

Investment in the contract, $9,000. Expected return ($1,800 x 15) $27,000; or 1-3 of $1,800.

The expected return is found by multiplying the amount of the annual payment, $1,800, by a multiple, 15, which will depend upon the age and sex of the individual. The $600 can also be determined by dividing the investment, $9,000, by the life expectancy of the taxpayer, 15 years.

I retired on January 1, 1954, and I am receiving a pension of $100 a month. During my period of employment I paid $3,200 into the pension fund. This was in addition to the amount contributed by the employer. How should I report this income in my 1954 tax return?

You will not have to report your pension until you have received $3,200. Thereafter, the entire amount received each year will be considered taxable income. Your pension is covered by a special rule which applies when both employer and employee contribute to the cost of the annuity and the annuity payments during the first three years will equal or exceed the employee's contribution.

Must I report the income of my wife and children?

You must report your wife's income if you file a joint return. You do not report the income of your children on your return.

My wife worked part-time during 1954. She earned $450 and her employer withheld $40. How should this income be reported?

You and your wife should file a joint return which will result in the combining of your income and the $450 earned by your wife. In this way, your income tax return will have two $600 exemptions—one for you and one for your wife.

It would be a mistake for your wife to file a separate return in order to get a refund of $40. If this were done, you would be entitled to only one exemption on your return. Thus, on your separate return, $450 of income would be excluded, but you would lose a $600 exemption.

Are contest awards and prizes considered taxable income?

Generally speaking, yes. The payment received is usually deemed to be consideration for services rendered by the contestant to the company making the award. In some instances, however, the amount received may be considered a gift rather than income for services rendered. A gift is not taxable income.

In 1954 I sold my residence for a profit. How should I report the sale on my Federal tax return?

It depends on whether or not you replaced the old residence with another residence. The replacement must be made within one year before or after the sale of the old residence.

Example: A residence purchased in 1938 for $8,000 is sold in 1954 for $14,000, net of the broker's commission. If the replacement cost is $12,500, the amount taxable as a gain is the unexpended proceeds, $1,500. If the cost of the new residence is $16,000, there would be no taxable gain because there is no unexpended proceeds.

When there is no replacement, the gain on the sale of your residence is taxable. However, a loss on the sale of residential property is not deductible because the purchase of a residence is not considered a transaction entered into for profit. If you own the property for six months or less, 100 percent of the profit is taxable; if you own the property for more than six months, only 50 percent of the profit is taxable.

AAA School Traffic Tip: When you use your car to pick up children at school, be careful where you stop warns the Massachusetts division of the American Automobile Association. Some schools provide parking space; others do not. It's better to park away from the school and let the children find your car, than to double-park at the entrance and create a dangerous traffic situation.

NH Exchange Pops Slated March 25

The third and final event—a pops concert — will climax the parent-sponsored fund-raising activities of the Newton High School Exchange Program. Mr. and Mrs. Harold R. Dolby of Auburndale are chairmen of the event, whichi will be held at the Normandie Room, Norumbega Park, Friday, March 25, at 8 p.m.

Henry Lasker of the Music Department of Newton High School has prepared a highly interesting program of pops music. The 60 members of the two Newton High School exchange groups — 30 boys and 30 girls — will help out with the arrangements for the "Exchange Pops." The boys will help set up the tables and otherwise making themselves useful, and the girls will serve as waitresses and assistants to their mothers, who are preparing and baking cakes, pies, cookies and brownies for a take-home food sale.

A program containing advertising is being published in connection with the event. On the advertising and program committee are H. R. Dolby, G. R. Breitzke, Robert M. Cobb, Norman H. Dow, Charles Gilman and C. L. Southmayd. Theodore Fleischer is chairman of the ticket committee.

Proceeds from the event will go to help finance the visits here of exchange high school delegations from Boulder, Colo., and Wilmington, Del. The latter group arrives Sunday.

The money will also help finance the visits of the Newton High School boys and girls to other areas of the nation in this excellent reciprocal program of visits designed to acquaint high school children with their contemporaries cross-country and afford them a look at other areas of the United States.

VOTE AGAINST WIRETAPPING BILL CONSISTENCY MATTER -- HEANEY

Heaney and Gibbs Vote With Democrats on Wire Tapping: Gov. Herter Vetoed a Similar Measure Only a Year Ago

Democratic leaders in the Massachusetts House of Representatives, with the help of a handful of liberal Republicans, won a strange sort of victory this week after a prolonged battle over a bill to restrict wire tapping, but political observers are still trying to figure out just what they accomplished beyond bolstering their own sagging prestige.

It was a fight that never at any time made much sense. The Democratic chieftains made the measure a party issue, although there was no apparent reason for doing so, and the only real question at stake was whether Governor Herter would be forced to exercise his veto power to kill the proposal, as he did a year ago.

Never was a more determined effort made to compel a Governor to write a veto message. Since it was successful, it must have proved something, but this writer is mystified as to just what that "something" was.

Representatives Arthur G. Heaney and Donald L. Gibbs of Newton, who from the first have favored the move to require the Attorney General and Disrict Attorneys to obtain court sanction o tap wires, were among the nine Republican legislators who jumped the political fence, voted for the measure and made possible the Democratic triumph.

As a matter of fact, Heaney and Gibbs provided the two-vote margin by which the measure was passed. Had they opopsed it, it would have been defeated 113 to 111 instead of being adopted by that count.

Charter Member Drive Opens

Mrs. David M. Schulman of Waban, president of the newly organized Newton Women's Republican Club, announced this week that the drive for charter members is now in full swing. This city-wide drive to recruit interested Republican women will be climaxed at a meeting to be held at the Beethoven School, at the corner of Beacon street and Beethoven avenue in Waban, on Monday, March 28 at eight o'clock. However, the membership committee will continue to urge Republican women to signify their interest in the club by becoming a member at any time.

Arrangements for the meeting are in charge of Mrs. William L. Brown of Waban. Mrs. Henry Whitmore, Jr. of West Newton is planning a program of outstanding speakers to be announced soon. All charter members will have the honor of having their names inscribed on the club charter roll.

Mrs. Walter J. Kreske, membership chairman, is being assisted by the following vice-presidents, representing each ward in the City of Newton: Mrs. Ernest F. Dietz, Newton Centre; Mrs. Harry Halliday, West Newton; Mrs. Norman E. Moore, Auburndale; Miss Janet Mattson, Newtonville; Mrs. John M. Parkinson, Waban; Mrs. John Roy, Newton and Mrs. Benjamin Shattuck.

Community Chest Organizes Tonight For Fall Campaign

At the Annual Meeting of the Newton Community Chest to be held tonight (Thursday) at the Normandie Room, Norumbega Park, Auburndale, Institutional Directors will be elected representing the thirteen member agencies of the Newton Community Chest together with members-at-large.

In addition to the election of Directors, reports covering the year's activities will be made by President Nathan D. Bugbee, by Treasurer George L. White, by Budget Committee Chairman Alden R. Bellman and by the Executive Director H. J. Pettengill. The speaker of the evening is Dr. Nils Y. Wessell, President of Tufts College, who has selected as his subject "Hardheaded Altruism," and Francis W. Hatch, Vice President of Batten, Barton, Durstine & Osborne Inc., and General Chairman of the 1956 Campaign for Metropolitan Boston, will speak of the plans for the fall Campaign.

DR. NILS Y. WESSELL

A Committee appointed on amendments to the Constitution and By-Laws will recommend at the Meeting that the number of Directors-at-Large to be elected each year shall be eight instead of six and that an Assistant Treasurer be added to the Chest's officers. The members of the Constitution and By-Laws Committee are F. Brittain Kennedy, Chairman, Hugh Harwood and Franklin K. Hoyt.

Cites Past Vote on Same Issue

Contending that his recent vote in the legislature favoring the so-called wiretapping bill, was "with consistency and according to my conscience," Representative Arthur G. Heaney (R-Newton) issued a statement this week to explain his position in the matter. Representative Donald L. Gibbs (R-Newton) also voted in favor of the wiretapping bill which would, in effect, require certain elected officials, notably the Attorney-General and District Attorney, to ask approval of the Supreme Court or Superior Court, to carry on a wiretapping operation.

This same bill was vetoed by Governor Herter last year and indications are that he will again veto it, should it ultimately pass during this session of the legislature.

In his statement, Representative Heaney said:

"Judging by the editorial comment in last week's "Graphic" and recent remarks by the eminent Bill Mullins in "The Boston Herald," there seems to have been a great deal of wonder as to why Representative Donald L. Gibbs and I, considered to be loyal Republicans, chose to vote for the so-called wiretapping bill. Therefore, we think it proper that some explanation should be given, together with some comments on the proposed legislation and a little history thrown in.

"First of all, what is the present law and what would the bill do? It is now permissible for an Attorney General or District

Schools Harder in Europe Than Here, Panel States

School is harder in Europe than in this country according to a panel that spoke to the Auburndale P.T.A. Tuesday, March 8, at the Williams School.

Miss Mary G. Gianferante, English teacher at Day Junior High who taught last year in Italy. Miss Nichline Rocher of France, who is studying Irish and American Literature at Harvard and Eric Waller, Newton High teacher, here on an exchange from England, made up the panel.

Italian schools have very high academic standards, with emphasis on cultural subjects, Miss Gianferante said. Because scholastic requirements are so high the secondary school pupils represent a very select group. At this level students have 5 to 6 hours of daily homework.

American literature is well known to Italian students, she said, and students are very much interested in America. This country is regarded as a utopia which most Italian children dream of visiting, she said. Religion is taught at every grade in the state-controlled Italian schools, she said.

French schools, like the Italian, are run by the national government but no religious education is included in the curriculum, said Miss Rocher, a graduate of the Sorbonne. French educational standards are, like the Italian, very high, she said. Schools are organized by the ministry of education, and primary school education is compulsory.

Primary school is followed by seven years in secondary school after which pupils may attend technical schools or go on to a university. Teachers are appointed by the government. More teachers are married in France than in this country, she said.

English schools are less exacting than those on the continent, said Mr. Waller, but they are still more difficult than American schools. Only 15 to 20 per cent of the pupils in primary schols go on for secondary school training because of a comprehensive exam which is designed to weed out those who are not scholastically proficient. Some of those who fail can go to technical school, he said.

Recently English secondary schools have been expanding to combine academic and technical programs. Mr. Waller does not favor the plan which is designed to remove the stigma from those who have not made the grade for regular secondary school.

Newton does not share in the general U.S. educational weakness described recently in national magazines, said Willard Harmon, moderator, who teaches mathematics and science at Weeks Junior High. Mr. Harmon attended Burr and Williams Schools in Auburndale and has taught in American schools in Germany.

Father Lacroix Working On Formosa Isle

Taichung, Formosa — "Business as usual," is the slogan of the Maryknoll Missioners stationed on this Nationalist held island that is so much in the news today.

Father Arthur C. Lacroix, Maryknoller from Newton, brother of Alphonse Lacroix, of 24 Bennington Street, and Miss Annette Lacroix also of Newton; Mrs. Lawrence Bowen, of Brookline and Mrs. Thomas Connolly of Everett, has been working on this small isle (about the same size as Ireland) since 1952. He was forced out of China after 15 years by the Communists in 1951.

Despite the international tension surrounding the island today, the work of the Maryknollers among the scores of refugees which have flooded the island fleeing from the Reds continues. The Newton missioner carried on his usual day of saying Mass, administering the Sacraments and helping out at the Maryknoll clinic which provided treatment for over 120,000 goiter patients last year. In this area, one woman in every five and one man in fifteen suffer from the thyroid ailment.

When the mission first started its goiter program, 260 patients came the first week, 500 the second and more than 1,000 the third. The number grew until it reached a peak of 5,000. It has since decreased, because other missoins in the area have started giving treatments, but the clinic still averages about 1,800 patients a week.

Another favorite with the poor here is, "Milk Power Saturday" which thanks to Catholic Welfare was launched last year to give powdered milk to the needy. The Maryknollers distribute 1,500 tickets to children, old people and the sick each week. On Saturday morning the ticket holders bring a container to the misison and exchange their stubs for a pound of milk powder.

Conversions are steadily increasing on the island, and only reecntly the King of the Sun Moon Aborigines and 150 of his followers were baptized into the Church.

This Newton missioner, like all other missioners, is striving in the name of Christ, to provide all men with the necessities of this life and the means of achieving their destiny in the life to come despite the conditions surrounding them.

Mayor to Speak At Annual Lenten Lunch

It has been announced by Ralph B. Emery, Chairman of the Newton YMCA Christian Emphasis Committee that the Honorable Howard J. Whitmore, Mayor of the City of Newton will speak at the annual Lenten luncheon sponsored by and held at the Newton YMCA. The Lenten luncheon is part of the total Lenten program sponsored by the YMCA during the Lenten season are two devotional periods, the first being held on Wednesday, March 23, 1955 at 9:15 a.m., at which Dr. Ross Cannon of the Second Church in Newton will be the leader. At the second devotional which will be held on Wednesday, April 6, at 9:15 a.m., Rev. Edgar J. Helms of the Newton Lower Falls Methodist Church will be devotional leader. The YMCA will also distribute the Lenten Fellowship of Prayer to dormitory men and those of the membership who desire it.

Plans for the current season were developed by the Christian Emphasis Committee of the YMCA of which the following men are members: Ralph B. Emery, chairman; Harry W. Bascom, Reverend Russell Bishop, Herbert Fraser, Dr. Kirtley F. Mather, William W. Lang and Eldred M. Peterson. John E. Danielson is staff secretary related to the committee.

The Newton YMCA is a charter member of the Community Chest and Community Council.

Former Wiretapper Speaks Here

Jim Vaus, the converted wiretapper of the Mickey Cohen era, will be the speaker at the morning and evening services at the Immanuel Baptist Church in Newton, Sunday, March 20.

Mr. Vaus, a native of Los Angeles, California, was trained in the field of electronics. Upon his release from the service he became an experienced wiretapper and finally found himself working for the notorious Mickey Cohen gang.

Listening to a Gospel message presented by Dr. Billy Graham, he accepted Christ as Saviour. Newspapers and national magazines told the story when he was saved at an evangelistic meeting in Los Angeles. Today he is a powerful Gospel preacher whose testimony has thrilled thousands from coast to coast.

The Immanuel Baptist Church is located at Church and Center streets, Newton Corner, Mass.

States Health Guidance Is Not A Luxury Community Can Do Without

"Health guidance is not a luxury the community can do without." So stated Miss Katherine MacDonald, director of the Newton Visiting Nurse Association, in her summary of the year's work of the Red Feather agency, presented at the annual meeting of the Board of Directors on Monday, March 14th, held at the Headquarters on the grounds of the Newton-Wellesley Hospital.

"The public health nurse," she continued, "must have more and more education in the behavioral as well as the physical sciences. She must be able to recognize emotional problems and use her knowledge in guidance toward improved mental health. She is in a strategic position in our agency to help individuals become better adjusted to life — beginning with the very young child and the expectant mother. She knows her community resources and can direct individuals or families to other community agencies —. Let us hope that in the future a little more money can be expended for such services to prevent the development of more serious problems in later years."

In introducing Miss MacDonald and her staff to the assembled Board and their guests, Mrs. Matt B. Jones, Jr. expressed her pride in the high quality of their performance. The Board's part in this she acknowledged to be only that which takes place behind the scenes: setting the stage, making costumes, doing make-up and lighting, while the real credit for the excellence of what happens 'out front' is due to a wise director and competent cast.

Mrs. Margaret Tierney was presented with the Hilga Nelson Scholarship Award which will make possible further work toward her B. S. in Nursing. Miss Clare Power was the recipient of a gift in recognition of the completion of five years with the Association and the continuity and strength her services have provided.

The many hours of unselfish volunteer labor given by Board members were evident in the annual reports of the following committee chairmen: Nursing, Mrs. Roy G. Hoskins; Well-Baby Conferences, Mrs. Charles E. Megargel; Public Relations, Mrs. John Fox; Program, Mrs. H. Earl Burnham; Hospitality, Mrs. Louis Vassalotti; Comfort Fund, Mrs. Elmer K. Pilsbury; Medical Advisory, Dr. Leslie H. Macmillan; Finance, Mrs. Joseph C. MacDonald; House, Mrs. Worthing L. West; Nominating, Mrs. Egon Kattwinkel.

Officers elected for the coming year were: President, Mrs. Matt B. Jones, Jr.; First Vice President, Mrs. Roy G. Hoskins; Second Vice President, Mrs. Joseph C. MacDonald; Secretary, Mrs. Albert Beisel, Jr.; Assistant Secretary, Mrs. Leo Barry; Treasurer, Mrs. Henry Merriam; Assistant Treasurer Mrs. Arthur Southwick.

Newly appointed directors are: Mrs. Julian Anthony, Mrs. George H. Brewer, Mrs. H. Earl Burnham, Mrs. M. Fletcher Eades, Mrs. Winslow R. Howland, Mrs. Ralph E. Keyes, Mrs. Thomas H. Lanman, Mrs. E. K. Mentzer, Mrs. Elmer K. Pilsbury, Mrs. Warren Reed, Mrs. Frank P. Scofield, Mrs. Frank Springer, Mrs. Worthing West.

At the close of the meeting, a pictorial accounting of the year's work of the Agency was given by Mrs. Leo Barry. The beautiful colored slides she showed, taken by Mr. William Winston of the Visual Aids Department of the Newton Schools, demonstrated graphically the many, diverse ways in which the visiting nurse serves the people of Newton.

Appointed Head Of Local Mental Health Campaign

Ernest F. Dietz, 94 Hancock avenue, Newton Centre, has been appointed chairman for Newton in the forthcoming Mental Health Fund campaign by Augustus G. Means, state chairman.

Opening in May and running four weeks, the local drive will be part of a nationwide campaign conducted by the National Association for Mental Health and its affiliates to raise $5,000,000 to help cut down the tremendous toll of mental illness, reported to be higher now than ever before.

In accepting his appointment, Dietz assured the state chairman that the people of Newton can be relied on to support the fight against mental illness and strike a blow at the nation's No. 1 health problem.

Planning for Newton's Future Meeting Subject

Members of the Local Affairs Committee of the League of Women Voters of Newton met this week to make final arrangements for the Open Meeting they will hold Tuesday evening, March 29.

"Planning for Newton's Future" is the topic for the evening and a distinguished panel of speakers will be present to discuss different phases of the subject. The meeting will be held at the Beethoven School at 8 p.m.

Mayor Howard Whittemore, Jr., will be the Moderator for the evening. Dr. Harold B. Gores, Superintendent of Schools will discuss the future of the school system; Mr. Charles E. Downe, Director of Planning of the Massachusetts Department of Commerce will discuss the ideal aspects of a planning program for the city; Mr. William Hopkins, Chairman of the Newton Planning Board will talk on the activities of his department; and Mr. Lorenz F. Muther, Jr., will present the views of the Newton Taxpayers Association.

Mrs. Jules Baer, Chairman of the Local Affairs Committee, is in charge of arrangements for the meeting. Her committee consists of Vice Chairman Mrs. Abraham Karff, and Mrs. Charles Worthen; Mrs. Robert Segal, Mrs. Myer Armet, Mrs. Richard Mintz, Mrs. Ralph Feldman, Mrs. Charles Robinson, Mrs. George Roberts, Mrs. Isador Slotnik, Mrs. Leopold Beckkwith, Mrs. Sarley Feldman and Mrs. Daniel Jacobson.

Mrs. Seymour Getter, President of the Newton League, discussing the meeting stressed the fact that this is a subject of great importance to every member of our community. "We expect a large attendance at this meeting, which will be the final Open Meeting planned by the League this year."

Newton Girl Wins Legion Zone Honors

Elaine Kerns, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Kerns, 45 Waban Hill road, Chestnut Hill, won top honors last Sunday in the Zone No. 4 American Legion National Oratorical Contest at the Legion Post, Pleasant street, Brookline.

Elaine, a junior at Mount Alvernia Academy, Newton, previously won over seven other contestants in the Norfolk County district finals. As a Zone winner, she will have the privilege of competing with the three other Zone winners for State honors at St. Mary's Hall, Brookline, on Sunday next.

The topic for the oration is the American Constitution. The contest is a project sponsored annually by the American Legion.

Drama Group on TV Sunday at 4

A drama group from Newton College of the Sacred Heart will be featured on the television program "Modes of Life" presented by station WWLP this Sunday at 4 p.m.

The program, seen in Springfield and vicinity, is produced by Rev. Fidelis Rice, C.P., of the Passionist Monastery, West Springfield every Sunday afternoon. Over 7,300 commendatory letters were received by the station as a result of the appearance of the Newton College group in a similar production on this program last December.

The new play, "The Man on Trial", an original television drama by Margaret Murphy of the college faculty, takes its setting from a present day Iron Curtain country and is a retelling of the events surrounding the trial of Christ.

Featured in the cast are: Joan David, Providence, R.I.; Mary Jane O'Connell, Island Park, N.Y.; and Agnes Podolinsky, Skokie, Ill.

Purim Celebration At Temple Reyim

Monday evening March 7 the annual purim party for the children took place at the temple. The celebration included a costume parade, the traditional reading of the megiliah and a purim clown, John W. Sisson.

Each child attending in costume received a gift. Winners of the costume parade included Randy Alfred, Mark Cohen, Michael Fox, Michael Kastle, Steven Levine, and Martin Glickman.

Another feature of the celebration was a unique band by class Dalet-heh, which called itself the Homantash Ramblers. This group helped provide the traditional fun at the mention of the name of Haman in the reading of the Megiliah.

At the conclusion of the celebration a simple reception was held at which time each child received a festive homantashen in honor of the evening.

Institute Sponsored By 3 Groups

How do you build good human relations within a family? How do we get along with our neighbors? What are the foundations for good citizenship?

These and many other questions were discussed at the second session of the Human Relations Institute sponsored by the Newton Council of PT's, the Newton Human Relations Committee, and the Northeastern Region of the National Conference of Christians and Jews, held on Monday evening at the Newtonville Branch Library. Jean Fairfax of the American Friends Service Committee, served as moderator with Dr. Thaddeus Krush as consultant. Dr. Krush is clinical director of the New Children's Unit, Metropolitan State Hospital, Waltham.

There will be four other meetings of the Institute, also to be held at the Newtonville Branch Library on successive Monday evenings at 7:45. They will further elaborate the general subject of "Rearing Children of Goodwill."

Those interested in attending any of the subsequent discussions are urged to contact the president of the nearest Parent-Teacher Association or the PTA Council office, LAsell 7-9300.

Pay Tribute To Riley J. Hampton

The Board of Directors of the Newton Chapter of the American Red Cross, at a meeting held on March 8, 1955 at the Chapter House, adopted the following resolution as a tribute to the late Riley J. Hampton:

WHEREAS, on January 19, 1955 the city of Newton lost one of its best known, civic-minded citizens in the death of Riley J. Hampton;

BE IT THEREFORE RESOLVED: That this Board of Directors express their sympathies for his loss and record their appreciation for the outstanding and faithful service he gave to Red Cross and to the city. Riley J. Hampton was Chairman of the Disaster Preparedness and Relief Committee of the Newton Chapter, American Red Cross, for three years, during which time he organized and directed the first and only Disaster Drill ever held in Newton. A resident of Newton for twenty-five years, he was most active in church, civic and community affairs.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED: That this Board of Directors express its deep sympathy to the members of the family of Riley J. Hampton; that a copy of this Resolution be sent them, and that this Resolution be included in the permanent records of this Board.

Files House Bill Requiring Brand Names on Pumps

Reps. George E. Rawson of Newton and Charles T. Kelleher of Marlboro have filed a bill in the House of Representatives requiring all above-ground equipment for storage or dispensing of motor fuel or lubricating oil to have the brand name clearly marked.

If the fuel or oil sold by retailers has no brand name or trade name, the bill would require the pumps and containers to be marked "no brand."

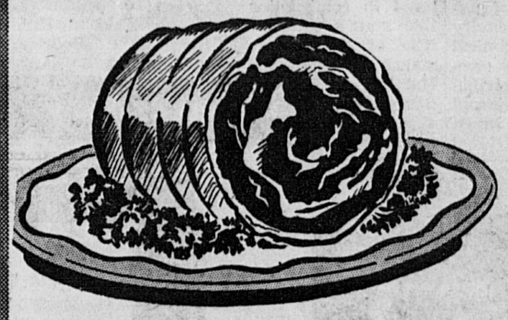

"This bill," said Rep. Rawson, "if enacted into law will protect the reputable dealer from unfair competition, and it will also protect the consumer, for he will always know that he is getting what he is paying for."

There is no question but that honest, conscientious, high-minded legislators viewed this highly controversial measure in an altogether different light.

To some it was a bill which would hamper law-enforcement authorities in their efforts to combat crime. To others a wire tap, even on the phone of a suspected criminal, is a violation of civil liberties.

To still others, and this probably includes most of the Democratic leaders who have made such a fight for the adoption of the measure, it represented an opportunity to embarrass Governor Herter by forcing him to veto a bill which he presumably would have preferred to see killed without reaching him.

Some legislators bitterly resented statements by certain of their colleagues that the Civil Liberties Union and the A.D.A. were behind the measure, and they were particularly ired by caustic references to the proposal as a "bookie bill."

The fact is, however, that representatives of the A.D.A. and Civil Liberties Union did appeal before the legislative judiciary committee to advocate the passage of the bill, and a number of known "bookies" were on hand in the State House galleries every time the measure was debated.

One legislator declared publicly that it was necessary for one to fight one's way through the "bookies" to reach the State Senate, when the measure was being argued in that body.

This prompted Senate President Richard I. Furbush to issue a statement asserting that no member of his body had been approached by a "bookie," but he did not deny that there had been quite a gathering of "bookies" to hear the battle on the matter.

An amazing sidelight to this entire row is that some legislators actually believe that the telephone wires in the House lobbies are tapped and that their phone conversations are monitored and recorded.

What prompts any such suspicions other than an exaggerated sense of their own importance is a complete mystery. One candidate for State-wide office in last fall's campaign thinks his telephone was tapped.

There is not much question that this is sheer nonsense, that the fears of the legislators who think someone is eavesdropping on their conversation is groundless, and that no one has anything to fear from a possible wire tap unless he is suspected of a major crime.

In the first place, tapping a wire is a very costly procedure. The Attorney General and District Attorney don't have enough money in their budgets to do it very often.

They might tap the wires of persons suspected of being involved in a gambling ring or in a crime such as the Brink's holdup, but it's much too expensive a practice to be engaged in lightly.

Supporters of the bill feel that it would be a safeguard against possible abuses, although scandals have occurred in New York, which has a law similar to the one the defenders of civil liberties would like to see enacted here.

Opponents of the measure fear that if an Attorney General or District Attorney had to go into court to obtain auhorization for a wire tap, it would create the possibility that the person, whose wire was tapped, might be tipped off as to what was happening.

That doesn't mean they think a judge is going to pick up a telephone and tell some suspected criminal that he had better be careful what he says on the phone. It simply means that secrets have a way of leaking out of courtrooms the way they do every place else, and an application for wire tap permission would be handled by other persons than a judge.

Since the ordinary law-abiding citizen has no more than a vague academic interest in whether or not an Attorney General or District Attorney secures court permission to tap the telephone of a suspected criminal, it is now hoped that the Legislature will get on to other business. If it doesn't speed up its processes, this legislative session will be still going next New Year's Eve.

Because Governor's Councillor George A. Wells fell a shade below the marks achieved by the brother and brother-in-law of State Treasurer John F. Kennedy in their recent I.Q. competition, there have been demands from some sides that Wells resign from public office.

The fact, of course, is that Wells achieved an exceptionally high mark in the quiz and that the two relatives of the State Treasurer rate pretty close to geniuses, a fact which makes it a little difficult to justify the Council's action in refusing to confirm Kennedy's brother.

As pointed out recently in this column, Wells is a highly intelligent and extremely able Executive Councillor. If all public officials equalled the standard he sets, there would be little cause for complaint.

Music Club

On Wednesday morning, March 9, Richard Scipione, president of the Newton High Music Club, introduced Mr. Henry Lasker, club adviser, who presented to club members and the Junior Class our guest artist, the well-known violinist, Miss Elaine Pinkerton.

Her program, consisting of "Romanza" by Sarasate, "Caprice Viennois" by Kreisler, "Hejre Kati" by Hubay, "Russian Maiden Song" by Stravinsky, and "Banjo and Fiddle" by Kroll, was interspersed with delightful explanations by Miss Pinkerton.

Though quite young, Miss Pinkerton has a maturity of interpretation and mastery of technique which is matched only by her poise and charming personality. The accompaniment by Miss Bergstrom was artistically done, and helped to make this program an unforgettable experience.

Leave-of-Absence

Mr. Austin Lashbrook, a Latin teacher at Newton High School for several years, has announced he was granted a year's leave-of-absence to study at the University of Pennsylvania.

Mr. Lashbrook attended the University of Kentucky and taught at the University of Iowa while attending graduate school there. He taught at Wm. Penn Charter School in Philadelphia before coming to Newton in 1953. Mr. Lashbrook is well known around the school for his interest in ancient Roman and Greek history as well as geography.

Science Fair

The eighth annual Newton Schools' Science Fair which will be held April 14, 15 is gradually shaping up. The standards of judging for the Science Fair have been announced. The exhibits will be judged on points for Scientific thought (25), the Advancement of Science and development of scientific research (20), Ingenuity of Construction and Technical Skill, including every day common materials (15), Contribution to the welfare of man and society (10), Originality, which should reflect the individual thinking of the exhibitor (10), Thoroughness (10), Current scientific interest (5), and Dramatic value, which should be graphic and self-explanatory.

Three first place and three second place medals will be awarded to winners of the Senior High exhibits. Two first and second place medals will be awarded to the winners of the Junior High exhibits. One first and second place award will be awarded to Trade School and Junior College entrants. Club, Group and Class exhibits will be awarded one first and second certificate. Honorable Mention will be given to some exhibits at the discretion of the judges.

Last year, Sue Williamson, a Senior at Newton High, won a first prize gold medal displaying the "Effect of Piezotronic Vibrations on Yeast Cells." The year before, this young lady won first prize in the New England Science Fair for a topic related to this one. Robert Gorn won a first prize gold medal with "A Servomechanism and Its Cybernetics." Myron Kazok won a first prize gold medal for a project called, "Perception and Reaction Times of Individuals." Mr. Harold Hawkes, the Director of the 19545 Science Fair, called the projects entered more highly scientific than ever before. It is interesting to note that Agris Kalnajs, now a senior at Newton High, who won second prize for his exhibit on "Binaural Sound" last year, was just recently named the sole winner of the Westinghouse Science Scholarships for the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Betty Crocker Contest

"The Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow" in Newton High Schol is Nancy Wernick. She received the highest score in a written examination which tested the homemaking knowledge and attitudes of the senior girls. She will be entered in competition to name this state's candidate for the title of "All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow," Monday, March 14, at an assembly, Dr. Barry presented Nancy with a golden award pin. She also received cook books for herself and the school.

The national winner in this search, conducted among 187,000 young women in 8,000 of the nation's public, private, and parochial high schools, will be named April 21 at an American table fete in Philadelphia.

General Mills is sponsor of this program designed to assist schools in building in young women a deeper appreciation and understanding of the American home and the personal qualities necesary to successful homemaking.

A scholarship of $1,500 will be awarded each state winner, and she will receive a trip with her school advisor to Washington, D.C., colonial Williamsburg, Virginia, and Philadelphia. Her school will receive a set of Encyclopedia Britannica. The scholarship of the young women named All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow will be increased to $5,000.

The 50-minute written examination designed and judged by Science Research Associates of Chicago, which was given to all participants in this national search, consisted of multiple choice and subjective questions which tested the students' attitude and knowledge in the major areas of homemaking. Each girl who took the test received a guide which will assist her in pursuing the career of homemaking.

Exchanges With Milton

On Tuesday, March 8, six Newton High School students and Dr. Charles Peltier, head of the Social Studies Department, went to Milton High School as part of an exchange program between the two schools. They were shown all around Milton High School and heard lectures on industries in Milton. In the evening they attended a dinner as the guests of the League of Women Voters and the Rotary Club of Milton. Then the students and Dr. Peltier attended a discussion centered around the question coming up before the Town Meeting held later this month. The students who went to Milton are Dick Lucier, Malcolm Hill, Tony Medaglia, Ann Dedrick, Jayne Crosby and Jo Ann McCormick. At the end of this month, six Milton High School students will come to Newton as part of this exchange.

Demonstration

A short time ago a class from Boston University graduate school met at Newton High to watch a demonstration of a gym class from a local school.

Dr. Arthur Miller, professor in this course (also Chairman of the Natick School Board, and twenty-eight physical education teachers from local areas, were guests of Newton High's Mr. Reginald Smith, phys. ed. instructor here. Twenty-one boys, from some of the gym classes, volunteered to assist in this demonstration. They were: Glen McNeil, Alan McNeil, Robert Woods, R. Vincuilla, L. Sherman, Millard, Eames, Merrill, Labb, Koss, Kannair, Curly, Hackle, Berkowitz, Del Gizzi, Falkson, Lindquist, Samuels, York, Putnam, and Gilvar. As time would not permit more, these boys demonstrated three phases of physical education instruction at Newton High — rope work, boxing skills and wrestling.

John H. Moye, Chairman, Automobiles, Gas Stations, Package Stores and Taverns Division of the 1955 Newton Red Cross Fund Drive.

European Champ To Make First Appearance Here

Muscular Mario DeSouza of Portugal, European heavyweight wrestling champion, makes his first local appearance Saturday night when he clashes with Stan (The Man) Wydra, onetime Salem High grid star.

These two stalwarts will collide in the feature presentation on the Burns-Kerr Legion Post wrestling card at the West Newton Armory.

As if the presence of DeSouza, rated a leading contender for the world's heavyweight crown, were not enough to make Saturday night's program exceptional, there will also be a novel six-man tag team match, with a coin flip determining the makeup of the teams.

Ithough he stands 6-3 and weighs 260 pounds, Wydra will be the underdog in his match with the 235-pound European, who has received considerable publicity since coming to the United States.

Two other bouts, each looming as an outstanding event in its own right, round out the slate.

In these, Tony Enos, New Bedford, will take on villainous Carl Von Eric, Munich, Germany, and blond Jim Cunningham, popular Lynn cop, will attempt to arrest Emilio Carnera's surge to stardom. Carnera, nephew of former world heavyweight boxing champion Primo Carnera, is from Milan, Italy.

It is anticipated that the crowd will be pulling hard for Cunningham and Enos because both have impressed with their clean, fast and varied styles in previous performances here.

Von Eric, a frequent participant in Armory contests, has the dubious distinction of being the second most detested grappler to display his wares in the Washington ring. Only fabulous Gorgeous George Grant has been boohed and berated more than the menace from Munich.

With Spring in the air, the ninth graders are turning their thoughts to their electives for the tenth grade. An assembly was held on Wednesday March 9 in the Day Auditorium at which the students asked their many questions concerning courses at Newton High School and Newton Technical and Vocational High School. Dr. Barry, Mr. Switzer, and Mr. Mitchell, from the Newton High School and the Technical and Vocational High School were the adults to help answer these questions. Mr. John Shaw, guidance counselor, acted as moderator.

The Day Junior High School students are busy preparing for the Science Fair and Open House which will be held in the school auditorium on Wednesday, March 30. Many students are beginning to work on the Spring Concert. The exciting sport activity this week was the Faculty vs. Varsity Basketball Game. The score was 34-30 in favor of the Faculty.

Service Clubs are also quite active. The Student Council has established the Public Relations Staff, which helps patrol the halls during the passing between periods. The Library Council has elected the following new officers: Sue Simonds, President; Nancy Oncley, Vice President; Linda McKenney, Secretary; and Marsha Wittenberg, Treasurer.

The new Seventh Grade officers are: President, Charles Aucoin; Vice President Martha Bilezikian; Secretary, Sarah Remley; and Treasurer, Diane Rote.

- - - Spotlight on Weeks - - -

THE ORCHESTRA

On March 1, the members of the Weeks Junior High School orchestra experienced the honor of playing at the Hotel Statler before the Eastern Division of the National Conference of Music Educators.

Under the direction of our leader, Mr. Donald March, we rehearsed every Monday and Thursday. Finally, the eagerly anticipated day arrived. We piled kettle drums, 'cellos, violins, wind and brass instruments and fifty "musicians" into one bus and journeyed to the hotel. An hour later, we were playing four selections on the stage of the main ballroom, the last of which was "Over the Rainbow," from "The Wizard of Oz."

Not one of us will ever forget the thrill we experienced in representing Weeks on such a memorable occasion.

By Eddie Bayard.

"HOUSE OF MAGIC"

On Tuesday, March 8, the students and teachers at Weeks were privileged in having an assembly on electricity and science. It was called the "House of Magic," and was presented by General Electric and the Boston Edison Company.

Mr. Nelson, a science teacher at Weeks, introduced Mr. H. J. Connors, the District Manager of the Boston Edison Company. He gave a brief talk, and introduced Mr. Earle Stroup and Mr. Adrian Van Dorpe, from the Publicity Division of the General Electric Company in Schenectady, New York. They performed many fascinating experiments concerning light and electricity.

Mr. Stroup and Mr. Van Dorpe demonstrated what a stroboscopic light does, and explained why. They explained jet propulsion and showed it, in miniature, in a kiddy-car. This proved to be the noisiest experiment of the day.

We all learned a lot from the intriguing experiments, and hope that other groups at Weeks will benefit from this show in the future.

Miss Claire A. Ramsay Bride Of Mr. Robert Lee Harwood

Given in marriage by her grandfather, Mr. Harold C. Everett, amid a setting of white gladioli and ferns, Miss Claire Alice Ramsay, daughter of Mr. Stewart Ross Ramsay of Newtonville and Mrs. Stewart Ross Ramsay of Watertown, became the bride of Mr. Robert Lee Harwood at the Unitarian Church in Watertown last Saturday at a 4:00 o'clock ceremony. The Rev. E. Palmer Clarke officiated and the reception followed at the parish house which was decorated with white gladioli and roses.

The bride's gown was full length, fashioned with a Chantilly lace bodice and full skirt with Chantilly lace inserts terminating in a chapel train. Her pearl encrusted cap caught the silk illusion fingertip veil. She carried a white orchid and stephanotis on a white Bible.

The matron of honor was Mrs. Robert Godfrey of Needham and the bridesmaids were Miss Donna Drury, Miss Constance Everett, both of Watertown, and Miss Barbara Cameron of Belmont and Mrs. Douglas E. Randlett of Springfield. Their gowns were alike in pale orchid waltz length crystalline over taffeta. The matron of honor carried a cascade of purple carnations and the bridesmaids carried blue iris cascades. The flower girl, Gail Criss Ramsay of Watertown, carried a small cascade of purple carnations with her frock.

Mrs. Ramsay wore French rose Chantilly lace over taffeta with grey accessories and a blue delphinium corsage for her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Eleanor M. Harwood, Boston, mother of the bridegroom, wore a waltz-length gown of turquoise blue with a pink feathered hat and long pink gloves.

Mr. Douglas Randlett of Springfield was best man and the ushers were Arthur Wallace of Quincy, Edmund Dragon of Milton, J. Richard Lamere of Boston, and John Murphy of Walpole.

The bride was graduated from Green Mountain Junior College. Mr. Ramsay, a graduate of Brown University, class of 1950, is a member of Beta Theta Pi. A trip to Quebec followed the wedding.

Gala 75th Anniversary Observed By West Newton Women's Educational Club

Spring-like weather without and beautiful bouquets of flowers within, added to the gala observance of the Seventy-fifth Anniversary and Presidents' Day of the West Newton Women's Educational Club held recently in the Parish House of the Second Church in West Newton. Mrs. Sidney R. Williamson, President of the Club, officiated at the ceremonies, and Mrs. Percival Waters, who has been an active member of this organization for the past forty-two years, cut the beautiful four-tiered birthday cake.

The President and the guest of honor, Mrs. David M. Small, President of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs, headed the receiving line, followed by Mrs. Walter M. Gorenflo, 12th District Director; Mrs. Newell J. Trask, President of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs, and nine Past-Presidents. The Presidents of the Associate Organizations of the Newton Federation and the officers of the Newton Federation were special guests on this day.

Mrs. Williamson opened the business meeting with cordial greetings to members and guests, and after the usual reports of various committee chairmen had been given, she called upon Mrs. Ernest A. Dockstader, a Past President of the club, to tell about some of the outstanding activities of the club during its earlier years. Mrs. Dockstader then presented to Mrs. Percival Waters a lovely gift from the Past Presidents, in appreciation for her splendid work and never-failing devotion to the club through the years.

The President then introduced the guest of honor, Mrs. David M. Small, who presented the 75th Anniversary Scroll, a gift of the General Federation of Women's Clubs in recognition of "seventy-five years of distinguished service to the community and to the nation."

The stage of the Entertainment Room where the meeting was held was attractively decorated with bouquets of spring flowers and with two handsome white satin banners, dated in gold letters, 1880 and 1955 respectively. The first banner had been used by the club at its fiftieth anniversary party.

Mrs. Earl L. Ham, Program Chairman, introduced the speaker of the afternoon, Mrs. Ethel Henin Bowers, who reviewed two current Broadway plays, "Quadrille" and "Fanny" and spoke briefly of some of the other worthwhile plays in New York.

In the Young People's Parlor the Chairman of the Art Committee, Mrs. Chester MacDowell, had arranged an interesting display of stained glass medallions and also a collection of old pictures of Newton loaned by the Newton Library. The Hobby Class of the club had an exhibit of the toy stuffed animals which they had made for the Easter baskets for the Peabody Home for Crippled Children. Tea and a social hour were enjoyed by members and guests, Mrs. Edward A. Crosby, Mrs. William K. Duffy, Mrs. John F. Leonard, and their committee being the hostesses of the day, and Mrs. Willard C. Church and Mrs. Thomas Hayden the pourers at the coffee table. At the close of the social hour Mrs. Percival Waters cut the birthday cake — a delightful finale to a delightful afternoon.

Law to Require Statement on Cars Under Water

Following a favorable report by the Committee on Mercantile Affairs, the Massachusetts House has passed, without debate, a bill filed by Rep. Arthur G. Heaney of Newton, which would require motor vehicle salesmen to inform the purchaser of an automobile whether any part of the engine or electrical system had been submerged in water.

This legislation was filed as a result of reports reaching Rep. Heaney after the 1954 hurricanes of salvaged cars being sold to unsuspecting buyers at large profits. Many of these vehicles had been immersed in flood waters, suffering damage which might not be apparent for some time. It was felt that buyers of such cars should at least be protected to the extent of being informed of these facts. Failure to comply could result in fines of from $50 to $200.

The bill now goes to the Senate for approval.

Stanley Sroelov

Stanley Sroelov, 21, of 99 Hyde street, Newton Highlands, died February 28 at Beth Israel Hospital after a two-month illness. He was the son of Aaron and the late Jennie Sroelov, and brother of Cynthia Sroelov, owners of the Highland Delicatessen in Newton Highlands.

Stanley's death came only a week after his mother succumbed to a heart attack. He was graduated from Newton High School with the Class of 1952, and was attending Massachusetts Institute of Technology when ill health forced him to drop classes.

Services were held at the Levine Chapel, Brookline, March 1. Interment was in Mt. Hebron Cemetery, Long Island, N. Y.

Ice Chips to Be Held Next Week In Boston

Ice Chips of 1955, the forty-third annual ice presentation of The Skating Club of Boston, which is to be held at Boston Garden, Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings and Sunday matinee, March 24, 25, 26 and 27, continues the tradition of championship performances that has prevailed ever since the club's first amateur offering, way back in the winter of 1912-1913.

Presented every winter season "Ice Chips" as the annual production has been labelled for the past dozen or so years, being originally called "The Carnival", has presented for the Hub's enjoyment such outstanding competitive stars as Dick Button, Tenley Albright, Gretchen Merrill, Joan Tozzer, Grace and Jimmy Madden, Maribel Vinson, Roger Turner, Sherman Badger, Nat Niles, Theresa Weld Blanchard, who were all champions of their day as well as members of the club.

Feature act of Ice Chips of 1955, will be Mlle. Jacqueline du Bief, of Paris, and the 1952 world champion, who is flying to the U.S.A. particularly for The Skating Club's show. Mlle. du Bief was here in 1951, then wearing the French championship crown. After winning the world championship in 1952, she was induced by John Harris to sign for a professional tour with Ice Capades.. She is particularly noted for her interpretive style of skakting. Also in a starring role and making his first appearance in a Boston show is Ronal Robertson, the young skater from Long Beach, California, who was runner-up to Hayes Jenkins in the recent world championship.

ROBERT E. SEGAL

Tercentenary Program at Temple Shalom

Tomorrow evening (Friday), Temple Shalom of Newton will present the second of two programs devoted to the observance of the American Jewish Tercentenary. In place of the traditional Sabbath sermon, Robert E. Segal, Executive Director of the Jewish Community Council of Metropolitan Boston, will speak on "The Jew as an Effective American Citizen". Mr. Segal's talk will deal with contributions of Judaism and the American Jewish community to the United States with emphasis on the roles played by key individuals during the past three hundred years.

Mr. Segal, who was the first President of Temple Shalom, has been active for many years in organizations devoted to the improvement of group relations. His associations include membership on the boards of the Boston Mayor's Committee, the Greater Boston Council for Youth, and the Human Relations Center of Boston University. He is also serving as coordinator of the Boston Committee of 300 established by the Jewish Community Council to plan Boston observances of the Tercentenary.

Mental Health Seminar to Be Held Mar. 24

March 3 the first meeting of the seminar on Mental Health being held at Second Church, West Newton, was opened by Dr. Milton Greenblatt, Chief of Laboratories and Research, Boston Psychopathic Hospital. He told of the great improvements made in the admittance and general care of patients at the Psychopathic Hospital during the past 12 years. Contrasting the old routine of entering by a basement door and back stairs, forcible removing of clothing and all personal belongings, dressing in bathrobes and slippers and keeping all doors locked with the present system of gentle questioning, the normal clothing and unlocked doors used today he said the patients responded to these modern methods. Miss Ruth Schell, M.Ed., gave a resume of the intelligence and psychological tests given upon admittance, and Miss Mary Finn R.N., showed slides to illustrate the brain-wave tests given to help diagnose brain damage.

At the second session, held March 10, Modern Psychiatric Treatment was discussed, Dr. Greenblatt speaking of the physiological techniques of electric and insulin shock, surgery and new medicines that quiet anxiety and reduce tension. Dr. Robert Meser of the Psychopathic Hospital staff gave a simplified version of the Freudian theory that is the basis of the psychological treatment at the hospital, and Mr. Francis MacCumber told of new techniques in sociological treatments, including sociodrama and occupational therapy.

The next meeting to be held March 24 at 9:30 a.m., will be a discussion on "The Emotional Disorders of Children" by Dr. Thaddeus Krush.

Bill-

Attorney to authorize anyone, and I repeat, anyone, to tap any telephone wire at any time and without giving any reason The legislation now being considered would require these elected officials to ask approval of any judge of the Supreme or Superior Courts (40 in number) to carry on a wiretapping operation, either before doing so, or in case of an emergency, within three days after doing so. If desirable, such approval may be sought secretly.

"The two main so-called objections to the bill are that it would hamstring the Attorney General and District Attorneys, and there would be a possibility of "leaks." These are not valid reasons, unless we have no confidence in our judiciary No judge is going to deny approval if the law officers show the slightest reasons for tapping a wire, and the possibilities of leaks would be no greater than they are now. It seems to me this is a clear case of judgment involving possible invasion of privacy of all our citizens, in which two heads are better than one.

"It has been said that the "bookies" have been very much in evidence at the State House this past week, and even approached one of the lady members of the House on this matter. Not being acquainted with the "bookie" fraternity, I cannot say whether they were there or not, but I do know that no one at any time has asked me to vote for the bill, and I also know that all three of the lady Representatives have categorically denied any contacts by irresponsible persons.

"This same bill was up for consideration last year when we had a Republican majority in both House and Senate It was passed and subsequently vetoed by the Governor. But it might be of interest to look back and see how the vote went. The Senate passed the bill without a roll-call. Its second reading in the House resulted in a favorable standing vote of 68 to 30, then it was passed to be engrossed without even a standing vote. The next day a motion to reconsider the matter was rejected by a roll-call vote of, believe it or not, 163 to 65. And at that time, at least 53 Republicans voted against reconsideration.

"Last year and this year, I have voted for the bill because I feel on its merits it is good legislation, and because I think the people expect me to vote with consistency and according to my conscience. I feel the issue has been clouded by the introduction of arguments that the bookies are for it, the A.D.A. is for it, that the Democrat leadership has chosen to make it a party issue. Actually, many responsible and conservative groups have cited the need for such legislation—such groups as the Mass. Council of Churches. The conservative New York Times has advocated it, and Time magazine has editorially commented that wiretapping should not be outlawed, but that law enforcement officers as a matter of sensible procedure should request court orders for such action.

"I do hope these remarks will help to resolve the confusion, or at least explain my position, which I think is one of consistency, and most certainly is one of conviction.

GERTRUDE T. LOVELL

Gertrude T. Lovell, widow of Joseph N. Lovell, born August 15, 1874 in West Newton, where she has lived all her life, died Tuesday, March 15, after a brief illness.

Daughter of Edward B. Trowbridge and Adelia Jennison Trowbridge, both of whom were born and always lived in West Newton. Married Joseph Neale Lovell of Savannah, Georgia, on January 4, 1897, in the Second Church in Newton, West Newton, where she has always been a member. She served as Choir Mother for many years, president of the Woman's Guild and at the present time was serving as Sacristan of the Altar Guild of the church and she was on the office committee.

For twenty years she was House Mother of Student House of Massachusetts Institute of Technology and in the summer was manager of "Fernside," a Vacation House for Girls at Princeton, Mass. In January she was elected president of the Fernside Girls Vacation House Association.

She is survived by her daughter, Mrs. John C. Campbell with whom she was living at 40 Sylvan Avenue, West Newton, and a son, Joseph Neale Lovell of Stow, Mass., and a granddaughter Susan Lovell.

Services for her were held at the Second Church in Newton, West Newton, on Thursday, March 17, conducted by Dr. Ross Cannon, minister of the church, assisted by Dr. Boynton Merrill, a former minister of the church, now minister of the First Congregational Church, in Columbus, Ohio. Members of the church choir assisted. Burial was in Newton Cemetery.

Sophina G. Coty Exhibition to Open at Rockport March 20th

An exhibition of water-color paintings by Sophina G. Coty, 66 Grove Hill avenue, Newtonville, resident and teacher of art, will be held at the Rockport Art Association, Main street, Rockport from Sunday, March 20th through April 2nd. The show, comprising fifteen recent paintings, will include New England landscapes, portraits, and ballerina studies. Mrs. Coty's success in portraiture is largely the result of self-instruction, although she has made a profound study of the fundamentals of fine arts.

Besides being a member of the Rockport Art Association, Mrs. Coty holds membership in the Newton Art Association, the Copley Society of Boston, the North Art Association, the National League of American Pen Women, and the Boston Society of Independant Artists. Her works have appeared on exhibition at the local Banks and Libraries, the R. H. Stearns, the Jordan Marsh shows at Boston and Framingham, as well as the galleries of the Copley Society and those of Gloucester and Rockport.

The public is invited to attend the opening Reception at Rockport on Sunday March 20th from three P.M. to five P.M. and thereafter daily through April 2nd between two and five P.M.

Prof. Foley to Speak at Alumni Pow Wow

Tuesday evening, March 29, Dartmouth alumni of this section will gather for a "Pow Wow" at the Wellesley Country Club. The meeting will be a couples party and all Dartmouth alumni and their wives are urged to attend. Alumni are expected from Newton, Needham, Dedham, Norwood, Framingham, Wellesley, Natick, Weston and Wayland and the club hopes for a new attendance record at this gathering.

Professor Allen R. Foley, Professor of History at Dartmouth College, long a favorite speaker with the group here will come down from Hanover to address the meeting. His subject will be "Dartmouth as viewed from the Vermont side of the Connecticut." A social hour at 6:30 will start the program. Dinner will be served one hour later, after which Professor Foley will address the gathering.

Allen R. Foley, professor of history at Dartmouth College has been a member of his alma mater's faculty since 1929. A native of Framingham, Mass., he is the co-author with the late Prof. Charles R. Lingley of the college textbook, "Since the Civil War," and has also published various works concerning French-Canadians.

After graduating from Dartmouth with honors in 1920, he served for three years as headmaster and history teacher at the Farmington (N.H.) high school. During 1923-4 he was assistant in history at the University of Wisconsin, where he obtained his Master's Degree. In the fall of 1924 he returned to Dartmouth as an instructor, but left the following year in order to do graduate work at Harvard.

In Cairo, Egypt, while in the midst of a trip around the world, he was offered an instructorship at Dartmouth starting in the fall of 1929. He became assistant professor in 1932 and full professor in 1940.

Noted for his stories on Vermont humor, Prof. Foley teaches introductory courses in U.S. history and an advanced course on the history of the American West.

He is a member of the American Historical Association, the New Hampshire Historical Society, the Missisippi Valley Historical Association and the American Association of University Professors.

Davis School PTA

The Davis School P.T.A. Spring Social was held on Saturday evening, March 12, at 8:30 at the Peirce School in West Newton. Music for dancing was provided by the "Celebrity Six."

A male vocal quartet composed of Dr. Melvin Taymor, Mr. Anthony J. Farrington, Mr. Raymond R. Forte and Mr. William J. Jones vied with a group of mothers made up of Mrs. Don W. Fawcett, Mrs. Anthony J. Farrington, Mrs. Melvin Taymor and Mrs. Thomas F. A. Flynn. The judges, basing their decision on the applause of the audience, declared a tie. The entire group joined in "Happy Birthday" in honor of Mrs. Thomas S. Hayden.

Seen among the guests were: Miss Mary J. Nugent, principal, Mr. and Mrs. Max Greenberg, Mr. and Mrs. Paul O'Donnell, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cobb, Dr. and Mrs. Joseph McNamara, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony J. Farrington, Dr. and Mrs. Thomas S. Hayden, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas F. A. Flynn, Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Freeman, Mr. and Mrs. J. Ellis Bowen, Mr. and Mrs. John Flannagan, Dr. and Mrs. Don W. Fawcett, Dr. and Mrs. Melvin Taymor, Mr. and Mrs. Ray R. Forte, Dr. and Mrs. Richard Roche, Mr. and Mrs. Carl E. Hartbower, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Burgess, and Mr. and Mrs. Eugene A. Long.

Proceeds from the "Spring Social" will be used to assist with the expenses of the sixth grade trip to Topsfield and to purchase radios for some of the Davis School classrooms.

On Tuesday evening, March 15, meetings for parents of sixth grade pupils were held. Mrs. Natalie Romberg, Mr. Frank Favorat, Jr., and Miss Nugent explained the details of the sixth grade conservation trip to Topsfield. Since September, the students, under the skilled guidance of their teachers, have been studying, discussing and planning in preparation for this educational opportunity. They are now eagerly awaiting the moment when the functional aspect will begin. The trip is scheduled for the week of May 16.

The agenda will include discussion of the Fund Drive, which opens April 1, the recruiting of new members, plans for a survey of patients having Multiple Sclerosis, and requests for volunteers to work at the two M. S. Clinics.

Board Members are: Mrs. Harry Rosenfield, Mrs. Joseph Blank, Mrs. Lester Feinberg, Mrs. Joseph Schwartz, Mrs. Leo Becker, Mrs. Nathan Becker, Mrs. Earle Hoffman, Mrs. Jack Furman, Mrs. Ferdinand Hoffman, Mrs. Milton Korngut, Mrs. Maxwell Smith, Mrs. Helmer Raphael, Mrs. Albert Kessler, Mrs. Harold Falkoff, Mrs. Irving Nathanson, Mrs. David Zacks, Mrs. William Connelly, Jr., Mrs. William Connelly, Sr., Mrs. Maxwell Stenetzky, Mrs. Max Feldberg, Mrs. Mark Mitchell, Mrs. George Feldman, Mrs. Sumner Feldberg, Mrs. Alvin Miller, Mrs. Edward Appell, Mrs. Leo Vernick, Mrs. Harry Galloway, Mrs. Jacob Fox, Mrs. Louis Kobin, Mrs. David Kunian, Mrs. Daniel Blacklow, Mrs. Phillip Nexon, Mrs. Leonard Nectow, Mrs. Stanley Snider, Mrs. Samuel Perry, Mrs. Harry Blank, Mrs. Ramon Silton, Mrs. Arnold Levison, Mrs. Steven Gordon, Mrs. Morris Babbitt, Mrs. Eliot Parkhurst, and Mrs. Herbert Daitch.

Liturgical Music School Aug. 16-Sept. 2

Newton College's summer school of liturgical music, being held this year as the ninth time, will take place from August 16 to September 2, it was announced today.

Special feature of the 1955 session will be the presence of Dom Ludovic Baron as guest lecturer. Dom Baron is from the Abbey of St. Anne de Kergonan. He will give a course in the interpretation of Gregorian Chant which will be of special interest to choir masters and organists.

Another added feature will be a course in boy choir training. A choral workshop will also be held, in which the students and faculty will prepare a choral concert to be given in the last week of the session. Anyone interested in liturgical music and choral singing will be welcome to the concert.

The faculty will include Mr. Theodore Marier, Miss Margaret Leddy, Mrs. Richard Kenney, Mother Margaret Smith. Father Edward Beucler will be on the faculty also. The school will be under the direction of Mother Dora Guerrieri, B Mus., M.A., A.G.O.

Treat Kiddies to Purim Party

On Sunday afternoon, March 13, the Temple Emanuel Couples Club of Newton sponsored a Purim party for children of members. Sound movies were shown, Magician Mal Robbins performed, and ice cream and Hamantashen were served to all. To add to the further festivities of the party, gifts were distributed in the gaily balloon-festooned Temple Vestry.

Dotty and Mel Fine, Presidents, credit the success of the day to Ina and Lou Gordon, chairmen, and their committee consisting of Trudy and Alfred Agress, Lil and Lou Bergart, Helen and Irving Berk, Irene and Alfred Bickelman, Elaine and Gerald Elovitz, Buddy and Doris Goldberg, Edith and Dick Rosenblum, Mildred and Charles Rudnick, and Harold and Enette Shuman.

Special credit to Murray Slavet for his generosity and to Lenny Matthews — co-blower of baloons.

Musical to Be Given By Students

The Rodgers and Hammerstein hit, "Allegro," will be presented in the auditorium this Friday and Saturday for the first time by a high school. The two evening performances begin at 8:15 p.m. and Saturday matinee at 10:00 a.m.

No other activity comes closer to being an all-school event. This musical unites the plans and efforts of students and teachers in many departments. Sharing the spotlight with drama, coached by Miss Ann Sanquinetti, are singing groups, orchestra, and modern dance, while behind the scenes are contributors from the art, industrial arts, and home economics departments. Several hundreds have worked together to make this year's show as successful as "Brigadoon" and "The Student Prince" were on the high school stage.

"Allegro" was chosen last fall by a committee of faculty and students, with an eye to its scope for the many kinds of talent to be used in it, its audience appeal, good taste, and its suitability for high school pupils. In January as many as 500 students flocked to tryouts. Art classes under Miss Helen Miles designed scenery and costumes, and stage crew and home economics classes turned the designs into reality. The dancers worked out under Miss Marilyn Bickford. Meanwhile, under the guidance of co-chairmen James Remley and Helene Breivogel, publicity, tickets, programs, candy sales, and ushering get under way. Makeup director Helen Lee initiates many students to the art of grease paint.

For many students "Allegro" will be one of the highlights of their school career, giving them a greater sense of belonging, and the satisfaction of working with several teams.

SONJA MUELDER Lois Fleisher, Lynne Albert, Gerry Soule and Connie Forbes rehearse for "Allegro", the Rodgers and Hammerstein hit to be presented March 18 and 19 at Newton High School.

Discussion on Athletics, Art Music Mar. 22

Four outstanding members of the Newton School department will conduct a panel discussion on art, music and athletics at the next meeting of the Peirce School PTA, Tuesday March 22 at 8 p.m.

They are Miss Eleanor Elliott, art supervisor of the Newton Schools, Frank Simmons, supervisor of physical education, Dr. Edward Landy, director of the division on counselling service, and James H. Remley, supervisor of music. They will describe the extra advantages Newton Schools offer the children in addition to the regular classroom work.

Hostesses at the coffee hour following the program will be Mrs. Richard C. Hayes, Mrs. Lewis Lappin, Mrs. Morton Smith Petersen, Mrs. Leonard Schlesinger, Mrs. Robert Freeto and Mrs. Sydney J. Shutzer.

The Newton Archers will play host to the Massachusetts Archery Association first shoot of the season on April 1, at the Newton Centre playground. Visitors and persons interested in the organization are welcome.

New Salon to Open Monday at Chestnut Hill

One of the most modern and completely equipped hair dressing salons will open Monday at 1220 Boylston street, Chestnut Hill, directly opposite the Shopping Center of that area. Pierre & Robert, hairdressers, cordially invite all Newton ladies to visit their new and ultra modern salon and inspect this newest of hair dressing establishments.

Mr. Pierre was formerly associated with Pierre Marcell, Newbury street, Boston and has worked in Paris, Lord & Taylors in New York, Boston and Hancock Village. Mr. Robert formerly worked in Wellesley Hills and Hancock Village.

Customers of Pierre & Robert will find ample parking facilities available to make their hair dressing appointments convenient and easy.

Reading High School Group Guests Here This Sunday

Reading Unitarian Church's high school group of Liberal Religious Youth will be guests next Sunday, March 20 of the Jaynes League, L.R.Y. affiliate, of the First Unitarian Society in Newton at the West Newton Unitarian parish house. The program, beginning at 4:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon, includes games, supper, entertainment, a tour of the new church school building and a worship service in the new Cora E. Richards Memorial Chapel.

The gathering will also serve to welcome back the Rev. Brandoch L. Lovely, who was director of religious education at the West Newton Unitarian church school 1952-53, and who was installed only last Sunday, March 13, as minister of the Unitarian Church in Reading. Mr. Lovely was graduated cum laude in 1952 from Harvard College and received his S.T.B. from Harvard Divinity School in 1954. He was ordained as a Unitarian minister in May, 1954, in the Unitarian Church in Carlisle, where he served until his call to Reading in February. In addition to the formal act of installation by Wellington Cramer 3d, chairman of the board of trustees of the Reading church, the ofificiating ministers at the installation service in Reading included his father, the Rev. Napoleon William Lovely of Norwell, who also preached the installation sermon; Rev. Leon Converse Fay of Nashua, N. H., formerly assistant minister at the West Newton Unitarian Church; Rev. Joseph Giunta of Lexington; Rev. William DeWolfe of Wakefield; and the Rev. Ernest Pipes, of Albany, N. Y.

Peter Cobb, president of the Jaynes League, will conduct a short business meeting. Miss Marjorie Taplin is chairman of the supper committee and Dean Ellis and Deborah Stackpole will be in charge of games and the social hour. David Thompson will lead the worship service. Mr. and Mrs. John A. Stackpole, Jaynes League advisors, will assist as hosts.

Also accompanying the Reading visitors will be Mrs. David Boyd, advisor of the Reading Liberal Religious Youth group.

This joint meeting of the West Newton and Reading groups is in keeping with the recent vote of the Middlesex Federation of Liberal Religious Youth to discontinue sectional meetings and instead, to have individual church groups entertain each other. Five Federation meetings will henceforth be held during the year.

Under the auspices of the New England Regional Council, a week-end conference of several hundred Liberal Religious Youth representatives was held March 12-13 at the Unitarian Church of Melrose. Representing the West Newton Unitarian Church were Deane Ellis, Nancy Carroll and Deborah Stackpole.

Cong. Curtis to Name Two to Academies

Congressman Laurence Curtis (R-Mass.) today announced he will appoint one man each to the U.S. Military and Naval Academies for classes entering next year.

Curtis said he will also nominate ten men from the 10th Congresisonal District for examinations for 1956 appointments to the new Air Force Academy. The Air Force currently selects its own students from among the nominees.

Several alternates for West Point and Annapolis will also be nominated by the Congressman. These men are given preliminary examinations and may receive a principal appointment to an academy vacancy if for any reason the appointee is withdrawn.

"I hope great interest in these vacancies will be shown throughout our District by parents, school authorities and young men," Curtis declared. "It should be a matter of great pride that future admirals and generals, who will play an important part in the destiny of America, will come from our community."

Congressman Curtis urged interested young men to write him immediately at the House Office Building, Washington, 25, D.S. He will inform them later of arrangements for the competitive examination which he gives each year in Boston in July.

VA News
Veterans who are behind in payments on their GI home loans are warned to check carefully any offer by strangers to make delinquent payments if they, the veterans, will "sign on the dotted line."
The warning was sounded this week by George Ryan of the Veterans Administration's Malden Office.
He said that some veterans who have been bilked by the "equity skinning" or "milking" racket have found that they signed a deed over to an oily-tongued swindler and can get their property back only by signing a sales contract at a much higher price. When the veteran fails to pay the higher price, the swindler institutes legal action to obtain possession of the veteran's home.
QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
Q—I have a GI loan, and due to heavy medical expenses I've fallen behind on my loan payments. What should I do?
A—Immediately contact your lender, preferably in person, and explain your difficulty. If your financial problem is of a temporary nature and due to no fault of your own, the lender can extend the loan and adjust your payments in accordance with your present ability to make them.

IT'S LOVE
WE LOVE UNCLE SAM and he must love us. Why else would he sell us his heavy duty, genuine G.I. foot lockers at such a low price? Get this hot pre-camping season special, a $25 value at a low, low $11.95. Arnold's is a camper's paradise!! We're Johnny-on-the-spot — for very, very little we give you an awful lot. The camping and fishing supplies are rolling in. Our warehouse is filling up with foot lockers, tents, canteens, mess kits, wool blankets, folding cots, sleeping bags, shelter half pup tents, guns, ammunition, fishing tackle, etc. Speciti attention and special discount prices given to Boy and Girl Scout groups and other organizations. Did you like the prices and heavy stock of variety we gave you last season? You bet your life you did! You were kind enough to tell us about it and show it by your continued patronage. This year our selection will be bigger and better than ever. Prices are born here — they are raised elsewhere. For those who have been in our shop we need say nothing more. For newcomers, we simply say, "Let us quote you a price first." Check our quality, variety, low, low prices and shopping conveniences. Drop in and browse around. Open Wednesday, Thursday and Friday nights until 9. Other days, 9 - 6. Free off-street parking. Arnold's Surplus Center, 180 Worcester Turnpike (Route 9, near Route 128) Wellesley Hills. Reyim Brotherhood Award Breakfast To Be Held Sunday

President Harold C. Case of Boston University will be honored this Sunday morning at the first "Annual Award" breakfast of Temple Reyim Brotherhood to be held at the Newton Centre Woman's Club. The award is given for eminence in the fields of education, religion and civic affairs.

HAROLD C. CASE

Included among the many dignitaries who will be present to pay homage to Dr. Case are Mayor Howard Whitmore Jr., Judge Charles A. Rome, Trustee of Boston University, Henry Berlin, noted Boston philanthropist, Morris Spelfogel, President of the National Federation of Jewish Men's Clubs, and Rabbi Samuel Perlman, head of Hillel House at Boston University. Mr. Milton Korngut is General Chairman of the Award Committee. Arrangements Chairman is Mr. Myron Idelson and in charge of publicity is Mr. Arthur Galer.

A record gathering is expected and Dr. Herbert N. Shepard, Brotherhood President, has announced that fewer than forty ticket reservations are still available. Due to catering arrangements, it is necessary to close all reservations by Friday tacting Mr. Leon Glick, 169 Oliver road, Waban.

Parking Area

Car Lot to Help Unplug Walnut St. Traffic Jam

Another step toward easing the parking problem around Newton High School was taken Monday night when the Board of Aldermen approved construction of a 24-car parking lot between the Drill Shed and Elm road.

At the same time, the board turned down another parking area recommended by the Mayor between the south driveway of Building Three and the existing fence. The first lot will cost $6000, but the estimate of $11,000 for the second was given as the main reason for turning it down.

Earlier this year the board had restricted parking on streets surrounding the high school in an effort to unplug the traffic snarls caused by cars parking on both sides of streets, especially heavily-used Walnut street. Once this hard-surfaced lot is constructed, further restrictions may be placed in force to help clear Walnut street.

The lone voice in opposition to the high school parking area was that of Alderman William M. Powers, who objected to spending money for student parking "when so many business areas are crying for off-street auto facilities."

Declaring that the move seemed to lack "farsightedness," Powers said this was not really taking care of the parking situation at Newton High. "There is ample precedent in private and public schools to restrict student parking," the alderman stated. He added that a ban on students taking cars to school would probably meet with the approval of parents.

The board also voted to grade Albemarle road on the playground side of Cheesecake Brook, from Crafts street to Watertown street, at a cost of $5400 to provide easier access to the playground and the Newton North Little League field.

This is part of a project originally proposed to cost $31,000, including paving of the road and installation of curbing. Alderman Edwin A. Terkelsen, chairman of the Public Works Committee, explained, however, that his committee "did not want a city street beside the playground" as that would attract too much traffic.

Installation of curbing on the playground side of the street, he said, would stop spectators from parking on the playground, and grading of the street would make it sufficient for the light playground traffic. Slanting the street toward the brook would also help keep the roadway in good condition, he said.

POLITICAL OVERTONES

Meeting to Decide Control of Democratic State Committee
Rep. Curtis' Bill Would Outlaw Unauthorized Wire Tap

An unusual battle for control of the Democratic State Committee probably will be ended next week, if the supporters of Chairman John C. Carr show up in force for a meeting of the committee to be held at the Hotel Bellevue a week from Saturday, April 2.

Should the Carr backers boycott the session, the strife and dissension within the Democratic organization undoubtedly will continue indefinitely lessening what little political effectiveness the committee still has.

An odd aspect to the situation is that on the basis of all the developments to date Carr would be a favorite to beat back the challenge of William H. Burke, Jr., of Hatfield, if he makes an all-out effort to rally his forces and settle the pulling and hauling once and for all.

Carr, however, has adopted an ostrich-like attitude toward the entire situation, has firmly maintained that he has no right or authority to call an election and has seen his position weakened by his failure to demonstrate any real leadership and bring together the two warring factions within the committee he heads.

Civic Ass'n To Organize Into Groups

Members of the Newton Civic Association, the first city wide non-partisan political organization in the history of Newton organized to endorse and recommend the election of endorsed candidates to the citizens at large in municipal elections, agreed to break into ward groups for pre-election activity.

"Representative government on a local level must be preceded by a political group which organizes our citizens in our many villages to that end," explained Carrol J. Hoffman, president of the Association. "It is the responsibility of each one of us to know enough about what our public servants are doing to know whether we wish to vote for their re-election and recommend it to our friends and neighbors."

To this end of giving Newton citizens an opportunity to become better acquainted with their representatives in municipal government, neighborhood meetings sponsored by Civic Association captains will be held in each area of Newton.

The Newton Civic Association was organized in 1953 for the purposes of "promoting efficient, representative and responsible government in the City of Newton . . . to encourage citizens to take an active interest in the affairs of the City of Newton . . . and to encourage and support the candidacy of reliable and competent men and women to seek election to public office."

Over 59,000 Boxes of Cookies Sold

Orders for 59,000 boxes of Girl Scout cookies have been received, according to Mrs. Edson DeCastro, chairman of the annual cookie sale. This is a large increast over last year's sale.

You still can buy cookies from March 30 - April 2 at the following stores: Star Market, Newtonville; Filene's, Chestnut Hill; Park Snow's, Newton Centre; Hubbard's Drug Store, Newton Corner.

The proceeds will go toward obtaining a new camp site for Newton Girl Scouts.

Newton Girl Scouts greatly appreciate the support, co-operation and help received from the public.

Watch for your cookies at the end of the month.

Teacher's Federation Meets Mon.

The annual meeting of the Newton Teacher's Federation will take place this Monday at the High School

The business meeting will begin at 5 p.m., followed by a dinner in the cafeteria at 6:30 p.m. At this time, greetings from Mayor Howard Whitmore Jr., and Henry W. Keyes, chairman of the School Committee will address the gathering

Dr. Harold Gores, superintendent of schools, will be presented and will give a talk to the members of the Federation. Following the talks, a new slate of officers for the coming year will be announced.

The dinner will be followed by entertainment in the auditorium.

Nationalist China's U.N. Ambassodor Says:

Chinese History Forecasts Doom of Communist Rule

PRINCIPALS at the Brotherhood in Action meeting held at Temple Shalom last week, were, left to right: Mayor Howad Whitmore, Jr.; Bertram H. Lowenberg, dinner chairman; Honorable Liu Yu-Wan, Nationalist Chinese Ambassador to the United Nations; Leonard Luchner, president, Temple Shalom Brotherhood, and Rabbi Murray I. Rothman of Temple Shalom. (Photo by G. R. Wilk)

The oppressed peoples of China will one day rise up again and unleash their fury on the Communist tyranny which now grips their country, according to Liu Yu-Wan, Chinese Nationalist Ambassador to the United Nations in a speech delivered at Temple Shalom Brotherhood dinner last week.

This overthrow of the Communists will not be accomplished by an armed invasion of troops from Formosa but will be the result of an uprising within China itself, at which time Nationalist forces on Formosa will "go home" and lend its strength to the cause. The history of China proves that other ruthless dynasties were overthrown by the people, and so will this present ruthless regime suffer, stated Mr. Liu. The mission of the Nationalist givernment is to "keep the torch of freedom alive," and China, whether strong or weak, is the "pivot of Asia," he declared.

The Ambassador warned that Stalin understood the psychology of Asia and that the continual "cease fire" attitude of the free world is a retreat.

The time may not be too far distant, stated Mr. Yiu, when the uprising will be accomplished and at that time the Nationalist forces on Formosa will play a prominent part. At the moment, patience must be observed until the time for action arises, he emphasized.

Newton Boys' Club Takes Over City's Gov't Today

The youngest mayor in Newton's history was scheduled to take over the city's administration from Mayor Howard Whitmore Jr. this morning (Thursday) as part of the local observance of National Boys' Club Week.

Starting at 9 a.m., representatives of the Newton Boys' Club were slated to run the city in the place of department heads and aldermen. Heading the list of replacements is Charles Fremault, an Our Lady's High student, who is to move into the mayor's office.

Others scheduled to take over city departments are Wayne Barthelmes of Day Junior High, public buildings commissioner; Robert Wik of Day Junior High, city clerk; Victor Gigliotti of Stearns School, Civil Defense director; Edward Murphy of Newton Technical - Vocationa' High, fire chief; Theodore Williamson of Day Junior High, health officer; Larry DiBona of Newton High, police chief; John Ahearn of Stearns School, recreation commissioner; and Larry Gentile of Stearns School, street commissioner.

The young aldermen are Paul Proia, Paul English, Stanley DeCosta and Paul MacDonald, all of Day Junior; James McDonald, Charles Doucette, John Vachon, Richard Wilowski, Fred Lennon and Wallace Sampson, all of St. Jean's; Victor Lapoma, David Tabaldi, Edmond Altierio, Jerry Marchand and Bruce Grober, all of Stearns School; Walter Smith, Nazareno Tempesta and Donny Antonellis, all of Our Lady's School; Anthony Sauro and Joseph Conte, both of Lincoln Eliot School; and Francis Copan of Newton Technical-Vocational High.

Mayor Names Advisory Committee On Buildings

An advisory committee consisting of outstanding engineers and building planners has been named by Mayor Howard Whitmore, Jr., for the purpose of aiding in planning and construction of needed public buildings.

"In spite of the fact that the city has spent, or committed to be spent, some $9,250,000 on the construction of school buildings and additions, and $1,100,000 on other public buildings since 1947, still more construction lies ahead," Mayor Whitmore said.

Continuing the mayor added, "In addition to new construction, replacements and substantial renovations must be considered.

"It appears desirable, therefore, to obtain the advice and assistance of citizens who have particular training and experience in such work. We are most fortunate to have many such citizens in our city. I have asked seven of them to serve on a committee to work with me and I am indeed grateful to them for their willing acceptance. Their contributions in this most important field will be of real benefit to the city in its efforts to provide efficient and economical public buildings."

The following men will comprise the Citizens' Advisory Committee on Construction of Public Buildings:

Roy E. Argersinger, 62 Avalon road, Waban, a resident of this city since 1916; Ernest F. Dietz, 92 Hancock avenue, Newton Centre, a resident of Newton for the past 30 years; Ernest A. Dockstader, 303 Highland avenue, West Newton, a resident here since 1926; William J. Kirk, 20 Morse road, Newtonville, also a resident here since 1926; Kenneth S. May, 200 Lincoln street, Newton Highlands, who was born here; Frank L. Soule, 89 Ridge road, Waban, who has resided here since 1941; and, Kentaro Tsutsumi, 48 Freeman street, Auburndale, who has resided here for the past eleven years.

GOP Head to Speak Here This Mon.

Elmer C. Nelson, chairman of the Massachusetts Republican State Committee, will be the speaker at the opening meeting of the newly-organized Newton Women's Republican Club this Monday at 8 p.m. at the Beethoven School in Waban. Republican women have been actively engaged in a city-wide membership drive and a capacity audience is expected at this meeting which has been designated as "Charter Member Night."

May Reject Items Not 'Essential'

The effect of Mayor Howard Whitmore Jr.'s proposed record-high $14,095,038 budget on Newton's current $44.50 tax rate will be revealed Monday night when the Board of Aldermen hold their annual budget meeting.

At the 7:45 p.m. session, the aldermen's Finance Committee will report on its month-long deliberations on the mayor's budget requests. There seems little doubt that cuts will be made in the mayor's recommendations, but just how much remains to be seen.

The Finance Committee, headed by Alderman Earle D. Wood, has been meeting with city department heads since the budget was presented February 14 to discuss municipal expenses item by item. In the past, the committee's recommendations have been followed very closely by the full board with only minor changes, if any.

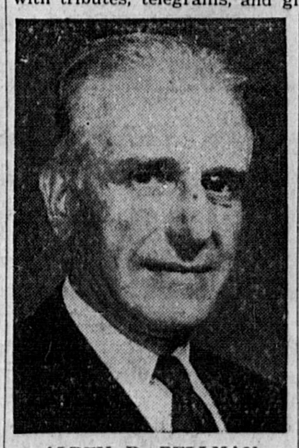

In presenting his budget, Mayor Whitmore characterized it as being "not as tight" as last year's, which was nearly $13,000,000. The 1955 budget, he said, contains several projects which, although not absolutely essential, he felt should be undertaken this year.

Among these projects are a $100,000 Nonantum Branch Library, off-street parking lots in Newton Highlands, Auburndale and Nonantum, an $800,000 sewer and drain bond issue for

H. J. Pettengill Honored At Community Chest Meeting

At the annual meeting of the Newton Community Chest held last Thursday evening at the Normandie Room, Auburndale, H. J. Pettengill, retiring executive director, was showered with tributes, telegrams, and gifts.

ALDEN R. BELLMAN

Past and present members of the chest staff, Board members and friends outfitted Mr. Pettengill with complete photographic equipment including camera, projector, screen and viewers, with which he can record his activities when he retires to Falmouth next June.

Former Mayor Theodore R. Lockwood was among those who sent telegrams of congratulations to Mr. Pettengill. Others from whom telegrams were received were Harry M. Perry, executiv director of United Community Service, Boston, and Murra E. Sholkin, a board member who was unable to attend. Speaker: likewise paid tribute to Mr. Pettengill's 13 years on the staff.

Dedicate Three Windows At Centenary Methodist

Three colored windows, installed at the front of Centenary Methodist Church in Auburndale facing Central street, were dedicated Sunday by the congregation during the regular church service.

The windows were the gift of the Methodist Men's Group, which was represented at the service by Ted Burk Representing the trustees was Dr. Charles L. Clay, who received the windows on behalf of the church membership. The dedication exercise was led by Rev. Sydney Adams.

The windows were made by the Whittemore Associates of Boston. All three are at the front of the church, one on either side of the front entrance and the third in the pastor's study.

The windows are symbolic in nature. The one to the right of the entrance carries the inverted cross and crossed keys, traditional symbols of Peter, leader of the early church The window to the left of the entrance shows the open Bible and sword which represents the Word of God as the sword of the Spirit, and forms the traditional shield of Paul who led the church in its first missionary outreach.

The window in the pastor's study depicts the ship and cross which has become the modern symbol for the ecumenical movement, or the "household of faith." The work "ecumenical" is actually a very old word derived from the Greek "oikes" meaning "house." It referred to the whole inhabited earth. Oikou mene was first applied to conferences to describe those which brought together members of the "household of faith" from all over the known world. In its modern usage, the word "ecumenical" signifies the "whole household of faith embracing all races, all nations, all branches of the Church itself throughout all the world."

The "ecumenical movement" is the movement toward Christian unity, and is the official seal of the World Council of Churches which met in Evanston, Illinois, last summer The plan for the window was taken from the official seal, and is the first of its kind in this part of the country.

East League Tryouts Set Next Month

Boys hoping to play in the Newton East Little League this season have only until next Monday to present their application and consent forms so as to be eligible for next month's tryouts.

Boys who hope to play in the East League must be residents of Newton Centre, Oak Hill, Thompsonville or Chestnut Hill, south of Commonwealth avenue. They must attend the Bowen, Countryside, Mason, Memorial, Mt. Alvernia, Oak Hill, St. Sebastian, Sacred Heart, Spaulding or Weeks Junior High Schools.

Prospective players must not reach their 13th birthday before August 1, 1955. Tryouts will be held starting Saturday, April 2, at the Little League diamond on the Newton Centre Playground—weather permitting.

The tryout schedule calls for boys of league ages of 10, 11 and 12 to practice April 2 at 1 p.m. Should it rain that day, the tryout will be postponed a week to April 9 at the same time.

Tryouts for boys 8 and 9 years old will be April 9 at 10 a.m. If rain forces postponement, these tryouts will be April 16. Should further delays become necessary, then notice will be sent to all applicants.

The Newton East season will open on April 23 and will be completed before July 1.

Says That Free World Still Has A Chance

The Free World still has a chance to win the Orient. This is the theme of the World Vision Institute sponsored by the Newtonville Methodist Church during the week of April 24 to May 1. The great southern half of the eastern hemisphere that stretches from the islands of the Pacific through Southeastern Asia across India into the continent of Africa offers the highest challenge of our time for the free expression of ideas. Christianity has a tremendous opportunity to reach out to an awakening area of the world.

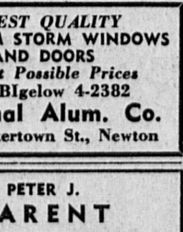

Dr. John D. Copp, former headmaster of a native boys' school in Samoa after receiving a graduate degree at the University of New Zealand, will preach at the Sunday morning service on April 24. Dr. L. Harold DeWolf, who is preparing for a sabbatical year teaching in the native pastors' schools of Africa, will be honored at a dinner on Friday, April 29. Prof. Ehrensperger, who taught at Hyslop University at Nagpur, India and is now director of the Foreign Students' Program at Boston University, will preach on May 1.

The program has been planned by the Commission on Missions with the Rev. Hamilton M. Gifford, pastor, and Prof. Taylor E. Miller, chairman.

Rawson 'Regrets' Licensing Bill Failed in House

"Much regret" was expressed by Rep. George E. Rawson of Newton this week over the legislature voting down a bill to license real estate brokers and salesmen.

"Having spent my life in the insurance business," said the Newton representative, "an opportunity has been given me to observe the great benefits which have accrued to the public, to the insurance business and to the men and women in the business because of laws which require insurance agents and brokers to be licensed. The incompetent and dishonest people have been driven out of the business and insurance underwriting has been raised to a profession."

Rep. Rawson explained he has consistently supported such legislation for Massachusetts, taking the stand that it would benefit both the profession and the public. He filed a bill in the House calling for licensing, but switched his support to a similar measure filed in the Senate since it was "a better bill."

The Committee on State Administration gave an unfavorable report on Rep. Rawson's bill, and the local legislator was unable to muster enough support to substitute the Senate bill for it.

"However," said Rep. Rawson, "I am convinced that the General Court will eventually pass a bill to license realtors, because the public will someday demand it. The realtors themselves desire it now."

Waban Players Present Comedy March 25-26

Aptly described as a pleasantly preposterous comedy, "My Three Angels" by Sam and Bella Spewack, will be the Spring production by the Waban Players, to be presented at the Waban Neighborhood Club Friday and Saturday evenings, March 25 and 26 at 8:30.

The play revolves about the amusing activities and antics of three convicts in a tropic land when they are accepted as part time workers in and about the household of a local merchant.

The cast includes Mrs. Betty Woods, Mrs. Irma Trefrey, Mrs. Greta Brandt, and Messrs. John D. Drummey, Philip K. Brown Jr., Ralph I. Schoonmaker, Richard Morgan, William L. Brown, Lawrence M. Sibley and Edwin Hawkridge. The play is directed by Mr. George Glendining.

Chairmen of the Drama Committee are Mr. and Mrs. Edward S. Culver, with Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth S. Nugent as co-chairmen.

Mrs. Darwin Neumeister of 39 Pine Ridge road is in charge of tickets, which are also on sale in Waban at Rhodes Pharmacy, Waban Gift and Yarn Shop, and Waban Wine Shop, or they may be purchased at the door prior to each performance.

Better Known As "Pete"

H. J. Pettengill, better known as "Pete" to just about everyone in Newton, is going to officially retire soon as Executive Director of the Newton Community Chest.

"Pete" Pettengill has devoted the past 13 years of his life to a conscientious, industrious and sincere effort to make the Community Chest a workable, well-knit organization and in his effort he has succeeded. But his work with the Newton Community Chest is not his only endeavor which has brought a rounder, fuller accomplishment of his efforts for the city's benefit.

It has not been our privilege to have known "Pete" Pettengill as long as many residents of this community but nevertheless in the time that we have known him, we have admired his capacity for work, his sincerity of purpose and his unflinching devotion to every cause in which he has lent his efforts.

Newton will lose a valuable man in the retirement of "Pete" Pettengill but will have gained immeasurably because of having him serve the people of this community for the past 13 years. Yet who will begrudge him his decision to retire to a quieter and more peaceful life at his home in Falmouth, where in the future he can reflect with pride upon his accomplishments in Newton. Certainly "Pete" Pettengill, in his retirement will not forget the city of Newton. Neither will Newton forget the wonderful work which "Pete" accomplished while serving here.

Good luck and good health to you "Pete." You richly deserve the peace and quiet which we are sure you will find in your retirement.

Any Kid Named Joe

One place or another, we've all run into Joe. He's that potential problem boy down the street. He is certainly not vicious and he isn't a delinquent—not yet. It's just that Joe, who down deep, is much like other kids, is not an altogether adjusted young citizen—usually through no fault of his own. Sometimes the reason lies in an unhappy home atmosphere. Again, the singular ease with which Joe gets implicated in mischief may not be due to an excess of high spirits, but to a misdirection of them.

If we have the patience, and infinite skill, to get Joe to chat with us, we'll find him eager to let off steam but totally unaware of how to go about it without provoking the suspicions, if not the ire, of our constabulary who, after all, have more than their fair share of "Joes" to worry about. In a word, our young friend's surplus steam needs guiding into channels where its high compression will benefit him, and ultimately, society. Unhappily, if this normal ardor for action is not directed with thoughtfulness, the upshot is often maliciousness. This absence of community thoughtfulness is unfair to Joe and can be costly to our citizenry.

And parents, too, can profit by reading in another section of this issue, a talk delivered by Frank Simmons, Supervisor of Health, Physical Education, Safety and Conservation for the Newton Public Schools. This talk is a straight from the shoulder approach by a man who has spent some 33 years working with the youngsters of this community and whose experience and conclusions are valuable guides.

This week marks the current observance of National Boys' Club Week. We all realize that there is no ready-made, miraculous answer to the widening problem of juvenile delinquency. But a realistic, intelligent and warm-hearted approach to it is that of the more than 400 Boys' Clubs across the country. In any one of these, Joe and youngsters like him, ages 8 to 20, have a place of their own for sports, arts and crafts, music, dramatics, hobbies and 101 other activities all conducted under the supervision of trained program directors and skilled volunteer workers on an every-day, every-boy basis. There, Joe's grade-A animation is guided by expert, helping hands towards goals that spell constructive citizenship.

And Joe's interest and morale is boosted immeasurably with a kind pat on the back, a word of encouragement and a close comradeship right in the home.

Easter Seals

Could the shape of the 1955 Easter Seal, which appears wider for the first time, symbolize the change in the nation's attitude toward its crippled throughout the years. This is something to think about.

In its 10 years of service, the Bay State Society for the Crippled and Handicapped, Inc., the official Masachusetts Easter Seal Society, has proved that something can be done to help handicapped persons.

Before the Bay State Society was organized, facilities for the crippled in Massachusetts were few and far between. Today, there are rehabilitation centers in Boston, Worcester and Springfield, where crippled children and adults, regardless of cause of crippling, race, or creed, learn to walk, talk, feed, and dress themselves and become physically independent.

Funds from the Easter Seal campaign which continues through Easter Sunday, April 10, also provide camp vacations for crippled children, an equipment pool of wheelchairs and walkers, a program for the homebound, social casework services and job placement for crippled adults.

Easter Seals have proved that the handicapped can be rehabilitated into tax-paying, instead of tax-supported residents of the Commonwealth. It is our moral duty to advance the work of rehabilitating crippled persons. Help make them useful citizens!

Cuts Can Be Made

Speaking about cutting unnecessary and wasteful Government spending in the interest of balancing the budget next fiscal year:

A commission headed by former President Herbert Hoover finds that Federal paperwork—the daily blizzard of forms, letters, carbon copies, etc., etc.,—is costing us taxpayers about four billion dollars a year!

That's about equal to the entire U. S. Federal budget prior to 1933. It means that Federal paperwork is costing the average American family of four about $100 in taxes a year.

The Hoover economy program, if adopted, would slice about $255,000,000 worth of red-tape immediately. It shows that cuts in Federal spending, to bring about a balanced budget, are possible. They should be made.

And while they are at it, cut out the free mail franking privilege now extended to political office holders. Ninety-nine and ninety-nine/one-hundredth percent of it is never read.

RANDOM CLIPPINGS

Newly proclaimed King Mahendra of Nepal is now in the process of sleeping on straw for 13 days as part of his ritual of mourning for the death of his father. He moved from his palace to a nearby tent. During the mourning period Nepali men will shave their heads, go barefoot and eat only one meal a day.

story of the Easter Egg

The true story of the Easter Egg is like that of many of our fascinating holiday legends—lost in the midst of obscurity.

Easter itself was named after the Anglo-Saxon goddess of Spring, Eostre, who was believed to be especially fond of children. To delight and gain their friendship, legend declares, she long ago transformed a beautiful bird into Mr. Hippety-Hop, the bunny, credited with laying the egg, which in return symbolizes fertility and new life awakened by Spring.

Throughout the Christian era painted eggs, especially those colored red, have been used to denote the Resurrection—symbolic of the blood shed on Calvary. It is believed other bright and varied colors were added in a desire to imitate the brilliant hues of the returning sun and accompanying Spring flowers and foliage.

The old custom of dyeing hard-boiled eggs is traceable in America to the early Dutch settlers in New York and Pennsylvania. Today, of course, candy eggs are big favorites. Here is a recipe for one that can be made like magic without any cooking at all in a matter of minutes:

DATE-NUT FONDANT EGGS

2/3 cup (½ 15-oz. can) sweetened condensed milk
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
4 cups sifted confectioners' sugar
1 cup chopped nut meats
½ cup chopped pitted dates

Combine sweetened condensed milk and vanilla. Gradually add confectioners' sugar and mix until smooth and creamy. Add chopped nuts and dates; blend into sweetened condensed milk mixture. Form into little Easter eggs. Chill until firm.

Meanwhile, Burke, seeking to force a showdown, is going ahead with preparations for the meeting a week from Saturday. He has promised an opportunity for his foes as well as friends to express themselves and to cast their ballots in a fair election.

Whatever else does or doesn't happen at next week's session, a fiery row is almost certain to erupt there, and to understand the background to it, it is necessary to go back and trace a series of events which started last June, shortly after the Democratic State convention in Worcester.

Robert F. Murphy of Malden had been endorsed by the convention as the Democratic candidate for Governor, and Murphy's supporters wanted to oust Carr from the State Committee chairmanship and install Maurice Flynn, Jr., also of Malden, a Murphy lieutenant, in his place.

Carr refused to give way. At a stormy meeting he ruled that he had been placed in office for a four-year term and that no new election could be held. On a test of strength he was upheld by a vote of 34 to 31, and there was no election.

One of the persons who lined up votes behind Carr was Burke. Except for the help Burke rendered, Carr might have been dropped from the chairmanship.

It now appears that the ruling Carr made last June was wrong and that there should have been an election of committee officers at that time. Even Carr's own supporters admit there is some basis for that contention.

Late last year, an agreement was made that Carr would become city manager of Medford, would step out of the State Committee. Burke immediately began lining up support in a move to take over the chairmanship he held back in the Roosevelt era.

A terrific row developed in Medford, however, over the attempts to throw out the present city manager. So much furore ensued hat Carr backed out of that situation, announcing that he wouldn't take the job.

Burke, who had mustered substantial support in the expectation that Carr would get out, then decided to make a bid for the chairmanship anyway. The State Committee has held no meeting since last June, and his supporters filed a petition asking that a meeting be called in Springfield two weeks ago last Saturday for the purpose of electing officers.

Carr called a meeting for that day in Boston but worded his notice in such a way that no election could be held. The Burke group then went ahead with its session. The result was that there were two meetings on the same day, one in Boston and one in Springfield. Burke was elected chairman by the Springfield gathering, and Carr was given a vote of confidence by the group which convened in Boston.

That left one group of committee members acclaiming Burke as their lead er and another element insisting that Carr was still their chairman. Carr was still sitting in the chairman's office, and in this instance possession appeared to be 100 percent of the law, but the battle obviously was doing the Democratic party no good.

Democratic leaders, annoyed by the wrangle, have been demanding that the two groups get together, decide upon somebody as chairman and then end their nonsense and stop washing their dirty linen out in public.

Burke agreed to do that and consented to a Boston meeting attended by all committee members. Carr, however, opposed such a session, arguing that no election could be held until next June.

That is where the situation rests at the moment, but a good many committee members believe they have some responsibility to show up at the meeting a week from Saturday and do what they can to restore some semblance of order to their organization. They are apprehensive that their failure to do so might well be used as an argument for unseating them when a new committee is chosen at next year's Pre-presidential primaries.

Even as the echoes of the wiretapping controversy at the State House were slowly fading, Congressman Laurence Curtis appeared before the House judiciary committee in Washington yesterday in support of his bill to outlaw unauthorized wiretapping. The Curtis measure would make all unauthorized tapping of interstate communications systems a felony.

The conflicts over wiretapping on Boston's Beacon Hill and Washington's Capitol Hill followed two different lines of reasoning, and they must have left many people completely confused.

Supporters of the Massachusetts wiretap measure were seeking the enactment of a law requiring that the Attorney General and District Attorneys obtain court sanction before tapping a telephone wire.

Curtis, however, explained that his bill is aimed at criminals and crooks who may engage in this nefarious practice . . . " His measure would make that practice a criminal offense.

The Congressman's bill specifies that "whoever willfully or maliciously and without legal authority taps a telephone wire or makes other provision for listening in on said wire with the purpose of interception or listening in on any communication line used or useful in interstate communication shall be fined not more than $1000 or imprisoned not more than three years or both."

Curtis explained that he filed his bill because he felt the present laws "do not adequately protect the public." He observed that the Federal Communications Act now provides that it is illegal to "divulge or publish" intercepted phone messages. The Congressman said that struck him as similar to a law which would make bank robbery legal so long as the thief did not spend the money he stole.

"Unauthorized wiretapping is an invasion of people's privacy which cannot be tolerated," Curtis declared. "In many cases it is actuaally an invasion of the home.

"The underworld characters, the crooks, and any others who stoop to this procedure are certainly entitled to no consideration," Curtis told the judiciary subcommittee, "and surely the public is entitled to every protection. The criminal law must be called upon to do this job, and the law should have teeth."

Curtis declared at another point in his testimony that in recent days wiretapping had become more prevalent and that further controls are needed.

The phase of the wiretapping situation which he discussed at length in advocating the passage of his bill actually played little part in the debate in the Massachusetts Legislature.

Where the State lawmakers were seeking to place restrictive curbs on law-enforcement officers, Curtis' proposed federal statute is aimed at criminals who tap telephone wires for nefarious purposes.

The two measures appear to be entirely different. From this distance it seems that one could be entirely consistent in supporting Curtis' bill while at the same time opposing the Massachusetts measure.

Warren Jr. High "Spring Swing" Tomorrow Night

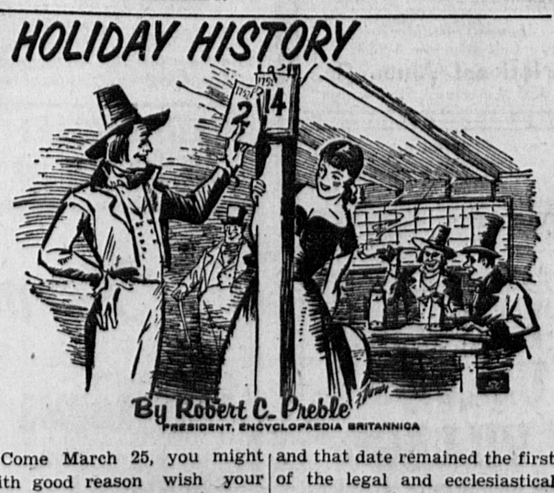

The Warren Junior High School Parent-Teacher Association will sponsor another dance for the eighth and ninth grades tomorrow (Friday) night at 8 o'clock in the school gymnasium.

To be known as the "Spring Swing," this dance is the fourth in a series of social events sponsored during the current school year by the P.T.A.

The adult committee co-chairman for these two grades are Mrs. Louis Vassalotti and Mrs. Payson LeBaron. Assisting as chaperones will be Mrs. Jacques Yates, Mr. and Mrs. J. Victor Jordan, and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Thompson.

The student committee consists of William Biddle, Alice Jacobson and Ricky Adams for the ninth grade, and Thomas Terrio, Jean Winer and Paul Daley for the eighth grade.

HOLIDAY HISTORY

Come March 25, you might with good reason wish your friends "Happy New Year." For centuries this was New Year's Day.

According to the Encyclopaedia Britannica, the change in the Gregorian calendar in 1752 made it necessary to wipe out 11 days of the year, which was done by declaring that the day after September 2 was September 14, not September 3. This brought England into step with the Catholic countries, which had adopted the Gregorian calendar in 1582.

During the Middle Ages, March 25 was considered the first day of the new year by most Christian peoples, but in Anglo-Saxon England, New Year's Day fell on what is now Christmas — December 25. At the time of the Norman Conquest of England, however, William the Conqueror ordered that the year should start on the first day of January — possibly, it is believed, because his coronation was scheduled for that date.

Still later, England reverted to the custom observed by the rest of Christendom and began her year on the 25th of March, and that date remained the first of the legal and ecclesiastical year until 1752, when the calendar was adjusted to the Gregorian system which is still in use today.

The ancient Egyptians, Phoenicians and Persians began their year at the autumnal equinox, September 21, and until the fifth century before the birth of Christ, the Greeks regarded the winter solastice, December 21, as the first day of the new year. The notion of celebrating New Year's day on January 1 was introduced by Caesar when he adopted the Julian calendar and postponed the Roman holiday of New Year's from December 21 to January 1.

No Need to Re-side Your Clapboard House to STOP PAINT PEELING

THE CAUSE: Peeling of paint on exterior wall surfaces is caused mainly by warm moist air from inside the house expanding thru plastered sidewalls into the confined-air-spaces of outer walls, where condensation occurs and builds up during the cold weather.

The siding becomes permeated with moisture (water-vapor) penetrating through to the paint film, resulting in loosened and blistered areas.

THE REMEDY lies in proper ventilation of the wall spaces between studding; and the solution to this problem is the VAPOR-VENT CLAPBOARD, properly installed, two courses in each story, replacing your present clapboards at these points only. The moist air trapped in each stud-space is released through vent-holes drilled through the sideboards, then escapes to the outer air by means of channels grooved in the back of the clapboard, (channels not visible when installed). Just the right amount of air circulation is provided for, to prevent excessive condensation, and to dry out siding, including the insulation, by creating this vital "breathing belt" around the house.

A moisture-meter test of your clapboards at this time of year will show varying degrees of moisture absorption from within. After installing VAPOR-VENT clapboards as indicated, a period of time should elapse during which the walls may dry out before repainting. When once sufficiently dried, as may be indicated by a moisture-meter, a good paint job may safely be performed, with no subsequent blistering or peeling likely to occur.

Not Expensive, but Already Proven in dozens of houses over recent years, with no failures, all tough cases, apparently cured permanently of paint failure caused by condensation. (Addresses on request).

Bigelow Jun'r High Fair Attracts 650

A total of 230 students took part in the annual Science Fair last week at Bigelow Junior High School, exhibiting 175 widely-varying projects in the school's gymnasium.

The fair attracted 650 visitors, proving so popular that in future years it may be necessary to ask parents to attend at special times depending upon the children's grades. Youngsters from the sixth grades of the four grammar schools in the Bigelow district also came to see the show, swelling the total attendance figure.

First prizes were awarded to James Draper for his exhibit, "Astronomy as a Hobby;" Dushan Mitrovitch, "Wind Tunnel;" Mark Eastman and Henry Berenstein, "Living Protozoa;" Olga Langille, "Uses of X-Rays;" Seta Der Hohannesian, "Fourth Dimension;" Patricia Gordan, "Synthetic Jewels;" Barry Wish and Gene Samburg, "Conductors of Electricity;" Carole de Rensis, "Ant Life;" and William Doyle and John Ackerman, "Light through the Ages."

Second awards went to Philip Livingston, "Transformer;" Chester Baker, "Soil Erosion;" Oliver Noonan and Reinier Beeukes, "Amateur Radio;" Robert Lerner, "Identification by Dyeing;" Julian Prince and Harold Metcalf, "The Air We Breathe;" Alan Howard and Charles Snider, "Communications Receiver and Transmitter;" Martin Beckwith and Roger Sperber, "Oil Drill;" John Beeukes, Barry Berlin and Sherman Andelman, "Miracle of Sound;" and Richard Moran, "Mechanical Arm."

Winning third prizes were Robert Bolan, "Anemometer;" Joan Lewis and Esther Wax, "Paper Making;" Myrna Rice ond Naomi Levowich, "Dyes;" Lloyd Guptill and Robert Lenox, "The Sodium Atom;" Lloyd Gainsborough and Stanley Sklar, "Solar Heat;" Peter Gaber, George Maveas, Arthur Marcus and Larry Rittenberg, "Metal Man;" Gerald Burg, "Photosynthesis;" Joseph Zophin, "Use of Dam;"" Joseph Panasuk, "Transmitter and Receiver;" and Paul Gleason, "Tesla Coil."

Most Powerful Car at its Price!

Come in and try the sensational performance of Pontiac's 200-HP Strato-Streak V-8!

If all the talk about horsepower has left you confused, let this one simple fact set you straight.

Model for model, the sensational all-new Pontiac Strato-Streak V-8 delivers more horsepower per dollar than any other car in its field.

And that holds good whether you specify the four-barrel carburetor—a low-cost option that puts 200 eager horsepower under Pontiac's handsome hood—or the regular 180-horsepower Strato-Streak V-8.

The Strato-Streak V-8 engine, part and parcel of every Pontiac at every price, produces performance as fresh and distinctive as Pontiac's years-ahead Twin-Streak styling and Vogue Two-Tone beauty—and delivers it with traditional Pontiac dependability and the greatest economy in Pontiac history.

But Pontiac's extra value doesn't stop with power. Its Shock-Proof chassis, wide-stance rear springs, long 122" or 124" wheelbase, recirculating ball steering and bigger brakes provide comfort and handling you'd expect only in the costliest cars.

Come in soon and personally road-test Pontiac's spectacular Strato-Streak V-8 performance.

It won't take you long to see why Pontiac sales are at an all-time high!

You can buy a big, powerful Pontiac for less than many models of the lowest-priced cars and much less than stripped, economy models of higher-priced makes!

Emerson School PTA To Present Three Act Comedy May 6 and 7

On the evenings of May 6 and 7 the Emerson School Parent-Teachers Association in conjunction with the Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club will present the three-act comedy, "Belvedere." This is the play on which were based the popular motion pictures of a few years ago, "Sitting Pretty" and "Mr. Belvedere Goes to College."

The proceeds realized from this play will, once more, be set aside for the Scholarship Fund, which was set up seven years ago by the joint efforts of these two groups, and, as has been the practice, two scholarships will be awarded to worthy Newton High School Seniors from the Newton Upper Falls community.

Edward Osborne of Newton Upper Falls, appearing in the title role of this production of "Belvedere" will dutifully take up his tasks as that of the genius turned baby-sitter for the children of a young suburban couple, played by Priscilla Holt and Robert Proctor. Their two children will be played by Jerry Walker and Allen Downes. Others in the cast are: Ben Melanson, Kay Walker, Leonard Accettullo, William Burke, Mrs. Ben Melanson and Mary Vlass.

The opening light, May 6th, will be a real "first night" in more than one respect. It will be the first time that the new wing of the Emerson School will be used for such a purpose and it will be the first time, also, that many in the audience will witness "theatre-in-the-round"—which is to be set up in the gymnasium of the school's new wing. In prior years this joint group, the Emerson P.T.A. — Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club, has presented its fund-raising plays and minstrel shows on a conventional-type stage in the auditorium of the school. This new mode of presenting legitimate plays and musicals is as interesting as it is provocative; for instance, in "theatre-in-the-round" the audience, rather than being seated on only one side of the stage, as is the case in the conventional manner, is placed all around the acting area, giving the viewer the chance to see and hear better. Because of his proximity to the acting area and because of the necessary plasticity of the actors, the viewer also has the feeling of being virtually in the play himself.

The Director of "Belvedere", Edward O'Neil, a professional actor and director, received his early training at The Boston Tributary Theatre. After a season with this group, he studied at the Bishop-Lee Theatre School. While there, he was both a director and an actor at the Old Forge Summer Theatre, as well as a script writer and a featured actor on a dramatic program broadcast over a local Boston radio station. After graduating from Bishop-Lee, Mr. O'Neil formed his own summer touring company. Together with his wife, also a Bishop-Lee graduate, they are currently appearing before women's clubs and various other organizations throughout New England and are known in this field as "Mr. and Mrs."

Camp Mary Day Committee Now Busy Making Plans For Summer

There will be Camping-Day Camping for Newton Girl Scouts at Camp Mary Day this summer. Mrs. Edward Axelrod, chairman of the Day Camp Committee is already busy with Mrs. Thomas J. LePore who will serve as Day Camp Director, and Mrs. Joseph Mitchell, Field Director in charge of Day Camping in planning for a greatly expanded program for this summer. The combined facilities of Camp Mary Day and the Quabbin sites offer wonderful opportunities. A new dock and the use of weed killer this winter will make possible a bigger waterfront program. Mr. Irving House, camp ranger, will be on the property at all times and the toll road does not spoil the use of the property for all camping activities.

The camping week will be extended to four days instead of the usual three with nature study, out-door cooking, arts and crafts, tramping and trailing, swimming, boating, square dancing and campfires, all a part of the program.

There will be three two-week encampments available to all Brownies, Intermediates and Senior Scouts with five or six units to accommodate the various age groups. Chartered buses will provide transportation to and from the campsite. Because of the Toll Road construction the approach to the Girl Scout Day Camp will be through the Winter Street entrance.

Day Camp folders will be ready for distribution in a few weeks. Early registration for the desired camping period is urged.

W. D. Brownell, Jr. Guest of Newton Highlands Garden Club

The next meeting of the Newton Highlands Garden Club will be held Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock at the workshop of the Woman's Club on Columbus Street. The president, Mrs. Harold A. Sheehan, will conduct the business meeting after which Mrs. Clifford W. Rust, program chairman, will introduce Mr. W. Dexter Brownell, Jr., noted rose specialist and grower.

Mr. Brownell will exhibit plants and discuss hybridizing and the growing of roses.

Mrs. John C. Hitt, Miss Clara Dillaway, Mrs. Harry L. Walen, Sr. and Mrs. H. L. Walen will be in charge of refreshments.

The club has voted to engage in a project for hastening the reduction of Japanese beetles, promoted by the United States Department of Agriculture. This is a long range plan and members of the club will be supplied with the necessary material and instructions. Complete information may be obtained from Mr. Howard A. Chittick, Fairfax Biological Laboratory, Clinton Corners, New York, or Mr. J. A. Ditman, Box 186, Laurel, Maryland.

Oak Hill Circle

Wednesday afternoon, March 30th, at 2:30 in the Parish House of Trinity Episcopal Church, Newton Centre, The Oak Hill Circle will present Miss Muriel Cox in "Spring Fashions" to be followed by tea. Miss Cox is Director of the Chamberlain School of Retailing, Boston.

She comes to us at the time of year when winter has left us all depleted, and we need a fresh outlook—or maybe a new costume, to raise our spirits.

Mrs. Natalie A. Kimball is chairman and Mrs. Arthur M. Stewart co-chairman of the following committee—the Mrs. Otto Both, William Bradshaw, William Cummings, Howard Dunbar, Douglas Francis, Jerome J. Francis, James Goddard, Albert Hegnauer, John E. Knight, Alex J. Meland, Louise W. Pierce, D. Allen Smith, S. B. Senior, George Van Gorder. Tickets may be purchased by contacting any of the committee.

Those pouring at the tea to follow Miss Cox talk on "Spring Fashions" will be Mrs. William F. Fullerton, Mrs. Harold E. Burnham, Mrs. G. R. Breitze, Mrs. W. Cornell Appleton, Mrs. Edmund W. Perry, Mrs Walter Stewart, Mrs Amos E. Kent.

Agnes Carr Writer's Club

Mrs. John R. Hogan of 109 Walnut Hill road, Newton Highlands, president of the Agnes Carr Writers' Club of Boston, announces the Members Program for the next regular meeting at the Boston Y W.C.A., 140 Clarendon street to be held Wednesday.

The program starts at noon with the business meeting scheduled for 2 p.m. At three o'clock the Annual Members' Program will be presented Miss Agnes Carr, Honorary President will read her prize-winning poem entitled "American Way."

Newton Service League

The annual dinner of the Newton Service League will be held Saturday at the home of Mrs. Donald Willis, Central avenue, Auburndale. Mrs. Herbert Thurston will be co-chairman with Mrs. Willis.

Mrs. Edward Leonard, Mrs. Thomas Dewan and Mrs. John Mileikis of Newton Centre are all assisting with plans for the evening. The dinner will benefit the New England Home for Little Wanderers.

Newton Highlands Woman's Club

Skits on child health and voting will share the program Wednesday, April 6, of the Newton Highlands Woman's Club at a 2 p.m. meeting in the Workshop.

The Public Health Committee under Mrs. John D. Fox, chairman, will dramatize "A New Baby Pays His First Visit to the Well-Baby Clinic." The volunteer worker will be Mrs. William Cochran, who is director of the Well-Baby Clinic in Nonantum. Mary Jane LaFayette will act the role of the nurse, and the doctor will be portrayed by Dr. Leslie MacMillan. Completing the cast are Mother Springer and Baby Michael.

Also present for a few remarks will be Mrs. Matt B. Jones, president of the Visiting Nurse Association, and VNA Executive Director Miss Katherine McDonald, who will be the guest of honor.

The Civic Affairs Committee, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Willard G. Rice, will present a skit written and directed by Mrs. George J. Elbaum. Taking part in "Ballot Box Blues" will be Mrs. Kenneth Waite, Mrs. Charles J. Brown, Mrs. Leonard Bassett, Mrs. Kenneth Lynde, Mrs. Herbert Anderson, Mrs. Frank Black and Mrs. Rice.

Aub. Garden Club Exhibition Voted 'Most Charming'

The Auburndale Garden Club was awarded the Beacon Hill Cup last week for the garden display it exhibited at the annual Spring Flower Show in Mechanics Building, Boston.

This cup is given annually to the Garden Club creating the garden which, in the opinion of the judges, is the most charming in the show. This is the second time the Auburndale group won the award, as they received it three years ago when the club entered its last exhibit.

Mrs. Richard L. Kenney was the chairman for the Auburndale committee, assisted by Mrs. Howard N. Atwood, Mrs. Charles S. Grover, Mrs. Charles A. Higgins, Jr., Mrs. Franklin K. Hoyt, Mrs. Robert G. Reed and Mrs. Charles R. Shipley Jr.

Lutheran Church Ladies' Guild

The Ladies' Guild of the Lutheran Church of the Newtons will hold a Rummage Sale in the parish hall of the church at the corner of Centre and Cypress, Newton Centre, Friday, March 25th from 9 a.m. until 3:30 p.m.

Miss Emma Menge is chairman for the sale, and will be assisted by the following ladies of the Guild; Mrs. Paul Reiner, Mrs. Sally Archer, Miss Marie Volk, Mrs. Henry Markus. Mrs. Norman Honecker, Mrs. Arthur Block, Mrs. Peder Stennes, Mrs. William Titchner and others.

Mason-Rice P.T.A. To Run Giant Sale

A giant Rummage Sale, sponsored by the Mason-Rice P.T.A. Thrift Shop for the benefit of the Marion Cutts Scholarship Fund, will be held in the Rice School in Newton Centre next Wednesday. Sale hours will be from 9 a.m. to noon and from 1 to 4 p.m. The scholarship is awarded each year by the Mason-Rice P.T.A. to a Newton student who intends to enter the teaching profession.

A wide assortment of coats, hats, dresses, shoes, sportswear and baby clothes will be on special sale, in addition to books and household bric-a-brac. All articles in the Rummage Sale will be sold at special bargain prices. The Thrift Shop is open to the public and easily accessible on a first floor location.

Assisting Mrs. E. Philip Levine, Mrs. Thomas DiMaura and Mrs. Joseph Hurst of the Ways and Means Committee will be Mrs. Charles M. Mehlsak, Mrs. Robert Pettit and Mrs. Gordon MacDonald.

ANNUAL BIRTHDAY PARTY of the Camp Fire Girls will attract many of the girls and their parents this afternoon (Thursday). The affair will be held at the Countryside School. Shown above are Janet Frye and Deirdre Smith.

Camp Fire Girls to Help Make "Freedom Ring" This Afternoon

"Let Freedom Ring," the birthday theme for Camp Fire Girls all over the United States, is also the theme for the birthday party of Newton Camp Fire Girls and Blue Birds being held at Countryside School this afternoon. Representative of each group will present to Paul Revere a birthday present of money earned during the candy sale as part of the Greater Boston Camp Fire Girls' pledge to help rebuild the old North Church tower. Paul Revere, who is Arline Rosemark — eighth grade Camp Fire Girl, also passes out charms to the super salesgirls chosen for their sales records in the December candy sale. Highest selling honors went to Mary Lynn Bornhoff, with Ronnee Hoffman a second. The others are Susan Bloom, Lisa Loeb, Beth Ann Margolis, Marcia Hurst, Deirdre Smith, Sharon Alperin, Susan Ciccariello, Joanne Cooper, Jane Dorfman, Barbara Hurwitz, Judith Irwin, Arline Lewis, Sandra Pagano, Joanne Spilman, Judy Troy, Eileen White, Toby Winston, Anita Minear, Mimi Kay and Marianne Harrelson.

Martha Kuhns, another eighth grade Camp Fire Girl, and chairman of the meeting will introduce the special guests of the afternoon from the Girl Scout organization, — Mrs. Ernest Dietz and her Brownie daughters, Judy and Susie, who bring greetings from the Girl Scouts.

Miriam Ruth Milner, as narrator for the annual birthday show, will explain to the audience the significance of the Bill of Rights to Americans. She will introduce the three skits honoring famous bell ringers of freedom which will be dramatized by three fifths grade Camp Fire groups. As each scene is completed, the Blue Bird chorus will sing as little Alex Robinson climbs a ladder and hangs high another bell for freedom.

The first bell ringer, who stood for Freedom of Religion was Roger Williams, played by Ann Shotz. Ann Hutchinson is Clarisse Patton. Indians and colonists include Patricia Barnard, Mary Lynn Bornhoft, Shirley Nash, Susan Powers, Jeannette Scranton, Judy Troy, Eileen White, Brenda Lindemann, Judy Landon, and Linda Tyler.

Freedom of Press is portrayed by a scene from the life of Peter Zenger. Zenger is being played by Faye Waldman. Lisa Loeb will be the fiddler Other characters are Nancy Bernstein, Rebecca Brightman, Ellyn Freeman, Beverly Jacobson, Sandra Pagano and Sally Poutas.

Patrick Henry, to be played by Gail Stanley, rang the bell for Freedom of Speech and Assembly. The Frontiersmen were played by Joan Olken, Leslie Robinson, Geralyn Sharff, Virginia Stubbs, Ronna Greenberg, Barbara Goodbar, Janet Warner, Miriam Lovenwirth, Debby Farren, Dianne Weiner, Meryl Resnick, Claire Beck, Judy Carlan, Barbara De Santis, Lynne Friedman, and Anne Melinda LeCompte.

A large chorus of Blue Birds tie the story together and give it meaning for today's children. Ladder holders are:—Jane Dorfman and Toby Winston. The following are picture frame girls:—Jan Curry, Sandra Scofield, Joanne Spilman, Roberta Appell, Nancy Beth Ratzkoff, Barbara Siegel, Arlene Lewis, Susan Ciccariello, Ronna Flaschner, and Judith Irwin. The general chorus included Susan Fick, Leslie Rosoff, Cheryl Sneider, Carol Pagano, Linda Sandler, Lorraine Seidler Irna Levison, Beth Ann Margolis, Donna Crew, Laura Lee Bornhoff, Lyn Stron, Judy Melvin, Deirdre Smith, Shirley Pray, Martha Stanfield, Sharon Weiner, Barbara Hurwitz, Nancy Lee Purinton.

The entertainment committee consists of Mrs. Benjamin Loeb, chairman, Mrs. Harry Farren, Mrs. Raymond Smith, Mrs. Samuel Stubbs, Mrs. Max Siegal and Mrs. Peter Coogan, Mrs. Lawrence Margolis, Mrs. Franklin Flaschner, Mrs Eric Lindemann. Members of hospitality committee include Mrs. Charles Renker and Mrs Arthur Dorfman, co-chairmen, Mrs. John Kuhns, Mrs. George L. Ratzkoff, Mrs. James Sullivan, Mrs. Mark Lyons, and Mrs. Earl Mullair, Mrs. Albert Abramson is in charge of candy sale awards, Mrs. Nat Chonin handles the general funds, and Mrs. Leon Freeman is in charge of window displays. She is being assisted by Sonya Loeb, Ellyn and Gail Freeman and the Blue Bird groups of Mrs. Richard Dunham, Mrs. Albert Freeman and Miss Isabel Onate.

Costumes were made by Mrs. Dunn's Camp Fire Girls Hostesses were fourth grade Blue Birds at Countryside School.

Entire Membership of Centre Methodist Church Meets Mar. 29

The entire membership of the Newton Centre Methodist Church will meet at a "Loyalty Dinner" Tuesday, March 29, for the presentation of plans for a proposed Reconstruction and Renovation Drive.

In January the Official Board of the church authorized the minister, the Rev. Willard Arnold, to appoint a committee of five to study the needs of the church, both departmental and physical, to consult with the architect, Arland A. Dirlam; and to prepare a Program of Advance, which will be voted upon the night of the dinner Members of this committee include Mr. Jess D. Traylor, chairman; Mr. Alton Butler; Mr. Melbourne A. McCullough; Mrs. Robert Pope; and Mr. Roy M. Robinson. This committee was supplemented by a group of interested church members who, serving as a Resources Committee, in a one-meeting session evaluated the "giving" and "interest" potential of the membership list. If it is voted to conduct a financial drive, leaders captains, and workers will be chosen to contact all members and friends of the church.

The consideration of church needs was a result of the hurricane "Carol", which destroyed the E. Ray Speare Memorial window, damaged the organ, and caused widespread water damage. The extent of improvements beyond the restoring of the chancel to its original condition will be dependent upon the vote of the congregation following the presentation of plans. If it is voted to proceed, the services of Dr. Neil Pendleton, well-known fund raiser, will be engaged.

TELE-VIEWING THE NEWS

By LEE LOUMOS

It seems there's always a week being set aside for somebody or some group . . . like national "love your dog" week, or national "prune the roses" week. But this month a week was set aside which quite naturally gave us a little pride. It was National Television Serviceman's Week . . . a quiet way of paying tribute to the hard-working group of specialists all over the country who contribute so much to day in, day out television enjoyment.

Thinking about this "week" reminded us of a question we're often asked. How come the set owner has to pay a service charge in addition to the cost of parts when he has TV service? It's something like asking a doctor how come you have to pay $5 for taking a speck out of your eye, when the little piece of cotton he used only cost a fraction of a penny. The TV technician has to put in a long period of training to acquire the know-how and experience needed for accurate service on the complex TV set. He has to acquire a large stock of tubes and parts, as well as expensive electronic testing equipment. On every service call he "invests" his time, his training and his equipment . . . and the nominal "service charge" is the only way he can make that investment without going broke! It all adds up to this: YOU make a sound investment yourself when you call on our service skill to put your set right.

We've had a lot of experience with installation problems in this area. Call on that experience.

A DISTINGUISHED PANEL will discuss "Planning for Newton's Future' at a meeting of the League of Women Voters to be held next Tuesday evening at the Beethoven School. The panel will consist of, left to right: Lorenz F. Muther, Jr., executive secretary of the Newton Taxpayers' Association; Charles E. Downe, director of planning, Massachusetts superintendent of commerce; Mrs. Abaham Korff, co-chairman, local affairs committee, League of Women Voters; Mrs. Seymour S. Getter, president, Newton League of Women Voters; Mayor Howard Whitmore, Jr., and William Hopkins, chairman, Newton Planning Board. (Photo by Godon R. Wilk)

Distinguished Panel Will Plan for Newton's Future

"Planning for Newton's Future" will be discussed at an open meeting of the League of Women Voters of Newton Tuesday evening, March 29. The meeting will be held at the Beethoven School at 8:00 p.m.

Heading a distinguished panel of speakers will be Mayor Howard Whitmore Jr., who will act as moderator. Different phases of the problem will be presented by Dr. Harold B. Gores, Superintendent of Schools in Newton; Mr. Charles E. Downe, Director of Planning of the Massachusetts Department of Commerce; Mr. William Hopkins, Chairman of the Newton Planning Board, and Mr. Lorenz F. Muther, Jr., Executive Director of the Newton Taxpayers Association.

"Newton is fast reaching the point where its total population will be 100,000. A city that large faces problems far different from the traditional ones we have faced. It is the purpose of this meeting to find out what these problems are, how they are being faced in the various divisions of our government, and what the citizens of Newton feel about them.," explained Mrs. Jules Baer, Chairman of the Local Affairs Committee of the Newton League.

Mrs. Baer is in charge of arrangements for the meeting, assisted by the members of her committee. She stated that Mr. Gores will present the plans and problems faced by the School Department. Mr. Downe will discuss the ideal aspects of a planning program for a city. He has been a consultant to the Newton City Government in the past and is well qualified to discuss its problems, she stated. Mr. Hopkins will present the work of the Planning Board in Newton, while Mr. Muther will present the views of a citizen group, the Taxpayers Association. There will be a question period following the panel discussion.

Members of the Local Affairs Committee who have helped with plans for the meeting include: Mrs. Abraham Karff and Mrs. Charles Worthen, Vice Chairmen; Mrs. Robert Segal, Mrs. Myer Armet, Mrs. Richard Mintz, Mrs. Ralph Feldman, Mrs. Charles Robinson, Mrs. George Roberts, Mrs. Isador Slotnik, Mrs. Leopold Beckwith, Mrs. Sarley Feldman and Mrs. Daniel Jacobson.

Mrs. Seymour Getter, President of the Newton League, has urged all Newton citizens not to miss this meeting as it will help them to know the problems faced by their government and to decide on the solutions they think advisable, so that they will be in a position to vote and act intelligently about them.

members of the community, especially those residing in the East League areas of Oak Hill, Newton Centre, Chestnut Hill, and Thompsonville are urged to attend. Money raised by the affair will be used to purchase baseball equipment for the East Little Leaguers.

Rotary Club Presents Gift To Boys' Club

Seventy-five members of the Newton Rotary Club had lunch at Newton Boys' Club as part of the National Boys' Club Week Observance.

President Richard White, presided and introduced Larry DiBona, age 15, a member of the Boys' Club, who spoke on "What the Boys' Club has meant to me." Larry has been a member of the club for the past seven years. Larry brought out the improvements that have developed during the past year, and how much the boys have enjoyed going to the Club.

As a surprise to the members of Rotary two pieces of woodworking machines were uncovered and were presented by Orville O. Clapper as a gift from the Rotary Club. These machines will establish for the first time a woodshop where boys can work and enjoy themselves. Wood for the woodshop has been promised by Mr. C. V. Freeman. The Shop will be known as the Rotary Club Woodshop. Mr. August E. Mascaro, Executive Director of the Newton Boys' Club was guest speaker and also accepted the woodworking machines on behalf of the Boys' Club.

Says "Delinquency Can Be Placed In Laps of Parents"

"I believe delinquency today can be placed in the laps of parents," said Mr. Frank Simmons at the March 15 meeting of the Horace Mann P.T.A. "Doc" Simmons is Supervisor of Health, Physical Education, Safety and Conservation for the Newton Public Schools.

He has been with the school system for 33 years, working with its young people in a field which, perhaps more than any other, provides a healthful outlet for the natural energy of children as well as a release from the tensions which are unavoidable in the process of growing up.

Before going into the subject matter of his talk, "Doc" thanked all the parents who had helped with the Skating Program which this year provided 13,831 children with an opportunity to skate at the Skating Club. $6,900.00 was contributed to the program.

Mr. Simmons emphasized the fact that Newton has been blessed with mighty fine parents and with wonderful children, both in the days when the city's population was 55,000 and now when the number has risen to 85,000. He did not, however, minimize the dangers which beset today's society in this respect, saying that unless we are careful we may not be able to say the same thing thirty years from now. One unfortunate fact is that while only 5 percent of the population reckon in the problem of juvenile delinquency, this small faction receives tremendous publicity, whereas the other 95 percent are too often overlooked.

FACED WITH CONFLICT

Said Mr. Simmons, "Let's think of what may be causing some of our sorrow, and what we can do about it. We sometimes fail to remember that, while a teenager is battling the rest of the world, he is also having the biggest fight within himself." He went on to explain that this inner struggle and uncertainty which beset all young people was formerly a phase which people of college age experienced, but that with the speeding up of our mode of living, this age has been constantly lowered; that nowadays children of junior-high-school age face this conflict, and that the same problems, seem to be approaching the elementary school level. "We have to admit, for the sake of these young people, that our modern civilization does not help the uncertain youngster."

As parents and teachers, how can we help our teenager? "Learn to know him better—easier said than done. To understand him better we should remember that he is at a time in life when he desires to be exactly like his age mates. It is upsetting to him to feel that he is different from others." As teachers and parents it is our job "to interpret any difference a youngster may have to the youngster himself. Some parents seem to 'rub it in' a little instead. Give the child encouragement at this time. Give him a chance to understand himself. It is in this way that a youngster becomes more mature, by being better able to see his new abilities, interests and peculiarities as they really are."

"Doc" Simmons described the onset of adolescence as the period when boys and girls begin to boast of the superiority of their own sex and to exaggerate the faults of the opposite sex. This denotes a dawning interest. A more startling symptom is the amount of attention a young fellow pays to himself in front of a mirror, and an appalling one is the experimentation by the young miss with certain paints and polishes.

MEASUREMENTS OF VALUE

Mr. Simmons described some of the amusing examples of the teenager's measurement of values, so often ridiculous in the eyes of adults, but went on to speak of the more serious aspects of the frustrations and anxieties which young people experience; of how, when frustration becomes unbearable, they must find some way out. In this respect they are basically like some adults. One way for them to solve their dilemmas is to sit down and construct well thought out answers, but this is likely to be the last choice. "When things begin to pile up to an intolerable level, the child reacts by striking back. . . . We know it is not uncommon for a youngster who has received abuse at home to start stealing from the corner grocer as a way of fighting back."

"The typical delinquent, physically capable of taking care of himself, is temperamentally reckless; a bit impulsive, lacking in responsibility to the point where he is destructive, and basically resentful of the situation in life where he finds himself. It s the instability of the home which nourishes such delinquency and it is in the home where he learns to be suspicious not only of parents but also of the authority carried by other adults."

Whereas some children react to frustration by striking back, there are others who react by bowing to circumstance by giving up, even by running away.

What can be done to eliminate some of the problems which bring on frustrations and the resultant bad behavior reactions? "Doc" felt that the popular recommendation to provide recreation, more recreation, and still more recreation was only a partial solution. He suggested the following:

ADULT LIFE EXAMPLES

"We should put some orderliness into the life of the young teenager. While it is unpopular to speak of discipline, it is, among other things, a means of orderliness in their own lives. If the youngster is unable in his early teens to see the relationship between his behavior and his own well being, then it is mainly because he is seeing too much of the disorderliness of the adult world around him. We must try, at this stage, to create in these youngsters an appreciation of life itself. One of our problems is that the home presents different patterns of the basic value of life to the point where the youngster doesn't know which one to choose. On the other hand, if the moral standards of parents are well defined, and the youngsters know those standards and learn also to defend them among their peers, we believe this is a strong assurance that they will practice these standards through life. We must remember that standards of living are learned by imitation and example, more than by lecture or discussion. Parents, in this you should take hope; in this you can also accept responsibility and stop passing on to other social institutions the responsibility or the failure of your own youngsters."

Mr. Simmons has watched the homes of this city for 33 years and has had contact with hundreds of the young people from these homes. In his personal judgment of what has happened or is happening; today, there are three types of homes which are likely to produce juvenile delinquents. There is the home of the doting parents, and there are probably too many of these in Newton. These parents are well meaning, but they cannot say "no" to their children. This means that it is the child who eventually rules the home, and it also can mean trouble. There is the home where parents drink excessively and where the child cannot help but become confused, frequently ashamed, with the result that in some way he tries to strike back. There is the home of discorded parents who seem to have no interest in their children and who turn them over to society to bring up, where no love from the parents is demonstrated.

IN LAPS OF PARENTS

Mr. Simmons said that he believed delinquency can be placed in the laps of parents; that we should all remember that when the home is lost, the nation will go; that we must strive to build a community with homes of good training, with parents who understand their tremendous responsibility to the children they bring into the world. He said that the parents cannot be expected to do the entire job alone but that it will take teamwork. He spoke of the delinquent 5 percent as a challenge to us, and reminded his audience that the 95 percent who remain are having a tougher time than did previous generations, due largely to the disruptions of war and the continued threat of war.

In concluding this part of his talk he said that he had confidence in the people of Newton, that for years and years they have been giving their children the best that was in them and that it is his hope they will continue to do so. "I have courage through my experience in this city to know that we are not going to lose the battle. Remember, parents, invest time in your youngsters, for they are an investment you can win on."

After this "Doc" showed lantern slides of a typical camping trip to Bradley Palmer State Park, a beautiful 200 acre estate with a sixteen-room mansion, located in Topsfield and Ipswich. This estate was given to the Commonwealth of Massachusetts and is now the site of many a happy and instructive outing for school children. These slides showed children in the classroom, planning for their trip, what they would take, what they were going to try to learn when they reached their destination; showed them en route and arriving; captured the excitement of their experiences with the baiting of hooks and catching fish; showed their absorption in the observations of flowers and horseshoe crabs, baby squirrels and tadpoles. One important lesson which is part of this outdoor classroom is instruction in the proper building, lighting, and extinguishing of a campfire. Lt. Lawrence Clark of the Newton Fire Department always spends at least one day with the boys and girls in order to teach these things. Another important lesson is the matter of conservation of natural resources. Children can see with their own eyes certain areas where insects or erosion or the carelessness of man have been responsible for damage; and they are told what measures have been taken to protect the property against further harm. There were pictures to show the children after their return to their classroom, of the specimens they had brought home with them, as well as the work they had done as a result of their camping experiences.

BUSINESS MEETING

Preceding Mr. Simmons talk the P.T.A. business meeting was conducted by George W. Taylor, Jr., President. He named to the nominating committee for next year's officers Mr. Bernard E. Brooks, 468 Albemarle road. Mrs. Frank G. Neal, Jr., 49 Fairway drive, and Mr. Christian F. Hagelstein, 136 Randlett park.

It was announced that Mrs. Francis T. Keefe would take charge of the rummage sale to be held Friday, April 1, at the Horace Mann School. Mrs. Keefe asked for volunteers to help her with this project and said that donations of clothing, toys, anything usable, would be welcome. Mr. Williams, school custodian, has kindly offered to take care of things that are brought in and asks that they be brought in cartons or in paper bags to facilitate handling. Articles may be sent at any time from now to March 30.

The class having the highest percentage of parents present at this meeting was the third grade, with 46%.

Following the business meeting members were entertained by Guy Coletti on the trumpet and Miss Jean Taylor at the piano. The rendition of "Melody of Love" by these two sixth-grade pupils was much enjoyed by all. Mr. Taylor pointed out that Horace Mann had been honored by the fact that Guy had been chosen from among all the elementary schools trumpet players, to take part in the recent Eastern Division of Music Educators National Conference in Boston.

In charge of refreshments were Mrs. Robert Stover, 54 Eddy street, Mrs. Henry Hassell, 36 Parsons street, and Mrs. Ottavio D'Innocenzo, 14 Parsons street.

Mrs. Sylvester McGinn, President of the Trustees and Dr. and Mrs. Roger Hazelton, co-chairmen of the Parent's Association, have announced that plans are well under way. Benjamin Beresen, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee of the parents group and Mrs. McGinn, coordinators for this affair, report that many friends and parents of the Music School pupils are being invited to become sponsors of this project and that tickets will be on sale by the first of April.

Knowing that Newton has much to offer in the way of musical variety, the trustees and parents have planned a program which will emphasize the fine talent available.

The All Newton Music School Orchestra, composed of high school age pupils and adults will be directed by Miss Irene Forte, Director of Music, for the opening number of the evening. The Highland Glee Club will present a group of songs under the careful direction of Ralph D. MacLean who is also a member of the Advisory Board of the Music School and Miss Marilyn Bickford, Dance Instructor at the Newton High School and a pupil of Jan Veen, will direct a group from the Modern Dance class. Another high spot of the evening will be the introduction of the Gutberg Sisters, who will have just returned from a coast-to-coast concert tour. Ingrida and Karen, young and most attractive Latvian-American girls are duo-pianists who display great skill and have been acclaimed throughout the United States and Canada. Luboshutz and Nemenoff, with whom they perfected their duo-pianism, have given them enthusiastic support.

The latter part of the evening will be devoted to dancing to the music of AJ Graceffa's dance band which is composed of fourteen enthusiastic high school students, whose reputation is growing throughout Newton.

The proceeds of the evening will be used by the All Newton Music School, Inc., a Red Feather Agency, to further reduce the mortgage on the building, to increase the scholarship funds and to help in the maintenance of the building.

Unitarian Every-Member Canvass Slated Sunday

Fifty-five church members, including 21 couples, will make personal calls Sunday afternoon at the homes of the entire parish membership of the First Unitarian Society in Newton for the annual Every-Member Canvass.

The finance committee hopes to raise pledges for the entire amount of the church budget, $25,650, for the next fiscal year beginning May 1, through this Sunday afternoon campaign of personal calls.

This budget, recommended by the finance committee, has already been approved by the church board of trustees. Supplementing the amount needed for the West Newton Unitarian parish are two other items, $1900 for the local church's share in the United Unitarian Appeal for 1955-56, and the local objective of $2000 for the Unitarian Service Committee for the year ending Dec. 31, 1955. This makes a total of $29,550 to carry on the work of the West Newton Unitarian Church locally and on the broader denominational level.

The Finance Committee comprises Warren G. Hill, trustee member; John F. Taplin, chairman; Robert H. Cobb, Robert L. Daniels, Gordon B. Guptill, John W. Gurry, Warren M. Rohsenow, Joseph C. Skinner, George C. Thompson, R. Charles Thompson, Robert L. Townsend and Edward Y. Walker.

Both Taplin and Hill, as well as the minister, Rev. John Ogden Fisher, addressed a gathering of finance committee members and the Every-Member Canvass group at an organization meeting held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Taplin on Sewall street, West Newton.

The Every-Member Canvass Group, which will be out in full force Sunday afternoon making pledge calls on parish members all over Newton, includes Robert H. Cobb, Miss Eleanor L. Cox, John E. Cox, Dr. and Mrs. Jerome K. Martin, John W. Gurry, Mr. and Mrs. William A. Krebs Jr., Mrs. Herbert P. Galliher, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence G. Haskell, Mr. and Mrs. Spencer F. Deming, Warren G. Hill, Mr. and Mrs. W. Howard Hulsman, George A. Johnson.

Stanley D. Krause, Mr. and Mrs. Harold D. Samberg, Richard W. Spry, Mr. and Mrs. George C. Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Vranizan, Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Townsend, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth L. Watson, Dr. and Mrs. Lionel D. Wells Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Edward W. Whorf, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Whitmore Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip W. Cranshaw, Dr. Gerald G. Carcelon, Gordon B. Guptill, Dr. and Mrs. Lloyd E. Morris Jr., Mrs. Bencion Moskow, Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel B. Nichols, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen J. Petry, Dr. and Mrs. John P. Roser, Mrs. Erwin Salzer, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph C. Skinner, Dr. and Mrs. Hans Waine, and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Y. Walker.

Temple Shalom To Cite Pupils

Hebrew Dedication Sabbath, honoring pupils who have successfully completed the first book in their study of Hebrew, will be observed tomorrow (Friday) night at Temple Shalom, West Newton.

Pupils in the advanced classes will conduct the entire service. A special dedication ceremony will follow in which pupils of the entire department will participate.

In honor of the event, the Student Council has voted to present an annual prize of $50 for excellence in Hebrew to a student at Brandeis University preparing to enter Hebrew Union College to study for the rabbinate.

2nd Annual 'Exchange Pops' Tomorrow Aids Pupil Trips

The Second Annual "Exchange Pops" for the benefit of the Newton High School Exchange Plan will be staged tomorrow (Friday) night in the Normandie Room at Norumbega Park.

The "Pops" program, which proved so successful last year, is the third fund-raising activity in the parent-student inspired efforts to send Newton boys and girls to Wilmington, Del., and Boulder Colo., in the Exchange Plan. The first fund-raising move was a paper drive held last fall and the second, a rummage sale last month, was termed successful.

General co-chairmen of this Second Annual Exchange "Pops" committee are Mr. and Mrs. Harold R. Dolby. The several committees needed to fashion such an outstanding event have been working for many weeks, and will continue until curtain time.

The committees include:

Entertainment co-chairmen: Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lasker and Warren S. Freeman. Mr. Lasker is in the music department of the high school and Mr. Freeman is well-known in musical circles.

Ticket co-chairmen: Theodore Fleischer and Leo Swartz.

Refreshment co-chairmen: Norman M. Dow and Mrs. Anthony Farrington.

Take-Home-Food Sale co-chairmen: Mrs. C. E. Guild and Mrs. Alfred A. Obermeyer.

This year, the seventh in which Newton High has participated in the School Exchange Plan, finds two groups of 15 boys and 15 girls, all excellent students, looking forward to their respective trips to Wilmington or Boulder.

Purpose of the Exchange Plan is to allow deserving students a first hand glimpse of community characteristics in a region far removed from home.

Each group will be accompanied by faculty leaders who have worked closely with parents in arranging the various activities which lead up to the "Pops", and then the trips.

The faculty leaders heading the Wilmington group are Miss Mabel A. Turner and Warren J. Loring. The Boulder entourage will be headed by faculty members Mrs. Margaret A. Erskine and Kenneth P. White.

Richard Scipione will be master of ceremonies of the "Pops", which will be a sparkling program in 12 parts. Donald March will conduct the Newton High School Symphony orchestra in opening selections which promise to stir the "Pops", to an enjoyable pitch.

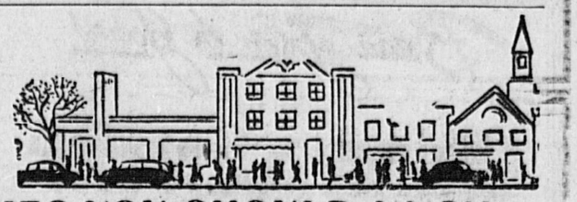

Mischa Tulin, pioneer musician on the theremin, an electronic instrument which sometimes sounds like the human voice humming, will be accompanied by Mrs. Tulin, a concert pianist.

The popular Newtonettes will be back again. They form a bright musical sextette of sopranos and altos. Paul DeLuca, talented clarinetist, will offer selected short pieces. DeLuca is a Newton High graduate '49, and Boston University College of Music '54. He was the recipient of the first scholarship offered by the Newton High School Music Club. Daniel Koury, who will accompany DeLuca on the piano, will hear his own composition performed on "Pops" night.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Gill are again contributing the use of the spacious Normandie Room, which will be gaily festooned in "Pops" motif on the night of March 25. Four hundred tickets are available.

Pettengill--

Dr. Nils . Wessell, president of Tufts College, was the principal speaker of the evening, and Francis W. Hatch, general chairman for next fall's UCS drive, talked on past experiences in Red Feather drives and gave a short poem in honor of the retiring executive director. Mayor Howard Whitmore Jr., commended the Red Feather on its activities and Mr. Pettengill on his work.

Seated at the head table were President and Mrs. Nathan D. Bugbee, Dr. Wessell, Mr. Hatch, Mayor and Mrs. Whitmore, Rev. and Mrs. Ross Cannon, D.D., of the Second (Congregational) Church; Alden R. Bellman, budget chairman, and Mrs. Bellman; George L. White, treasurer, and Mrs. White; Benjamin Shattuck, immediate past campaign chairman and Mrs. Shattuck; H. J. Pettengill, executive director and Mrs. Pettengill; and Robert R. Walker, retiring public relations chairman.

Invocation was given by Dr. Cannon and music was supplied by a trio from the All-Newton Music School, a Red Feather Agency; Ann Barrs, Carol Scipione and Beverly Bickum.

Officers elected included Nathan D. Bugbee, for a second term as president; Alden R. Bellman, vice-president, also for a second term; H. Donald Norstrand, new vice-president; George L. White, also re-elected treasurer; William H. Wragg, new assistant treasurer, and Mr. Pettengill, clerk.

Eight directors-at-large elected included, for three years, Wilbur W. Bullen of Waban; Morton S. Grossman of Chestnut Hill; Henry J. Wilson of West Newton; and Harold A. Wooster of Newton. Reelected were Mr. Bugbee, William M. Cahill, Franklin D. Jerome and Norman H. S. Vincent.

Elected to terms of one year each were 39 member agencies. New agency representatives are Harry L. Walen, Family Service Bureau; Mr. Wragg and Albert R. Beisel Jr., Newton Community Council; Mrs. Joseph C. MacDonald, Newton Visiting Nurse Association; Mark C. Wheeler and Julian D. Anthony of Newton-Wellesley Hospital; and Mrs. Robert J. Walsh of West Newton Community Centre.

The budget committee appointed for the coming year consists of Alden R. Bellman, chairman; Mr. Beisel, Joseph W. Chevarley, Rev. John O. Fisher, Franklin D. Jerome, H. Donald Norstrand, Kenneth W. Rogers, Neil W. Swinton, M.D., and Norman H. S. Vincent, campaign committee; David Berkman, chairman; Winslow H. Adams, Mr. Jerome, Mr. Norstrand, and Benjamin Shattuck.

History--

He stressed his talk with examples from Chinese history. Like other dynasties, the Communists will crumble. The living standard on Formosa is comparatively high for Asia and the government there has instituted many democratic reforms, despite the civil and global war, he concluded.

Many prominent community leaders attended the dinner, including Mayor Howard Whitmore Jr., Sen. Richard H. Lee, and representatives of the School Department, civic, philanthropic and service organizations.

Dignitaries included Henry Keyes, chairman of the School Committee; Charles O. Richter, assistant superintendent of schools; Dr. Leo Barry, principal of Newton High School; John B. Rubenstein, president of the Chamber of Commerce, Stewart Orr, Newton Taxpayers' Association; William Falconer, president of Newton Chapter, American Red Cross; Carol Hoffman, head of the Newton Civic Association; H. J. Pettengill, executive director of Newton Community Chest; Alan D. Duff, Civil Defense Director; William Maloney, president of the Veterans' Council; Chief of Police Philip Purcell, and Fire Chief John F. Corcoran.

Rev. John Ogden Fisher, minister of the First Unitarian Society of West Newton, was a head table guest and gave the invocation for the "Brotherhood in Action" dinner. Chairman for the dinner was Bertram Lowenberg. Leonard F. Luchner is president of the Temple Brotherhood.

At the start of the meeting, Rabbi Murray Rothman gave a most inspirational talk on Brotherhood and praised the spirit of friendliness which existed in Newton.

Preceding the speaking program, a beef dinner was served.

work mainly on the southern side of the city, additions to three schools and four recreation buildings.

Department heads submitted budget requests amounting to $14,503,299 to the mayor early this year, and he slashed more than $400,000 from the original requests.

Mayor Whitmore, in his budget address, declared that $834,077 of the increased city expenses was "unavoidable." The chief item beyond the mayor's control is school spending, which accounts for $371,000 of the increase.

Other "unavoidables" listed by the mayor include debt retirement and interest, $187,159; salary and wage increases, $104,250; pensions and annuities, $101,640; final payment for alterations to the city incinerator, $30,000; cost of ward line changes, $30,000; and expediting plans for a purchasing department, $10,000.

Lorenz F. Muther Jr., executive secretary of the Newton Taxpayers' Association, has urged trimming of "not absolutely essential" expenses. As proposed, Muther estimated, the budget would boost the tax rate $2.50.

However, with sharp slashes in spending and taking $840,000 from surplus funds, increase could be held to only 50 cents, Muther declared. He termed the decision facing the aldermen as "how much cake in addition to the needed bread" the city should ask the taxpayer to finance.

Club--

served by the Mothers' Club of the Newton Boys' Club to members of the Newton Rotary Club Monday noon. For this week, Rotary switched its meeting-place to the Boys' Club at 98 Dalby street, Newton.

Tuesday afternoon there was an art contest at the Clubhouse, and at the same time finals were held in the Games Room tournament.

Finals in the bubble gum blowing contest were conducted at 4 p.m. yesterday (Wednesday), while various athletic contests were going on in the club gymnasium. At 8 p.m., Kiwanis Club Night will be celebrated, featured by the naming of a room in honor of the local club.

This afternoon (Thursday) there will be pull-ups and standing broad jump contests in the club's gym. The ping-pong and billiard tournament finals for the senior boys will take place at 6:30 p.m., and there will be a boxing show at 7:30 p.m.

Scheduled for tomorrow (Friday) is the healthy boy contest at 4 p.m., when the Club will seek the boy with the best-developed biceps. Parent-and-Son Night will be held starting at 6:30 p.m. A games carnival will start at 10 a.m. Saturday, and all members will be asked to attend church Sunday at the close of Boys' Club Week.

Temple Emanuel Groups to Hold Annual Meeting

The trustees of Temple Emanuel, Newton Centre, will again act as hosts at the annual meeting of the combined boards of all the subsidiary organizations of the Temple Monday in the Community Hall.

A buffet supper will be served followed by a meeting in the form of a panel discussion on "We Take Stock of Ourselves." The moderator will be Dr. Albert I. Gordon, spiritual leader of the temple, and panel members will represent the various organizations and will include chairmen of key committees.

Scheduled to serve on the panel are Joseph Greenbaum, president of Temple Emanuel; Joseph G. Deitz, chairman of the Board of Trustees; George Cashman, president of the Brotherhood; Mrs. Davis Short, president of the Sisterhood; Dr. Robert S. Friedman, president of the P.T.A.; Melvin Fine, president of the Couples Club; Clarence Jacobson, vice-chairman of the Ritual Committee; Meyer Armet, chairman of the School Committee; Lloyd Oppenheim, chairman of the Youth Activities Committee; and Frank Metcalf, chairman of the Coordinating Committee.

The panel will discuss future plans for the temple, and the members will also answer questions from the audience.

Emanuel Schools To Stage Annual Israeli Festival

Three performances are scheduled for the annual Israeli Arts Festival of the Temple Emanuel Schools of Newton Sunday in the Temple's Community Hall, Newton Centre.

The festival will include a series of selections by the Junior Choir under the direction of Louis Siagel, Israeli dances under the direction of Mrs. Arnold Band, and an exhibition of drawings and paintings by the students.

Prizes for the best art work will be presented in two categories: for students in the Aleph and Beth class of the Sunday School, and for students of the classes Gimel through Vov. Judges will be Mrs. Robert Friedman, Mrs. Alfred Bickelman and Ralph Werman.

Two performances will be staged for the student body and one for parents of the pupils. The parents' program will start at 10:50 a.m. The entire production will be under the direction of Dr. Martin Goldstein, educational director.

Life Membership In N.A.A.C.P. For N.C. Brotherhood

The Brotherhood of Temple Emanuel, Newton Centre, recently became the second Brotherhood in Greater Boston to subscribe to a life membership in the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

Commenting on the joining, Dr. Albert I. Gordon, rabbi of Temple Emanuel, said, "Judaism has always emphasized the importance of the Good Deed. It has assumed that the performance of a kindly act, particularly demonstrative of a sense of regard for one's fellow humans, was especially meritorious.

"I am happy to note that the Brotherhood of Temple Emanuel, by subscribing to life membership in the NAACP, has become the first Brotherhood of a Conservative congregation to respond to an urgent call for another minority people."

Temple Emanuel Names Stadlen Exec. Director

Abraham Stadlen, former program director of the New England Region of the American Jewish Congress, has been appointed executive director for Temple Emanuel, Newton Centre.

A graduate of Boston University with degrees of Bachelor of Business Administration and Master of Education, he will assume his new duties on April 1. He was in charge of the community relations program in this area for the AJC, has held other important posts in the Bureau of Labor Statistics and has served as a counselor at Boston University.

Noting the appointment, Joseph Greenbaum, president of the Temple, and Joseph G. Dietz, chairman of the Board of Trustees issued the following joint statement:

"The remarkable growth and development of Temple Emanuel and its program in all of its phases has made it clear to us for some time that there is need within our Temple family for the services of an individual with special training and fine personality to serve as executive director to assist in the conduct of the Temple's affairs and help coordinate its numerous activities."

TOP VALUES — LOW PRICES! SEE THESE FINEST IN USED CAR BUYS

LIKE a Ride In The Country on a Lazy Spring Afternoon?

Or a wonderful weekend fishing trip, To answer your spring time urge for a nice little auto, here are four very fine cars for you to inspect — they are all mechanically A-1, have good tires, and are low-priced — ready for you to drive away and enjoy the day with not a worry:—

Two are Station Wagons

. . . For fishermen, campers and other station wagon fanciers, one of these will meet your needs. Our '50 Plymouth suburban is tops in appearance—with a really good-looking, brand new sporty red and white paint job, it's offered at only $725. And if you're going to hit some really rugged road conditions and want a wagon with the utmost in dependability and the stamina of a tank, we have a '51 Willys that will never, never let you down. It will give you far more in value than the $795 you pay for it.

And Two are 4-Doors . .

There's a hydramatic drive, heater, and radio in this '51 green Pontiac. It's like new inside and out and it's priced at only $895. In a standard shift, we have a '51 Studebaker, dark grey, excellent radio, and in perfect condition. It drives beautifully—and is a low $725.

These four featured cars are all Tip-Top guaranteed for 90 days. and they are waiting for your rigid inspection.

We also have several 1950 Dodges and Fords ranging from $60 to $995 that may interest you, as well as a few '49 Dodges and Plymouths from $450 to $650. And if you want good transportation in the $100 to $250 range, we have some reliable '46 and '47 cars. See us today!

First Open Meeting of New World Affairs Council To Be Held Today

The first Open Meetin of the newly formed World Affairs Council of Newton will be held today (Thursday) at 8:00 p.m. at Temple Shalom in West Newton. Invitations have been sent to all organizations in Newton and a representative from each one is expected to be present to discuss this new group whose function is to coordinate all matters concerned with world affairs and international relations for the city, and to provide information to Newton citizens about recent developments in this important field.

Arthur E. Whittemore, chairman of the Board of the World Affairs Council of Boston will be the Speaker for the evening. He will discuss the role that World Affairs Councils are playing throughout the country. "Newton's Council is the first that has been formed in a suburb of the city which also has a Council. As such it is serving as a pilot organization and it is hoped that Newton's experience will be copied around in cities such as Cleveland, Chicago and San Francisco," explained Mrs. John C. McClintock, Chairman of the Newton Council. "We are anxious to have the members understand the importance of the role we are to play in Newton affairs," she added.

The officers of the Newton World Affairs Council are Hon. Howard Whittemore, Jr., Honorary Chairman; Mrs. John C. McClintock, Chairman; William E. Halliday, Jr., Vice-Chairman, Miss M. Louise Walworth, Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Spencer F. Deming, Recording Secretary, and William H. Wragg, treasurer. The Directors are Mrs. Louis F. Billings, Franklin N. Flasshner, Arthur T. Gregorian, Robert H. Mitchell, Mrs. E. Tyler Parkhurst, Mrs. Ralph R. Shrader, Mrs. Newell J. Trask, Harold A. Wooster, Mrs. James R. Zimmer.

Mr. Whittemore, who is a graduate of Harvard Law School, is an attorney with the firm of Nutter, McClellan and Fish in Boston and a prominent trial lawyer. He is a former director of the Foreign Policy Association and was Chairman of the Committee of 1000 which did educational work in the field of International Relations during the war. He is at present the Town Moderator in the Town of Hingham.

Newton Art Ass'n Prepares For "Artists At Work" Night

When the Newton Art Association holds its "Associate Members" night each spring, an interesting and instructive evening is assured. This year's meeting was no exception since the discussion panel included Miss Priscilla Ordway, Helen Cleaves, and Fred Thompson, each widely known in art circles and members of the Association. They commented on the general excellence of some twenty-five paintings submitted. The ensuing criticisms embraced such maters as artistic balance, color value relationship, and pictorial design, with valuable suggestions of a technical nature that could tend towards improvement.

Possibly the most interesting and colorful of all the year's events takes place at the spacious auditorium of the Newton Centre Women's Club on Wednesday evening April 18th. This occasion is the fifth annual "Artists at Work" night, when some twenty members of the Association hold a group painting demonstration with the public in attendance.

On view at the Newton Centre Public Library is a exhibit of paintings by Miss Priscilla Ordway for the next three weeks. Miss Ordway's paintings are the result of a life-long experience in painting and art teaching and this showing is well worth a visit.

Scholarships Awarded At Newton College

Twenty resident scholarships and five day student scholarships have been awarded by Newton College of the Sacred Heart to high seniors who achieved outstanding results in a nation-wide competitive examination directed by the college.

Five of the scholarship recipients were from Greater Boston, six from New York state, two from New Jersey, two from Canada and one from each of the following: Michigan, Massachusetts, Nebraska, Pennsylvania, Maryland and Connecticut. In addition awards went to two students from Washington, D.C., one from Colombia and one from Venezuela

These scholarships offer financial aid according to the needs of the students, in addition to the results of the competitive examination, the candidates' college entrance examinations and high school records are considered in making the awards.

Bay State seniors receiving the awards include: Mary Jane Collins, Methuen; Janet M. Chute, Milton; Stephanie Goonan, Brighton; Dorothy A. Kelley, Charlestown; Kathleen M. Kingston, Dorchester; and Mary Jane Mulvanity, West Roxbury.

Rifle Team Nips Waltham HS for Division Crown

Newton High School's rifle team clinched its divisional title last week by defeating Waltham High 860 points to 819. Highlights of the match were Arthur Norley's 184 total and Arthur Redland's perfect prone score of 100.

Newton must now meet Malden for league honors. Malden has boasted championship teams for more than 25 years and is again a strong favorite to capture league honors. Earlier this month Newton won its third match in four starts by dumping Acton High School.

Scoring in the Waltham match was as follows:

Republican Club To Honor Maxwell M. Rabb April 5

The Newton Republican Club has completed final arrangements for its meeting on Tuesday evening, April 5, at 8:15 p.m. at the Weeks Junior High School to honor Maxwell M. Rabb, Associate Counsel to President Eisenhower and Secretary to the Cabinet.

In making this announcement, Stanley S. Lewenberg, President of the Club says: "The Newton Republican Club is proud to present its Annual Award to Mr. Rabb, who has such a distinguished record of public service."

A graduate of Harvard Law School in 1935, Mr. Rabb practiced law in Boston for two years and then became secretary to Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr. in 1937, in which capacity he served for six years. He was also secretary to present Secretary of Commerce Sinclair Weeks, when Mr. Weeks was Senator from Massachusetts. During World War II, Mr. Rabb was a lieutenant in the United States Navy, and following the War he became legal consultant to Secretary Forrestal. He was active in the "Eisenhower-for-President" movement, serving in 1951 and 1952 as executive secretary to Senator Lodge, who was Eisenhower's campaign manager.

Mr. Rabb's present duties in the White House resolve largely around his position as Secretary to the Cabinet. He also serves as Associate Counsel to the President of the United States and is concerned with civil rights problems in the White House. In the latter capacity, he has assisted in carrying out the President's directive to end segregation in all Federal establishments.

The public is invited to attend this meeting to hear Mr. Rabb who will be guest speaker. Refreshments will be served following the meeting.

Community Council to Meet Apr. 14

The annual meeting of the Newton Community Council will be held Thursday, April 14, at the City Hall. Dinner will be served at 6:30 p.m., in the cafeteria, followed by the business meeting and election of officers, and the evening program will be held at 8 p.m. in the War Memorial Building. The topic is "A Portrait of Newton," social, cultural and economic.

Many interesting and not generally known facts, which have been gathered by a group of Newton citizens during the past year and a half, will be presented. It is the first time in Newton's history an inventory is being made of where Newton is going, and it is a favorable one.

The meeting is open to all who may be interested.

Plans Engineer Event

Ralph L. Morse of Newton, a manufacturers' representative with offices in Boston, is taking an active role in placing the annual dinner-meeting of the Metropolitan Chapter of the Massachusetts Society of Professional Engineers scheduled April 14 at the Harvard Club, Boston.

No Tax Rise?

Muther Sees Holding Tax Rate Level

Hope that Newton's tax rate can be held at its present $44.50 rate, despite a budget increase of a million dollars over last year's expenses, was raised by Lorenz F. Muther Jr., executive secretary of the Newton Taxpayers' Association, following the aldermen's budget meeting.

Terming their appropriations "a fair budget," Muther said the rate could be maintained if the aldermen "liberalize their conception of the use of surplus." The Taxpayers' group has long advocated leaving only about $400,000 in the city's surplus, using the extra surplus to lessen the shock on the taxpayers' pocketbook.

The record-high $13,855,928.03 budget, Muther declared, "is fair to the citizens of this city and represents a thoughtful ap-

Miss Fairfax Moderator at Institute

Miss Jean Fairfax is Moderator for the Human Relations Institute sponsored by the Newton Council of Parent-Teachers Association, the National Conference of Christians and Jews and the Newton Human Relations Committee. Miss Fairfax serves as College Secretary of New England for the American Friends Service Committee. She is a graduate of the University of Michigan, received her master's degree in Comparative Religion at the Union Theological Seminary, and spent two years in Austria, Israel, and Mexico with American Friends Foreign Service.

Participating in this program are representatives of each Parent-Teacher Association and different consultants each week leading the discussion. "Rearing Children of Goodwill" is an eight week program.

Palm Sunday Vesper Service On April 3

A highlight of the Lenten Season music will take place next Sunday, April 3, at five o'clock, when the combined choirs of The Eliot Congregational and Newton Methodist Churches of Newton will present "The Seven Last Words of Christ," by Theodore Dubois, at The Eliot Church, corner of Church and Centre streets, Newton.

The cantata will be under the direction of Charles Pearson, director of the Eliot Church choir, and president of the Boston Chapter of the National Association of Teachers of Singing. The soloists will be Robert Gerling of Boston, tenor, director of the Methodist Church choir, treasurer of the Mendel and Haydn Society, and director of the Meistersingers male chorus; Mrs. Marjorie Schumacher, soprano of Newton Centre, soloist of the Eliot Church, and

Budget Action

Hit Schools For Failure To Cut Cost

Newton's School Department took the lion's share of the city's record-high 1955 budget — claiming better than one-third of all expenditures — and also drew the harshest criticism Monday night as the aldermen gave their approval to a $12,855,928.03 buudget.

Declaring that the city's per pupil cost for education is now "probably the highest in the state," Earle D. Wood, chairman of the Finance Committee, blasted the School Department's lack of economy. Although costs of most goods have leveled out, he stated, school costs are still rising.

In the past two years, he pointed out, the cost of education per pupil has risen better than 10 per cent to $316 for each student enrolled in Newton's schools.

"It makes you wonder whether you will ever come out of this," declared Wood. "I wonder where the taxpayer will wind up."

The school budget, which by state law cannot be altered by the aldermen, showed an increase of $335,000 over last year's figures, giving the School Department $4,681,518 to run the educational plant. Most of the rise — approximately $310,000 of it — was caused by salary increases and extra personnel.

The whole budget for the city was approved unanimously, but Alderman Winfield C. Anderson, who long has tilted with the "caviar taste" of the city's educators, added a protest against the School Department on his vote.

The Finance Committee's recommendations were followed closely by the aldermen, with only two changes amounting to $8575. The committee had slashed $200,796.74 from the budget forwarded by Mayor Howard Whitmore Jr., and the mayor had previously chopped $426,235.41 from funds sought by the various departments.

In his introductory remarks, Chairman Wood explained that most of the budget increase was unavoidable, leaving his committee "only about $324,000 to play with." Two-thirds of this fell by the wayside before the committee completed its NEWTON-DELAWARE Exchange Students Visit Capitol. A visit to the historic State House was enjoyed recently by 30 students from the Alexis I. du Pont school in Wilmington, Delaware, and their hosts from Newton High School, with whom they have been living. In front may be seen Rep. Irene K. Thresher, Secretary of State Edward J. Cronin and Rep. Arthur G. Heaney. Representing Newton High faculty were Warren Loring of the Social Studies department and Miss Mabel Turner, head of the Home Economics department. Representing Wilmington were Vincent Reilly and Miss Dorothy Allen. The Newton students leave for Delaware on April 19th.

Boulder, Colorado, Exchange Students Here This Week

Last Sunday morning, thirty-two boys and girls, and faculty leaders, Miss Harriet F. Noret and Mr. Allen Patten, arrived at the Newtonville Railroad Station.

Their weariness from the long journey and the sightseeing during a stopover in Chicago was forgotten in the excitement of their welcome by their Newton pals and families. They told of the trip and dinner in their honor at Marshall Field's Store and of another dinner arranged for them in the return trip by the Chicago Board of Trade, and how two Boulder, Colorado, merchants were sending their group to Radio City Music Hall for an evening's entertainment during their visit to New York City.

Sunday was Family Day, with plans for church, dinner, afternoon trips, and an evening at home. Mrs. Margaret W. Erskine, one of Newton's faculty leaders, had a supper party at her Winchester home in honor of the Boulder teachers.

A special program of activities on Monday began with luncheon at 11:30, followed by a two-hour symposium in the Newton High School Auditorium, with many English and Social Studies classes as a part of the audience. Speakers included the Honorable Howard Whitmore, Jr., Mayor of the City of Newton, who spoke on "Government in Newton" Harold Wooster, Librarian of Newton, speaking on "Cultural Growth in Newton"; John Rubenstein, President of the Chamber of Commerce, whose subject was "Industry in Newton" and Melvin Dangel, President of the Parent Teachers Association Council, whose talk was on "The Home in Newton."

Also taking part in the symposium were Dr. Harold B. Gores, Superintendent of Schools, speaking on "Newton's

R. F. Cahill Named Executive Director of Community Chest

Robert F. Cahill, Associate Executive Secretary of the Community Chest of Worcester, will become Executive Director of the Newton Community Chest on June 1, according to a statement released this week by Nathan D. Bugbee, President of the Newton Community Chest. Mr. Cahill will succeed H. J. Pettengill, the present Executive Director of the Chest, who is retiring on that date.

Mr. Cahill is a former Newton boy, having been born and brought up in Newton Lower Falls, where he attended the Hamilton grammar school and later the Levi Warren Junior High. His father was manager of the John Dolan Coal Company of Newton Lower Falls, and while Cahill was in the eighth grade at Levi Warren the family moved to Wellesley Hills.

He is a graduate of Boston College in 1936 and received his Master's degree in Social Work in 1938. He has been in Community Chest work since.

After three years as Executive Secretary of the Waltham Community Fund and three and a half years with United Community Services as Executive Secretary, first of the Districts Division and later of the North Metropolitan Division. Newton Boys' Club Fund Drive For $7500 Officially Opened

Mayor Howard Whitmore Jr., donated the first check toward a $7500 campaign goal set by Chairman David Berkman to aid the work of the Newton Boys' Club.

Members of the board of directors are soliciting among friends and organizations to make possible the funds needed to operate the Boys' Club during 1955-56. An expanded program has been launched with a full time executive in charge.

Membership in the club has gone over two hundred boys. Girls are given opportunity to attend the club on social nights and Girl Scouts are given a night in the club gym to meet and enjoy their scouting program.

Heretofore the club closed during the summer months but starting this summer, a full scale program will be carried on while the boys are on vacation from school. Basketball leagues for boys 8 to 18 will be organized and a day camp program will also be added.

Contributions have been made by members of the Rotary, Kiwanis, Nonantum Businessmen's Association, Zonta and others as well as by individuals.

Contributions of $10 per boy per year are being requested to support this program and should be made out to Newton Boys' Club, c-o Albert W. Tocci, Newton National Bank, 433 Watertown street, Newton.

Hold Program Conference This Morning

This morning (Thursday) at 10:15 o'clock, the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs is sponsoring a program conference for the 12th District at the Newtonville Woman's Club, 61 Washington park.

There will be a panel discussion for chairmen of all committees and the panel will be composed of Newton Federation presidents with Mrs. Walter Gorenflo, 12th District Director, as moderator.

In the afternoon, a program conference will be held for the presidents and program chairmen of all the clubs.

Gov. Herter Feels Rent Controls No Longer Necessary . . . Democrats Take Case of State Chairmanship to Court

Democratic leaders in the Massachusetts Legislature are leaping at the conclusion that Governor Herter's veto of a 12-months rent control bill means that he does not intend to stand for reelection next year.

They reason that the political repercussions from the Governor's action will be so great that he would not have taken it, if he were planning to run for a third term.

There does not appear to be any sound or logical basis for either opinion, and it seems highly probable that the Democrats are merely indulging in a bit of wishful political thinking.

Governor Herter's prospects of achieving reelection in 1956, in the event he decided to stand for another term, would be seriously impaired, if widespread gouging by landlords developed next January, and he did nothing about the situation. Indeed, the entire Republican State ticket would be hurt by such a turn of events.

The Governor is not likely to allow that to happen, and tenants who are fearful as to the consequences of his veto of the 12-months rent bill can relax to some extent, at least.

item-by-item examination of the budget.

He estimated that Newton's income would increase by about $700,000 this year, making up a large part of the rising budget. But the deficit, he said, "will have to come from somewhere, and logically this would be the tax levy."

He took a dim view of reports that the tax rate could be maintained at $44.50, declaring, "Our surplus isn't quite as favorable as last year, and this might work against us when the tax rate is set."

Chief victim of the economy axe —at least percentagewise— was the Civil Defense Department, whose original request of $57,189 was finally whittled down to $34,518. Admitting that his committee had cut the requests "rather severely," Alderman Wood gave as a reason the "lack of long-range planning" in CD activities.

Plans originate from Washington instead of locally, he said, and "the initiation is rather lax and directions indefinite." Wood continued, "It seems rather foolish to spend a large sum of money, and then in a few weeks find the policy has been changed and the money has gone for naught."

The major part of the Civil Defense appropriation will go for emergency communications. All Fire Department trucks will be equipped with two-way radios under the federal "matched funds" program, where the government puts up a sum equal to what the city pays.

Also to be constructed is an underground cable linking Civil Defense Headquarters in Newtonville to Fire Headquarters, Newton Centre; Police Headquarters, West Newton· Newton Red Cross Chapter, Newtonville; and possibly to City Hall. This would provide communications when overhead wires are down, explained Wood, who said that during last year's hurricanes City Hall was "isolated."

Eliminated from the Civil Defense budget was a $6000 request for a radio-equipped bus for an emergency evacuation. Wood said his committee, despite its conference with CD authorities, was not sure what it could be used for, since policies were changing so fast.

A $660 request for rental of four voting machines on a try-out basis was cut from the City Clerk Department's requests. Chairman Wood cited as a basis for this action a recent report by a special committee recommending no action at this time on mechanizing the city's admittedly slow but efficient voting system.

A $5000 post in the Law Department was created so that an assistant could be present at City Hall every working morning to give legal advice to municipal employees and executives.

The Finance Committee, Wood explained, has considered a full-time city solicitor, but the members doubted whether the city could attract a qualified, experienced lawyer for under $15,000 a year, with only a 2-year guarantee in the job.

The only changes made in the Finance Committee's report were a deduction of $575 from the City Clerk's Department, as a law change did away with some certificate fees, and $8000 from a project to resurface the blacktop play area at the Day Junior High.

The junior high project was approved by the committee at $12,000, but was reduced to $4000 after several aldermen questioned whether that much would be needed for a fairly small area.

Alderman Stuart M. Spaulding spearheaded an unsuccessful attempt to try to replace suspended lockers in the girl's gym at Day Junior High with conventional ones as a safety measure. The Finance Committee had eliminated this $9,600 item from the budget.

The lockers, which slide in and out on rails suspended from the ceiling, are a safety hazard, and more than one girl has been injured either by being struck by the moving lockers or by getting her foot caught under them, Spaulding declared. He was supported by Aldermen Adelaide B. Ball and H. Eugene Jones, chairman of the Public Buildings Committee.

The Finance Committee chairman agreed that perhaps the lockers might be a hazard, but they have been in the school for close to 25 years and this was the first time that their replacement had been mentioned. New lockers can be put in later, when more funds are available, he said.

Spaulding made a motion to have the $900 restored to the budget. A roll-call vote resulted in a 9-9 tie, and the motion failed to pass.

Board President Wendell R. Bauckman led another vain attempt to restore appropriations cut by the Finance Committee. He asked for an additional $2,300 for tree planting work to allow the city to catch up on its hurricane losses.

During the past eight years, we have been falling behind in tree replacement, the president declared, and refusing to plant more trees is "comparable to cutting a library budget for books."

Wood claimed that $14,000 for planting would cover the program sufficiently for this year, since this would buy all the trees the Street Department could handle. He said the city should not plant more trees than it can give after-care to.

"Perhaps the City of Newton can grow trees this 'way," he stated wryly in commenting on planting the larger number of trees. "I know I can't."

Alderman Anderson agreed with Bauckman that trees were "very, very important to the character of the city" and moved insertion of the larger amount in the budget, but the motion was rejected 12-6.

Budget Highlights

Two new boards made their debut in the 1955 budget. They are the Advisory Committee, which was appointed to help plan and construct public buildings, and the Park Commission.

Both seem to be bargains as far as expenses are concerned, with the advisory committee seeking only $100 for its year's expenses, while the Park Commission will share a $200 expense fund with the Planning Board.

—o—

Finance Committee Chairman Earle D. Wood coined a new phrase to replace the "caviar taste" tag hung on the School Department the past few years.

Complaining of increasing school costs, Wood deplored the "art court" trend in school spending. He later explained that he was referring to a sunken patio originally included in Spaulding School plans for the use of art classes on sunny days.

P.S. The school was built without the art court.

The Finance Committee doubted the worth of out-of-state conventions regularly attended by department heads. The committee drastically cut requests for travel funds, taking the stand that every-other-year conventions would be enough. Wood said that a few of the trips are "somewhat junkets."

—o—

Newton's per capita debt of $176.63 is "probably the highest in the state," said Chairman Wood. The city's debt as of January 1 was $15,367,000, which breaks down to $7,765,000 on schools, $5,233,000 on streets and $3,269,000 on other buildings.

—o—

Veterans benefits were set at $63,000 for the year, although Wood admitted it was "probably a somewhat optimistic figure." Benefits so far are running well ahead of 1954's expenses, thanks to the large number of new veterans.

—o—

The aldermen approved $4000 for improving school lighting, after the Finance Committee chairman complained this program was supposed to have been completed several years ago, but it keeps coming back like a song. In an effort to try to have the lights placed where they would do the most good, the aldermen attached a restriction that the lights would only go in classrooms and libraries.

It was revealed during the meeting that the new Meadowbrook Junior High School in Oak Hill will not be completed in time for the fall school opening.

This was disclosed during discussion of a $9600 request by the Public Buildings Department for partitions at the Weeks Junior High to make room for extra pupils until the new school is opened. No funds were made available, though, as the aldermen felt the School Department could "make do" for a few months without any major alterations.

—o—

An emergency lighting plant for the Technical-Vocational High School was clipped from the budget. "It is probably a desirable thing to have, and may prove a necessary thing," Wood noted, but said the building had gotten along without it for a long time, could get by for another year.

—o—

Fifteen of the Police Department's 18 cars are being traded for new ones. Last year, police rolled up 646,500 miles on 54,000 gallons of gas. Their mileage of nearly 12 to the gallon isn't at all bad considering the type of driving the officers are called upon to do.

—o—

Taken from the budget requests was a ladder truck sought for the Willow street fire station, now under construction in Newton Centre.

Along with dropping the $36,000 truck, the Finance Committee also lopped off the 15 new men which would have been required to run the truck.

—o—

Chairman Wood described the Public Welfare Department budget of $863,342 as strictly "guesstimates." He noted that old age assistance expenses are going down, while disability assistance is making up the difference with a steady rise.

Last year $532,982 was spent by the city on old age assistance and $67,836 on disability assistance. In addition, the government chipped in $463,921 for these two accounts and for aid to dependent children.

—o—

"TV is losing its hold perhaps, a little bit," said Wood in presenting the Library Department budget. Use of the library is steadily increasing, after an initial drop when the lively screen first entered local homes to hold families captive in their living rooms.

—o—

The Street Department had asked $100,000 for improved street lighting, but only $25,000 was voted. However, this does not mean that the improvement program is being cut back, as the Boston Edison Company said it could only do the lesser amount of work this year.

Plans call for the improvements to start in the old streets first, and gradually work toward the newer ones. Every other light on these streets will eventually be replaced by a new, extra-bright one on an arm extended over the street away from the foliage.

A pleasant contrast to the complaints over operation of some city departments was the praise heaped on the new street commissioner, Frank K. Perkins, who has only been in office since the first of the year.

Richard H. Lovell, who acted as chairman of the Public Works Committee in the absence of Edwin A. Terkelsen, who was sick, lauded "the energetic way" Perkins was attacking equipment problems. The Street Department has equipment which originally cost $966,000 and would cost $1,400,000 to replace.

He cited Perkin's maintenance and replacement program as "far-sighted." One of the items praised was an $11,000 packer-body truck asked by Perkins so that one truck of this type could be undergoing repairs and inspection before an expensive breakdown occurs. "Apparently," said Lovell, "this has been unheard-of."

—o—

Added to the Street Department work list were 28 men, bringing the labor force to 433 men. More economic use of the labor was promised by Wood, who said that Commissioner Perkins plans to interchange men among the various street divisions instead of "tying men to a specific department."

proach to the problems of 1955 as they appear at this time."

He stated that although Finance Committee Chairman Earle D. Wood was "dubious" about holding the tax rate, "It is our hope that other factors than the current year's operating budget will be developed favorably enough so that no tax increase will be necessary. Admittedly," he continues "that will take some doing."

One way to hold the $44.50 tax rate, according to Muther, is for the aldermen "to liberalize their conception of the use of surplus, and to consider it more as a 'shock absorber' and less as a roadblock."

The taxpayers' official listed five items "of most interest to me" in the budget figures. These were "the continuing expansion of the cost of policy-making in the city" a start on revamping and modernizing operations of the Street Department; the continuing cost of hurricane repairs; "the growth of municipal benevolences" as shown by increasing pensions and welfare payments; and "the forward step" to be taken in street lighting.

Referring to the school budget, which was the subject of verbal darts hurled by Chairman Wood for its ever-rising costs, Muther said the increase was "another indication" that a state law giving the aldermen control over the school building program "is a desirable check on the runaway emotions which so frequently surround education."

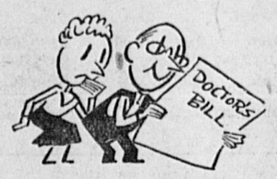

To sum up, Muther stated, "The budget reflects a good balance between the desires of the citizens for so much more service from their government, and their willingness and capacity to pay for it."

Junior and Senior Life Saving Course to Start at Y April 5

A complete course in Y M.C.A. Junior and Senior Life Saving will be given at the Newton YMCA, 276 Church street, Newton, beginning Tuesday, April 5, and continuing through Thursday, May 24. Advanced swimmers and those interested in water safety are invited to enroll.

Senior classes will be held twice a week on Tuesday and Thursday evenings from 8:00 p.m. to 9:00 p.m. Junior classes will be held twice a week on Tuesday and Friday afternoons from 5:15 p.m. to 6:30 p.m. To take the course, juniors must pass swimming requirements of the shark test in the National Council progressive swimming tests of the YMCA. The course will include training in the latest and most efficient methods of life saving and up to date data on methods for water safety.

To take the course each person entering must prove himself a capable swimmer by passing a water ability test at the first session, according to Edward R. DiPersio, associate hysical director of the Newton YMCA who will be in charge. Registration fee for the course is $1.75 covering emblem, pin, and text book. Non YMCA members must have memberships before registering for the course.

Those individuals who already hold a Junior or Senior Life Saving certificate may recertify, an annual requirement, by complying with regulations and tests for the course. No entries will be accepted after the first meeting, Tuesday, April 5. Persons intending to take the course are urged to make arrangements immediately with Mr. DiPersio at the Newton YMCA, BI 4-6050

The spring Life Saving and Water Safety Course (for males only) is a part of the aquatic program of the Newton YMCA. Other classes in learn-to-swim and aquatic activities are held through the week in the Y pool. Included is a women's swimming class for both instruction and recreation held weekly on Thursdays at 10 a.m.

The Newton YMCA is a member agency of the Newton Community Chest.

Lenten Luncheon Noon Today

At the YMCA's Lenten Luncheon to be held at 12:15 p.m. this noon (Thursday) Howard Whitmore, mayor of the city of Newton will speak. His subject will be "This I Believe."

Ralph B. Emery, chairman of the Christian Emphasis Committee will preside. This committee has sponsored such Lenten luncheons for the past five years.

Closer relationships to God as a way of "charging our spiritual batteries" was advocated by Dr. Ross Cannon, new minister of the Second Congregational Church of West Newton who spoke at a Lenten meeting held for Newton YMCA members and employees on Wednesday morning, March 23, in the Colonial Room of the Newton YMCA building.

"In our physical makeup we have a wonderful 'wiring system" all set to accomplish great things, but we need to 'connect up' with God for our power," Dr. Cannon said.

Leonard D. Garfield, Y Adult Program secretary introduced the speaker. Dr. Cannon's talk was one of two Lenten meditations to be held this spring. Rev. Edgar Helms, minister of the Newton Lower Falls Methodist Church and Protestant chaplain of the Newton-Wellesley Hospital will lead the second meeting to be held Wednesday, April 6 also at 9:15 a.m.

Members and friends are invited to participate in both remaining meetings. Further information can be secured from John E. Danielson, secretary of the Christian Emphasis Committee of the Newton YMCA.

Mayor Whitmore Urges Support Of Easter Seals

Saturday has been designated as "Crippled Children's Day" by Mayor Howard Whitmore Jr. to mark the beginning of Easter Seal Week in Newton.

The annual Easter Seal campaign is sponsored by the Bay State Society for the Crippled and the Handicapped, a statewide voluntary health agency which provides direct services to crippled children and adults. The $320,000 campaign continues through Easter Sunday.

Mayor Whitmore's proclamation read:

"Whereas, more than 128,000 children in Massachusetts are in need of direct services such as those provided by the Bay State Society for the Crippled and Handicapped, the official Easter Seal society; and

"Whereas, it is essential for the economic and humanitarian life of our community to see to it that its future adults are happy, useful, self-supporting citizens; and

"Whereas, the democratic way of life calls for voluntary support of the nation's general welfare; and

"Whereas, understanding of man's problems contributes to the well-being of men;

"Now, therefore, I, Howard Whitmore Jr., Mayor of the City of Newton, proclaim the second day of April 1955, as Crippled Children's Day to mark the beginning of Easter Seal Week, and urge all citizens not only to generously support the Easter Seal appeal financially, but also to learn about the problems of crippled children and adults and how they can be solved.

Firemen Honor 2 Ex-Chaplains

Two former chaplains of the Newton Fire Department who no longer are serving within the city were honored by firefighters recently at a testimonial in Station 1.

Cited were Rev. W. Edge Dixon, who is now at a Cambridge church, and Rev. John J. Mulcahy, who has been transferred to Blessed Sacrament Church in Jamaica Plain. Fire Chief John E. Corcoran presented a 5-volume set of "An Interpretation of the Bible" to Rev. Dixon, and "Life of St. Thomas Aquinas" in three volumes to Fr. Mulcahy.

Films were shown of Boston Fire Department activities as well as other subjects, and a buffet lunch was served. Arrangements for the testimonial were made by Capt. Harvey D. Preble of Ladder 2 Station and Lt. Frederick A. Kinchla of Station 1.

New Real Estate Office Now Open

Clinton S. Ewing of Newton Centre, formerly associated with Andrew N. Schwab and Son, Realtors, announces the opening of a real estate office at 350 Washington street Wellesley Hills, to be known as Aiken and Ewing Inc., Realtors.

His associates will be Robert M. Aiken of Wellesley, who has been associated with the firm of Walter Channing Inc. since 1935. They will concentrate their activities in the handling of properties in Wellesley, Weston and Dover.

"The Seven Words Of Christ" To Be Sung By Choir Of 75

As a Lenten presentation, "The Seven Words of Christ", oratorio by Clement F. T. Dubois will be sung by a 75-voice chorus at 4:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon, April 3, at the First Unitarian Church in Newton. The Dane Singers of Lynn, comprising fifty selected voices, directed by George S. Dane, will be augmented by the entire choir of the West Newton Unitarian Church, Warren S. Freeman, director.

This choral vespers concert is open to all music lovers in the community. An offering will be taken, net proceeds of which will go towards new choir robes for the senior choir of the First Unitarian Society in Newton.

Mr. Dane will conduct the Lenten cantata, with Lawrence Argue, associate organist of Second Congregational Church, at the console.

Soloists will include Flora Dane, soprano; Walter Fuller and E. Boudreault, tenors; and Edmund Winston, Lester Robinson and Leonard Mulligi, baritone.

Organized more than twenty-five years ago, the Dane Singers are one of the oldest and best known choral groups on the North Shore. While they have given many concerts in the greater Boston area, Sunday's concert at the First Unitarian Church will mark their first appearance in Newton.

John J. Mahoney Of N. C. Passes Bar Examination

John J. Mahoney of 18 Albion street, Newton Centre, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roland D. Mahoney of 84 College road, Chestnut Hill, was among the 90 applicants who last week passed the Massachusetts bar examinations out of 366 who took the tests.

A graduate of Holy Cross College and Georgetown University, he attended and took his law training at Boston College Law School at night while working for the Aetna Casualty Company in Boston for the past three years as a claims representative. He was graduated from Boston College in June.

A native of Newton, Mahoney is a graduate of Newton High School. He served during World War II in Air Intelligence, and is married and the father of three children.

College Notes

Among those attending the third annual Career Guidance Conference in Boston, March 18 were four Newton men who were luncheon guests of the Massachusetts Council of Private Schools, sponsors of the event each year. They were: James J. Kissell, 427 Albemarle road, and Julius Chaloff, 25 Priscilla road, Newton Edward Flaherty, 14 Thaxter road, Newtonville, and Julian Porter, West Newton.

Don't Emulate The Ostrich

Popular but undocumented legend pictures the ostrich as burying its head in the sand when frightened.

But our message today has to do with people — Americans who act like the mythical bird by hiding from reality when for some reason they fear they have cancer. Such individuals fear it, yet delay in consulting a doctor, who might tell them that their apprehension was groundless, or, if they did show symptoms of that disease, would immediately do whatever was necessary to arrest its development.

Those who temporize with cancer tempt death. The only methods recognized as effective against it are radiation and surgery. And to have successful treatment, the disease must be attacked when it is in an early, localized stage and most susceptible to cure. Although American Cancer Society statisticians estimate that 50 percent of all cancers can be cured — if treated promptly — only one out of three potentially curable sufferers from this malady is being saved.

One of the Cancer Society's three main objectives is to enlighten the public about the whole subject. Its literature, now being circulated all over the country, describes seven common cancer danger signals that can readily be observed by anyone who knows what to look for. But certain deadly types of cancer — curable in a beginning stage — can be discovered only through an examination by a doctor.

Yet the ACS is not content to wage a mere holding action against "mankind's cruelest enemy." Striving for complete victory, it is supporting research which seeks to find new cures, conducted in 132 medical and scientific institutions, and by nearly 1,000 top-flight scientists.

The Society's third major activity is service to patients. Drugs, dressings, nursing, and household care are supplied, and thus distress is alleviated, and comfort is given to countless men, women, and children across the land.

That comprehensive program is entirely dependent on public contributions. This community can participate in the crucial fight against cancer by giving generously to the 1955 fund-raising campaign which runs through April.

Meanwhile don't let unreasoning fear of cancer make you behave like the fabled ostrich. See your doctor for a physical check-up and be on the safe side.

What Mr. Herter is actually insisting upon is a trial period of decontrol. If such an experiment proves unwise, and that could well be the case, it will be speedily ended early next year.

Governor Herter believes that he is not warranted in extending rent control unless there is definite evidence to show the need for that action. He feels also that such evidence cannot be secured unless there is a trial period without controls.

If landlords treat their tenants fairly and there is not a flurry of unreasonable rent increases next January and February, rent controls undoubtedly will be allowed to die Dec. 31.

But if even a few big landlords prove to be greedy and impose exorbitant rent boosts on their tenant, the controls will be restored in a hurry.

Next year will be an election year, and practically everyone on Beacon Hill will be thinking in terms of the 1956 campaign.

Before the Legislature even returns to the State House next January, a number of bills will be filed for the continuance of controls, and they will be under debate and discussion when political influences will be stronger than they are today.

There will be greater pressure for the maintenance of controls a year from now than there is at present, and if there is any justification for a new rent control law, one almost surely will be enacted.

Any exorbitant rent increases imposed next Jan. 1 can be nullified by the Legislature and a new law made retroactive to Dec. 31. So it would be well to wait and see what happens in the early stages of next year, before reaching any conclusions on rent control.

Democratic legislators fear that tenants may be afraid to make complaints, but if they are hit by excessive boosts, it is likely that they will see that the situation is not kept secret.

* * * *

The spectacle which will be presented to the public tomorrow, when Democratic politicians appear in the Massachusetts Supreme Court to battle for the chairmanship of the Democratic State Committee, could have been avoided by the exercise of a little more common sense than has been displayed up to date.

The fight between John C. Carr and William H. Burke, Jr., for the chairmanship could have been resolved by the simple medium of calling all the committee members together at a regular meeting and presenting a motion to give Carr a vote of confidence or remove him.

Instead of meeting Burke's challenge in that way and all the evidence indicates that Carr would have been successful had he had done so, Carr resorted to political maneuvering and now to a court battle that certainly can only harm the Democratic party.

So much dissension already has been caused in the Democratic party that one result has been that the annual fund-raising Jefferson-Jackson dinner has been postponed from April 18 to June 9. That was not offered officially as the reason for the postponement, but it obviously was a contributing factor.

Whatever decision is reached in the Supreme Court tomorrow and in the near future will not settle the conflict for the Democratic State Committee chairmanship. All that will actually be determined is whether the meeting held in Springfield by the Burke supporters was a legal one.

If the court rules that it was not a legal session, the Burke faction in the committee can simply set the machinery in motion to convene another meeting, and the Democratic party will still find itself in the midst of a bitter quarrel.

Whether the Springfield meeting was a legal one will now be decided in the Supreme Court, but there is no doubt that the 21 State Committee members, who petitioned for that session, followed the procedure specified in their by laws.

Carr, however, called a meeting in Boston on the same day as the Springfield gathering, creating the unusual situation of two sessions on the same afternoon and causing uncertainty as to what was legal and what wasn't.

It is unfortunate that Democratic policians cannot resolve their differences in an orderly manner and in the so-called democratic way about which they preach so fervently. That could have been done very simply in this case.

Preparations for the Saturday session have been set back by the uncertainty as to what will happen in the Supreme Court Friday afternoon. Many of Burke supporters live in western Massachusetts and would have to plan in advance to make the trip to Boston for the meeting that has been called as a resumption of the Springfield session.

Now they will not know until late Friday whether the court will halt the meeting or permit it to go on. That probably will cause some of them to stay away.

All that is really happening is that the Democratic row is being prolonged and a showdown delayed. Members of the Republican high command must be thoroughly enjoying the political circus their opponents are staging.

* * * *

Republican members of the State Senate this week killed the wiretapping measure which had been the subject of so much controversy. They obviously anticipated that it would meet a veto, when it reached Governor Herter's desk.

Senator Charles J. Innes of the Back Bay, who originally had voted for the bill, switched his position and recorded himself against it, and Senate President Richard I. Furbush sealed the doom of the bill by exercising his prerogative to vote for its defeat. Usually Furbush only votes to make or break a tie.

The fact that the Democratic leadership in the House had made the wiretap bill a party issue, presumably for the purpose of embarrassing the Governor, probably played a part in influencing the action of the GOP-controlled Senate.

That, however, did not deter several liberal House Republicans from lining up for the bill and providing the balance of power that brought about its passage in the lower legislative chamber.

RANDOM CLIPPINGS

A nine-year-old boy died and a 13-year-old playmate was critically ill in Sardinia this week from eating the leaves and flowers of a hemlock plant, the poison that killed the famed Socrates.

Out in Pasadena, Calif., Mrs. Selene Roger turned over $49 to police, informing the astonished officers that for a month someone had broken into her room almost nightly and had put money totaling $49 in her purse.

Apprehension has developed in Washington over the ability of San Francisco to provide enough first-class rooms to house delegates, reporters and others who will be attending next year's Republican national convention. It seems that San Francisco has only seven or eight major hotels. These are in the 500-room class and don't compare with the huge hotels in New York, Chicago and Philadelphia.

Civic leaders in Monmouth County, New Jersey, are waging a campaign for wider publicity for juvenile offenders, including the disclosure of their names. They maintain that many parents have greater fear of their neighbors learning of their children's misdeeds that they do of the penalties the law may inflict.

School Program" and Dr. Leo J. Barry, Principal, whose subject was "Education in Newton High School." Mrs. E. Dana Kendall, Director of Junior Red Cross, Newton Chapter, brought greetings to the group and discussed "Newton High's Active Role in Red Cross." Other participants in the program were Miss Katherine Curtis, Guidance Counsellor and a faculty leader of the Idaho Falls, Clark's Summit, and Ottawa exchanges; and Mr. Kenneth White, one of Newton's present faculty leaders of the Exchange and of last year's exchange with Cleveland Heights. Exchange guests were introduced by Mr. Floyd Rinker, who directs the School and School Exchange Program.

TWO VISITS MONDAY

At 2:30 on Monday, the sixty-four exchange pupils in the Boulder-Newton unit went by buses to Boston College for a visit to Bapst Library, to see fine collections of books and art, particularly the stained glass windows in the Celtic Room, and to hear a talk by Father Terence L. Connolly, S.J., Librarian and Curator of the Francis Thompson Collection.

At 4:00 the group was welcomed by Dr. Albert I. Gordon, Rabbi of Temple Emanuel, Newton Centre. After a tour of the Temple and the school, Rabbi Gordon and Dr. Martin Goldstein, Director of Religious Education, spoke on the program of religious training for the young members of the congregation.

Dinner at home and a short informal party in the evening completed the day's activities. The program for the remainder of the Boulder visit is as follows:

Tuesday the Exchangers visited classes all day and in the evening attended a supper and entertainment sponsored by parents of the Newton Wilmington group at the Methodist Church, Newtonville.

Yesterday, (Wednesday) the group went to the Army Base in South Boston and made a tour of the U. S. Navy Aircraft Carrier Tarawa. This carrier has a complement of 1,500 men, is 93 feet wide with a flight deck 147 feet, is 880 feet long and is 27,000 tons displacement.

Following the tour of the carrier, the group had lunch at the Officers' Club at the Charleston Navy Yard and later made a tour of "Old Ironsides." They then went to the State House and attended opening of the General Court as guests of Mrs. Irene Thresher, Representative from this city. Governor Herter then extended welcome greetings to the students, following which the group went to the Durgin-Park Restaurant for dinner. The evening was spent in Boston visiting the various department stores and other places in the city.

VISIT TUFTS COLLEGE

Today (Thursday), the Exchangers will attend classes all day, after which they will leave by buses for a swimming party at the Tufts College Pool and will be served refreshments. The evening will be spent at the various homes in Newton.

Tomorrow, after attending morning classes, an "S" Block lunch for both Boulder and Newton Exchangers will be served and the group will leave by bus for a visit to Concord, Lexington, Wayside Inn and a brief visit to the Country Store. Dinner will be enjoyed at the various homes in the city.

At 7 o'clock the group will again leave by buses, this time to John Hancock Hall, Boston, to attend the Massachusetts High School Drama Festival and will witness the "Taming of the Shrew" by Cambridge High School; "Her other Husband," by Medford High School; "Main in the Bowler Hat" by Reading High School; and "Mary of Scotland" by Newton High School.

NORTH SHORE VISIT

Saturday the group will leave at 8:30 a.m., for the North Shore and will visit Marblehead, Salem, Gloucester and Rockport, with a mid-day dinner in Rockport at Peg Leg's. They will return home for a family supper at 5 o'clock.

The evening will be spent at the Totem Pole, Norumbega Park, Auburndale.

Sunday will be Family day and in the evening from 6 to 8 p.m., Open House will be held at the home of a Newton Exchanger.

Monday, the Boulder Exchangers will depart from Newton for their trip home.

THE EXCHANGERS

ate Executive Secretary of the Worcester Chest which position he is leaving to take over his new duties in Newton.

Cahill has five children: Robert H., 11; Mary L., 9; Thomas F., 7; Elizabeth Ann, 5, and Kathleen Marie 2. He and Mrs. Cahill and their family are at present living in Auburn, a suburb of Worcester, where Mr. Cabill is a trustee of the public library. He is a member of the American Association of Social Workers and a member of the Monday Evening Club (the social and health workers in Worcester County) of which Club he was President in 1951 and 1952.

Cahill has been prominently identified in Community Chest and Council work not only in Worcester but in the State, in New England and nationally. He is Secretary of the Association of New England Community Chests and Councils which will be having its biennial meeting in Providence on April 14 and 15. Two years ago at the Conference he was Chairman in charge of the program. He is a member of the Public Relations Advisory Committee of Community Chests and Councils of America.

H. J. Pettengill, retiring Director of the Chest has this to say of Mr. Cahill, "I have known Bob Cahill intimately since I became associated with the Newton Community Chest 13 years ago. At that time he was Executive Secretary of the Districts Division of the Greater Boston Community Fund. We worked together on three Red Feather Campaigns and through our association I came to respect him as a campaigner and to admire him for his geniality, ability and tact. In his seven years in Worcester he has grown rapidly and is recognized as one of the outstanding young men in the Community Chest field. I consider Newton very fortunate in being able to obtain the services of Mr. Cahill to take over the direction of the Newton Community Chest and I consider Mr. Cahill equally fortunate to be coming to Newton to enjoy the association that he will find here with such fine people."

THANKS FOR HELP

Editor, Graphic:

As the Newton Tuberculosis and Health Association closes its books on its 1954-55 fiscal year, the Association's board and staff members pause to look back and review the facts that made the 1954 Christmas Seal Sale Campaign and the past year's tuberculosis control programs the most successful in the annals of the Association's history.

We realize that an important contributing factor was the splendid cooperation of The Newton Graphic in bringing our story to the people of Newton.

The case finding, health education, rehabilitation and medical research efforts of the Newton Tuberculosis and Health Association are dependent upon community support of the Seal Sale.

We thank you sincerely for helping to make these programs available to Newton for the coming year. The interest of The Newton Graphic in the health of Newton deserves the highest of praise and recommendation.

MRS. THERESE D'ABRE
Executive Director

1955 HEART DRIVE

Editor, Graphic:

On behalf of the officers and directors of the Massachusetts Heart Association I would like to take this opportunity to extend my sincere appreciation for the very generous coverage which The Newton Graphic gave to the 1955 Heart Fund Campaign.

It gives me a great deal of pleasure to be able to tell you that this was a record-breaking campaign. The support which you gave to Edwin L. Beckwith, Newton chairman, and the other members of his committe made possible this success. Incomplete returns indicate that the Heart Sunday total in Greater Boston will exceed $215,000.

Since the needs of the Heart Association have always far exceeded its income, no goal was set in any community in the Commonwealth. It is most gratifying to be able to report that more volunteers collected more money this year than ever before in our seven year's existence.

Mail Red Cross Contributions Immediately

If you have not as yet been solicited this month for your gift to the American National Red Cross, the local chapter would appreciate it if you would send your contribution to the Newton Chapter, American Red Cross, 21 Foster street, Newtonville 60, Mass.

The closing days of the campaign are at hand. As of March 25, 60 per cent of the goal of $88,500 has been reached.

Each year the outlook toward the conquest of heart disease brightens. As you undoubtedly know, during the past few years many great advances have been made in the care and treatment of certain types of heart disease;—new surgical advances have saved many lives; and new drugs are being used effectively for treatment. The support which you and the citizens of Newton have given us again this year will bring us nearer to the day of victory.

ROBERT W. WILKINS, M.D., Pres. Massachusetts Heart Association

First Church of Christ, Scientist, Newton. Sunday morning services at 10:45 o'clock. with Sunday School at the same hour. The Wednesday evening testimony meeting will be at 8 o'clock. How spiritual understanding of God brings freedom from the futility of materialism will be brought out April 3 in the lesson-sermon titled "Unreality."

News of the Day

The study of the American Government is one of the big topics for the 9th grade classes at Day Junior High School. This week the ninth grade class at Day saw government in action by taking a field trip to the State Capitol building in Boston, Massachusetts' capital city. Senator Richard Lee of Newton, Representative Irene Thrasher, and Representative Donald Gibbs greeted the F. A. Day students. The students attended hearings in the morning, lunched on the Boston Common, and then attended the two meetings in the afternoon.

On Friday, March 25,the Physical Education Department of Day Junior High held an assembly in honor of all those who participated so well in the winter sports, hockey, and basketball. These teams were sponsored by Coach John Eldert, Mr. John Boston, and Mr. "Chuck" Brown.

The Day eighth grade girls closed their basketball season with victory for the Celtics, Junior team.

Many interesting activities are in the making at F. A. Day. On Monday, March 28th at 7:45 p.m., the P.T.A. will run a Military Whist party at the Newtonville Women's Club, 61 Washington Park, Newtonville. On Wednesday, March 30, at 7:30-9:00 p.m., the Science Fair and Open House will be held in the Day Junior High auditorium. The week will close with a dance on Friday, April 1, sponsored by the seventh grade Student Council Representatives. The proceeds from the dance will help pay for the F. A. Day Student Council trip to New York City during Easter vacation.

Merrill Named 2nd V-Chrm. of Newton G.O.P.

Carleton P. Merrill was elected Second Vice-Chairman of the Newton Republican City Committee at a meeting of this official Republican organization on March 22. Mr. Merrill replaces Douglas Danner, former Second Vice-Chairman, who has become Chairman of the Ward 3 Republican Committee.

Mr. Merrill was a member of the Board of Aldermen during 1950-1951. He has served as Chairman of Publicity for the Salvation Army Drive in Newton, and as Chairman of the Manufacturing Division of the Red Cross Drive. He is a member of the Ward 1 Republican Committee; a member of the Executive Board of the Newton Republican Club; and President of the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

John B. Stetson, Chairman of the Newton Republican City Committee, conducted the meeting which was attended by members of the seven Ward Committees.

Four Teams to Represent Y At Festival

Four teams from the Newton YMCA will represent the local Association in the annual Two State YMCA Sports Festival to be held at Springfield college on Saturday, April 2. Forty seven YMCA's from Massachusetts and Rhode Island are eligible and expected to participate.

Last year more than 2,000 individual entries were received and more than 200 teams competed for the 36 different sports championships according to Mr. DiPersio. Teams are selected by eliminations run in local leagues and tournaments, thus bringing to Springfield the top-flight teams from the YMCA's of the two states.

The Newton YMCA will send two swimming teams, one wrestling team, and a bowling group to the championships. Edward R. DiPersio, associate director of physical education at the Newton YMCA will accompany the teams.

Motorists Must Have Inspection Stickers by May

The periodic inspection of all motor vehicles registered in Massachusetts is scheduled to start tomorrow (Friday) and continue through the month of April.

All drivers must have the white April inspection sticker displayed on the cars' windshields by May 1. After that date, Registry of Motor Vehicles inspectors will bring to court autoists failing to display the sticker.

"This sticker," said Registrar of Motor Vehicles Randolph F. King, "must be placed in the lower right-hand corner of the windshield and in no other place. On wrap-around windshields, the sticker should be place at the lower edge of the windshield as far to the right as possible and still be visible to the front. All other stickers, baby shoes and other gadgets attached to the windshield must be removed."

About 3000 inspection stations have been authorized throughout the state in preparation for the semi-annual inspection. King advised motorists to bring their cars in for inspection as early in the month as possible "to avoid being disappointed at the end of the month by overworked inspection station personnel who may be unable to accommodate them."

The registrar pointed out that, following last Spring's inspection, 1328 drivers had to pay fines or were summoned before a hearing on suspension of their certificates of registration for driving uninspected vehicles.

Three Sessions of Nursing Demonstrations Being Conducted for Girl Scouts

Mrs. Callanan, Volunteer Nurse Instructor for the Newton Chapter of the American Red Cross is shown conducting a nursing demonstration for a group of Girl Scouts from Troop 102, Newton Centre, and Troop 7, Newton Upper Falls. Mrs. Joseph Manning and Mrs. William Bjork are the leaders of the groups. The girls will attend a total of three sessions, the first of which was held on March 7th.

March 12th marked the celebration of the 93rd birthday of the late Jane Delano, founder of the Red Cross Nursing Services. It is fitting that her birth date and the offering of this demonstration to this group of young girls, some of whom may well be future Red Cross nurses, should coincide.

Mrs. Callanan stressed, in her first lecture, that many communities need more nursing personel that is usually available. The Red Cross offers the nurse an opportunity to meet this need—to become a "plus" nurse—and use her skills for the benefit of her community. The Red Cross nurse teaches her skills to others and thus promotes better health for her community.

NHS Rifle Team Defeats Melrose In Tight Match

Newton High School's Rifle Team defeated Melrose High last Thursday afternoon by the narrow margin of 866 to 860 for the Tigers' fifth straight victory after an opening-match loss.

A record-shattering 196 out of 200 possible points kept the Melrose squad in contention, but Newton's all-around balance proved the margin of victory.

Team scores were:

NEWTON
Redland	179
Gramont	173
Guagenty	172
Loring	172
Norley	170
Total	866
MELROSE
Martin	196
Laffoley	172
Wilson	168
Lewis	168
Letteney	156
Total	860

Shooting also for Newton were Sulkin (166), Strong (164), Robins (159), Simpson (151), and Hudgins (129).

Today 85 per cent of all skin cancers are cured, but 95 per cent could be cured. Regular physical examinations can prevent cancer deaths, the American Cancer Society says.

"The full and complete cooperation of the public is requested," said the registrar, "in an effort to avoid accidents resulting in injury and death caused by defective equipment."

'House of Magic' At Bigelow JHS

The hour-long General Electric "House of Magic" science show was slated to be presented this morning (Thursday) at Bigelow Junior High School under the sponsorship of the Boston Edison Company.

The dramatic and educational program includes many startling demonstrations designed to give the layman a simple, easily-understood explanation of some General Electric's research that almost seems to be magic.

Some of the demonstrations include making music ride a beam of light, plastic that grows from a few ounces of chemical to a large cone in a second, exploding paper and unusual optical illusion caused by stroboscopic light.

Other features include demonstrations of jet and rocket power, a sun-motor powered directly by light and an amazing mechanical hand developed for atomic research.

Spotlight On Weeks

At this time of year, there is always quite a commotion coming from the girls' gym at Weeks. The excitement and tension centers in the eighth grade. More than 100 eighth grade girls are trying out to become next year's cheerleaders. The present cheerleaders practice twice with these girls to teach them the cheers and help them learn the motions. Try-outs will be held soon, and, by the process of elimination, ten girls will be chosen as next year's cheerleaders by the teachers and the present cheerleaders.

On April 1st, the eighth grade is sponsoring a dance called the Bunny Bounce, which will be held in the Weeks' gym from 7:30 to 10:00 p.m.

Weeks pins and rings are now being sold to the graduating class as a lasting memory of Weeks. There are four different types of rings, and two types of pins. These range in price from $1.50 to $4.20.

Announcement has recently been made of two trips to be taken during April vacation. Mr. Garofoli, a Latin and French teacher, plans to take a mixed group of 25 to 30 students, primarily ninth graders, to Washington and New York. Mr. Kingsley, an eighth grade English and social studies teacher, plans to take approximately 30 girls, primarily eighth graders, on a similar trip to Washington, Philadelphia, and New York. Each group will travel by train, and spend its five days visiting various historical points of interest.

Form Young Democratic Club Tonite

The Young Democratic Club of Newton will come into existence tonight (Thursday) when the newly-organized group will receive its charter at 8 o'clock in the Newton Highlands Workshop, 72 Columbus street.

The charter will be given by Coleman Bornstein, president of the Young Democratic Club of Massachusetts, and officers of the new club will be elected.

The club has been formed to give young people the opportunity to learn about city, state and national affairs, and also to let them express their feelings in a constructive way about local government problems.

Invited to join are young people from all sections of the city. Members already signifying interest include high school juniors and seniors and young men and women in college.

Dr. Isadore Green, prominent Boston psychiatrist well known for his original collaboration in electro-shock therapy, will be the speaker at this meeting which will take place at the Temple at 8:15 p.m. Dr. Green will discuss the timely subject: "It Can Happen to Your Children—Juvenile Delinquency" and will answer questions at an open forum discussion period.

A.A.U.W. Meets Next Thursday

The April meeting will be held next Thursday evening, at Simmons College School of Social Work, 51 Commonwealth Avenue, Boston, with social coffee hour starting at 7:15 p.m. followed by the speaking program at eight o'clock. The speaker will be Mrs. Lillian Bye, Executive Director of the Florence Crittenton League, who will speak on the work of the League in this area. This meeting is under the direction of the Status of Women Committee of the Branch, whose Chairman is Miss Stiena Benson, of the staff of Simmons College. Miss Jane Berriman, president of the Branch, will preside. There will be an opportunity for members and their guests to visit the rooms of the School of Social Work and the adjoining Prince School of Retailing, both graduate schools of Simmons College.

American Home Class

The American Home Class of the West Newton Women's Educational Club will hold its final meeting of the club year Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Werner Nelson, 14 Westview terrace, West Newton.

Luncheon will be served at 12:30 p.m. by Mrs. William T. Schenck, assisted by Mrs. Merrill B. Smith and Mrs. William L. Warner. Mrs. Edward E. Hickey, leader of the class, will conduct the business meeting, at which time officers for coming year will be elected. Hostesses and chairmen for next year's luncheon will also be chosen.

Silver Dessert Held at Home Of Mrs. Morris H. Adler

The Conservation Committee of the Newton Community Club sponsored a Silver Dessert at the home of the committee chairman, Mrs. Morris Harold Adler, Tuesday afternoon, March 22. The proceeds are to be used to purchase a membership in the Science Museum for the Newton Boys Club.

Miss Adelaide B. Ball and Mrs. Fred D. Hardy poured and the hostess was assisted by Mrs. George J. Appel, Mrs. Norman S. Atkinson, Mrs. William G. Ayers, Mrs. Frank Lombardi, Mrs. Carlton L. Shaw and Mrs. John L. Snider.

Egbert Hans, noted landscape architect and planner, associated with the Massachusetts Department of Natural Resources, spoke on Conservation. He said the woodlands which are necessary for the maintenance of water levels, are being cut off rapidly and that a serious water shortage will be the result. Without the trees, gravity pulls the water too quickly into the sea and takes with it precious top soil. There is no legislation to prevent wholesale cutting of trees and education in conserving our natural resources for usefulness and beauty is a vital need. He recommended the zoning of natural water sheds.

Memorial School P.T.A. Meeting

A film "Skippy and the Three R's" which is highly recommended by the Newton School Department will be presented at the meeting of the Memorial School P.T.A. Monday evening at 8:00 p.m., in the school auditorium, Oak Hill Park, Newton Centre. There will be a discussion period after the film, lead by Miss Grace M. Kennedy, Speech and Hearing Counsellor of the Division of Counselling Services of the Newton School Department. Refreshments will be served in the gymnasium during the social hour immediately following the meeting.

Mothers' Rest Club of Newton

The April 6th meeting of the Mothers' Rest Club of Newton, will be held at the home of Mrs. Stanley P. Lovell, 65 Prospect Park, Newtonville.

Hostesses assisting Mrs. Lovell will be Mrs. George Willard Smith, Mrs. H. Esmond Rowley, Mrs. Melville D. Liming and Mrs. Harold J. Davidson.

Newton Community Club

The Newton Community Club will hold it's annual Rummage Sale Saturday, from 9:30 a.m. to 3 p.m., at 350 Centre street, Newton. Plan to attend early for the best selection of a large assortment of articles.

Mr. Richard Eliot Bicknell Marries Miss Bette Ann Reed

The Rev. Palfrey Perkins officiated at the 4 o'clock ceremony last Saturday when Miss Bette Ann Reed, daughter of Mr. Robert G. Reed of Beacon Hill and the late Mrs. Reed, became the bride of Mr. Richard Eliot Bicknell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eliot Bicknell of Waban. White gladioli and candles decorated the pews in King's Chapel where the bride was given in marriage by her father. A reception followed at the Algonquin Club.

The bride wore a gown of imported Chantilly lace over satin, trimmed with sequins at the sweetheart neckline. It was fashioned with long sleeves and a cathedral train. Her finger tip veil of illusion was held by a crown of seed pearls. Orchids and Stephanotis trimmed her prayer book.

Princess-styled gowns of pale blue taffeta, fashioned with boat necklines and blue horsehair picture hats with streamers were worn by the bridal attendants. Mrs. Frederick Spring of Wellesley, sister of the bride, and matron of honor, carried white sweet peas and blue iris. The bridesmaids carried lavender, blue and pink sweet peas and blue iris.

Bridesmaids were: Mrs. Robert Reed, 3rd, sister-in law of the bride, Miss Judith Somerby, both of Marshfield Hills, Mrs. J. M. The wedding will take place May 29th.

Miss Annabelle P. Herring Engaged

On May 7th Miss Annabelle P. Herring will marry Mr. Robert H. Mrozinski, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thaddeus Mrozinski of Natrona, Pennsylvania. The engagement is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen P. Herring of Newton Highlands.

MRS. LAWRENCE N. MILLER

Miss Nancy Grahm Weds Mr. Lawrence Norman Miller

Pink and white floral decorations formed the background for the 6:30 candlelight ceremony March 14th, when Miss Nancy Grahm, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Leonard Grahm of Newton Centre, married Mr. Lawrence Norman Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward James Miller, also of Newton Centre. Rabbi Roland B. Gittelsohn of Temple Israel officiated at the double-ring ceremony which was followed by a reception in the Georgian Room of the Hotel Statler.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of ivory rosepoint type lace and silk taffeta. It was fashioned with a portrait neckline embroidered with seed pearls and iridescent sequins, a fitted bodice and bouffant skirt. A pearl crown, belonging to the sister of the groom, held in place the full-length illusion veil. She carried a bible, with white orchids and stephanotis.

Mrs. Gale Raphael, sister of the groom, was matron of honor, and Miss Judith Singer, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor. They wore pink waltz-length gowns, with matching mitts and head-bands, and carried cascades of rubrum lilies and American Beauty roses with ti leaves.

Wendy Grahm, sister of the bride, and Joan Gerier, the bride's cousin, were flower girls. They wore full-length pink net dresses, matching mitts, wreaths of flowers in their hair, and carried old-fashioned bouquets. John Leavitt Grahm, brother of the bride, was a junior usher.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Grahm wore a waltz-length gown of pink silk taffeta, dusted with sequined feathers, and a corsage of pink orchids. Mrs. Miller, the bridegroom's mother, wore a waltz-length gown of pink embroidered lace and chiffon, with a pink orchid corsage. Mr. and Mrs. Peter M. Leavitt of Brookline, grandparents of the bride, were among the guests present, Mrs. Leavitt, wearing blue lace embroidered with squins, and corsage of deep purple orchids.

Mr. Gale Raphael, brother-in-law of the groom, was best man. Ushers were Burton Elliott of Chestnut Hill, Sumner N. Milender and Justin L. Wyner of Brookline, George Hansen, Jr. of Lexington, Thomas J. Butler of Cambridge, Robert L. Richards of Mattapoisett, Jay B. Langner of Allentown, Pennsylvania, Robert D. Usen of Newton Centre, and Jeremy Ulin of Boston.

The bride attended Coucher College and Boston University, College of Liberal Arts, where she plans to continue her studies in the fall. The bridegroom was graduated from the Browne and Nichols School, and from Harvard College, class of 1949. After a wedding trip to the West Indies, they will make their home in Brookline.

"You Can't Print That" To Be Subject Of Talk Friday Night

"You Can't Print That" will be the subject of an informal address by Rudolph F. Elie Jr., Boston Herald columnist, and former Hollywood script writer, at 8 o'clock Friday evening, April 15, at the West Newton Unitarian Church, 1326 Washington St., West Newton. Sponsored jointly by the church activities committee and the Couples' Club of the First Unitarian Society in Newton, this church benefit is open to the public. A discussion period and social hour will follow Mr. Elie's talk.

Mrs. Henry Whitmore Jr., chairman of the activities committee, is ticket chairman. Also on the committee arranging this event are Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Sears, co-presidents, Couples' Club; Mr. and Mrs. John W. Gurry, vice-presidents; and Mr. and Mrs. Philip W. Cranshaw, secretary-treasurers. Tickets are available through the church office and members of the Couples' Club and Activities Committee.

Mr. Elie writes the "Roving Eye" column in the Boston Herald, for which he is also music critic. He has been on the editorial staff of the Herald since 1939 and became assistant music and drama critic in 1941. During the war he served in the Pacific as a civilian war correspondent for the Herald, attached to the U.S. Navy.

After serving two years as president of the Boston Press Club, Mr. Elie is currently on the board of directors and on the committee for the fifth annual Amasa Howe Award dinner of the Boston Press Club to be held April 11 at the Sheraton Plaza Hotel in Boston.

Mr. Elie began his newspaper career in 1932, working on papers in Randolph, Mass., and Exeter, N.H. From 1937-39 he was a film script writer in Hollywood before joining the Herald editorial staff.

Miss Joan Carson Bride Of Mr. William Knowlton

Saturday afternoon at a 3 o'clock ceremony Miss Joan Cynthia Carson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Ernest Carson of Quincy was married to Mr. William Paine Knowlton of Marston's Mills, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold William Knowlton of Auburndale. The Rev. Charles F. Brown officiated assisted by the Rev. Carl Fearing Schultz, pastor of the Hyannis Federated Church, Hyannis, at the wedding which took place in the Adams Shore Community Church, Quincy. The reception was in the church parlor which was decorated with ferns, pussy willows and forsythia.

With her princess gown of antique ivory taffeta, the bride wore an heirloom rose point lace veil, which had been worn by the mother of the bridegroom at her wedding. White roses and carnations with accents of green ivy made up the crescent shaped bridal bouquet. Miss Miriam R. Carson was her neices' only attendant. As maid of honor she wore a princess style gown of navy blue silk taffeta with headband of pink straw and tulle and carried pink roses and carnations.

The bride's mother wore a slate blue taffeta dress with navy accessories and corsage of pink camellias. Mrs. Knowlton, mother of the bridegroom, wore powder blue lace with white accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

John Adams Knowlton, Manchester, Connecticut, was best man for his brother. Ushers included, George Edmund Carson, USN, of Quincy, and brother of the bride, and David W. Beach of Springfield.

The bride was graduated from the Woodward School for Girls and the Boston Dispensary, School for Medical Laboratory Technicians. Mr. Knowlton studied at the Cambridge School in Weston and was graduated from the Norfolk County Agricultural School. They will make their home in Marston's Mills, after a motor trip to New York.

Proclaims April 'Cancer Control Month' in City

Calling upon all Newton residents to join the drive for funds to aid the battle against cancer, Mayor Howar Whitmore Jr. has proclaimed April as Cancer Control Month in the city.

"It is estimated, at present rates, that more than 40,000,000 Americans now living will at some time develop cancer," the mayor pointed out. "Almost half of these will be stricken by the disease while in the best years of life and most-needed by their families, their work and their communities.

"The only answer to the cancer riddle lies in continued research by our scientists, in further education both of our physicians on the strides science has already made and of the general public on the importance of seeking medical care soon enough for effective treatment and cure. For cancer is curable if discovered early enough and treated promptly."

The American Cancer Society, declared Mayor Whitmore sponsors a nationwide program of research, education and service, and the state division of the society will be conducting a drive during April to help carry on this program.

Huge Kraft Cheese Carnival At Waban Mkt. All This Week

An event of more than passing interest is the huge Kraft Cheese Festival being held at the Waban Market, Waban, all this week and the management cordially invites all Newton residents to visit the store and see this mammouth exhibit of fine and rare cheese.

Monday afternoon, that ever popular vocalist and a resident of this city, Vaughn Monroe, appeared at the Waban Market Cheese Festival and along with dignitaries of the Kraft Cheese Company, cordially greeted the hundreds of people who daily patronize this modern and up-to-the minute market.

Among the cheese which drew much attention were mammouth size Chedder Cheese loafs together with other large displays. In addition all brands manufactured by the Kraft Company were on display and the arrangement was very tempting.

The Waban Market, located at 10 Windsor road, is probably one of the most attractive markets to be found in this section of the country. Its items are attractively arranged and packaged and are so located that shopping at the Waban Market is a quick, easy and pleasant task.

The very cleanliness of the market is perhaps one of its most striking attributes and there is a sense of security in shopping in such a delightful atmosphere.

In addition to all these features, the lighting arrangement is so expertly designed that a warm homey environment is at once apparent.

But perhaps the feature of the Waban Market which at once is apparent to all who shop there is the friendliness and courtesy which the entire staff of the market extends to all.

Newton residents who have not as yet shopped at the Waban Market are in for a most delightful occasion when they go to this popular and fast-growing market and learn for themselves that all that has been said of it is no exaggeration. The management extends a cordial invitation to all Newton residents to visit their store and "see for themselves.".

The box office opens at 6:30 and the show starts at dusk.

Newton Sports

Newton High — the early-bird team as usual — will pry the lid off the schoolboy baseball season Monday when the Tigers entertain Medford High at the newly-rebuilt NHS diamond. This traditional game regularly marks the start of diamond festivities for the spring. . . . Weather permitting, the teams will christen the new diamond which has had a complete face-lifting since last season. The diamond and the grassy outfield, best in the Suburban League by a longshot, were made over as soon as the last fly ball of the 1954 season nestled into a fielder's glove. Visiting teams can be pardoned if they drool a bit over the exceptional baseball facilities offered at Newton High. . . . It's a fact that the diamond will be in top shape for the lid-lifter, but who will be standing on the turf is a different matter. Nine Newton players will be out there, and that's about the best you can say for NHS at this point . . . Hampered by the wild and woolly weather to date, Coach Howie Ferguson has had little chance to see his prospective players in action. Some o the boys look good hitting a tennis ball under the sheltering Drill Shed roof, but its a different matter when a wild-armed hurler is flinging a rock-hard baseball 90 miles an hour in the general direction of home plate.

An even half-dozen regulars are back from last year's so-so Orange nine, including everybody's all-scholastic Willard Hamill who has compiled a better than .400 batting average during his star-studded career at NHS. . . . Other returnees are Capt. Levon Kasarjian, Russ Halloran, Billy Reilly, Chuck Fogarty and John Simcock.

Although sports experts are picking all-veteran Brookline as the team to beat in the Suburban loop, Newton may be able to make a pretty good showing itself if Coach Fergy can find someone besides Hamill who knows what to do with a pitched ball. . . . All last year Fergy was plagued with men left on base, as the Tigers displayed an amazing ability to get men on base and showed a more fantastic talent for leaving them there. A few "big" hits in the crucial spots were all that stood beween the Orange and a championship season. . . . As things stand now, Reilly will probably be the backbone of the pitching staff. Blessed with a roaring fast ball, Reilly could develop into one of the top Suburban hurlers with a year's experience behind him. . . . Hamill, badgered with arm trouble, has centerfield all to himself if he can throw. Should the arm still give him difficulty, Billy may repeat last season's switch to second base, where the shorter throw proved more to his ailing wing's liking. . . . Shortstop probably belongs to fiery little "Mouse" Kasarjian, who had won that spot last season before doctors ordered him to the bench following a knock on the head in an auto accident.

Halloran looked good at first base last year, especially considering he was only a sophomore. His batting average was second to Hamill, but was still below the .300 mark. . . . Simcock, a part-time outfielder, showed flashes of brilliance, yet couldn't connect at the plate in his few appearances in 1954. Fogarty displayed some good fielding and a strong arm, yet he also had the common failing of weakness at the bat.

Besides trying to locate batting punch, Ferguson, also will be looking for someone to fill the vital role of catcher. Long, lean and lanky Stan Chamberlain, center on the basketball squad, is one of the boys seeking that post. At least it would be hard to get the ball over his head. . . . This leaves a lot of gaps in the lineup, but we're sure that by Monday Howie will have performed some more of his sleight-of-hand tricks to come up with nine boys who know what baseball is all about. . . . We've said it before, but it bears repeating that Howie Ferguson is one of the most outstanding schoolboy baseball coaches in the state. A tireless worker, he follows the practice that games are won with sweat and determination. He teaches baseball from the ground up, and never ceases trying to add to his boys' knowledge—or his opponents' either—from the first day they come under his wing through the final out of the season. . . . Howies is truly a "professional" coach. There is no "horsing around" on his bench while a game is in progress. Every player, even if never in the game, is expected to add his bit toward winning the game by vocal encouragement or "bench jockeying.". . . This attitude wins games, and, more important, does a lot more toward developing his players as adults—in this writer's opinion —than the part-time, let-the-kids-do-anything-they-want attitude of some of the coaches.

Temple Shalom To Hold Passover Celebration

The Religious School of Temple Shalom of Newton announces a full schedule of events in celebration of Passover to be conducted by various departments of the School. Pre-Passover seder services will be held by the primary grades on April 2, by the intermediate grades on April 3, by the junior high school division on April 4, and by the kindergarten on April 5.

The primary and intermediate grades have prepared centerpieces for the tables as class projects, and the pupils will participate in the responses and seder songs. At the junior high school service there will be Hebrew readings by students in the Hebrew Department of the School.

Parents in charge of the various services include Mmes. David Berkowitz, Bennett Blumenberg. Sidney Green and Harold Williams.

Temple services in honor of the holiday include the Family Passover service to be held on Thursday, April 7, at 10:30 a.m., and the Yizkor or Memorial service to be held on Wednesday, April 13, at the same hour.

Central Circle

Dr. Harry E. Raymond of West Newton, a Director of the New England Rose Association and last year's winner of the Sweepstakes at the Boston Rose Exhibit, entertained the Circle at the March meeting in Central Congregational Church, Newtonville, with colored slides of exquisite roses. Dr. Raymond was ably assisted by Mrs. Raymond with readings on the history and culture of the rose. It was evident that the "Peace" rose is their favorite. The lecture, to a very responsive group, ended with an original poem dedicated to "Peace."

Centers To Meet Mon.

The recreation workers of the twelve neighborhood centers, conducted under the auspices of the Newton Recreation Department, are to meet in the Workshop, Newton Highlands, Monday, April 4, at 3:30 p.m.

Amidst the fragrant atmosphere of approaching spring with pretty flowers and pleasant surroundings, those who attend will have a pleasant and rewarding afternoon.

Mrs. Howard Whitmore, Jr., and Mrs. Worthing L. West will preside at the tea tables.

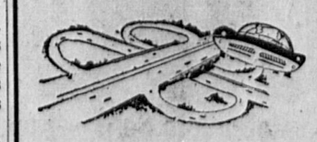

The invited guests will include the Honorable Howard Whitmore, Jr.; C. Evan Johnston, Recreation Commission; Mr. and Mrs. Ernest G. Angevine; Mrs. Allen Barrows; Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Dangle; Miss Adelaide Ball; members of the School Department, and friends representing other organizations in the community.

This annual social function has as its purpose building a better acquaintance with the several factors contributing to this vital community service.

Last year, 24,000 Americans died of lung cancer, about seven times as many as in 1933. Early detection with chest x-rays twice a year can cut that toll. Support this effort by contributing to the American Cancer Society.

Annual Meeting Of Teacher's Federation Held

The annual meeting of the Newton Teachers' Federation took place Monday evening.

The business meeting convened at 5:15 p.m. in the high school auditorium, at which Harry V. Anderson, acting president, presided. Reports of the secretary, treasurer, and standing committees were read and adopted.

The election of officers took place, with the following slate resulting: Miss Mildred Hood, president; Mr. Addison Cowles, vice-president; Miss Ella Gay, secretary; and Mr. Lawrence Drury, treasurer.

After the business meeting, there was the annual banquet in the high school cafeteria. Greetings from Mayor Whitmore were read by Mr. Anderson, after which Mr. Henry Keyes and Dr. Gores spoke briefly. Other guests of the Federation were presented.

The evening was climaxed by the presentation of "Culminating Activity", a musical written and directed by Eugene Gray, and produced by Miss Alice Finnegan.

Newton Boy Is Killed By Auto

Six-year-old David K. McCann, of 48 Circuit avenue, Newton Highlands, was fatally injured by an automobile on Boylston street, Route 9, Tuesday night, as his mother watched in horror.

Physicians at Newton-Wellesley Hospital, where the boy was pronounced dead, said the youngster was probably killed instantly. Police said the car was operated by Lewis G. Evans of 2 West Riding street, Wellesley.

The accident happened shortly before 5 o'clock. The boy and his mother, Mrs. Thelma McCann, 34, had just stepped out of a bus on the westbound land. They were standing on the curb when David dashed out in front of the bus into the path of the oncoming car, witnesses told police.

The accident, the first fatal one here this year, occurred opposite Circuit avenue.

Elected at Bates

Norman Levine, son of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Levine of 25 Park drive, Newton Highlands, has been elected junior member of the Bates College Publishing Association. He is a member of the Class of 1957 at Bates.

4 Different Camping Programs To Be Conducted by Newton Y

Offering varying and interesting "growth" opportunities, four different camping programs are being offered boys from Newton and surrounding communities for the 1955 season by the Newton Young Men's Christian Association, according to Ferderick S. Bacon, president.

Opening in June will be the two day camps, Massassoit and Chickami, Camp Vagabond, the "trip camp", and Camp Frank A. Day, the Y's residence camp in Brookfield.

Enrollment is now on for the two Newton YMCA operated day camps, Massassoit and Chickami. Both programs will begin Monday, June 27, the first Monday following closing of Newton public schools.

Camp Massasoit activities are held on the playfield and on the grounds of the YMCA at 276 Church Street, in Newton. Richard B. Simmons is director with Edward R. DiPersio as associate. Boys enrolled in the camp which will open for its twelfth season in June, are enrolled in "Indian Tribes" for group work. Leon A. Huston is chairman of the Camp Massasoit Committee.

Camp Chickami, founded in 1946, will open for its tenth season also on June 27. Bruno J. Ottavi, associate Youth Work Secretary of the YMCA will again direct the camp. G. Richard Ware is the acting chairman of the Camp Chickami committee. Nature study, led by Donald Robinson, is a chief interest. All boys enrolled are exposed to the beauties and wonders of the natural world around them on the wooded banks of the Charles at Riverside where the camp is located. Chickami boys also are enrolled in groups, each with a leader-counselor for effective work.

Camp Frank A. Day, the residence camp, located on the shores of Lake Quacumquasett in East Brookfield, will open Wednesday, June 29. The camp's capacity enrollment of 156 boys for each of its two four-week periods had now nearly been reached. Founded in 1916, through the efforts of the late C. D. Kepner and other Newton YMCA Board members, camp will this year be open for its 40th season. Three unit divisions are used: Midget, Junior and Senior. Frank M. Simmons is camp director with John E. Danielson, YMCA Youth Work Secretary, as associate director and director of the senior unit.

Camp Vagabond, an "adventure" camp was offered for the first time last year under the sponsorship of the Youth Work Committee of the Newton YMCA. The boys took a camping trip of 1100 miles through Maine, New Hampshire, and Massachusetts. David B. Potts, associate Youth Work Secretary who led last year's exposition will lead this year's two week educational and adventure trip to Washington, D.C. William Shaul is camp chairman.

Mrs. Carmen Alvord to Again Head Centre Blood Donor Day

The Newton Chapter of the American Red Cross is happy to announce that Mrs. Carmen Alvord will again be chairman for Newton Centre Blood Donor Day.

The Bloodmobile will visit the First Baptist Church, Newton Centre (848 Centre street) on Monday, April 11th, from 1 p.m. to 7 p.m. Mrs. Alvord says "the success of the Bloodmobile visit depends primarily upon the recognition on the part of Newton Centre residents of the great need for blood in our civilian life and upon the willingness of individuals to donate blood to meet such need.

Mrs. Alvord also states that "in order for a village chairman to secure a quota of 140 pints of blood, it is necessary to recruit as many as 225 persons. It has been found, from past experience, that this is necessary because of cancellations which occur on the day of the Bloodmobile visit. About 10 per cent of the individuals recruited cancel their appointment for various reasons, especially because of illness. 15 per cent of those recruited may be turned down for health reasons. The balance fail to keep their appointment because they may forget the date, or fail to notify the chairman that they cannot keep their appointment." At the present time it is expected that members of Temple Emanuel Brotherhood and students from Andover Newton Theological Seminary will participate as donors on April 11th.

If you have not already made your appointment, please call LA 7-6000 now.

Hospital Junior Aid Association Rummage Sale This Saturday

This Saturday is the day of the Rummage Sale being held by the Newton-Wellesley Hospital Junior Aid Association at 419 Lexington Street, Auburndale Square from 9:30 a.m. until 2 p.m. Come and see the collection of good, useful rummage where you will find something for every member of the family. Members working on the committee for the success of the sale include: Mrs. Robert Wise, Mrs. Willard Dalrymple, Mrs. Phillip Cahill, Mrs. Thomas Broderick, Mrs. Melvin Gulbrandsen, Mrs. Dickson Smith, Mrs. James Munro, Mrs. William Baker, Mrs. Jack Parker, Mrs. Ned Erne, Mrs. Charles D. Wood, Mrs. Douglas Howard, Mrs. John Herrick and Mrs. Donald Whitney of Wellesley; Mrs. Edward Allen, Mrs. J. Marshall Leydon, Miss Lois Brown, Mrs. Richard McEldowney, Mrs. Joseph Skinner, Mrs. Henry Butcher, Mrs. David Railsback, Mrs. Carnig Thomason, Mrs. Robert McCourt, Miss Joan Gordon, Mrs. Robert Steinsieck, Mrs. William Ripley, Miss Constance Linberg and Mrs. Barbara Bennett of Newton. Members of the association met last Thursday evening in Allen Riddle Hall at the hospital. At the conclusion of the regular business meeting, Mrs. Gertrude Jameson, Chief of Social Service at New England Deaconess Hospital gave a most informative and absorbing account of her recent trip through India. Mrs. Jameson stressed how little knowledge Americans have of India and its history in comparison to their knowledge of our American history. Visiting India as a delegate to a social service conference and meeting many dignitaries including Nehru, Mrs. Jameson's impression was that among India's people there is illiteracy but not ignorance, finding them a wise and religious people.

Refreshments were served at the conclusion of the program.

Dudley Associates

The March meeting of the Dudley Associates was held at the home of president and Mrs. Bert Heyman. The guest speaker was Mr. Zonn, director of Truth Associates. He illustrated to the group, through examples, the successful results incurred from a lie detector.

Large Crowd Honors Dr. Harold Case

More than two hundred and fifty members and friends of the Brotherhood of Temple Reyim gave a standing ovation to President Harold C. Case of Boston University as he was presented with the ANNUAL AWARD of Temple Reyim Brotherhood by Dr. Herbert N. Shepard, Brotherhood President, at the Award Breakfast held this past Sunday morning at the Newton Centre Women's Club.

The award is given for eminence in the fields of Education, Religion and Civic Affairs, and reads in part, "In recognition of his achievements and fulfillment of his obligations in building the moral and intellectual fibre of our Youth into present and future citizens of the world and their development into free and responsible persons; in appreciation of his fervent devotion to the loftiest democratic ideals and to the cause of "Brotherhood of Man", practiced in his daily living as the kindly teacher, the Minister and the living example".

Dr. Shepard, in his presentation to Dr. Case, likened him to the Entire State Building towering far over the other skyscrapers and quoted Dean Thurmond of Boston University, who described Dr. Case as an "authentic human being." Dr. Case, in his acceptance of the award, stated that he felt that through him the citation went indirectly to Boston University, and noted that since the founding of Boston University in 1869, the School has operated on a spiritual, but non-sectarian basis. He summed up his philosophy with the statement "No one can build Brotherhood. We all inherit Brotherhood." Boston University, with an all-time-high enrollment of 18,500, of whom 10,000 are full-time students, intends to admit as many students as possible and at the same time expand its facilities so as to adequately maintain its standards. Dr. Case stated that it was not fair to limit education because so many happened to be born at a time when so many want to be educated. He also pointed out that at Boston University students are admitted and judged solely on their capabilities.

The morning's program was brought to a close with the benediction by Dr. Walter Muelder, Dean of the School of Theology. Among the distinguished guests were Mayor Howard Whitmore, Jr., of Newton, Rabbi Harold D. Kastle, spiritual leader of Temple Reyim, Rabbi Samuel Perlman, Director of Hillel House at Boston University, Dr. Muelder, Dr. Harold Gores, Superintendent of Schools for the city of Newton, and Morris Spelfogel, New England Regional President of the National Federation of Jewish Men's Clubs.

ELMER GORN

IRVING H. POLEN

Elmer Gorn Chairman of C-Day Campaign to Be Held Here Apr. 3

Leading communal workers have been chosen to head the "C" Day (Cash Collection Day) effort for the Combined Jewish Appeal on April 3 in Newton. Elmer Gorn chairs the Newton area with Mrs. Arnold Canner mobilizing the Women's division and Esther Rotenberg the Young Adult division's activities.

The Newton Business Team is headed by Irving H. Polen for the "C" Day effort, an annual tradition of Greater Boston Jewry for philanthropic giving, which is the day set aside for the redemption of Combined Jewish Appeal pledges.

CJA contributors have been notified to stay at home on "C" Day, Sunday, April 3 and give a cash payment on their CJA pledge to the volunteer worker assigned to call on them. The Newton volunteers will receive their assignments at Temple Emanuel, 395 Ward street, Newton at 9:00 a.m., on "C" Day morning.

The fact that "C" Day is a one day drive makes tight coordination and an all-out community effort essential, in order to collect the sufficient funds needed to support the 201 philanthropic institutions serving Jewry at home, in North Africa and in Israel.

Underwood PTA Hears Boston U. Educator Tonight

Dr. Alice B. Crossley, associate professor of education at Boston University, will speak tonight (Thursday) at 8 o'clock to members of the Parent Teachers Association in the Underwood School Auditorium.

Dr. Crossley, well-known throughout New England, has distinguished herself as a leader in the field of elementary education. Formerly a classroom teacher and music supervisor in the public schools of Medford and Winchester, she completed her doctoral studies in 1948 and joined the faculty of the University of Connecticut.

In 1950, Dr. Crossley assumed her present position at Boston University. From 1951 to 1953 she served as first vice-president of Pi Lamda Theta, national honorary education society. For her topic she will discuss language arts and related subject matter areas. Because the language arts are basic to reading, social studies, science, and communications, the discussion will be dealing with the fundamental learning experiences of the child on the elementary level.

Schedule Monday Grade Meetings At Davis School

Monday evening at 8 o'clock, grade meetings will be held at the Davis School in West Newton. The children are taking home announcements to that effect, during this week, and parents are being given an opportunity to suggest topics and areas for discussion.

The parents of Kindergarten children will meet with Mrs. Mildred McCarthy. The varied experiences encountered in the course of a typical school day will be discussed. Mrs. McCarthy will explain the methods employed in the teaching of kindergarten skills and will report progress thus far. There will be a question period and all parents are urged to take an active part.

Miss Pauline Larson, fifth grade teacher has invited Miss Mary Madden, school nurse, to discuss health with the parents of her pupils. Miss Larson plans to review the curriculum and to explain the achievement testing program. A round table discussion will ensue so that the group may exchange ideas on: allowances, duties at home, bedtime, T.V. programs and other topics of mutual interest.

Miss Mary J. Nugent, principal will be present at the meetings. Mrs. Thomas F. A. Flynn and Mrs. Thomas S. Hayden, room mothers will assist.

Tuesday evening, the grade one meeting was held. Miss Anne E. Gorman enlightened the parents in regard to first grade activities. The parents were favorably impressed with the interesting and varied program their youngsters enjoy.

College Notes

The Colby College Glee Club has launched a four city tour starting with a concert at Longwood Towers, Brookline. The tour will include New London, New York City and Worcester. It is a mixed chorus of 40 men and women. Deborah Robson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell H. Robson, 82 Carver road, Newton is one of the students who is making the trip.

World Vision Institute

"The Free World Still Has A Chance to Win the Orient" is the theme of the World Vision Institute of the Newtonville Methodist Church when it meets April 24 to May 1.

Those planning the program are the Rev. Hamilton M. Gifford, pastor, and a Commission on Missions, with Prof. Taylor E. Miller as chairman.

Beautiful Lorraine Swanson to Meet Candy Carroll

Blond, beautiful and brilliant Lorraine Swanson, Minneapolis, Minn., considered one of the most attractive girls in the ring, meets explosive Candy Carroll in the feature of the Burns-Kerr Legion wrestling program at the West Newton Armory Saturday night.

Miss Swanson, in her only previous appearance at the Armory about a month ago, displayed a lot more than extraordinary beauty. She also showed herself to be as gifted and crowd-pleasing a girl grappler as any to perform in the local ring.

She'll have to be at her best Saturday, because Miss Carroll packs a wealth of wrestling talent and poise.

Burns-Kerr officials have also scheduled a pair of promising supporting events.

In the semi-final, Herman Schmidt, German strongman, will attempt to scalp Chief Blue Eagle, heap big Injun from an Oklahoma reservation.

Launching the program at 8:30 o'clock will be a special bout between Nick Valley, Montreal, P.Q., and classy Tony Enos, speedy top-notcher from New Bedford.

College Notes

George D. Guzzi, Jr., of 11 Randlett park, West Newton, a junior in the School of Liberal Arts at Tufts has been elected Worthy Usher of his fraternity, Alpha Tau Omego, Gamma Beta chapter.

A 1952 graduate of Newton High School, and son of Mr. and Mrs. George D. Guzzi, he is staff cartoonist of the Tufts Weekly, student newspaper.

Two hundred ninety-three students from 37 states and 25 foreign countries recently received midyear degrees from Harvard University. Joseph H. Pynchon, 9 Oak Terrace, Newton Highlands and Walter G. Robinson, Jr., Fessenden School, West Newton were among those receiving Master in Education (Ed. M.) degrees.

—o—

Charlie Morrissey of Newton, Colby College's leading hockey scorer this season, has been named captain of the 1955-56 Mule puck-chasers.

Although he did not compete in athletics at Newton High, he excelled in three sports at Browne and Nichols in Cambridge. He played halfback in football, second base in baseball and wing in hockey. He is being pushed for second base spot on the Colby club this spring by a fellow townsman, Don Dunbar, but both should see considerable action. Barkey Boole, another Newtonite, holds third base for Colby. He is also football captain-elect.

—o—

Recent guests at the informal "at homes" given by President and Mrs. Harold Case of Boston Unuiversity were S. P. Dunham, 46 Westview drive, West Newton; Fred Fischel, 8 Bruce lane, and Robert M. Elashoff 11 East Boulevard road, Newton; Phil Himmelfort, 117 Beaumont avenue, Newtonville, and Herbert Stevens, 406 Wolcott street Auburndale.

—o—

Four Newton area girls, seniors at Bradford Junior College, Bradford, are at home for the spring vacation. They are: Carol H. O'Keeffe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adrian O'Keeffe of 1415 Commonwealth avenue, West Newton; Cheryl Worthen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Worthen of 121 Highland street, West Newton; Elizabeth Hill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George R. Hill of 31 Holly road, Waban; and Nancy Lee Newman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley O. Newman of 10 Locke road, Waban. During part of the vacation Miss Hill will entertain a classmate, Miss Susannah Jamison of Glencoe, Ill.

The successful bidder shall be required to enter into contract with the City of Newton. A surety bond by a company satisfactory to the Mayor of the City of Newton, and in the amount of 100 per centum of the proposal accepted, shall also be required.
A certified check payable to the City of Newton in the amount of 10% of the gross bid, but not to exceed $500, shall accompany the original proposal. Cash or a bid bond in lieu of a certified check shall not be accepted.
All checks shall be held by the City until the award of the contract, at which time checks of the unsuccessful bidders shall be returned. The successful bidder shall enter into a contract within six (6) days after notification of acceptance of bid, and check shall be returned upon execution of the contract. Upon failure of the contractor to enter into contract, the check may, at the option of the City, be retained by the City as liquidated damages for such failure.

Short & Williamson ,Inc. Issues 50th Anniversary Booklet

A booklet commemorating the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of Short & Williamson, Inc., funeral directors, has just been issued by the firm. It is a review of a half century of service to the Greater Boston community in a field that profoundly affects the lives, culture and religious customs of the whole population. Copies of the booklet are available on request to the firm.

William H. Short was the founder of the original parent company in 1905, and he is still active in the management. He has witnessed, in the half century of the firm's existence, profound changes which he describes as an "evolution in which society has learned to pay respect to the dead with the dignity, beauty, and solacing ceremonial service and belong to a profoundly touching religious rite."

Mr. Short received his professional training in the same funeral establishment in Watertown in which Leslie I. Williamson had his apprenticeship. Both started for themselves, opening their own funeral establishments.

Mr. Short purchased the Metcalf Undertaking business in Allston in 1905, and Mr. Williamson bought the Marsh-Whitman establishment in Union Square, Allston, in 1919. In 1926 Leon E. Smith joined with Mr. Williamson and they established a branch in Brighton under the name of Williamson and Smith. At about the same time Merle E. Johnson became associated with Mr. Short.

There were many practices and conditions affecting funerals in the early years of the century that, in the light of today's standards, seem crude and objectionable. The old horse-drawn hearses, ceremonies amid surroundings not conducive to solemn religious observances, and physical surroundings at grave sides that jarred the feelings of grief stricken families, were almost universal accompaniments to burials.

The two neighboring firms shared the conviction that their responsibilities to the public demanded strict adherence to a code of ethics built upon the principle that placed, above all other consideration, help and satisfaction to the families they served.

"It was only natural," says Mr. Williamson, "that two funeral establishments with identical ideals of ethical practice and standards of responsibility should join to carry out their program. The merger was consummated in 1928, and the present company, Short & Williamson, Inc., was established."

The modern funeral home, with chapels for services providing adherence to the religious customs of all faiths, had its real start in the 1920's. Short & Williamson was one of the first to provide a spacious and well equipped establishment for funeral services, located at 173 Brighton avenue, Allston. A second Funeral Home was opened by the firm at 52 Trapelo road, Belmont, in 1930.

These buildings are designed for their purpose, air conditioned, and provided with all the conveniences and comforts required, including commodious chapels seating up to 125 persons. Provision for privacy for families, ample parking space, organ music, and all the paraphernalia prescribed for the religious rites of different faiths was included in the planning of these two modern funeral homes.

Mr. Williamson says that few people not actually engaged in the profession realize how many separate services must be performed in arranging and conducting a funeral service. "They mount into the hundreds," he explains. "Some of these are formalities prescribed by statutes for public health protection, and statistical records. The great majority are intended solely to serve the wishes and convenience of families at a time when emotional distress, uncertainty and disturbances upset normal activities and there is dire need of sympathetic, trained professional help. We have our goal the perfection of the funeral service to the end that it may bring solace to the living of all faiths when loved ones pass away."

Easter Dessert

Here's the easiest recipe ever for a gay spring dessert, the Easter nests shown in the April Woman's Home Companion. They'd make an attractive topper to your holiday dinner or a bright accompaniment to coffee for after-dinner guests. Buy spongecake dessert cups and spread with white frosting. Sprinkle with green-tinted coconut. (To tint coconut place in glass jar; dilute a small amount of food color with a little water and sprinkle over coconut; shake well to distribute color evenly; dry). To serve, fill centers of cup with ice cream; top with Easter jelly eggs.

Kidney Bean Salad

With the days turning warm again, the weather begins to call for substantial main dish salads. This recipe from the Woman's Home Companion for a hearty, California salad, using kidney beans as the chief ingredient, gives you a tasty and economical warm-weather meal:

Rinse canned kidney beans in cold water, drain and marinate several hours in French dressing thickened with canned tomato sauce (Spanish style). Before serving toss in chopped celery, onion, sweet green pepper and dill pickle, shaved cauliflower flowerets, and strips of hard-cooked egg whites. Serve with greens and crusty rolls of French bread.

VA News

Home-buying veterans in Massachusetts are buying larger and better-built houses this year, according to statistics released yesterday by the Veterans Administration.

The average GI loan for a new home reached a new high of nearly $11,500 in January of this year, according to George Ryan, Manager of VA's Malden office.

He pointed out that in January, 1954, the average loan on a new home was $10,600, while two years ago it was only $9,600.

VA's cost index, the up-to-the-minute slide rule with which the agency establishes building costs, showed only a 1.5% increase in building costs during the past year.

"The higher GI loan amounts," Ryan said, "can be traced to veterans demanding additional rooms and more quality in the homes they are buying.'"

Amortization periods also are getting longer, with three-quarters of all GI loans being written for 25 years or longer. Down payment terms are more liberal, too.

Ryan said that in January, 1955, 39 percent of home loans were made with no down payments, compared with 13 percent in January, 1954, and only five percent two years ago.

—QUESTION AND ANSWER—

Q—I understand a veteran needs at least 90 days of active service to qualify for a GI loan. I entered service January 3, 1955, and therefore I wasn't able to build up 90 days by the January 31, 1955 deadline date for building up entitlement to wartime benefits. Am I out of luck, so far as a loan is concerned?

A—Not necessarily. Generally you need at least 90 days total service to qualify for a GI loan, but not all 90 days need be before January 31, 1955. So long as at least part of your 90 days comes before January 31, you may be eligible, after your discharge.

NEWTON SIGN SHOP PRODUCT—Gene Faucher, proprietor of Newton Sign Company at 404 Centre street, Newton, is pictured with his assistant, Angelo Falcone, beside one of the six signs erected under the sponsorship of the Chamber of Commerce and the city's Kiwanis, Lions and Rotary Clubs. The signs, typical of the outstanding work by Newton Sign Company on all its projects, either large or small, have drawn nationwide acclaim, according to the annual report of the Chamber's president this week. Anyone wishing an estimate on a sign of any type or size will receive prompt service by phoning LAsell 7-4410 between 8:30 a.m. and 6 p.m. Mr. Faucher emphasizes that no job is too small, none too large, for his personalized, speedy and expert service.
